Israel's conflict and victory.

12. THE burden* of the word of the LORD concerning Israel.

Thus saith the LORD, ^a who stretcheth forth the heavens, and layeth the foundation of the earth, and ^b formeth the spirit of man within him: ² Behold, I will make Jerusalem ^c a bowl of trembling unto all the peoples round about; and against Judah also shall it be, in the siege against Jerusalem.

⁴ In that day, saith the LORD, I will smite every horse with astonishment, and his rider with madness; and I will open mine eyes upon the house of Judah; and I will smite every horse of the peoples with blindness.

⁵ And the chiefs of Judah shall say in their heart: The inhabitants of Jerusalem are my strength, in the LORD of hosts, their God.

⁶ In that day will I make the chiefs of Judah ^f like a pan of fire among wood, and like a torch of fire in a sheaf; and they shall devour all the peoples round about, on the right hand and on the left. And ^g Jerusalem shall be inhabited again, in her own place, in Jerusalem. ⁷ And the LORD will save the tents of Judah first; that the glory of the house of David and the glory of the inhabitants of Jerusalem may not boast against Judah.

MALACHI.

Introduction—(2) God's love to Israel, notwithstanding his chastisements, proved by their history contrasted with that of other descendants of Abraham.

1. THE burden; of the word of the LORD to Israel by Malachi.

² I ^ahave loved you, saith the LORD: yet ye say, Wherein hast thou loved us? Was not Esau Jacob's brother? saith the LORD; yet ^bI loved Jacob, ^cand Esau I hated; and I have ^dlaid his mountains and his heritage waste, for the jackals of the wilderness.

⁴ Whereas Edom saith: We are crushed, but we will return and build the desolate places; thus saith the LORD of hosts: They shall build, but I will throw down; and they shall call them: The border of wickedness, and, ^eThe people against whom the LORD hath indignation for ever. ⁵ And your eyes shall see, and ye shall say, ^fLet the LORD be magnified beyond the border of Israel.

Rebukes of the priests for profaneness, false teaching, and judicial corruption—God will punish them with shame; and he will be glorified over the whole earth by pure and holy worship.

⁶ A SON honoureth his father, and a servant his master: ^gif then I am a father, where is mine honour; and if I am a master, where is my fear? saith the LORD of hosts unto you, ^hO priests, that despise my name.

But ye say, Wherein have we despised thy name? ⁷ Ye offer polluted ⁱbread upon mine altar. And ye say, Wherein have we polluted thee? In that ye say, The table of the LORD is contemptible. ⁸ And ^jwhen ye offer the blind for sacrifice, is it not evil*? And when ye offer the lame and sick, is it not evil*? Offer it unto thy governor, will he be pleased with thee, or^e accept thy person? saith the LORD of hosts. ⁹ And now, I pray you, beseech ye God that he will be gracious unto us. This hath been by your hand; will he regard your persons? saith the LORD of hosts.

¹⁰ Who ^f is there even among you that will shut the doors, that ye kindle not fire on mine altar to no purpose? I have no pleasure in you, saith the LORD of hosts; ^g neither will I accept an offering at your hand.

¹¹ For ^h from the rising of the sun even unto the going down of the same ⁱ my name shall be great among the nations; and ^k in every place incense shall be offered unto my name, and a pure offering; for my name shall be great among the nations, saith the LORD of hosts.

For ^o I am a great King, saith the LORD of hosts; and my name is to be feared among the nations.

2. And now, ye priests, this commandment is for you. ² If ^o ye will not hear, and if ye will not lay it to heart, to give glory unto my name, saith the LORD of hosts, I will even send the curse upon you, and I will curse your blessings: yea, I have even cursed them, because ye do not lay it to heart. ³ Behold, ^p I will rebuke your seed, and ^q spread dung upon your faces, the dung of your solemn feasts; and they shall take you away with it.

⁴ And ye shall know that I have sent this commandment unto you, that my covenant should be with Levi, saith the LORD of hosts. ⁵ My ^r covenant was with him of life and peace; and I gave them to him for reverence; and he feared me, and was afraid before my name. ⁶ The law of truth was in his mouth, and perverseness was not found in his lips; he walked with me in peace and uprightness, and he turned many away from iniquity.

⁷ For ^s the priest's lips should keep knowledge; and ^t men should seek the law from his mouth; for he is ^u a messenger of the LORD of hosts. ⁸ But ye have departed out of the way; ^v ye have caused many to stumble at the law; ^w ye have violated the covenant of Levi, saith the LORD of hosts. ⁹ Therefore ^x also I make you contemptible and base before all the people; according as ye keep not my ways, but have respect of persons in the law*.

Condemnation of unlawful divorcees, and marriages with heathen women.

¹⁰ HAVE ^a we not all one Father? ^b Hath not one God created us? Why do we deal treacherously, every man against his brother, by profaning ^c the covenant of our fathers? ¹¹ Judah dealeth treacherously; and an abomination is committed in Israel and in Jerusalem. For Judah profaneth the ^d sanctuary of the LORD, which he loved, and ^e hath married the daughter of a foreign god. ¹² The LORD will cut off the man that doeth this, him that watcheth and him that answereth*, out of the tabernacles of Jacob, and him that offereth an offering unto the LORD of hosts.

Therefore take heed to your spirit, and let none deal treacherously against the wife of his youth. ¹⁶ For the LORD, the God of Israel, saith that ⁱ he hateth putting away; for one covereth violence with his garment, saith the LORD of hosts. Therefore take heed to your spirit, that ye deal not treacherously.

² But who may endure the day of his coming, and who shall stand when he appeareth? For ^g he is like a refiner's fire, and like fullers' soap. ³ And ^h he will sit as a refiner and purifier of silver, and he will purify the sons of Levi, and refine them as gold and silver; ⁱ that they may offer unto the LORD an offering in righteousness. ⁴ Then ^k shall the offering of Judah and Jerusalem be pleasant unto the LORD, as in the days of old, and as in former years.

⁵ And I will come near to you to judgment; and I will be ^a a swift witness against the ^m sorcerers, and against the adulterers, and against the false ⁿ swearers, and ^o against those that oppress the hireling in his wages, the widow and the fatherless, and that wrong the stranger, and that fear not me, saith the LORD of hosts. ⁶ For I, the LORD, ^p change not; therefore ^q ye sons of Jacob are not consumed.

But ye say, Wherein shall we return? ⁸ Will a man rob God? Yet ye rob me. And ye say, Wherein do we rob thee? In ^t the tithes and the offerings. ⁹ Ye are cursed with a curse; and me ye rob, even this whole nation.

¹⁰ Bring ye all the tithes into ^u the storehouse ^v, that there may be food in my house; and prove me now herewith, saith the LORD of hosts, if I will not ^w open for you the windows of heaven and pour you out a blessing, so that there shall not be room enough to receive it. ¹¹ And I will rebuke ^x the devourer for your sakes, and he shall not destroy the fruits of your ground; neither shall your vine cast her fruit before the time in the field, saith the LORD of hosts. ¹² And ^y all nations shall call you blessed; for ye shall be a delightful-some land, saith the LORD of hosts.

Further reproof of ungodly formalists, complaining of continued adversity—(16) The opposite conduct of God's true servants, and their reward—(ch. 4. 1) The day of judgment which shall vindicate the ways of God, reward the righteous and punish the wicked; (5) to be preceded by the preacher of repentance.

13 YOUR ^a words are strong against me, saith the LORD: yet ye say, What do we speak against thee? ¹⁴ Ye ^b say, It is vain to serve God; and what profit is it that we have kept his ordinance, and that we have walked mournfully before the LORD of hosts? ¹⁵ And so ^c we call the proud happy; yea they that work wickedness are set up, yea they tempt God, and they escape.

¹⁶ Then they that feared the LORD ^d spake one to another; and the LORD hearkened and heard; and ^e a book of remembrance was written before him, for them that fear the LORD and that think upon his name. ¹⁷ And ^f they shall be to me, saith the LORD of hosts, in the day that I am preparing, a ^g peculiar treasure; and ^h I will spare them, as a man spareth his own son that serveth him. ¹⁸ Then shall ye return and discern* between the righteous and the wicked, ⁱ between him that serveth God and him that serveth him not.

⁴. For behold, ^k the day cometh that shall burn as an oven; and all the proud and all that do wickedly shall be ^l stubble; and the day that cometh shall burn them up, saith the LORD of hosts, so that it shall leave them ^m neither root nor branch. ² And unto you that fear my name ⁿ shall the sun of righteousness arise with healing in his wings; and ye shall go forth and leap for joy, like calves of the stall. ³ And ^o ye shall tread down the wicked; for they shall be ashes under the soles of your feet, in the day that I shall do this, saith the LORD of hosts.

A BRIEF SUMMARY OF THE HISTORY OF THE JEWS DURING THE PERIOD BETWEEN THE OLD AND NEW TESTAMENTS.

JUDEA continued subject to the kings of Persia about two centuries. It does not appear to have had a separate governor after Nehemiah; but the administration of its affairs was left to the high priest, subject to the control of the governor of Syria.

On the conquest of Persia by Alexander (331 B.C.), Syria and the neighbouring countries, including Palestine, fell under his power. He continued to the Jews the free enjoyment of their laws and religion; and when he built the city of Alexandria, he placed a great number of Jews there, and gave to them the same privileges as to his Greek subjects.

After the death of Alexander (323 B.C.) and the division of his empire among his generals, Judaea became, for a time, part of the monarchy of Egypt; and Ptolemy Soter induced many thousands of Jews to settle in that country. In the city of Alexandria, Greek became the common language of the Jewish settlers and their descendants; who on that account were called Hellenists, or Grecian Jews;—a name afterwards applied to all Jews speaking the Greek language (see Acts vi. 1; ix, 29, etc.) For these Grecian Jews in Alexandria, primarily, the Greek translation of the Hebrew Scriptures, called the Septuagint, was made. Great numbers of Jews also settled in Syria and Asia Minor; being invited thither by Seleucus, to his newly built cities.

After the Jewish nation had been tributary to the kings of Egypt for about eighty years, they became (about 203 B.C.) subject to Antiochus III., king of Syria; but they were still governed by their own laws, under the high priest and great council.

About this time the peace of the nation was greatly disturbed by contests between different members of the family of Aaron for the office of high priest. There was also a growing degeneracy among all classes of the people; who began to neglect the worship and the law of God far more than they had ever done since their return from the captivity. God saw fit to punish them for this defection by the hand of Antiochus Epiphanes; who attacked and pillaged Jerusalem, desecrated the temple, abolished the public worship of God, compelled the people under penalty of death to sacrifice to idols, and destroyed all copies of the sacred writings that could be seized. This bitter persecution continued for three years and a half; when God raised up deliverers for his people in the persons of Mattathias, an aged priest, and his two sons, Judas and Simon; to whom and their successors was given the name of Maccabees; derived, it is said, from the initial letters of the motto on their standard. After several victories over Antiochus, Judas Maccabeus (in 165 B.C.) gained possession of Jerusalem, repaired and purified the temple, and restored the Divine worship. This event was ever afterwards commemorated by an annual festival of eight days, called the Feast of Dedication (see John x. 22). After twenty-six years of war, the Syrians were driven out of the country; and the Jews, under their Maccabean princes, regained their independence. They had again a regular army, and alliances with other powers; and their boundaries were extended by the subjugation of neighbouring countries; Idumaea, Philistia, Moab, Ammon, and Arabia Petrea.

This prosperity was, however, of short duration. The nation was exceedingly troubled by fierce quarrels between the Pharisees and Sadducees, and by contests for the throne between rival members of the royal family; and it was ill prepared to withstand the extending power of Rome. In the year 63 B.C. Pompey besieged and took Jerusalem, and made the country tributary to the Romans; though it was still governed by the Maccabean princes. But in the year 37 B.C. Herod, an Idumean by birth, having obtained from the Romans the appointment of king of Judaea, came against Jerusalem with an army of 60,000 men, took the city by storm, and massacred many of the inhabitants. To gain popularity with his subjects, as well as to increase his own fame, he enlarged and beautified the temple, and constructed numerous public works, the cost of which he defrayed by heavy exactions upon his subjects.

In the thirty-sixth year of the reign of Herod, while Augustus was emperor of Rome, the SAVIOR of the world was born.

Herod was succeeded in the government of the greater part of Palestine by his son Archelaus; who, after reigning ten years with great injustice and cruelty, was banished by Augustus. The president of Syria, Publius Sulpitius Quirinus (called in Greek (Cyprianus, Luke ii. 2), was then sent to reduce the country to a Roman province; and a governor of Judaea was appointed, under the title of Procurator. But the Jews were still permitted to exercise their religious worship without molestation.

During this period, the Jews had become very numerous, both in the countries which had been subject to the Babylonian and Persian powers, and in those which subsequently constituted the vast Roman empire. From Syria and Egypt they had made their way to Greece and Italy; and they formed large communities in the great cities; where many of them had become by trade rich and powerful. In all these countries, they had carried with them their divine law and prophecies, and had established their synagogues and worship. A few only of the Gentiles had become complete converts to the Jewish religion; but many had embraced it so far as to renounce their national idolatries and to worship the only true God.

All these widely dispersed Jews, and many of the Gentile proselytes, regarded Jerusalem as their common centre; and not only sent yearly offerings to the temple, but also frequently repaired thither, to the great festivals. Thus it came to pass, that on the great day of Pentecost (Acts ii. 5, 9—11) there were assembled at Jerusalem 'Jews, devout men out of every nation under heaven; and in almost every city where the apostle Paul preached he found a body of his countrymen, many of whom were waiting for the 'Consolation of Israel.'

¹⁸ NOW the ^a birth of Jesus Christ was on this wise. When his mother Mary was betrothed to Joseph, before they came together, she was found with child ^b by the Holy Spirit. ¹⁹ Then Joseph her husband, being a just man, and not wishing ^c to make her a public example, was minded to put her away privately. ²⁰ But while he thought on these things, behold, ^d an angel of the Lord appeared unto him in a dream, saying: Joseph, thou son of David, fear not to take unto thee Mary thy wife; for that which is conceived in her is by the Holy Spirit. ²¹ And ^e she shall bring forth a son, and thou shalt call his name JESUS*: for ^f he shall save his people from their sins.

²² Now all this was done that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the Lord through the prophet, saying: ²³ Behold, the virgin shall be with child, and shall bring forth a son; and they shall call his name Emmanuel [Isa. vii. 14], which being interpreted is, ^g God with us [Isa. viii. 8, 10].

²⁴ Then Joseph, when he arose from sleep, did as the angel of the Lord had bidden him, and took unto him his wife: ²⁵ and he knew her not until she had brought forth a son: ^h and he called his name JESUS.

Visit of Magi from the East, and (3) Herod's jealousy; (13) flight of Joseph and Mary to Egypt; (16) massacre of the infants at Bethlehem; (19) return of Joseph and Mary, and (22) their settlement at Nazareth.

2. NOW when Jesus was born in ^a Bethlehem of Judaea, in the days of Herod the king, behold, there came wise men: ^b from the East to Jerusalem, ² saying: Where is he that is born ^c King of the Jews? For we have seen ^d his star in the East; and we are come to worship him.

³ When Herod the king heard these things, he was troubled, and all Jerusalem with him. ⁴ And having gathered all the chief priests and scribes of the people together, ^e he inquired of them where the Christ would be born. ⁵ And they said unto him: In ^f Bethlehem of Judaea; for thus it is written by the prophet: ⁶ And thou, ^g Bethlehem, in the land of Judah, art in no wise least of among the princes of Judah; for out of thee shall come a Governor, who shall rule ^h my people Israel' [Mic. v. 2].

⁷ Then Herod, having privately called the wise men, enquired exactly of them at what time the star appeared. ⁸ And he sent them to Bethlehem, and said: Go and search out exactly concerning the young child; and when ye have found him, bring me word again, that I may go and worship him also.

¹³ And when they were departed, behold, an angel of the Lord appeareth to Joseph in a dream, saying: Arise and take the young child and his mother, and flee to Egypt, and be thou there until I bring thee word; for Herod will seek the young child to destroy him. ¹⁴ And he arose, and took the young child and his mother by night, and departed to Egypt. ¹⁵ And he was there until the death of Herod; that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the Lord through the prophet, saying: 'Out of Egypt have I called my son' [Hos. xi. 1].

¹⁶ Then Herod, when he saw that he was mocked by the wise men, was exceeding wroth; and he sent forth and slew all the male children that were in Bethlehem, and in all the borders thereof, from two years old and under, according to the time which he had learned exactly from the wise men.

¹⁷ Then was fulfilled that which was spoken by Jeremiah the prophet, saying: ¹⁸ 'In Ramah was there a voice heard, lamentation and weeping and great mourning, Rachel weeping for her children; and she would not be comforted, because they are not' [Jer. xxxi. 15].

¹⁹ But when Herod was dead, behold, an angel of the Lord appeareth in a dream to Joseph in Egypt, ²⁰ saying: Arise and take the young child and his mother, and go into the land of Israel; for they are dead that sought the young child's life. ²¹ And he arose and took the young child and his mother, and came into the land of Israel. ²² But when he heard that Archelaus was reigning in Judaea in the room of his father Herod, he was afraid to go thither; and being warned by God in a dream, he withdrew ^d into the parts of Galilee. ²³ And he came and dwelt in a town called Nazareth; that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophets, He shall be called ^m a Nazarene.

The preparatory ministry of John the Baptist.

^{3.} AND ^a in those days cometh John the Baptist, preaching in the wilderness^b of Judaea, ² and saying: Repent ye; for ^b the kingdom of heaven is at hand. ³ For this is he that was spoken of by the prophet Isaiah, saying: 'The voice of one crying in the wilderness, 'Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths straight' [Isa. xl. 3]. ⁴ And John himself ^d had his raiment of camel's hair, and a leathern girdle about his loins; and his food was locusts and wild honey.

⁷ But when he saw many of ^e the Pharisees and Sadducees coming to his baptism, he said unto them: 'O generation of vipers! Who hath warned you to flee from the wrath to come? ⁸ Bring forth therefore fruit worthy of repentance: ⁹ and think not to say within yourselves, We have Abraham for our father; for I say unto you, that God is able of these stones to raise up children unto Abraham. ¹⁰ And already the axe lieth at the root of the trees: therefore every tree which bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire. ¹¹ I ^g indeed baptize you with water unto repentance, but ^h he that cometh after me is mightier than I, whose shoes I am not worthy to bear; ⁱ he will baptize you with the Holy Spirit, and with fire: ¹² whose winnowing-fan is in his hand, and he will thoroughly cleanse his threshing-floor; and he will ^k gather his wheat into the barn, but ^l he will burn up the chaff with ^m unquenchable fire.

The baptism of Jesus—(16) The testimony of the Father and of the Spirit—(ch. 4. 1) The fasting and (3) temptation.

¹³ THEN cometh Jesus ^a from Galilee to the Jordan, unto John, to be baptized by him. ¹⁴ But John forbade him^l, saying: I have need to be baptized by thee, and comest thou to me? ¹⁵ And Jesus answering said unto him: Suffer it to be so now; for ^b thus it becometh us to fulfil all righteousness. Then he suffereth him.

¹⁶ And ^c Jesus, when he was baptized, went up straightway from the water; and lo, the heavens were opened unto him, and he saw ^d the Spirit of God descending like a dove, and alighting upon him. ¹⁷ And lo,

^e a voice from the heavens, saying: ^f This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.

⁴ Then was ^g Jesus led up by the Spirit into the wilderness, to be tempted by the devil. ² And when he had fasted forty days and forty nights, he afterwards hungered. ³ And the tempter came to him, and said: If thou be the Son of God, command that these stones become loaves of bread. ⁴ But he answered and said: ^h It is written, 'Man shall not live by bread alone, ⁱ but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God' [Deut. viii. 3].

⁸ Again, the devil taketh him up into an exceeding high mountain, and sheweth him all the kingdoms of the world, and the glory of them; ⁹ and he saith unto him: All these things will I give thee if thou wilt fall down and worship me. ¹⁰ Then saith Jesus unto him: ^k Get thee hence, ^l Satan; for it is written, 'Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve.' [Deut. vi. 13.]

Beginning of Christ's public ministry in Galilee; and (18) calling of his first disciples.

¹² NOW when Jesus heard that John was cast into prison, he departed unto Galilee. ¹³ And leaving Nazareth, he came and dwelt in Capernaum, which is by the sea, in the borders of Zabulon and Naphthali: ¹⁴ that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Isaiah the prophet, saying: ¹⁵ 'The land of Zebulon and the land of Naphthali, by the way of the sea, beyond the Jordan, Galilee of the Gentiles; ¹⁶ the people which sat in darkness saw a great light; and to them which sat in the region and shadow of death light is sprung up' [Isa. ix. 1, 2].

¹⁷ From ⁿ that time Jesus began to preach and to say: Repent, for the kingdom of heaven is at hand.

²³ And Jesus went about all Galilee, ^t teaching in their synagogues, and preaching ^u the gospel of the kingdom, and ^v healing every sickness and every disease among the people. ²⁴ And his fame went forth throughout all Syria. And they brought unto him all sick people that were taken with divers diseases and torments, and those that were possessed with devils*, and those that were lunatic, and those that had the palsy; and he healed them. ²⁵ And ^w there followed him great multitudes from Galilee and from Decapolis and from Jerusalem and from Judaea and from beyond the Jordan.

The Sermon on the mount—(2) The characteristics of the true subjects of Christ's kingdom; (10) their happiness, notwithstanding present sufferings; and (13) their influence upon others.

⁵ AND seeing the multitudes, he went up into the mountain†: and when he had sat down his disciples came unto him: ² and he opened his mouth and taught them, saying:

⁴ Blessed ^b are they that mourn; for they shall be comforted.

⁵ Blessed are ^c the meek; for they shall inherit the earth.

⁶ Blessed are they that hunger and thirst after righteousness; for ^d they shall be filled.

⁷ Blessed are the merciful; for ^e they shall obtain mercy.

⁸ Blessed are ^f the pure in heart; for ^g they shall see God.

⁹ Blessed are ^h the peacemakers; ⁱ for they shall be called the children of God.

¹⁰ Blessed are ^k they that are persecuted for righteousness' sake; for ^l theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

¹¹ Blessed ^m are ye when men shall revile you and persecute you, and shall say all manner of evil against you falsely, for my sake: ¹² rejoice and be exceeding glad; for great ⁿ is your reward in heaven; for so persecuted they the prophets that were before you.

the salt have lost its savour, wherewith shall it be salted? It is thenceforth good for nothing, but to be cast out and to be trodden under foot by men.

¹⁴Ye ^eare the light of the world. A city that is set on a hill cannot be hidden. ¹⁵Neither do men ^plight a lamp, and put it under the bushel*, but upon the lampstand; and it giveth light to all that are in the house. ¹⁶Even so let your light shine before men, that ^qthey may see your good works, and glorify your Father who is in heaven.

The righteousness required of Christ's disciples, (20) in contrast with that of the Pharisees, as relating to (21) murder, (27) adultery, (31) divorce, (33) swearing, (35) revenge, and (43) hatred.

¹⁷THINK ^anot that I am come to destroy the Law or the Prophets; I am not come to destroy, but ^bto fulfil. ¹⁸For verily I say unto you, until heaven and earth pass away, one jot or one tittle; shall in no wise pass away from the law till all be fulfilled. ¹⁹Whosoever ^ctherefore shall break one of the least of these commandments, and shall teach men so, he shall be called least in the kingdom of heaven; but whosoever shall do and teach them, the same shall be called great in the kingdom of heaven. ²⁰For I say unto you, that except your righteousness shall exceed ^dthe righteousness of the scribes and Pharisees, ye shall in no wise enter into the kingdom of heaven.

²¹Ye have heard that it was said unto them of old time, Thou shalt not kill [Ex. xx. 13]; and whosoever shall kill shall be in danger of the ^ejudgment. ²²But I say unto you, that ^fwhosoever is angry with his brother without a cause^g shall be in danger of the judgment; and whosoever shall say to his brother, Raca^h! shall be in danger of the Council; but whosoever shall say unto him, Morehⁱ! shall be in danger of hell fire. ²³Therefore ^qif thou bring thy gift to the altar, and there remember that thy brother hath aught against thee, ²⁴leave there thy gift before the altar, and go thy way; ^kfirst be reconciled to thy brother, and then come and offer thy gift.

²⁵Agree ^lwith thine adversary quickly, whilst thou art on the road with him; lest the adversary deliver thee to the judge, and the judge deliver thee to the officer, and thou be cast into prison. ²⁶Verily I say unto thee, Thou shalt in no wise come out thence till thou hast paid the uttermost farthing.

²⁷Ye have heard that it was said unto them of old time: Thou shalt not commit adultery [Ex. xx. 14]. ²⁸But I say unto you, that whosoever ^klooketh on a woman to lust after her hath already committed adultery with her in his heart. ²⁹And ^lif thy right eye cause thee to offend, pluck it out and cast it from thee: for it is profitable for thee that one of thy members should perish, and not that thy whole body should be cast into hell*. ³⁰And if thy right hand cause thee to offend, cut it off and cast it from thee; for it is profitable for thee that one of thy members should perish, and not that thy whole body should be cast into hell.

³¹And it was said: Whosoever putteth away his wife, let him give her a writing of divorcement [Deu. xxiv. 1—4]. ³²But I say unto you, that ^mwhosoever putteth away his wife except for the cause of fornication, causeth her to commit adultery; and whosoever marrieth her when put away committeth adultery.

³³Again, ye have heard that it was said unto them of old time: Thou shalt not swear falsely [Ex. xx. 7; Lev. xix. 12], but shalt perform unto the Lord thine oaths. ³⁴But I say unto you, ⁿSwear not at all; neither by heaven, for it is ^oGod's throne; nor by the earth, for it is his footstool; neither by Jerusalem, for it is ^pthe city of the great King; ³⁵neither shalt thou swear by thy head, because thou canst not make one hair white or black. ³⁷But let your manner of speech be, Yea yea, Nay nay; for whatsoever is more than these cometh of evil^t.

³⁸Ye have heard that it was said, An eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth [Ex. xxi. 24]. ³⁹But I say unto you, that ^qye resist not evil; but ^rwhosoever shall smite thee on thy right cheek, turn to him the other also. ⁴⁰And ^sif any man would sue thee at law and take away thy coat, let him have thy cloak also. ⁴¹And whosoever shall compel thee to go one mile, go with him two. ⁴²Give to him that asketh thee, and ^tfrom him that would borrow of thee turn not thou away.

⁴³Ye have heard that it was said: Thou shalt love thy neighbour [Le. xix. 18], and ^uhate thine enemy. ⁴⁴But I say unto you: ^vLove your enemies, [bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you,] and ^wpray for them that [despitefully use you and] persecute you: ^xthat ye may be the children of your Father who is in heaven; for he maketh his sun to rise on the evil and on the good, and ^ysendeth rain on the just and on the unjust. ⁴⁶For if ye love them that love you, what reward have ye? But not even the publicans* the same? 47 And if ye salute your brethren only, what do ye more than others? Do not even the heathen† so? 48 Be ye therefore perfect, even as your Father who is in heaven is perfect.

The righteousness required of Christ's disciples
—(1) True-heartedness towards God illustrated in (2) alms-giving, (5) prayer, and (16) fasting; and trust in God as opposed to (19) covetousness, (24) double-mindedness and (25) worldly carefulness.

6. TAKE heed that ye do not your righteousness: before men, ^a to be seen by them; otherwise ye have no reward with your Father who is in heaven.

2 When therefore thou doest alms, do not sound a trumpet before thee, as the hypocrites do, in the synagogues and in the streets, that they may have glory of men.

Verily I say unto you, they have ^{||} their reward. 3 But when thou doest alms, let not thy left hand know what thy right hand doeth; 4 that thine alms may be in secret; and thy Father who ^b seeth in secret himself will reward thee§.

5 And when thou prayest, thou shalt not be ^c as the hypocrites; for they love to pray standing in the synagogues and in the corners of the streets, that they may be seen by men. Verily I say unto you, they have their reward. 6 But thou, when thou prayest, enter into thy closet, and when thou hast shut thy door, pray to thy Father who is in secret; and thy Father who seeth in secret will reward thee.

7 And when ye pray, ^d use not vain repetitions, like the heathen; for ^e they think that they will be heard for their much speaking: 8 be not ye therefore like unto them; for ^f your Father knoweth what things ye have need of before ye ask him.

9 After this manner therefore pray ye: ^g Our Father who art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name. 10 Thy ^h kingdom come. Thy will be done, ⁱ as in heaven, so also upon earth. 11 Give us this day our daily* bread. 12 And forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors. 13 And lead us not into temptation, but ^k deliver us from evil. [For† thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, for ever. Amen.] 14 For ^l if ye forgive men their trespasses, your heavenly Father will also forgive you; 15 but ^m if ye forgive not men their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses.

16 And ⁿ when ye fast, be not, as the hypocrites, of a sad countenance; for they disfigure their faces, that they may appear unto men to fast. Verily I say unto you, they have their reward. 17 But thou, when thou fastest, ^o anoint thy head and wash thy face; 18 that thou appear not unto men to fast, but unto thy Father who is in secret; and thy Father, who seeth in secret, will reward thee.

19 Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt, and where thieves break* through and steal; 20 but ^p lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt, and where thieves do not break* through nor steal. 21 For ^q where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.

22 The ^r lamp of the body is the eye: if then thine eye be clear, thy whole body will be full of light; 23 but if thine eye be ^s evil, thy whole body will be full of darkness. If therefore the light that is in thee be darkness, how great is the darkness!

24 No ^t man can serve two masters; for either he will hate the one and love the other, or else he will hold to the one and despise the other. ^u Ye cannot serve God and mammon†.

25 Therefore I say unto you, ^x Be not anxious for your life, what ye shall eat or what ye shall drink; nor yet for your body, what ye shall put on. Is not the life more than the food, and the body than the raiment? 26 Behold ^y the birds of the air; for they sow not, neither do they reap nor gather into barns; yet your heavenly Father feedeth them. ^z Are ye not of much more value than they? 27 And which of you by being anxious can add one cubit unto his stature?

28 And why are ye anxious for raiment? Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow; they toil not, neither do they spin; 29 and yet I say unto you, that even ^a Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these. 30 And if God so clothe the grass of the field, which to-day is and to-morrow is cast into the oven, will he not much more ^b clothe you, ^c O ye of little faith?

31 Therefore be not anxious, saying, What shall we eat, or What shall we drink, or, Wherewithal shall we be clothed? 32 For after all these things do the Gentiles seek. For your heavenly Father knoweth that ye have need of all these things. 33 But seek ye first the kingdom of God and ^c his righteousness; and ^d all these things shall be added unto you. 34 Be not therefore anxious for the morrow; for the morrow will be anxious for the things of itself. Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof.

The righteousness required of Christ's disciples
 —(1) Charitable and wise conduct towards others, (7) faith and constancy in prayer, and (13) separation from the world; (15) warnings against false teachers, (21) self-deception, and (24) practical disobedience.

7. JUDGE ^a not, that ye be not judged;

² for with what judgment ye judge, ye shall be judged; and ^b with what measure ye mete, it shall be measured to you again.

⁷ Ask, ^f and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you: ⁸ for every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened. ⁹ Or what man is there of you, of whom if his son ask for bread, will he give him a stone? ¹⁰ Or if he ask for a fish, will he give him a serpent? ¹¹ If ye then, being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children, how much more will your Father who is in heaven give good things unto them that ask him!

¹³ Enter ⁱ ye in at the narrow gate; for wide ^j is the gate, and broad ^j is the way, that leadeth to destruction, and many there are that go in thereat; ¹⁴ because narrow ^j is the gate, and straitened ^j is the way, which leadeth unto life, and few there are that find it.

²⁴ Therefore ^t whosoever heareth these words of mine and doeth them, I will liken him unto a wise man, who built his house upon the rock: ²⁵ and the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell not; for it was founded upon the rock. ²⁶ And every one that heareth these words of mine and doeth them not, shall be likened unto a foolish man, who built his house upon the sand: ²⁷ and the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell, and great was the fall of it.

²⁸ And it came to pass, when Jesus had ended these words, ^u the multitudes were astonished at his teaching: ²⁹ for he taught them as one having authority, and not as their scribes.

Miracles of healing; (17) showing the fulfilment of ancient prophecy in the works of Jesus.

8. AND when he came down from the mountain, great multitudes followed him.

² And ^a behold, there came a leper and worshipped him, saying: Lord, if thou wilt thou canst make me clean. ³ And Jesus put forth his hand and touched him, saying: I will, be thou clean. And immediately his leprosy was cleansed. ⁴ And Jesus saith unto him: See thou tell no one; but go thy way, show thyself to the priest, and offer ^b the gift that Moses commanded, for a testimony unto them.

⁵ And ^c when Jesus entered into Capernaum, there came unto him a centurion, beseeching him, ⁶ and saying: Lord, my servant lieth at home sick of the palsy, grievously tormented. ⁷ And Jesus saith unto him: I will come and heal him. ⁸ The centurion answered and said: Lord, I am not worthy that thou shouldst come under my roof; but ^d speak a word only, and my servant will be healed. ⁹ For I am a man under authority, having soldiers under me; and I say to this one, Go, and he goeth; and to another, Come, and he cometh; and to my servant, Do this, and he doeth it.

¹⁹ And a certain scribe came and said unto him: Master‡, I will follow thee whithersoever thou goest. ²⁰ And Jesus saith unto him: The foxes have holes, and the birds of the air have nests; but ^b the Son of man ^c hath not where to lay his head.

²¹ And another of his disciples said unto him: Lord, ^d suffer me first to go and bury my father. ²² But Jesus said unto him: Follow me; and leave the dead to bury their dead.

²³ And when he entered into the ship, his disciples followed him. ²⁴ And behold, there arose a great tempest in the sea§, so that the ship was being covered with the waves; but he was asleep. ²⁵ And his disciples came to him and awoke him, saying: Lord, save us; we perish! ²⁶ And he saith unto them: ^e Why are ye fearful, O ye of little faith? Then ^f he arose and rebuked the winds and the sea; and there was a great calm. ²⁷ And the men marvelled, saying: What manner of man is this, that even ^g the winds and the sea obey him!

there met him two possessed with devils*, coming out of the tombs, exceeding fierce, so that no one could pass by that way. ²⁹ And behold, they cried out, saying: What have we to do with thee, Jesus, ⁱ thou Son of God? Art thou come hither to torment us ^k before the time?

³⁰ And there was a good way off from them a herd of many ^l swine feeding. ³¹ So the devils besought him, saying: If thou cast us out, suffer us to go away into the herd of swine. ³² And he said unto them, Go. And they came out and went into the herd of swine; and behold, the whole herd of swine rushed violently down the steep place into the sea, and perished in the waters.

³³ And they that kept them fled, and went their way into the city, and told every thing, and what had befallen the men possessed with the devils. ³⁴ And behold, the whole city came out to meet Jesus; and when they saw him, ^m they besought him that he would depart from their borders. ⁹ And he entered into the ship, and passed over, and came unto ⁿ his own city.

² And ^o behold, they brought to him a palsied man, lying on a bed. And Jesus, seeing their faith, said unto the palsied man: Son, be of good cheer; thy sins are forgiven thee.

³ And behold, certain of the scribes said within themselves: This man blasphemeth.

⁵ For which is easier; to say, Thy sins are forgiven thee; or to say, Arise and walk?

⁶ But that ye may know that the Son of man hath authority on earth to forgive sins—then saith he unto the palsied man—Arise, take up thy bed, and go to thine house. ⁷ And he arose and departed to his house.

⁸ And when the multitudes saw ⁱ it, they marvelled; and they glorified God who had given such power unto men.

And the multitudes marvelled, saying: It was never so seen in Israel; ³⁴ but the Pharisees said: ^o He casteth out the devils through the prince of the devils.

Our Lord's second circuit in Galilee: (36) His compassion for the people; (ch. 10. 1) appointment and sending forth of the twelve apostles—(16) Their trials and conflicts foretold, and (16) final victory and reward.

³⁵ AND ^a Jesus went about all the cities and villages, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing every sickness and every disease among the people. ³⁶ And ^b seeing the multitudes, he was moved with compassion on them, because they were distressed and scattered abroad, as sheep having no shepherd. ³⁷ Then saith he unto his disciples: ^c The harvest truly is plenteous, but the labourers are few; ³⁸ pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he will send forth labourers into his harvest.

^{10.} And ^d having called unto him his twelve disciples, he gave them authority over unclean spirits, to cast them out, and to heal every sickness and every disease.

11 And into whatsoever city or village ye shall enter, inquire who in it is worthy; and there abide till ye go thence. 12 And as ye come into the house, salute it; 13 and ^o if the house be worthy, let your peace come upon it; but if it be not worthy, ^p let your peace return unto you.

14 And whosoever shall not receive you, nor hear your words, when ye depart out of that house or city, shake off the dust from your feet. 15 Verily I say unto you, It will be more tolerable for the land of Sodom and Gomorrah in the day of judgment, than for that city.

16 Behold, ^q I send you forth as sheep in the midst of wolves; be ye therefore wise as serpents, and ^r harmless as doves. 17 But beware of men; for ^s they will deliver you up to the Councils, and ^t they will scourge you in their synagogues; 18 and ^u ye will be brought before governors and kings for my sake, ^x for a testimony unto them and unto the Gentiles*.

19 But ^y when they deliver you up, be not anxious as to how or what ye shall speak; for ^z it shall be given to you in that same hour what ye shall speak; 20 for ^a it is not ye that speak, but the Spirit of your Father which speaketh in you.

21 And ^b the brother will deliver up the brother to death, and the father the child; and children will rise up against their parents, and cause them to be put to death. 22 And ^c ye will be hated by all men for my name's sake; but ^d he that endureth to the end shall be saved. 23 But ^e when they persecute you in this city, flee ye unto another: for verily I say unto you, ye will not have gone over the cities of Israel ^f before the Son of man be come.

24 A ^g disciple is not above his master ^h, nor a servant above his lord. 25 It is enough for the disciple that he be as his master, and the servant as his lord. If ⁱ they have called the master of the house Beelzebub ^j, how much more will they call them of his household!

26 Fear them not therefore; for ^k there is nothing covered that shall not be revealed, and hidden that shall not be known. 27 What ^l I tell you in darkness, that speak ye in light; and what ye hear in the ear, that proclaim ye upon the housetops.

28 And ^m fear not them that kill the body, but are not able to kill the soul; but rather fear him who is able to destroy both soul and body in hell. 29 Are not two sparrows sold for a farthing? And one of them shall not fall on the ground without your Father. 30 But the very hairs of your head are all numbered. 31 Fear ye not therefore; ye are of more value than many sparrows.

32 Whosoever therefore shall confess me before men, him will I also confess before my Father who is in heaven; 33 but whosoever shall deny me before men, him will I also deny before my Father who is in heaven.

34 Think ⁿ not that I am come to send peace on earth: I am not come to send peace, but a sword. 35 For I am come to set a man at variance against his father, and a daughter against her mother, and a daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law. 36 And a man's foes will be they of his own household [Mic. vii. 6].

37 He ^o that loveth father or mother more than me is not worthy of me; and he that loveth son or daughter more than me is not worthy of me. 38 And ^p he doth not take his cross and follow after me is not worthy of me. 39 He ^q that findeth his life will lose it; and he that loseth his life for my sake will find it.

40 He ^r that receiveth you receiveth me; and ^s he that receiveth me receiveth him that sent me. 41 He ^t that receiveth a prophet in the name of a prophet shall receive a prophet's reward; and he that receiveth a righteous man in the name of a righteous man shall receive a righteous man's reward. 42 And ^u whosoever shall give to drink unto one of these little ones a cup of cold water only in the name of a disciple, verily I say unto you, ^v he shall in no wise lose his reward.

11. And it came to pass, when Jesus had made an end of commanding his twelve disciples, he departed thence to teach and to preach in their cities.

John the Baptist's message of inquiry, and (4) our Lord's answer; (7) His testimony to the Forerunner; (16) rebuke of the perverseness of the people.

2 NOW ^a when John heard in the prison of the works of Christ, he sent by his disciples*, 3 and said unto him: Art thou he that was to come; or are we to look for another? 4 And Jesus answered and said unto them: Go and tell John ^b the things which ye hear and see: 5 the blind receive their sight, and the lame walk; 6 the lepers are cleansed, and ^c the deaf hear; the dead are raised up, and the poor have the Gospel preached to them. 6 And blessed is ^d he, whosoever shall not ^e be offended in me.

Casting out of a demon—Answers to (24) the charge of employing Satanic power, and (38) the demand of a sign from heaven.

³⁸ Then ^r certain of the scribes and of the Pharisees answered, saying: Master, we would see a sign from thee. ³⁹ And ^s he answered and said unto them: An evil and ^t adulterous generation seeketh after a sign; and there shall no sign be given to it but the sign of the prophet Jonah: ⁴⁰ for ^u as Jonah was three days and three nights in the whale's belly, so shall the Son of man be three days and three nights in the heart of the earth. ⁴¹ The men of Nineveh will stand up in the judgment with this generation, and will condemn it; because ^x they repented at the preaching of Jonah; and behold, a greater than Jonah is here. ⁴² The ^y queen of the south will rise up in the judgment with this generation, and will condemn it: for she came from the uttermost parts of the earth to hear ^z the wisdom of Solomon; and behold, ^a a greater than Solomon is here.

⁴³ But when ^b the unclean spirit is gone out of the man, it goeth through dry places seeking rest, and it findeth none. ⁴⁴ Then it saith, I will return unto my house from whence I came out. And when it is come, it findeth it empty, swept, and furnished. ⁴⁵ Then goeth it and taketh with itself seven other spirits more wicked than itself; and they enter in and dwell there: ^c and the last state of that man becometh worse than the first. Even so will it be also unto this wicked generation.

Parables concerning the kingdom of heaven; setting forth (3) the various dispositions of men towards it, (24) the unfaithfulness of some of its professed subjects, (31) its progressive and soul-attracting power, and (47) its future deliverance from all admixture of evil.

13. THE same day went Jesus out of the house, ^a and sat by the sea side. ² And great multitudes were gathered together unto him; so that ^b he went into a ship, and sat; and the whole multitude stood on the shore.

³ And he spake many things unto them in parables, saying: Behold, a sower went forth to sow. ⁴ And as he sowed, some seeds fell by the way side, and the birds came and devoured them up. ⁵ And others fell upon the rocky places, where they had not much earth; and forthwith they sprang up, because they had no deepness of earth; ⁶ but when the sun was up, they were scorched; and because they had no root, they withered away. ⁷ And others fell among thorns; and the thorns grew up, and choked them. ⁸ But others fell upon the good ground, and brought forth fruit, some ^c a hundredfold, some sixtyfold, some thirtyfold. ⁹ He ^d that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

¹⁰ And the disciples came, and said unto him: Why speakest thou unto them in parables? ¹¹ He answered and said unto them: Because ^e it is given unto you to know the mysteries* of the kingdom of heaven, but to them it is not given. ¹² For ^f whosoever hath, to him shall be given, and he shall have more abundance; but whosoever hath not, ^g from him shall be taken away even that which he hath. ¹³ Therefore speak I to them in parables; because seeing they see not, and hearing they hear not, neither do they understand. ¹⁴ And in them is fulfilled the prophecy of Isaiah which saith: ^h 'In hearing ye shall hear and shall not understand, and seeing ye shall see and shall not perceive. ¹⁵ For this people's heart is become gross, and their ears are dull of hearing, and their eyes they have closed; lest at any time they should see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and understand with their heart, and ⁱ should turn and I should heal them' [Isa. vi. 9, 10, Sept.].

¹⁶ But ^k blessed are your eyes, for they see; and your ears, for they hear. ¹⁷ For verily I say unto you, that ^l many prophets and righteous men desired to see those things which ye see, and did not see them; and to hear those things which ye hear, and did not hear them.

¹⁸ Hear ye therefore the parable of the sower. ¹⁹ When any one heareth ^m the word of the kingdom and understandeth it not, then cometh ⁿ the wicked one and ^o catcheth away that which was sown in his heart: this is that which was sown by the way side. ²⁰ And that which was sown upon the rocky places, this is he that heareth the word and immediately ^p with joy receiveth it; ²¹ yet hath he not root in himself, but ^q endureth only for a while; for when tribulation or persecution ariseth because of the word, immediately ^r he is offended. ²² And ^s that which was sown among the thorns, this is he that heareth the word, and ^t the care of this world, and ^u the deceitfulness of riches, choke the word, and he becometh unfruitful. ²³ And that which was sown upon the good ground, this is he that heareth the word and understandeth it; who also beareth fruit, and bringeth forth, one a hundredfold, and one sixty, and one thirty.

Likewise ^l shall also the Son of man suffer from them. ¹³ Then the disciples understood that he spake unto them of John the Baptist.

Casting out of a demon which the disciples had been unable to cast out.

¹⁴ AND ^a when they were come to the multitude, there came to him a man, kneeling down to him, and saying: ¹⁵ Lord, have mercy on my son; for he is lunatic, and sorely afflicted; for oftentimes he falleth into the fire, and oft into the water. ¹⁶ And I brought him to thy disciples, and they could not cure him. ¹⁷ Then Jesus answered and said: O faithless and perverse generation! ¹⁸ How long shall I be with you, how long shall I bear with you? Bring him hither to me. ¹⁹ And Jesus ^c rebuked him; and the devil came out of him; and the child was cured from that very hour.

¹⁹ Then came the disciples to Jesus apart, and said: Why could not we cast it out? ²⁰ And Jesus said unto them: Because of your want of faith; for verily I say unto you, ^d If ye have faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye shall say unto this mountain, Remove hence to yonder place; and it shall remove; and ^e nothing shall be impossible unto you. ²¹ Howbeit: this kind goeth not out but by prayer and fasting.

Jesus pays the temple-tribute, although entitled to exemption.

24 AND when they were come to Capernaum, they that received the tribute-money * came to Peter, and said: Doth not your master pay the tribute-money? ²⁵ He saith, Yes.

And when he was come into the house, Jesus spake first to him, saying: What thinkest thou, Simon; of whom do the kings of the earth take custom or tribute? Of their own sons, or of strangers? ²⁶ Peter saith unto him, Of strangers. Jesus saith unto him, Then are the sons free. ²⁷ Notwithstanding, ^a lest we should offend them, go thou to the sea, and cast a hook, and take up the fish that first cometh up; and when thou hast opened its mouth, thou wilt find a stater†: that take, and give unto them for me and thee.

Concerning (1) greatness in Christ's kingdom (7) humility, self-denial, and a forgiving spirit; (22) parable of the unmerciful servant.

18. AT ^a that time came the disciples unto Jesus, saying, ^b Who then is greatest in the kingdom of heaven? ² And Jesus called a little child unto him, and set him in the midst of them, ³ and said: Verily I say unto you, ^c Unless ye be converted, and become as little children, ye shall in no wise enter into the kingdom of heaven. ⁴ Whosoever therefore shall humble himself as this little child, the same is greatest in the kingdom of heaven. ⁵ And ^d whosoever shall receive one such little child in my name receiveth me. ⁶ But ^e whosoever shall offend: one of these little ones who believe in me, it were better for him that a great millstone were hanged about his neck and that he were drowned in the depth of the sea.

7 Woe unto the world because of offences! For woe it must needs be that offences come; but woe to that man by whom the offence cometh! ⁸ Wherefore ⁹ if thy hand or thy foot cause thee to offend, cut it off, and cast it from thee; it is better for thee to enter into life lame or maimed, rather than having two hands or two feet to be cast into the everlasting fire. ⁹ And if thine eye cause thee to offend, pluck it out, and cast it from thee; it is better for thee to enter into life with one eye, rather than having two eyes to be cast into hell-fire.

¹¹ [For ^k the Son of man is come to save that which was lost.*] ¹² What think ye? If ^a a man have a hundred sheep, and one of them be gone astray, doth he not leave the ninety and nine, and go into the mountains, and seek that which is gone astray? ¹³ And if so be that he find it, verily I say unto you, ^m he rejoiceth over it more than over the ninety and nine which went not astray. ¹⁴ Even so it is not the will of your Father who is in heaven that one of these little ones should perish.

¹⁵ Moreover ⁿ if thy brother sin against thee, go and reprove him, between thee and him alone. If he hear thee, thou hast gained thy brother. ¹⁶ But if he do not hear thee, then take with thee one or two more, that by the mouth of two or three witnesses every word may be established [Deu. xix. 15]. ¹⁷ And if he refuse to hear them, ^o tell it unto the church. But if he refuse also to hear the church, let him be unto thee as a ^p heathen man and a publican.

¹⁹ Again I say unto you, that if two of you shall agree on earth, concerning any thing that they shall ask, ^r it shall be done for them by my Father who is in heaven. ²⁰ For where two or three are gathered together in my name, there am I in the midst of them.

²¹ Then came Peter to him, and said: Lord, how often shall my brother sin against me, and I forgive him? ^s Until seven times?

²² Jesus saith unto him: I say not unto thee, Until seven times; but, Until seventy times seven. ²³ Therefore is the kingdom of heaven likened unto a king ^t who would make a reckoning with his servants. ²⁴ And when he had begun to reckon, one was brought unto him who owed him ten thousand talents; ²⁵ and as he had not wherewith to pay, his lord commanded him to be sold, and his wife and children, ²⁶ and all that he had, and payment to be made. ²⁷ The servant therefore fell down and worshipped him, saying: Lord, have patience with me and I will pay thee all. ²⁸ Then the lord of that servant was moved with compassion, and released him, and forgave him the debt.

²² But the same servant went out, and found one of his fellowservants who owed him a hundred pence^{*}; and he laid hands on him, and took him by the throat, saying: Pay me what thou owest. ²³ And his fellowservant fell down at his feet and besought him, saying: Have patience with me, and I will pay thee all. ³⁰ And he would not; but went and cast him into prison till he should pay the debt. ³¹ And when his fellowservants saw what was done, they were very sorry; and they came and told unto their lord all that was done.

³² Then his lord, having called for him, saith unto him: Thou wicked servant, I forgave thee all that debt, because thou didst entreat me; ³³ shouldst not thou also have had compassion on thy fellowservant, ^z even as I had compassion on thee? ³⁴ And his lord was wroth, and delivered him to the tormentors till he should pay all that was due unto him. ³⁵ So ^v likewise will my heavenly Father do unto you if ye from your hearts forgive not every one his brother their trespasses.

Reply to a question of the Pharisees respecting divorce.

³ AND there came unto him ^a the Pharisees, tempting him, and saying unto him: Is it lawful for a man to put away his wife for every cause?

⁴ And he answered and said unto them: Have ye not read that He who made them from the beginning made them male and female [Ge. i. 27]. ⁵ and said: 'For this cause shall a man leave his father and his mother, and shall cleave unto his wife; and ^b they two shall be one flesh' [Ge. ii. 24, Sept.]. ⁶ Wherefore they are no more two, but one flesh. ^c What therefore God hath joined together let not man put asunder.

⁷ They say unto him: Why then did Moses command to give a writing of divorcement, and to put her away [Deu. 24. 1]? ⁸ He saith unto them: Moses because of the hardness of your hearts suffered you to put away your wives; but from the beginning it was not so. ⁹ And ^d I say unto you, Whosoever putteth away his wife except for fornication, and marrieth another, committeth adultery; and he who marrieth her when put away committeth adultery.

²⁵ And when his disciples heard it they were exceedingly amazed, saying: Who then can be saved? ²⁶ But Jesus looked upon them, and said unto them: With men this is impossible, but ^a with God all things are possible.

³⁰ But ^m many that are first will be last; and the last first. 20. For the kingdom of heaven is like unto a man that was a householder who went out early in the morning to hire labourers into his vineyard. ² And when he had agreed with the labourers for a penny* a day, he sent them into his vineyard. ³ And he went out about the third hour, and saw others standing idle in the marketplace; ⁴ and he said unto them: Go ye also into the vineyard, and whatsoever is right I will give you; and they went their way. ⁵ Again he went out about the sixth, and the ninth hour, and did likewise. ⁶ And about the eleventh hour he went out, and found others standing idle; and he saith unto them: Why stand ye here all the day idle? ⁷ They say unto him: Because no man hath hired us. He saith unto them: Go ye also into the vineyard; and ⁿ whatsoever is right ye shall receive.

⁸ So ^o when evening was come, the lord of the vineyard saith unto his steward: Call the labourers, and give them their hire, beginning from the last unto the first. ⁹ And when they came that were hired about the eleventh hour, they received every man a penny. ¹⁰ But when the first came, they supposed that they should receive more; and they likewise received every man a penny. ¹¹ And when they had received it, they murmured against the householder, ¹² saying: These last have worked but one hour, and thou hast made them equal unto us who have borne the burden and heat of the day. ¹³ But he answered one of them and said: Friend, I do thee no wrong; didst not thou agree with me for a penny? ¹⁴ Take that which is thine, and go thy way; I will give unto this last even as unto thee. ¹⁵ Is ^p it not lawful for me to do what I will with mine own? Or is thine eye evil because I am good?

¹⁶ So the last will be first, and the first last; ^q for* many are called, but few chosen. On his way to Jerusalem Jesus again privately foretells his death and resurrection.

17 AND ^a Jesus, going up to Jerusalem, took the twelve disciples apart in the way, and said unto them: ¹⁸ Behold, ^b we are going up to Jerusalem; and the Son of man will be betrayed ^t unto the chief priests and scribes; and they will condemn him to death, ¹⁹ and ^c will deliver him to the Gentiles, to mock and to scourge and to crucify him; and the third day he will rise again.

²² But Jesus answered and said: Ye know not what ye ask. Are ye able to drink of ^d the cup that I shall drink of, and [to ^e be baptized with the ^e baptism that I am baptized with]? They say unto him: We are able. ²³ And he saith unto them: Ye shall drink indeed of my cup, [and ^f be ^f baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with]; but to sit on my right hand, and on my left, is not mine to give, but to those ^g for whom it hath been prepared by my Father.

²⁴ And ^h when the ten heard it, they were moved with indignation against the two brethren. ²⁵ But Jesus called them unto him, and said: Ye know that the rulers of the nations exercise lordship over them, and their great ones exercise authority over them. ²⁶ But ⁱ it shall not be so among you; but ^k whosoever would become great among you shall be ^l your minister; ²⁷ and whosoever would be chief among you shall be ^m your servant*: ²⁸ even as the Son of man came, not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many.

side, ^b when they heard that Jesus was passing by, cried out, saying: Have mercy on us, O Lord, thou Son of David! ³¹ And the multitude rebuked them, that they should hold their peace. But they cried out the more, saying, Have mercy on us, O Lord, thou Son of David!

³² And Jesus stood still, and called them, and said: What will ye that I should do unto you? ³³ They say unto him: Lord, that our eyes may be opened. ³⁴ So Jesus, moved with compassion, ^c touched their eyes; and immediately their eyes received sight, and they followed him.

21. AND ^a when they drew nigh unto Jerusalem, and were come to Bethphage, unto the Mount of Olives, then sent Jesus two disciples, ² saying unto them: Go into the village over against you, and straightway ye will find an ass tied, and a colt with her; loose them, and bring them unto me. ³ And if any one say aught unto you, ye shall say that the Lord hath need of them; and straightway he will send them.

⁶ And the disciples went, and did as Jesus commanded them; ⁷ and they brought the ass and the colt, and ^c put on them their garments, and he sat upon them.

⁸ And a very great multitude* spread their garments in the way; ^d others cut down branches from the trees, and strewed them in the way. ⁹ And the multitudes that went before and that followed, cried, saying:

Hosanna to the Son of David!

Blessed ^e is he that cometh in the name of the Lord! [Ps. cxviii. 26].

Hosanna in the highest!

¹⁰ And when he was come into Jerusalem, all the city was moved, saying: Who is this? ¹¹ And the multitude said: This is Jesus, the prophet, from Nazareth of Galilee.

¹² And ^θ Jesus went into the temple of God; and he cast out all them that sold and bought in the temple, and overthrew the tables of the ^h moneychangers, and the seats of them that sold the ⁱ doves. ¹³ And he saith unto them: It is written, 'My house shall be called the house of prayer'; but ye are making† it 'a den of robbers'; [Isa. lvi. 7; Jer. vii. 11].

¹⁵ But when the chief priests and the scribes saw the wonderful things that he did, and the children crying in the temple, and saying, Hosanna to the son of David; and they were sore displeased; ¹⁶ and they said unto him: Hearest thou what these say? And Jesus saith unto them: Yea, ^{hate} ye never read: 'Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings thou hast perfected praise'; [Ps. viii. 2, Sept.]

¹⁸ Now ^l in the morning as he returned into the city, he hungered. ¹⁹ And seeing one fig tree by the way-side, he came to it; and he found nothing thereon but leaves only; and he said unto it: Let no fruit grow on thee henceforward for ever. And immediately the fig tree withered away. ²⁰ And ^m when the disciples saw it, they marvelled, saying: How immediately is the fig tree withered away!

²⁴ And Jesus answered and said unto them: I also will ask you one thing, which if ye tell me, I also will tell you by what authority I do these things. ²⁵ The ^c baptism of John, whence was it; from heaven, or from men?

And they reasoned with themselves, saying: If we say, From heaven; he will say unto us, Why then did ye not believe him? ²⁶ But if we say, From men; we fear the multitude; ^d for all hold John as a prophet. ²⁷ And they answered Jesus, and said: We know not.

first, and said, Son, go work to-day in my vineyard. ²⁹ He answered and said, I will not; but afterwards he repented, and went. ³⁰ And he came to the second, and said in like manner. And he answered and said, I will, sir; and went not. ³¹ Which of these two did the will of his father? They say unto him, The first.

Jesus saith unto them: ^e Verily I say unto you, that the publicans and the harlots go into the kingdom of God before you. ³² For ^f John came unto you in the way of righteousness, and ^g ye believed him not; ^h but the publicans and the harlots believed him; and ye, when ye had seen it, repented not afterwards, so as to believe him.

³³ Hear another parable: ⁱ There was a certain householder who planted a vineyard, and hedged it round about, and digged a winepress in it, and built a tower, and let it out to husbandmen, and went into a far country. ³⁴ And when the season of the fruit drew near, ^k he sent his servants to the husbandmen that they might receive the fruits of it. ³⁵ And the husbandmen took his servants, and ^l beat one, and killed another, and ^m stoned another. ³⁶ Again, he sent other servants more than the first: and they did in like manner unto them. ³⁷ But last of all ⁿ he sent unto them his son, saying, They will reverence my son. ³⁸ But when the husbandmen saw the son, they said among themselves, This is the heir; ^o come, let us kill him, and let us seize on his inheritance. ³⁹ And ^p they took him, and cast him out of the vineyard, and killed him. ⁴⁰ When therefore the lord of the vineyard cometh, what will he do unto those husbandmen?

⁴² Jesus saith unto them: ^s Did ye never read in the Scriptures, 'The stone which the builders rejected, the same is become the head of the corner: this was the Lord's doing, and it is marvellous in our eyes'? [Psa. cxviii. 22, 23.] ⁴³ Therefore say I unto you: The kingdom of God shall be taken from you, and given to a nation bringing forth the fruits thereof. ⁴⁴ And he that ^t falleth on this stone will be broken: ^u but on whomsoever it shall fall, it will grind him to powder.

⁴⁵ And when the chief priests and the Pharisees heard his parables, ^x they perceived that he spake of them. ⁴⁶ But when they sought to lay hands on him, they feared the multitudes, because ^y they took him for a prophet.

Another parable showing the reception given to God's invitations, and the guilt of those who reject or pervert them.

22. AND Jesus answered and spake unto them again in parables, and said: ² The ^a kingdom of heaven is like unto a king who made a marriage-feast for his son, ³ and sent forth his servants to call them that had been bidden to the marriage-feast; and they would not come. ⁴ Again, he sent forth other servants, saying: Tell them that have been bidden, Behold, ^b I have prepared my dinner; my oxen and my fatlings are killed, and all things are ready; come unto the marriage-feast. ⁵ But they made light of it, and went their ways, ^c one to his farm, another to his merchandize; ^d and ^e the rest seized his servants, and treated them spitefully, and slew them. ⁷ And when the king heard thereof, he was wroth; and he sent forth ^f his armies, and destroyed those murderers, and burned up their city.

⁸ Then saith he to his servants: The wedding is ready, but they that were bidden were not ^g worthy. ⁹ Go ^h ye therefore into the highways, and as many as ye find, bid to the marriage-feast. ¹⁰ So those servants went out into the highways, and ⁱ gathered together all as many as they found, both bad and good; and the wedding was filled with guests.

¹¹ And the king came in to see the guests, and saw there a man ^j who had not on a wedding garment; ¹² and he saith unto him: Friend, how camest thou in hither ^k not having a wedding-garment? And he was speechless. ¹³ Then said the king to the servants: Bind him hand and foot, and take him away, and cast him ^l into the outer darkness; there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth. ¹⁴ For ^m many are called, but few chosen.

Crafty attempts to ensnare Jesus, by (15) the Pharisees and Herodians, (23) the Sadducees, and (35) a lawyer—(41) Question concerning David's Son and Lord.

15 THEN ^a went the Pharisees and took counsel how they might ensnare him in his speech. ¹⁶ And they send unto him their disciples with the Herodians, saying: Master*, we know that thou art true, and teachest the way of God in truth, neither carest thou for any man; for thou regardest not the person of men. ¹⁷ Tell us therefore, what thinkest thou; Is it lawful to give tribute unto ^b Cæsar, or not?

15 But Jesus perceived their wickedness, and said: Why tempt ye me, ye hypocrites?

16 Show me the tribute money. And they brought unto him a penny*. 20 And he saith unto them: Whose is this image and superscription? 21 They say unto him: Caesar's. Then saith he unto them: Render therefore unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and unto God the things that are God's.

22 When they heard these words, they marvelled; and they left him, and went their way.

23 The same day there came to him Sadducees, who say that there is no resurrection; and they asked him, 24 saying: Master, Moses said, 'If a man die having no children, his brother shall marry his wife, and raise up seed unto his brother' [Deut. xxv. 5]. 25 Now there were with us seven brethren: and the first married a wife, and died; and, having no seed, left his wife unto his brother; 26 likewise the second also, and the third, even unto the seventh; 27 and last of all the woman died also. 28 In the resurrection then whose wife will she be of the seven? For they all had her.

29 Jesus answered and said unto them: Ye do err, not knowing the Scriptures, nor the power of God. 30 For in the resurrection they neither marry nor are given in marriage, but are as the angels of God in heaven. 31 But concerning the resurrection of the dead, have ye not read that which was spoken unto you by God, saying: 32 'I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob?' [Exod. iii. 6]. God is not God of the dead, but of the living.

33 And when the multitude heard this, they were astonished at his teaching.

34 But when the Pharisees heard that he had put the Sadducees to silence, they were gathered together; 35 and one of them, a lawyer, asked a question, tempting him, and saying: 36 Master, which is the great commandment in the law? 37 Jesus said unto him: 'Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind' [Deut. vi. 5]; 38 this is the first and great commandment. 39 And the second is like unto it, 'Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself' [Lev. xix. 18]. 40 On these two commandments hang all the Law and the Prophets.

41 And while the Pharisees were gathered together, Jesus asked them, 42 saying: What think ye of the Christ; whose son is he? They say unto him, The son of David. 43 He saith unto them, How then dost David call him Lord, saying, 44 'The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footstool?' [Psa. cx. 1]. 45 If then David calleth him Lord, how is he his son?

46 And no one was able to answer him a word: neither durst any one from that day forth ask him any more questions.

Woe on the false teachers and leaders of the nation.

23. THEN spake Jesus to the multitudes and to his disciples, 2 saying: 'The Scribes and the Pharisees sit on Moses' seat; 3 all things therefore whatsoever they bid you observe, observe and do; but do not ye after their works; for they say, and do not. 4 For they bind heavy burdens and grievous to be borne, and lay them on men's shoulders; but they themselves will not move them with their finger. 5 But all their works they do to be seen by men. They make broad their phylacteries*, and enlarge the fringes of their garments, 6 and love the uppermost places at feasts, and the chief seats in the synagogues, 7 and greetings in the markets, and to be called by men, Rabbi, Rabbi. 8 But be not ye called Rabbi; for one is your Teacher, even Christ; and all ye are brethren. 9 And call no one your Father upon the earth: for one is your Father, even he who is in heaven. 10 Neither be ye called leaders: for one is your Leader, even Christ. 11 But he that is greatest among you shall be your servant. 12 And whosoever shall exalt himself shall be humbled; and he that shall humble himself shall be exalted.

13 But woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For ye shut up the kingdom of heaven against men: for ye go not in yourselves, neither suffer ye them that are entering to go in.

14 Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For ye devour widows' houses, and in pretence make long prayer. Therefore ye shall receive the greater condemnation].

15 Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For ye compass sea and land to make one proselyte; and when he is made, ye make him twofold more a child of hell than yourselves.

16 Woe unto you, ye blind guides, who say: 'Whosoever sweareth by the temple, it is nothing; but whosoever sweareth by the gold of the temple, he is bound by his oath! 17 Ye fools and blind! For which

m Ex. 30. 29. is the greater, the gold, ^m or the temple that sanctifieth the gold? ¹⁸ And, Whosoever sweareth by the altar, it is nothing; but whosoever sweareth by the gift that is upon it, he is bound by his oath. ¹⁹ Ye fools and blind! For which is the greater, the gift, or ⁿ the altar that sanctifieth the gift? ²⁰ He therefore that sweareth by the altar, sweareth by it, and by all things thereon. ²¹ And he that sweareth by the temple, sweareth by it, and by ^o Him who dwelleth therein. ²² And he that sweareth by heaven, sweareth by ^p the throne of God, and by Him who sitteth thereon.

²⁴ Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! ^u For ye make clean the outside of the cup and of the platter, but within they are full of extortion and excess. ^v Thou blind Pharisee, ^w cleanse first the inside of the cup and of the platter, that the outside of them may be clean also.

²⁸ Wherefore ^{ah} behold, I send unto you prophets and wise men and scribes; and ^{ai} some of them ye will kill and crucify; and ^{aj} some of them will ye scourge in your synagogues, and persecute from city to city; ^{ak} that ^{al} upon you may come all the righteous blood shed upon the earth, ^{am} from the blood of righteous Abel unto ^{an} the blood of Zachariah the son of Barachiah, whom ye slew between the temple and the altar. ^{ao} Verily I say unto you, ^{ap} All these things shall come upon this generation.

²⁹ O ^{aq} Jerusalem, Jerusalem, that killest the prophets, and stonest them that are sent unto thee! How ^{ar} often would I have gathered thy children together, ^{as} even as a hen gathereth her chickens under her wings! And ye would not! ^{at} Behold, ^{au} your house is left unto you desolate. ^{av} For I say unto you, ye shall not see me henceforth till ye shall say, ^{aw} Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord. [Ps. cxviii. 26].

Having finally left the temple Jesus foretells (2) its destruction and (4) the troubles and persecutions preceding and following the destruction of Jerusalem and his own second coming, and (32) enjoins fidelity and watchfulness.

²⁵ And as he sat upon the mount of Olives, the disciples came unto him privately, saying: Tell us, when will these things be? And what ^{ba} will be the sign of thy coming, and of the end of the world*?

²⁶ And Jesus answered and said unto them: ^{bb} Take heed that no man deceive you. ^{bc} For ^{bd} many will come in my name, saying, I am the Christ; and will deceive many. ^{be} And ye will hear of wars and rumours of wars. ^{bf} Take heed that ye be not troubled; for all these things must come to pass; but the end is not yet. ^{bg} For ^{bh} nation will rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom; and there will be ^{bi} famines and pestilences and earthquakes, in divers places. ^{bj} But all these things are the beginning of sorrows.

²⁷ Then ^{bk} will they deliver you up to tribulation, and will kill you; and ye will be hated by all nations for my name's sake. ^{bl} And then will many ^{bm} be offended, and will betray one another, and will hate one another. ^{bn} And ^{bo} many false prophets will arise, and will deceive many. ^{bp} And because iniquity ^{bq} will abound the love of the many will grow cold. ^{br} But ^{bs} he that endureth unto the end, the same shall be saved. ^{bt} And this ^{bu} gospel of the kingdom ^{bv} shall be preached in all the world for a witness unto all nations; and then shall the end come.

¹⁵ When ^p therefore ye see the abomination of desolation, spoken of by ^q Daniel the prophet, standing in the holy place, (^r let him that readeth understand), ¹⁶ then let them that are in Judea flee unto the mountains; ¹⁷ let ^s him that is on the housetop not come down to take any thing out of his house; ¹⁸ neither let him that is in the field turn back to take his clothes.

¹⁹ And ^t woe unto them that are with child and to them that give suck, in those days! ²⁰ And pray ye that your flight be not in the winter, neither on the sabbath day. ²¹ For ^u then will be great tribulation, such as hath not been since the beginning of the world to this time, no, nor ever shall be. ²² And except those days were shortened, there would no flesh be saved; but for the elect's sake* those days shall be shortened.

²³ Then ^x if any one shall say unto you, Lo, here is the Christ, or There! believe it not. ²⁴ For ^y there will arise false Christs, and false prophets, and will show great signs and wonders; so as to deceive, if possible, even the elect. ²⁵ Behold, I have foretold you. ²⁶ If therefore they shall say unto you, Behold, he is in the desert; go not forth; Behold, he is in the secret chambers; believe it not. ²⁷ For ^z as the lightning cometh out of the East and shineth even unto the West, so will the coming of the Son of man be. ²⁸ Where-soever ^a the carcase is, there will the eagles be gathered together.

²⁹ But immediately after the tribulation of those days ^b shall the sun be darkened, and the moon shall not give her light, and ^c the stars shall fall from heaven, and the powers of the heavens shall be shaken.
³⁰ And ^d then shall appear the sign of the Son of man in heaven; ^e and then shall all the tribes of the earth mourn; ^f and they shall see the Son of man coming upon the clouds of heaven, with power and great glory. ³¹ And ^g he will send his angels with a great sound of a trumpet, ^h and they shall gather together his elect; from the four winds, from one end of heaven to the other.

³² Now learn a parable from the fig tree;
When now its branch becometh tender, and putteth forth its leaves, ye know that summer is nigh; ³³ so likewise ye, when ye see all these things, know* that it is near, even at the doors. ³⁴ Verily I say unto you, ^k this generation shall not pass away till all these things be fulfilled.
³⁵ Heaven and earth shall pass away, ^l but my words shall not pass away.

³⁶ But ^m concerning that day and hour knoweth no one, no, not the angels of heaven, ⁿ but my Father only. ³⁷ But ^o as the days of Noah were, so will be also the coming of the Son of man. ³⁸ For ^p as in the days before the flood they were eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage, until the day that Noah entered into the ark, ³⁹ and knew not until the flood came and took them all away; so will be also the coming of the Son of man.
⁴⁰ Then will two be in the field, the one will be taken and the other left: ⁴¹ two women will be grinding at the mill, one will be taken and the other left.

⁴² Watch ^q therefore; for ye know not what day* your Lord cometh. ⁴³ But ^r know this, that if the master of the house had known in what watch the thief would come, he would have watched, and would not have suffered his house to be broken through. ⁴⁴ Therefore be ye also ready; for in such an hour as ye think not the Son of man cometh.

⁴⁵ Who then is the faithful and wise servant whom his lord hath made ruler over his household, to give them their food in due season? ⁴⁶ Blessed is that servant whom his lord when he cometh shall find so doing. ⁴⁷ Verily I say unto you, that he will make him ruler over all his goods.
⁴⁸ But if that evil servant shall say in his heart, ^s My lord delayeth his coming; ⁴⁹ and shall begin to smite his fellowservants, and shall eat and drink with the drunken; ⁵⁰ the lord of that servant will come in a day when he looketh not for him, and in an hour that he is not aware of, ⁵¹ and will ^t cut him asunder, and appoint him his portion with the hypocrites: ^u there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

Parables (1) inculcating watchfulness, and (14) faithful service; and (31) representing the judgment of all nations.

²⁵. AT that time shall the kingdom of

out. ⁹ But the wise answered, saying: Not so, lest there be not enough for us and you; but go ye rather to them that sell, and buy for yourselves. ¹⁰ And while they went to buy the bridegroom came; and they that were ready went in with him to the marriage-feast: and ^d the door was shut. ¹¹ And afterwards come also the other virgins, saying: Lord, Lord, open to us. ¹² But he answered and said: Verily I say unto you, ^e I know you not.

¹⁴ For ^g it will be even as a man going into a far country, who called his own servants, and delivered unto them his goods. ¹⁵ And unto one he gave five talents, to another two, and to another one; ^h to every man according to his several ability; and straightway took his journey.

¹⁶ Then he that had received the five talents went and traded with them, and made other five talents. ¹⁷ And likewise he that had received the two, he also gained other two. ¹⁸ But he that had received the one went and digged in the earth, and hid his lord's money.

¹⁹ And after a long time the lord of those servants cometh, and reckoneth with them. ²⁰ Then he that had received the five talents came and brought other five talents, saying: Lord, thou deliverdest unto me five talents; behold, I have gained five other talents besides them. ²¹ His lord said unto him: ^k Well done, good and faithful servant! ^l Thou hast been faithful over a few things, ^m I will make thee ruler over many things; enter thou into ⁿ the joy of thy lord. ²² He also that had received the two talents came and said: Lord, thou deliverdest unto me two talents; behold, I have gained two other talents besides them. ²³ His lord said unto him: Well done, good and faithful servant! Thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things; enter thou into the joy of thy lord.

²⁴ Then he also that had received the one talent came and said: Lord, I knew thee that thou art a hard man, reaping where thou didst not sow, and gathering where thou didst not scatter abroad; ²⁵ and I was afraid; and I went and hid thy talent in the earth; lo, thou hast that which is thine own. ²⁶ His lord answered and said unto him: Thou wicked and slothful servant, thou knewest that I reap where I sowed not, and gather where I scattered not abroad? ²⁷ Thou oughtest then to have put my money to the bankers; and then at my coming I should have received mine own with interest. ²⁸ Take therefore the talent from him, and give it to him who hath the ten talents. ²⁹ For ^o unto every one that hath shall be given, and he shall have abundance; but from him that hath not ^p shall be taken away even that which he hath. ³⁰ And cast ye the unprofitable servant ^q into the outer darkness: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

³¹ And when ^r the Son of man cometh in his glory, and all the holy angels with him, then will he sit upon ^s the throne of his glory: ³² and ^t before him shall be gathered all the nations; and ^u he will separate them one from another, as a shepherd separateth the sheep from the goats: ³³ and he will set the sheep on his right hand, but the goats on the left.

³⁴ Then will the King say unto them on his right hand: Come, ye blessed of my Father, ^v inherit the kingdom ^w prepared for you from the foundation of the world. ³⁵ For ^x I was hungry, and ye gave me meat; I was thirsty, and ye gave me drink; ^y I was a stranger, and ye took me in; ³⁶ naked, ^z and ye clothed me; I was sick, and ye visited me; ^a I was in prison, and ye came unto me. ³⁷ Then will the righteous answer him, saying: Lord, when saw we thee hungry, and fed thee; or thirsty, and gave thee drink? ³⁸ When saw we thee a stranger, and took thee in; or naked, and clothed thee? ³⁹ Or when saw we thee sick, or in prison, and came unto thee? ⁴⁰ And the King will answer and say unto them: Verily I say unto you, ^b inasmuch as ye did it unto one of the least of these ^c my brethren, ye did it unto me.

⁴⁶ And ⁱ these shall go away into everlasting punishment, but the righteous into everlasting life.

Christ's announcement of his crucifixion—(3) The rulers conspire against him—(6) The embalming beforehand for His burial—(14) Judas's compact with the chief priests.

26. AND it came to pass, when Jesus had finished all these sayings, he said unto his disciples: ² Ye ^a know that after two days cometh the Passover, and the Son of man is betrayed ^{*} to be crucified.

³ Then ^b assembled together the chief priests and the scribes and the elders of the people, unto the hall of the high priest, who was called Caiaphas; ⁴ and they consulted that they might take Jesus by subtilty, and kill him; ⁵ but they said, Not during the feast, lest there be an uproar among the people.

¹⁴ Then one of the twelve, called Judas Iscariot, went unto the chief priests, ¹⁵ and said unto them: What will ye give me, and I will betray him unto you? And they covenanted with him for; ¹⁶ thirty pieces of silver. ¹⁷ And from that time he sought opportunity to betray him.

Jesus (17) celebrates the Passover with his disciples; (21) announces Judas's treachery; (26) institutes the Lord's Supper; and (31) foretells the scattering of the disciples, and (34) Peter's denial.

17. NOW ^a on the first day of the feast of unleavened bread the disciples came to Jesus, saying unto him: Where wilt thou that we make ready for thee to eat the Passover? ¹⁸ And he said: Go into the city, to such a man, and say unto him, The Master ^b saith, ^b My time is at hand; I will keep the Passover at thy house with my disciples.

²⁰ Now ^d when the evening was come, he sat down with the twelve. ²¹ And as they were eating, he said: Verily I say unto you, that one of you will betray me*. ²² And they were exceeding sorrowful, and began every one of them to say unto him: Lord, is it I? ²³ And he answered and said: He that dipeth his hand with me in the dish, the same will betray me. ²⁴ The Son of man goeth his way, even ^e as it is written of him; but ^f woe unto that man by whom the Son of man is betrayed. It had been good for that man if he had not been born. ²⁵ Then Judas, who betrayed him, answered and said: Master, is it I? He said unto him: Thou hast said it. ²⁶ And ^g as they were eating, Jesus took bread, and blessed, and brake, and gave it to the disciples, and said: Take, eat; this is my body. ²⁷ And he took the cup, and gave thanks, and gave it to them, saying: Drink ye all of it; ²⁸ for this is my ^h blood of the New ⁱ Covenant, which is shed for many, for the remission of sins. ²⁹ But ⁱ I say unto you, I will not drink henceforth of this fruit of the vine, ^k until that day when I drink it new with you in my Father's kingdom.

³⁰ And ^l when they had sung a hymn, they went out into the mount of Olives. ³¹ Then saith Jesus unto them: ^m All ye will be offended in me this night; for it is written, 'I will smite the shepherd, and the sheep of the flock shall be scattered abroad' [Zech. xiii. 7]. ³² But after I am risen again, ⁿ I will go before you into Galilee.

³³ Peter answered and said unto him: Though all men shall be offended in thee, ^o yet will I never be offended. ³⁴ Jesus said unto him: Verily I say unto thee, that this night, before the cock crow, thou wilt deny me thrice. ³⁵ Peter said unto him: ^p Though I must die with thee, yet will I not deny thee. Likewise also said all the disciples.

Christ's (26) agency in Gethsemane; (47) his betrayal and arrest.

35. THEN ^a cometh Jesus with them unto a place called Gethsemane; and he saith unto the disciples: Sit ye here, while I go and pray yonder. ³⁷ And he took with him ^b Peter and the two sons of Zebedee, and began to be sorrowful and full of heaviness. ³⁸ Then saith he unto them: ^c My soul is exceeding sorrowful, even unto death; tarry ye here, and watch with me. ³⁹ And he went a little farther, and fell on his face, and prayed, saying: O my Father, ^d if it be possible, let this cup pass from me; nevertheless ^anot as I will, but as thou wilt.

⁴⁰ And he cometh unto the disciples, and findeth them asleep; and he saith unto Peter: Were ye so unable to watch with me one hour? ⁴¹ Watch and pray, that ye enter not into temptation. ⁴² The spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak.

⁴³ He went away again the second time, and prayed, saying: O my Father, if it be not possible that this cup pass from me, except I drink it, thy will be done. ⁴⁴ And he came and found them asleep again; and for their eyes were heavy. ⁴⁵ And he left them, and went away again, and prayed the third time, saying the same words.

⁴⁸ And ^bwhile he yet spake, lo, Judas, one of the twelve, came, and with him a great multitude, with swords and staves, from the chief priests and elders of the people. ⁴⁹ Now he that betrayed him gave them a sign, saying: Whomsoever I shall kiss, that same is he; lay hold of him. ⁵⁰ And forthwith he came to Jesus, and said: Hail, Master! and kissed him.

⁵¹ And Jesus said unto him: Friend, wherefore art thou come? Then came they and laid their hands on Jesus, and took him. ⁵² And behold, ^cone of them that were with Jesus stretched out his hand and drew his sword, and struck the servant of the high priest, and cut off his ear. ⁵³ Then saith Jesus unto him: ^dPut up again thy sword into its place; for all they that take the sword shall perish by the sword. ⁵⁴ Or thinkest thou that I cannot now pray to my Father, and he will set for my defence ^emore than twelve legions of angels? ⁵⁵ But how then should the Scriptures be fulfilled, ^fthat thus it must be?

⁵⁶ In that same hour said Jesus to the multitudes: Are ye come out as against a robber with swords and staves to take me? ⁵⁷ I sat daily with you teaching in the temple, and ye laid no hold on me. ⁵⁸ But all this is done, that the ^gScriptures of the prophets may be fulfilled. Then ^hall the disciples forsook him, and fled.

⁵⁹ Jesus is (57) tried and condemned by the Sanhedrim; (59) denied by Peter; (ch. 27. 1) and taken before Pilate. ⁶⁰ And ⁱthey that had laid hold on Jesus led him away to Caiaphas the high priest, where the scribes and the elders were assembled.

⁶¹ But Peter followed him afar off unto the high priest's hall; and he went in, and sat with the servants, to see the end.

⁶² Now the chief priests and elders and all the council sought false witness against Jesus, to put him to death; ⁶³ but they found none; yea, though ^jmany false witnesses came, ^kyet found they none. At last came ^ltwo false witnesses ^mand said: This man said, ⁿI am able to destroy the temple of God, and to build it in three days.

⁶⁵ But ^oJesus held his peace. And the high priest answered and said unto him: ^pI adjure thee by the living God ^qthat thou tell us whether thou be the Christ, the Son of God. ⁶⁶ Jesus saith unto him: Thou hast said it; but I say unto you, Hereafter ^rthou shalt see the Son of man ^ssitting on the right hand of power, and coming on the clouds of heaven. ⁶⁷ Then the high priest rent his clothes, saying: ^tHe hath spoken blasphemy; what further need have we of witnesses? Behold, now ye have heard his blasphemy. ⁶⁸ What think ye? They answered and said: ^uHe is guilty of death.

⁷⁰ Now ^xPeter was sitting without in the hall; and a damsel came unto him, saying: Thou also wast with Jesus the Galilean. ⁷¹ But he denied before them all, saying: I know not what thou sayest. ⁷² And when he had gone out into the porch, another maid saw him, and said unto them that were there: This man also was with Jesus of Nazareth. ⁷³ And again he denied with an oath: I do not know the man. ⁷⁴ And after a while came unto him they that stood by, and said unto Peter: Of a truth thou also art one of them; for thy speech betrayeth thee. ⁷⁵ Then began he to curse and to swear, saying: I know not the man. And immediately the cock crew; ⁷⁶ and Peter remembered the word of Jesus, who had said unto him, Before the cock crew thou wilt deny me thrice; and he went out, and wept bitterly.

⁷⁷ And when the morning was come, ^yall the chief priests and the elders of the people took counsel against Jesus, to put Judas's confession and self-murder.

³ THEN ^a Judas, who had betrayed him, when he saw that he was condemned, repented himself, and brought again the thirty pieces of silver to the chief priests and the elders, ⁴ saying: I have sinned in betraying innocent blood. And they said: What is that to us? See thou to that. ⁵ And he cast down the pieces of silver in the temple, ^b and departed, and went and hanged himself.

⁹ Then was fulfilled that which was spoken by Jeremiah the prophet, saying: 'And they took the thirty pieces of silver, the price of him on whom a price was set, on whom they of the children of Israel set their price, ¹⁰ and gave them for the Potter's field, as the Lord appointed me' [Zech. xi. 12, 13].

Jesus before the Roman governor, (15) who seeks to release him, but (20) the people choose Barabbas and reject Jesus, and (24) Pilate sentences him to crucifixion.

¹¹ AND Jesus stood before the governor. And ^a the governor questioned him, saying: Art thou the King of the Jews? And Jesus said unto him: ^b Thou sayest it. ¹² And when he was accused by the chief priests and the elders, ^c he answered nothing. ¹³ Then saith Pilate unto him: Hearst thou not how many things they witness against thee? ¹⁴ And he answered him not even a word; so that the governor marvelled greatly.

¹⁵ Now ^d at the Feast-time the governor was wont to release unto the people one prisoner, whom they would. ¹⁶ And they had then a notable prisoner, called Barabbas. ¹⁷ When therefore they were gathered together, Pilate said unto them: Whom will ye that I release unto you; Barabbas, or Jesus who is called Christ? ¹⁸ For he knew that for envy they had delivered him up.

²⁰ But the chief priests and the elders persuaded the multitude that they should ask for Barabbas, and destroy Jesus. ²¹ The governor answered and said unto them: Which of the two will ye that I release unto you? And they said, Barabbas. ²² Pilate saith unto them: What shall I do then with Jesus who is called Christ? They all say unto him: Let him be crucified. ²³ And the governor said: Why, what evil hath he done? But they cried out the more, saying: Let him be crucified.

²⁴ When Pilate saw that it availed nothing, but that rather a tumult was being made, he ^e took water and washed his hands before the multitude, saying: I am innocent of the blood of this just person*: see ye to it. ²⁵ Then answered all the people and said: His blood be on us and on our children.

²⁶ Then released he Barabbas unto them; and when ^g he had scourged Jesus, he delivered him up to be crucified.

The soldiers' insults; (35) the crucifixion; (45) the signs which followed; and (54) the testimony of the spectators.

³² And ^c as they came out they found a man of Cyrene, Simon by name; him they compelled to bear his cross. ³³ And when they were come to a place called Golgotha, (that is to say, the place of a skull.) ³⁴ they ^d gave him vinegar to drink mingled with gall; and when he had tasted thereof, he would not drink.

³⁵ And ^e when they had crucified him, they parted his garments, casting lots; [that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet: They parted my garments among them, and upon my vesture did they cast lots] [Psa. xxii. 18]. ³⁶ And sitting down they watched him there.

³⁷ And they set up over his head his accusation written: THIS IS JESUS THE KING OF THE JEWS.

⁴¹ Likewise also the chief priests mocking him, with the scribes and elders, said, ⁴² He saved others; himself he cannot save. He is* the King of Israel; let him now come down from the cross, and we will believe him. ⁴³ He trusted in God; let him deliver him now, if he will have him [Psa. xxii. 8]; for he said, ⁴⁴ I am the Son of God. ⁴⁴ And in the same manner the robbers also who were crucified with him reviled him.

⁴⁵ Now ⁱfrom the sixth hour there was darkness over all the land unto the ninth hour. ⁴⁶ And about the ninth hour Jesus cried with a loud voice, saying: Eli, Eli! lama sabachthani? That is to say, 'My God, my God! Why hast thou forsaken me?' [Psa. xxii. 1.] ⁴⁷ And some of them that stood there, when they heard that, said: This man calleth for Elijah. ⁴⁸ And straightway one of them ran and took a sponge, and filled it with vinegar, and put it on a reed, and gave him to drink. ⁴⁹ The rest said, Let us see whether Elijah will come to save him.

¹⁸ And Jesus came and spake unto them, saying: ⁿ All authority is given unto me in heaven and on earth. ¹⁹ Go ^o ye therefore, and make disciples of all the nations, ^p baptizing them into the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit; ²⁰ teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you. THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO ST. MARK.

The Messiah's forerunner; the (9) baptism of Jesus; (10) the testimony of the Father and of the Holy Spirit—(12) The temptation.

1. THE beginning of the Gospel of Jesus Christ, ^a the Son of God. ² As it is written in the Prophets*, 'Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, who shall prepare thy way before thee' [Mal. iii. 1]; ³ 'A voice of one crying in the wilderness: Prepare ye the way of the Lord; make his paths straight' [Isa. xl. 3]; ⁴ John ^b came baptizing in the wilderness, and preaching the baptism of repentance ^c for the remission of sins. ⁵ And there went out unto him all the land of Judea, and they ^d of Jerusalem; and they ^e were all baptized by him in the river Jordan, confessing their sins.

⁶ And John was ^e clothed with camel's hair, and with a leathern girdle about his loins; and he ate ^f locusts and ^g wild honey. ⁷ And he preached, saying: ^h There cometh after me he that is mightier than I, the latchet of whose shoes I am not worthy to stoop down and unloose. ⁸ I indeed have baptized you with water; but he will baptize you ⁱ with the Holy Spirit.

⁹ And ⁱ it came to pass in those days, that Jesus came from Nazareth of Galilee, and was baptized by John in the Jordan. ¹⁰ And ^k straightway coming up from the water, he saw the heavens opening and ^l the Spirit like a dove descending upon him. ¹¹ And there came a voice from the heavens, saying: ^m Thou art my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.

¹² And ⁿ immediately the Spirit sendeth him forth into the wilderness. ¹³ And he was there in the wilderness forty days, tempted by Satan; and he was with the wild beasts; and the angels ministered unto him.

Beginning of Christ's public ministry in Galilee; (16) and calling of his first disciples.

14 NOW ^a after John was put in prison, Jesus came into Galilee, preaching the gospel of the kingdom† of God, ¹⁵ and saying: ^b The time is fulfilled, and ^c the kingdom of God is at hand. Repent ye, and believe in the gospel.

¹⁶ And ^d as he passed along by the Sea of Galilee, he saw ^e Simon and Andrew his brother casting a net into the sea; for they were fishers. ¹⁷ And Jesus said unto them: Come ye after me, and I will make you to become fishers of men. ¹⁸ And straightway they left their nets, and followed him.

Jesus teaches in the synagogues, heals the diseased, and casts out demons, at Capernaum, and throughout Galilee.

21 AND ^a they enter into Capernaum. And straightway on the sabbath day he entered into the synagogue, and taught. ²² And ^b they were astonished at his teaching; for he taught them as one that had authority, and not as the scribes.

Art thou come to destroy us? I know thee who thou art, ^e the Holy One of God. ²⁵ And Jesus rebuked him, saying: Hold thy peace, and come out of him. ²⁶ And the unclean spirit ^f tare him, and cried with a loud voice, and came out of him.

²⁷ And they were all amazed, so that they questioned among themselves, saying: What thing is this? What new teaching is this? For with authority he commandeth [†] even the unclean spirits, and they obey him. ²⁸ And immediately his fame spread abroad into the whole surrounding country of Galilee.

²⁹ And ^g immediately, when they came out of the synagogue, they entered into the house of Simon and Andrew, with James and John. ³⁰ And Simon's wife's mother lay sick of a fever; and immediately they tell him of her. ³¹ And he went to her and took her by the hand, and lifted her up; and immediately the fever left her, and she ministered unto them.

³² And in the evening, when the sun set, they brought unto him all that were diseased, and them that were possessed with devils. ³³ And all the city was gathered together at the door. ³⁴ And he healed many that were sick of divers diseases, and cast out many devils; and he ^h suffered not the devils to speak, because they knew him.

³⁵ And ⁱ rising very early in the morning, he went out, ^k and departed into a desert place, and there prayed. ³⁶ And Simon and they that were with him followed after him. ³⁷ And when they had found him, they say unto him: All men seek for thee. ³⁸ And he saith unto them: Let us go into the neighbouring towns, that I may preach there also; for ^l therefore came I forth.

⁴⁰ And ⁿ there cometh a leper to him, beseeching him, and kneeling down to him, and saying unto him: If thou wilt thou canst make me clean. ⁴¹ And Jesus, moved with compassion, put forth ^{his} hand and ^o touched him, and saith unto him: I will; be thou cleansed. ⁴² And as soon as he had spoken, immediately the leprosy departed from him, and he was cleansed. ⁴³ And ^p he strictly charged him, and immediately sent him away; ⁴⁴ and saith unto him: See thou say nothing to any man; but go thy way, show thyself to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing those things ^q which Moses commanded, for a testimony unto them. ⁴⁵ But ^r he went out, and began to publish ^{it} much, and to blaze abroad the matter; so that Jesus could no more openly enter into ^{any} city, but was without in desert places; and they came to him from every quarter.

⁶ But there were some of the scribes sitting there, and reasoning in their hearts: ⁷ Why doth this man thus ^c speak blasphemies? ^d Who can forgive sins but God only? ⁸ And Jesus immediately ^e knowing in his spirit that they were so reasoning within themselves, said unto them: Why reason ye these things in your hearts? ⁹ Which is easier; to say to the palsied man, Thy sins are forgiven thee; or to say, Arise, and take up thy bed and walk?

¹⁰ But that ye may know that ^f the Son of man ^h hath authority on earth to forgive sins, (he saith to the palsied man,) ¹¹ I say unto thee, Arise, and take up thy bed, and go thy way unto thy house. ¹² And immediately he arose, took up the bed, and went forth before them all; so that they were all amazed, and glorified God, saying: We never saw it on this fashion.

²And he taught them many things by parables; and he said unto them in his teaching: ³Hearken, behold, there went out a sower to sow; ⁴and it came to pass, as he sowed, some fell by the way side, and the birds of the air came and devoured it up. ⁵And some fell upon the rocky ground, where it had not much earth; and immediately it sprang up, because it had no depth of earth; ⁶but when the sun was up, it was scorched; and because it had no root, it withered away. ⁷And some fell among thorns, and the thorns grew up and choked it, and it yielded no fruit. ⁸And some fell on the good ground, and yielded fruit growing up and increasing; and it brought forth, some thirty and some sixty and some a hundredfold. ⁹And he said unto them: He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

¹⁰And when he was alone, they that were about him, with the twelve, asked him concerning the parable. ¹¹And he said unto them: Unto you ^bit is given to know the mystery of the kingdom of God; but unto ^cthem that are without all things are done in parables; ¹²that ^d'seeing they may see and not perceive, and hearing they may hear and not understand; lest haply they should turn, and their sins should be forgiven them' [Isa. vi. 9, 10].

¹³And he saith unto them: Know ye not this parable? And how then will ye know all the parables? ¹⁴The sower soweth the word. ¹⁵And these are they by the way side; where the word is sown, and when they have heard, Satan cometh immediately and taketh away the word that was sown in their hearts. ¹⁶And these are they in like manner which are sown on the rocky places; who, when they have heard the word, immediately receive it with gladness; ¹⁷yet have they no root in themselves, but endure only for a while; and then, when tribulation or persecution ariseth for the world's sake, immediately they are offended. ¹⁸And these are they that are sown among the thorns; such as hear the word, ¹⁹and the cares of this world ^eand the deceitfulness of riches and the lusts of other things entering in, choke the word, and it becometh unfruitful. ²⁰And these are they that are sown on the good ground; such as hear the word and receive it, and bring forth fruit, some thirty some sixty and some a hundred fold.

²¹And ^fhe said unto them: Is the lamp brought to be put under the bushel or under the bed, and not to be set on the lampstand? ²²For ^gthere is nothing hidden which shall not be manifested, neither was any thing kept secret but that it should come to light. ²³If ^hany one have ears to hear, let him hear.

²⁴And he said unto them: Take heed what ye hear; ⁱwith what measure ye mete, it shall be measured unto you, and unto you that hear shall more be given: ²⁵For ^khe that hath, to him shall be given; and he that hath not, from him shall be taken even that which he hath.

²⁶And he said: ^lSo is the kingdom of God, as if a man should cast his seed upon the ground, ²⁷and should sleep and rise, night and day, and the seed should spring and grow up, he knoweth not how. ²⁸ For the earth bringeth forth fruit of itself; first the blade, then the ear, and then the full corn in the ear; ²⁹ and when the fruit is brought forth, immediately ^m he putteth in the sickle, because the harvest is come.

³⁰ And he said: ⁿ Unto what must we liken the kingdom of God; or in what parable must we set it forth? ³¹ It is like a grain of mustard seed, which when it is sown in the earth is less than all the seeds that are upon the earth; ³² but when it is sown it groweth up, and becometh greater than all the herbs, and shooteth out great branches, so that the birds of the air are able to lodge under the shadow of it.

³³ And ^o with many such parables spake he the word unto them, as they were able to hear it; ³⁴ but without a parable spake he not unto them; and when they were alone, he explained all things to his disciples.

Jesus (37) stills a tempest, (ch. 5. 1) casts out demons, (25) heals disease, and (35) restores to life.

³⁵ AND ^a the same day, when the evening was come, he saith unto them: Let us pass over unto the other side. ³⁶ And when they had sent away the multitude, they took him even as he was in the ship; and there were other boats also with him.

³⁷ And there ariseth a great storm of wind, and the waves beat into the ship, so that it was now filling. ³⁸ And he was in the hinder part of the ship, sleeping on the cushion; and they awake him, and say unto him: Master*, carest thou not that we perish? ³⁹ And being awakened, he rebuked the wind, and said unto the sea: Peace, be still! And the wind ceased, and there was a great calm. ⁴⁰ And he said unto them: Why are ye so fearful; how is it that ye have no faith? ⁴¹ And they feared exceedingly, and said one to another: Who then is this, that even ^b the wind and the sea obey him?

^{5.} And ^c they came over unto the other side of the sea, into the country of the Gerasenest. ² And when he was come out of the ship, immediately there met him out of the tombs a man with an unclean spirit, ³ who had his dwelling in the tombs; and no man could bind him, no, not with chains; ⁴ because he had been often bound with fetters and chains, and the chains had been torn asunder by him, and the fetters broken in pieces; neither could any one tame him: ⁵ and continually, night and day, in the mountains, and in the tombs, he was crying out, and cutting himself with stones. ⁶ And when he saw Jesus afar off, he ran and worshipped him, ⁷ and cried with a loud voice, and said: What have I to do with thee, Jesus, thou Son of the most high God? I adjure thee by God, that thou torment me not. ⁸ For he said unto him: Come out of the man, thou unclean spirit. ⁹ And he asked him: What is thy name? And he answered, saying: My name is Legion; for we are many. ¹⁰ And he besought him much that he would not send them away out of the country.

¹¹ Now there was there nigh unto the mountains a great herd of swine feeding. ¹² And all the devils^{Gr.} besought him, saying: Send us into the swine, that we may enter into them. ¹³ And forthwith Jesus gave them leave. And the unclean spirits went out, and entered into the swine; and the herd rushed down the steep place into the sea (they were about two thousand) and were choked in the sea.

¹⁴ And they that kept the swine fled, and told it in the city and in the country. And they came out to see what it was that was done. ¹⁵ And they came to Jesus, and they behold him that was possessed with the devil, sitting, and clothed, and in his right mind, even him that had the legion; and they were afraid. ¹⁶ And they that saw it told them how it befell to him that was possessed with the devil, and concerning the swine. ¹⁷ And ^d they began to pray him to depart out of their borders.

¹⁸ And as he was going into the ship, ^e he that had been possessed with the devil prayed him that he might be with him. ¹⁹ Howbeit Jesus suffered him not, but saith unto him: Go home to thy friends, and tell them what things the Lord hath done for thee, and hath had compassion on thee. ²⁰ And he departed, and began to publish in Decapolis what things Jesus had done for him; and all men marvelled.

²¹ And ^f when Jesus had passed over again in the ship unto the other side, a great multitude was gathered unto him; and he was by the sea-side. ²² And ^g behold, there cometh one of ^h the rulers of the synagogue, Jairus by name; and when he saw him, he fell at his feet; ²³ and he besought him greatly, saying: My little daughter lieth at the point of death; ⁱ I pray thee, come and lay thy hands on her, that she may be healed; and she shall live. ²⁴ And Jesus went with him; and much people followed him, and thronged him.

²⁵ And a certain woman ²⁶ who had had an issue of blood twelve years, ²⁶ and had suffered much from many physicians, and had spent all that she had, and was nothing bettered, but rather grew worse, ²⁷ when she heard of Jesus, came in the multitude behind, and touched his garment; ²⁸ for she said: If I may touch but his garments, I shall be made whole. ²⁹ And straightway the fountain of her blood was dried up; and she felt in her body that she was healed of that plague.

³⁰ And Jesus, immediately knowing in himself ³¹ the power which had gone out of him, turned him about in the multitude, and said: Who touched my clothes? ³¹ And his disciples said unto him: Thou seest the multitude thronging thee, and sayest thou, Who touched me? ³² And he looked round about to see her that had done this thing. ³³ But the woman fearing and trembling, knowing what had happened to her, came and fell down before him, and told him all the truth. ³⁴ And he said unto her: Daughter, ³⁵ thy faith hath made thee whole; go in peace, and be whole of thy plague.

³⁵ While ³⁶ he was still speaking, there came from the ruler of the synagogue's house certain who said: Thy daughter is dead: why troublest thou the Master* any further? ³⁶ But Jesus immediately hearing the word that was spoken, saith unto the ruler of the synagogue: Be not afraid, ³⁷ only believe. ³⁷ And he suffered no man to follow him, ³⁸ save Peter and James, and John the brother of James.

³⁸ And he cometh to the house of the ruler of the synagogue; and he beholdeth a tumult, and them that wept and wailed greatly. ³⁹ And when he was come in, he saith unto them: Why make ye this ado and weep? The child is not dead, but ⁴⁰ sleepeth. ⁴⁰ And they laughed him to scorn. ⁴¹ But he put them all out, and he taketh the father and the mother of the child, and them that were with him, and entereth in where the child was lying. ⁴² And taking the hand of the child, he saith unto her: Talitha cumi; which is, being interpreted, Damsel, ⁴³ I say unto thee, arise. ⁴⁴ And straightway the damsel arose and walked; for she was of the age of twelve years. And they were astonished with a great astonishment. ⁴⁵ And ⁴⁶ he charged them greatly that no man should know this; and he bade that something should be given her to eat.

Christ's visit to Nazareth, and rejection there.

6. AND ^a he went out from thence, and came into his own country; and his disciples follow him. ² And when the sabbath day was come, he began to teach in the synagogue. And many hearing him were astonished, saying: ^b From whence hath this man these things? And what wisdom ^c is this which is given unto him, that even such mighty works are wrought by his hands? ³ Is not this the ^d carpenter, the son of Mary, ^e the brother of James and Joses and Judas, and Simon? And are not his sisters here with us? And they ^f were offended in him.

⁴ But Jesus said unto them: ⁵ A prophet is not without honour save in his own country, and among his own kin, and in his own house. ⁶ And he could there do no mighty work, save that he laid his hands upon a few sick folk and healed them. ⁷ And he marvelled because of their unbelief.

AND ^a he went round about the villages, teaching.

⁷ And ^b he calleth unto him the twelve, and began to send them forth by two and two; and he gave them authority over the unclean spirits; ⁸ and he commanded them that they should take nothing for their journey, save a staff only; no scrip, ⁹ no bread, ^c no money* in their purse; ¹⁰ but ^d he shod with sandals; and not put on two coats. ¹⁰ And he said unto them: Where-soever ye enter into a house, there abide till ye depart thence. ¹¹ And whosoever will not receive you, nor hear you, when ye depart thence, ^e shake off the dust under your feet for a testimony unto them. [Verily I say unto you, ^f It shall be more tolerable for Sodom and Gomorrah in the day of judgment than for that city].

17 For ^c Herod himself had sent forth and laid hold upon John, and bound him in prison, for Herodias' sake, his brother Philip's wife; for he had married her. 18 For John had said unto Herod: ^d It is not lawful for thee to have thy brother's wife. 19 Therefore Herodias had a quarrel against him, and desired to kill him; but she could not; 20 for Herod ^e feared John, knowing that he was a just and holy man; and he kept him closely; and when he heard him, he did many things, and heard him gladly.

21 And a convenient day being come, when Herod on his birthday made a supper for his lords, high captains, and chief men of Galilee; 22 and when the daughter of Herodias herself came in, and danced, and pleased Herod and them that sat with him, the king said unto the damsel: Ask of me whatsoever thou wilt, and I will give it thee. 23 And he swore unto her: ^f Whatsoever thou shalt ask of me, I will give it thee, unto the half of my kingdom. 24 And she went forth, and said unto her mother: What shall I ask? And she said: The head of John the Baptist. 25 And she came in straightway with haste unto the king, and asked, saying: I desire that thou give me forthwith upon a platter the head of John the Baptist. 26 And the king was exceeding sorry; yet on account of his oath, and of them that sat with him, he would not refuse her. 27 And immediately the king sent an executioner, and commanded his head to be brought; and he went and beheaded him in the prison, 28 and brought his head upon a platter, and gave it to the damsel; and the damsel gave it to her mother. 29 And when his disciples heard of it, they came and took up his corpse, and laid it in a tomb.

The twelve return, and (31) Jesus retires with them to a desert place; (33) the people following, (34) he teaches and miraculously feeds them.

30 AND ^a the apostles gathered themselves together unto Jesus; and they told him all things, both what they had done and what they had taught. 31 And he said unto them: Come ye by yourselves apart into a desert place, and rest a while. For there were many coming and going, and they had no leisure so much as to eat. 32 And they departed into a desert place by ship privately.

33 And the multitudes saw them departing; and many knew him, and ran by land* thither out of all the cities, and outwent them, and came together unto him. 34 And

^b Jesus went forth, and saw a great multitude; and he was moved with compassion towards them, because they were ^c as sheep not having a shepherd; and he began to teach them many things.

35 And when the day was now far spent, his disciples came unto him, and said: This is a desert place, and now the day is far passed; 36 send them away, that they may go into the country and villages round about, and buy themselves bread; for they have nothing to eat. 37 But he answered and said unto them: Give ye them to eat. And they say unto him: ^d Shall we go and buy two hundred pennyworth* of bread, and give them to eat? 38 He saith unto them: How many loaves have ye? Go and see. And when they knew, they say: ^e Five, and two fishes.

39 And he commanded them to make all sit down by companies upon the green grass; 40 and they sat down in ranks, by hundreds and by fifties. 41 And he took the five loaves and the two fishes, and looking up to heaven ^f he blessed, and he brake the loaves, and gave them to his disciples to set before them; and the two fishes divided he among all. 42 And they all ate, and were filled. 43 And they took up twelve baskets† full of the pieces of bread and of the fishes. 44 And they that had eaten of the loaves were about five thousand men.

Jesus (45) having sent away the disciples, (48) comes to them, walking upon the water—(55) He heals many sick throughout the country.

45 AND ^a straightway he constrained his disciples to get into the ship, and to go before him to the other side, unto Bethsaida, while he sent away the multitude. 46 And when he had dismissed them, he went away to the mountain to pray.

47 And when evening was come, the ship was in the midst of the sea, and he alone upon the land. 48 And he saw them toiling in rowing; for the wind was contrary to them. And about the fourth watch of the night he cometh unto them, walking upon the sea; and ^b he would have passed by them; 49 but they seeing him walking upon the sea, supposed it had been a spirit; and they cried out; 50 for they all saw him, and were troubled. And immediately he talked with them, and saith unto them: Be of good cheer; It is I; be not afraid. 51 And he went up unto them into the ship; and the wind ceased. And they were sore amazed in themselves beyond measure, and wondered; 52 for ^c they understood not the miracle of the loaves; for their ^d heart was hardened.

⁵³ And they passed over, and came into the land of Gennesaret, and cast anchor there. ⁵⁴ And when they were come out of the ship, straightway they knew him, ⁵⁵ and ran through that whole region round about, and began to carry about in beds those that were sick, where they heard he was. ⁵⁶ And whithersoever he entered, into villages, or cities, or country, they laid the sick in the market-places, and besought him that ^e they might touch if it were but the fringe of his garment; and as many as touched it were made whole.

Concerning outward and inward purification, and Pharisaic traditions.

7. AND there ^a come together unto him the Pharisees, and certain of the scribes, who came from Jerusalem. ² And when they saw some of his disciples eating bread with defiled, that is to say, with unwashed, hands, they found fault. ³ For the Pharisees, and all the Jews, except they wash their hands carefully, eat not, holding the tradition of the elders. ⁴ And when they come from the market, except they wash themselves they eat not. And many other things there are which they have received to hold, as the washing of cups, and of pots, and of brassen vessels and of couches.

⁹ And he said unto them: Full well ye reject the commandment of God, that ye may keep your own tradition. ¹⁰ For Moses said: ^d 'Honour thy father and thy mother;' and, 'He that ^e curseth father or mother, let him die the death' [Exod. xx. 12, and xxi. 17.]; ¹¹ but ye say: If a man shall say to his father or mother, That ^f by which thou mightest receive benefit from me is Corban, (that is to say, a gift to God), ¹² then ye suffer him no more to do ought for his father or his mother; ¹³ making ^g the word of God of none effect by your tradition, which ye have delivered. And many such like things ye do.

¹⁴ And he called again the multitude unto him, and said unto them: Harken unto me all of you, and understand: ¹⁵ there is nothing from without the man that entering into him can defile him; but ^h the things which come out of him, those are they that defile the man. ¹⁶ If ⁱ any man hath ears to hear, let him hear.

¹⁷ And when he entered into the house from the people, his disciples asked him concerning the parable. ¹⁸ And he saith unto them: Are even ye so without understanding also? Do ye not perceive that whatsoever thing from without entereth into the man, it cannot defile him; ¹⁹ because it entereth not into his heart, but into the stomach, and goeth out into the draught*, cleansing all meats? ²⁰ And he said: That which cometh out of the man, that defileth the man. ²¹ For ^k from within, out of the heart of men, proceed evil thoughts, adulteries, fornications, murders, ²² thefts, covetousness, wickedness, deceit, lasciviousness, an evil eye, blasphemy, pride, foolishness: ²³ all these evil things come forth from within, and they defile the man.

Jesus goes northward to the region of Tyre and Sidon; and grants the prayer of a Gentile woman.

²⁴ AND ^a he arose from thence, and departed into the borders of Tyre and Sidon. And he entered into a house, and would have no one know it; but he could not be hidden; ²⁵ for a woman whose young daughter had an unclean spirit heard of him, and came and fell at his feet: ²⁶ the woman was a Greek, a Syrophenician by nation; and she besought him that he would cast forth the devil† out of her daughter. ²⁷ But Jesus said unto her: Let the children first be filled; for it is not meet to take the children's bread and to cast it unto the dogs. ²⁸ And she answered and said unto him: Even so, Lord, for even the dogs under the table eat of the children's crumbs. ²⁹ And he said unto her: For this saying go thy way; the devil is gone out of thy daughter. ³⁰ And she departed to her house; and she found the devil gone out, and her daughter laid upon the bed.

Jesus again feeds a great multitude.

^a IN those days ^a the multitude being again great*, and having nothing to eat, Jesus called his disciples unto him, and saith unto them: ² I ^b have compassion on the multitude, because they have now been with me three days, and have nothing to eat; ³ and if I send them away fasting to their home, they will faint by the way; for some of them are come from far. ⁴ And his disciples answered him: From whence can one satisfy these men with bread here in the wilderness? ⁵ And he asked them: How many loaves have ye? And they said, Seven.

⁶ And he commanded the multitude to sit down on the ground; and he took the seven loaves, and gave thanks, and brake, and gave to his disciples to set before them; and they set them before the multitude. ⁷ And they had a few small fishes; and he blessed them, and commanded to set them also before them. ⁸ So they ate, and were filled; and they took up of the pieces that were left seven baskets. ⁹ And they that had eaten were about four thousand; and he sent them away.

The Pharisees and Sadducees require a sign—(14) Warning against their teaching.

¹⁰ AND ^a straightway he entered into the ship with his disciples, and came into the parts of Dalmanutha.

¹¹ And ^b the Pharisees came forth, and began to question with him, seeking of him a sign from heaven, tempting him.

¹⁴ Now the disciples had forgotten to take bread, and they had not in the ship with them more than one loaf. ¹⁵ And ^d he charged them, saying: Take heed, beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and of the leaven of Herod. ¹⁶ And they reasoned among themselves, saying: It is because we have no bread. ¹⁷ And Jesus knowing it saith unto them: Why reason ye because ye have no bread? Do ye not yet perceive or understand? Have ye your heart still hardened? ¹⁸ Having eyes, see ye not; and having ears, hear ye not? And do ye not remember? ¹⁹ When ^e I brake the five loaves among five thousand, how many baskets* full of pieces took ye up? They say unto him, Twelve. ²⁰ And when the seven among four thousand, how many baskets* full of pieces took ye up? And they said, Seven. ²¹ And he said unto them: How is it that ye do not understand?

²² AND he cometh to Bethsaida. And they bring a blind man unto him, and beseech him to touch him. ²³ And he took the blind man by the hand, and led him out of the village; and when ^a he had spit on his eyes, he put his hands upon him, and asked him if he saw any thing. ²⁴ And he looked up, and said: I behold men, for I see them as trees, walking. ²⁵ After that he put his hands again upon his eyes, and made him look up; and he was restored, and saw every thing* clearly. ²⁶ And he sent him away to his house, saying: Neither go into the village, ^b nor tell it to any in the village.

Peter's confession—(31) Jesus foretells his death, and resurrection; and (34) exhorts to steadfastness.

²⁷ AND ^a Jesus went out, and his disciples, into the villages of Casarea Philippi. And by the way he asked his disciples, saying unto them: Who do men say that I am? ²⁸ And they answered: John the Baptist; but some say, Elijah; and others, One of the prophets. ²⁹ And he saith unto them: But who say ye that I am? And Peter answereth and saith unto him: Thou ^b art the Christ. ³⁰ And he charged them that they should tell no one of him.

³¹ And ^c he began to teach them that the Son of man must suffer many things, and be rejected by the elders and the chief priests and the scribes, and be put to death, and ^d after three days rise again. ³² And he spake that saying openly.

And Peter took him and began to rebuke him. ³³ But turning about and looking on his disciples, he rebuked Peter, saying : Get thee behind me, Satan* ; for thy thoughts are not those that are of God, but those that are of men.

³⁴ And he called the multitude unto him, with his disciples, and said unto them : ⁶ Whosoever desireth to come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me. ³⁵ For ^f whosoever shall desire to save his life will lose it ; but whosoever shall lose his life for my sake and the gospel's, the same will save it. ³⁶ For what shall it profit a man, if he shall gain the whole world and lose his own soul ? ³⁷ Or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul ? ³⁸ For ^g whosoever ^h shall be ashamed of me and of my words in this adulterous and sinful generation, of him shall the Son of man also be ashamed, when he cometh in the glory of his Father with the holy angels.

⁹. And he said unto them : ⁱ Verily I say unto you, that there are some of them that stand here, who will not taste of death till they have seen ^k the kingdom of God come with power.

The transfiguration.

² AND ^a after six days Jesus taketh with him Peter and James and John, and leadeth them up into a high mountain apart by themselves. And he was transfigured before them ; ³ and his garments became shining, exceedingly ^b white, as snow, so as no fuller on earth can whiten. ⁴ And there appeared unto them Elijah with Moses ; and they were talking with Jesus.

⁵ And Peter answered and said to Jesus : Master†, it is good for us to be here ; and let us make three tabernacles ; one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elijah. ⁶ For he knew not what to say ; for they were sore afraid. ⁷ And there came a cloud overshadowing them ; and a voice came out of the cloud, saying : This is my beloved Son ; hear him. ⁸ And suddenly, when they looked round about, they saw no man any more, save Jesus only with themselves.

¹¹ And they asked him, saying : Why say the scribes ^c that Elijah must first come ? ¹² And he answered and told them : Elijah verily cometh first, and restoreth all things ; and ^d how it is written of the Son of man, that he must suffer many things, and ^e be set at nought. ¹³ But I say unto you, that ^f Elijah is indeed come, and they have done unto him whatsoever they desired, as it is written of him.

¹⁴ AND ^a when he came to his disciples, he saw a great multitude about them, and scribes questioning with them. ¹⁵ And straightway all the multitude, when they beheld him, were greatly amazed ; and running to him they saluted him. ¹⁶ And he asked the scribes : What question ye with them ? ¹⁷ And one of the multitude answered and said : Master*, I have brought unto thee my son, who hath a dumb spirit ; ¹⁸ and wheresoever it taketh hold on him, it tear-eth him ; and he foameth, and gnasheth with his teeth, and pineth away. And I spake to thy disciples that they should cast it out, and they could not.

¹⁹ He answereth him, and saith : O faithless generation, how long shall I be with you ; how long shall I bear with you ? Bring him unto me. ²⁰ And they brought him unto him ; and when he saw him, straightway the spirit tare him ; and he fell on the ground, and wallowed foaming. ²¹ And he asked his father : How long is it ago since this came unto him ? And he said : From his childhood ; ²² and oftentimes it hath cast him into the fire, and into the waters, to destroy him. But if thou canst do any thing, have compassion on us, and help us. ²³ Jesus said unto him : ^b If thou canst believe, all things are possible to him that believeth. ²⁴ And straightway the father of the child cried out, and said with tears : Lord, I believe ; help thou mine unbelief.

²⁵ And Jesus, seeing that a multitude came running together, rebuked the unclean spirit, saying unto it : Thou dumb and deaf spirit, I charge thee, come out of him, and enter no more into him. ²⁶ And the spirit cried, and rent him sore, and came out of him : and he was as one dead ; insomuch that many said, He is dead ; ²⁷ but Jesus took him by the hand and lifted him up ; and he arose.

²⁸ And when he was come into the house, his disciples asked him privately : Why could not we cast it out ? ²⁹ And he said unto them : This kind can come forth by nothing but by prayer and fasting†.

Another journey through Galilee; (31) Jesus again foretells his death and resurrection.

30 AND they departed thence, and passed through Galilee: and he would not that any one should know it: ³¹ for ^a he taught his disciples, and said unto them: The Son of man is delivered into the hands of men, and they will kill him; and after he is killed, he will rise again the third day. ³² But ^b they understood not the saying, and were afraid to ask him.

33 AND ^a he came to Capernaum. And when he was in the house he asked them: What disputed ye among yourselves by the way? ³⁴ But they held their peace; for by the way ^b they had disputed one with another which of them was the greatest.

³⁵ And he sat down, and called the twelve, and saith unto them: ^c If any one desireth to be first, he shall be last of all, and servant of all. ³⁶ And ^d he took a little child and set him in the midst of them; and when he had taken him in his arms, he said unto them: ³⁷ Whosoever receiveth one of such little children in my name, receiveth me; and ^e whosoever receiveth me, receiveth not me but him that sent me.

³⁸ And John answered him, saying, Master*, we saw one casting out devils† in thy name, and he followeth not us; and ^f we forbid him, because he followeth not us. ³⁹ But Jesus said: Forbid him not: ^g for there is no one that shall do a miracle in my name, and will be able lightly to speak evil of me. ⁴⁰ For he that is not against us is on our part: ⁴¹ For ^h whosoever shall give you a cup of water to drink in my name, because ye belong to Christ, verily I say unto you, he shall in no wise lose his reward.

⁴² And ⁱ whosoever shall cause one of these little ones that believe in me to offend, it were better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and he were cast into the sea. ⁴³ And if thy hand cause thee to offend, ^k cut it off: it is better for thee to enter into life maimed, rather than having thy two hands to go into hell, into the fire that is unquenchable; ⁴⁴ where their worm dieth not, and ^l the fire is not quenched. ⁴⁵ And if thy foot cause thee to offend, cut it off: it is better for thee to enter halt into life, rather than having thy two feet to be cast into hell, into the fire that is unquenchable; ⁴⁶ where their worm dieth not, and the fire is not quenched]. ⁴⁷ And if thine eye cause thee to offend, pluck it out: it is better for thee to enter into the kingdom of God with one eye, rather than having two eyes to be cast into hell fire*; ⁴⁸ where their worm dieth not, and the fire is not quenched. ⁴⁹ For every one shall be salted with fire, and ^m every sacrifice shall be salted with salt. ⁵⁰ Salt ⁿ is good; but if the salt have lost its saltiness, wherewith will ye season it? Have ^o salt in yourselves, and ^p be at peace one with another.

Jesus visits Judæa, and goes beyond the Jordan; and teaches many who resort to him.

10. AND ^a he arose from thence, and goeth into the borders of Judæa, and beyond the Jordan. And the multitudes come together unto him again; and, as he was wont, he taught them again.

Reply to a question respecting divorce.

2 AND ^a there came unto him Pharisees, and asked him: Is it lawful for a man to put away ^b his wife: tempting him. ³ And he answered and said unto them: What did Moses command you? ⁴ And they said: ^b Moses permitted to write a bill of divorcement, and to put ^c her away.

⁵ And Jesus answered and said unto them: For the hardness of your heart he wrote you this commandment; ⁶ but from the beginning of the creation 'God made them male and female' [Gen. i. 27; v. 2]. ⁷ 'For ^c this cause shall a man leave his father and mother, and cleave unto his wife; ⁸ and they two shall be one flesh' [Gen. ii. 24. Sept.]. So then they are no more two, but one flesh. ⁹ What therefore God hath joined together let not man put asunder.

¹⁰ And in the house his disciples asked him again of this matter. ¹¹ And he saith unto them: ^d Whosoever putteth away his wife and marrieth another committeth adultery against her; ¹² and if a woman put away her husband and be married to another she committeth adultery.

Jesus receives and blesses children.

13 AND ^a they brought little children to him, that he might touch them; and his disciples rebuked those that brought them. ¹⁴ But Jesus seeing it, was much displeased, and said unto them: Suffer the little children to come unto me, and forbid them not; for ^b of such is the kingdom of God. ¹⁵ Verily I say unto you, ^c Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child, he shall in no wise enter therein. ¹⁶ And he took them up in Answer to the question How to attain eternal life—(23) Dangers of wealth; (28) promised recompence for sufferings for Christ's sake.

17 AND ^a as he was going forth into the way, there came one running, and kneeled to him, and asked him: Good Master^c, what shall I do that I may inherit eternal life? 18 And Jesus said unto him: Why callest thou me good? There is none good but one, that is God. 19 Thou knowest the commandments, 'Do not commit adultery, Do not kill, Do not steal, Do not bear false witness, Defraud not, Honour thy father and thy mother' [Exod. xx. 12—16]. 20 And he answered and said unto him: Master†, all these have I observed from my youth.

21 Then Jesus beholding him loved him, and said unto him: One thing thou lackest; go thy way, sell whatsoever thou hast, and give to the poor; and thou shalt have ^b treasure in heaven; and come, take up the cross‡, and follow me. 22 And he was sad at that saying, and went away grieved; for he had great possessions.

23 And Jesus looked round about, and saith unto his disciples: How hard is it for them that have riches to enter into the kingdom of God! 24 And the disciples were astonished at his words. But Jesus answereth again and saith unto them: Children, how hard is it for them ^c that trust in riches to enter into the kingdom of God! 25 It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God. 26 And they were astonished out of measure, saying among themselves: Who then can be saved? 27 And Jesus looking upon them saith: With men ^d it is impossible, but not with God: for ^a with God all things are possible.

28 Then Peter began to say unto him: Lo, we have left all, and have followed thee. 29 And Jesus answered and said: Verily I say unto you, there is no one that hath left house, or brethren, or sisters, or lands, or mother, or wife, or children, or father, for my sake, and the gospel's, 30 but ^e he shall receive a hundredfold now in this time, houses, and brethren, and sisters, and mothers, and children, and lands, with persecutions; and in the world ^f to come everlasting life. 31 But ^f many that are first will be last; and the last first.

Setting out on his last journey to Jerusalem, Jesus a third time foretells his death and resurrection.

32 AND ^a they were in the way, going up to Jerusalem; and Jesus went before them; and they were amazed; and as they followed, they were afraid.

And he took again the twelve, and ^b began to tell them the things that were about to happen to him, 33 saying: Behold, we are going up to Jerusalem; and the Son of man will be delivered up to the chief priests and to the scribes; and they will condemn him to death, and will deliver him to the Gentiles; 34 and they will mock him, and will scourge him, and will spit upon him, and will kill him; and the third day he will rise again.

Jesus rebukes ambition; and (42) points out the path to honour in his kingdom.

35 AND ^a there came unto him James and John, the sons of Zebedee, saying unto him: Master*, we would that thou shouldst do for us whatsoever we shall desire. 36 And he said unto them: What would ye that I should do for you? 37 They said unto him: Grant unto us that we may sit, one on thy right hand and the other on thy left hand, in thy glory.

38 But Jesus said unto them: Ye know not what ye ask. Are ye able to drink of the cup that I drink of, and to be baptized with ^b the baptism that I am baptized with? 39 And they said unto him: We are able. And Jesus said unto them: Ye shall indeed drink of the cup that I drink of; and with the baptism that I am baptized withal shall ye be baptized; 40 but to sit on my right hand and on my left hand is not mine to give but ^c unto those for whom it is prepared.

41 And when the ten heard ^d it they began to be moved with indignation against James and John. 42 But Jesus called them to him, and saith unto them: ^e Ye know that they who are accounted to rule over the nations exercise lordship over them, and their great ones exercise authority over them. 43 But ^d so shall it not be among you; but whosoever would become great among you shall be your minister: 44 and whosoever of you would become the chiefest shall be servant† of all. 45 For even ^e the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and ^f to give his life a ransom for many.

Healing of a blind beggar.

46 AND ^a they came to Jericho. And as he went out of Jericho, with his disciples and a great number of people, blind Bartimæus, the son of Timeus, sat by the highway side begging. 47 And when he heard that it was Jesus of Nazareth, he began to cry out, and say: Jesus, thou son of David, have mercy on me! ⁴⁸ And many rebuked him that he should hold his peace; but he cried out the more a great deal, Thou son of David, have mercy on me!

⁴⁹ And Jesus stood still, and commanded him to be called. And they call the blind man, saying unto him: Be of good cheer, rise, he calleth thee! ⁵⁰ And he, casting away his garment, rose², and came to Jesus. ⁵¹ And Jesus answered and said unto him: What wilt thou that I should do unto thee? And the blind man said unto him: Lord[†], that I may receive my sight. ⁵² And Jesus said unto him: Go thy way; ⁵³ thy faith hath made thee whole. And immediately he received his sight, and followed Jesus in the way.

Christ's public entry into Jerusalem; (12) the barren fig tree; (15) cleansing of the temple.

11. AND ^a when they come nigh to Jerusalem, unto Bethphage and ^b Bethany, at the mount of Olives, he sendeth forth two of his disciples, ² and saith unto them: Go your way into the village over against you; and as soon as ye are entered into it, ye will find a colt tied, whereon never man sat; loose it, and bring it. ³ And if any one say unto you, Why do ye this? say ye, The Lord hath need of it; and straightway he will send it hither.

⁴ And they went their way, and found the colt tied by the door without, in the street; and they began to loose it. ⁵ And some of them that stood there said unto them: What do ye, loosing the colt? ⁶ And they said unto them even as Jesus had commanded; and they let them go. ⁷ And they brought the colt to Jesus, and cast their garments on it; and ^c he sat upon it.

Hosanna! Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord! [Ps. cxviii. 26].

¹⁰ Blessed is the[§] coming kingdom of our father David!

Hosanna ^d in the highest!

¹¹ And Jesus entered into Jerusalem, and into the temple. And when he had looked round about upon all things, and now the eventide was come, he went out unto Bethany with the twelve.

¹² And ^e on the morrow, when they were come out from Bethany, he was hungry: ¹³ and seeing a fig tree afar off having leaves, he came, if haply he might find any thing thereon; and when he came to it he found nothing but leaves; for the time of figs was not yet. ¹⁴ And Jesus answered and said unto it: Let no one eat fruit of thee hereafter for ever. And his disciples heard it.

¹⁵ And ^f they come into Jerusalem. And Jesus went into the temple, and began to cast out them that sold and bought in the temple; and he overthrew the tables of the money changers, and the seats of them that sold the doves; ¹⁶ and he would not suffer any one to carry a vessel through the temple. ¹⁷ And he taught, saying unto them: Is it not written, 'My house shall be called a house of prayer for all nations? But ye have made it a den of robbers' [Isa. lvi. 7; Jer. vii. 11].

¹⁸ And ^g the chief priests and the scribes heard it, and sought how they might destroy him; for they feared him, because ^h all the multitude was astonished at his teaching. ¹⁹ And when evening was come, he went out of the city.

²⁰ And ⁱ in the morning, as they passed by, they saw the fig tree withered from the roots. ²¹ And Peter calling to remembrance saith unto him: Master, behold, the fig tree which thou cursedst is withered away. ²² And Jesus answering saith unto them: Have faith in God; ²³ for ^k verily I say unto you, that whosoever shall say unto this mountain, Be thou removed and be thou cast into the sea, and shall not doubt in his heart but shall believe that those things which he saith shall come to pass, he shall have whatsoever he saith. ²⁴ Therefore I say unto you, ^l All things whatsoever ye ask, when ye pray, believe that ye receive them, and ye shall have them.

²⁵ And when ye stand praying, ^m forgive, if ye have aught against any one; that your Father also who is in heaven may forgive you your trespasses. ²⁶ But ⁿ if ye do not forgive, neither will your Father who is in heaven forgive your trespasses.

The Jewish rulers challenge Christ's authority; (29) He silences them by a question; and (ch. 12. 1) shows in a parable their treatment of God's messengers.

²⁷ And they come again to Jerusalem. ^a And as he was walking in the temple, there come to him the chief priests and the scribes and the elders; ²⁸ and they say unto him: By what authority doest thou these things; and who gave thee this authority to do these things?

²⁹ And Jesus answered and said unto them: I also will ask you one question, and do ye answer me; and I will tell you

¹³AND ^ethey send unto him some of the Pharisees and of the Herodians, to catch him in his words. ¹⁴And when they were come, they say unto him: Master*, we know that thou art true, and carest for no man; for thou regardest not the person of men, but teachest the way of God in truth: Is it lawful to give tribute to Cæsar, or not? ¹⁵Shall we give, or shall we not give?

But he, knowing their hypocrisy, said unto them: Why tempt ye me? Bring me a penny*, that I may see it. ¹⁶And they brought it. And he saith unto them: Whose is this image and superscription? And they said unto him: Cæsar's. ¹⁷And Jesus answering said unto them: Render unto Cæsar the things that are Cæsar's, and unto God the things that are God's. And they marvelled at him.

¹⁸Then ^bcome to him the Sadducees, ^cwho say there is no resurrection; and they asked him, saying: ¹⁹Master, Moses wrote unto us: If a man's brother die, and leave a wife, and leave no children, that his brother should take his wife and raise up seed unto his brother [Deut. xxv. 5]. ²⁰Now there were seven brethren; and the first took a wife, and dying left no seed; ²¹and the second took her, and died, leaving no seed; and the third likewise. ²²And the seven had her, and left no seed. Last of all the woman died also. ²³In the resurrection therefore, when they shall rise, whose wife will she be of them? For the seven had her to wife.

²⁴And Jesus answering said unto them: Do ye not therefore err, because ye know not the Scriptures, nor yet the power of God? ²⁵For when they shall rise from the dead, they neither marry nor are given in marriage; but ^dare as the angels that are in heaven. ²⁶And as touching the dead, that they rise, have ye not read in the book of Moses, at the bush, how God spake unto him, saying: 'I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob' [Exod. iii. 6]? ²⁷He is not the God of the dead, but the God of the living. Ye therefore do greatly err.

²⁸AND ^eone of the scribes came near, and having heard them reasoning together, and perceiving that he had answered them well, asked him: Which is the first commandment of all? ²⁹And Jesus answered him: The first of all the commandments is, 'Hear, O Israel! The Lord our God is one Lord; ³⁰and thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength' [Deut. vi. 4, 5]; this is the first commandment. ³¹And the second is like, namely this, 'Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself' [Lev. xix. 18]. There is no other commandment greater than these.

32 And the scribe said unto him: Well spoken, Master^a, thou hast said with truth that He is One; and there is no other but he; 33 and to love him with all the heart, and with all the understanding, and with all the soul, and with all the strength, and to love his neighbour as himself, ^g is more than all whole burnt offerings and sacrifices. 34 And Jesus seeing that he answered wisely, said unto him: Thou art not far from the kingdom of God.

And no one after that durst ask him any question.

35 And ^h Jesus answered and said, while he taught in the temple: How say the scribes that the Christ is David's son?

36 For David himself said by the Holy Spirit: 'The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footstool' [Psa. cx. 1]. 37 David therefore himself calleth him Lord; and whence is he then his son?

AND the great multitude heard him gladly. 38 And ^a he said unto them in his teaching: ^b Beware of the Scribes, who love to go in long robes, and ^c love salutations in the marketplaces, 39 and the chief seats in the synagogues, and the uppermost places at feasts; 40 who ^d devour widows' houses, and for a pretence make long prayers: these shall receive greater condemnation.

41 And ^e as Jesus sat over against the treasury, he beheld how the people cast money into ^f the treasury. And many that were rich cast in much: 42 and there came a certain^g poor widow, and she cast in two mites, which make a farthing. 43 And he called unto him his disciples, and saith unto them: Verily I say unto you, that ^g this poor widow hath cast more in than all those who cast into the treasury; 44 for they all cast in of their abundance, but she of her want cast in all that she had, even all her living.

Prophecy of (2) the destruction of Jerusalem, and (24) Christ's second coming; and (33) exhortations to watchfulness.

13. AND ^a as he was going out of the temple, one of his disciples saith unto him: Master^h, see what manner of stones and what buildings are here! 2 And Jesus answering said unto him: Seest thou these great buildings? ^b There shall not be left one stone upon another that shall not be thrown down.

3 And as he sat upon the mount of Olives over against the temple, Peter and James and John and Andrew asked him privately: 4 Tell us, when will these things be? And what will be the sign when all these things are about to be fulfilled?

5 And Jesus answering them began to say: 6 Take heed lest any man deceive you; 6 for many will come in my name, saying, I am He; and will deceive many. 7 And when ye hear of wars and rumours of wars, be ye not troubled; for such things must needs be: but the end is not yet. 8 For nation will rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom; and there will be earthquakes in divers places, and there will be ^d famines and troubles. These things are the beginnings of sorrows.

9 But ^e take heed to yourselves; for they will deliver you up to councils; and in the synagogues ye will be beaten: and ye will be brought before rulers and kings for my sake, for a testimony unto them. 10 And the gospel must first be published unto all nations. 11 But ^f when they lead you and deliver you up, be not anxious beforehand what ye shall speak, neither premeditate; but whatsoever shall be given you in that hour, that speak ye; for it is not ye that speak, ^g but the Holy Spirit.

12 And the ^h brother will deliver up the brother to death, and the father the child; and children will rise up against their parents, and will cause them to be put to death. 13 And ⁱ ye will be hated by all men for my name's sake. But ^k he that endureth unto the end the same shall be saved.

14 But ^l when ye see the abomination of desolation, [spoken of by ^m Daniel the prophet]ⁿ, standing where it ought not, (let him that readeth understand) then let them that are in Judea flee to the mountains; 15 and let him that is on the housetop not go down into the house, nor enter in, to take any thing out of his house; 16 and let him that is in the field not turn back again to take up his garment.

17 But ^o woe to them that are with child and to them that give suck in those days! 18 And pray ye that your flight be not in the winter. 19 For ^p in those days will be tribulation, such as was not from the beginning of the creation which God created unto this time, nor ever shall be. 20 And if the Lord had not shortened those days, no flesh would have been saved; but for the sake of the elect whom he hath chosen, he hath shortened the days.

21 And ^q at that time if any one shall say to you, Lo, here is the Christ! or, Lo, he is there! believe it not; 22 for false Christs and false prophets will rise, and will show signs and wonders, to lead astray, if possible, even the elect. ²³ But ^q take ye heed;

behold, I have foretold you all things.

²⁴ But ^r in those days, after that tribulation, the sun shall be darkened, and the moon shall not give her light, ²⁵ and the stars of heaven shall fall, and the powers that are in heaven shall be shaken. ²⁶ And ^s then shall they see the Son of man coming in clouds with great power and glory.
²⁷ And then will he send his angels, and will gather together his elect from the four winds, from the uttermost part of the earth to the uttermost part of heaven.

²⁸ Now learn ye a parable from the fig tree; When now its branch hath become tender, and putteth forth its leaves, ye know that summer is near; ²⁹ so likewise ye, when ye see these things coming to pass, know that it is near, even at the doors. ³⁰ Verily I say unto you, that this generation shall not pass away till all these things come to pass. ³¹ Heaven and earth shall pass away, but ^t my words shall never pass away.

³² But concerning that day and that hour knoweth no one, no, not the angels that are in heaven, nor the Son, but the Father.

³³ Take ^u ye heed, watch and pray; for ye know not when the time is. ³⁴ It ^x is as a man taking a far journey, who left his house, and gave authority to his servants, and to every man his work, and commanded the porter to watch. ³⁵ Watch ^y ye therefore; for ye know not when the master of the house cometh; at evening, or at midnight, or at the cockcrow, or in the morning; ³⁶ lest coming suddenly he find you sleeping. ³⁷ And what I say unto you I say unto all, Watch.

*The rulers conspire against Jesus—(8) The embalming beforehand for his burial—(10)
Judas's compact with the chief priests.*

¹⁴ NOW after ^a two days was the Passover*, and the feast of Unleavened bread.
And the chief priests and the scribes sought how they might take him by craft, and put him to death; ² but they said: Not during the feast, lest there be an uproar of the people.

³ And ^b while he was in Bethany, in the house of Simon the leper, as he sat at meat, there came a woman having an alabaster box of ointment of spikenard very costly; and she brake the box, and poured it on his head. ⁴ And there were some that had indignation within themselves, and said: Why hath this waste of the ointment been made? ⁵ For it might have been sold for more than three hundred pence*, and have been given to the poor.

And they murmured against her.

⁶ But Jesus said: Let her alone; why trouble ye her? She hath wrought a good work on me. ⁷ For ^c ye have the poor with you always, and whensoever ye will ye can do them good; but me ye have not always.
⁸ She hath done what she could; she hath anointed my body beforehand for my burial. ⁹ Verily I say unto you, where-soever this Gospel shall be preached throughout the whole world, this also that she hath done shall be spoken of for a memorial of her.

¹⁰ And Judas Iscariot, one of the twelve, went unto the chief priests, to betray him [†] unto them. ¹¹ And when they heard it they were glad, and promised to give him money; and he sought how he might conveniently betray him.

Christ celebrates the Passover; (18) points out the traitor; (22) institutes His supper; and foretells (27) the flight of all his disciples, and (29) Peter's denial.

¹² AND ^a the first day of Unleavened bread, when they killed the Passover, his disciples said unto him: Where wilt thou that we go and make ready that thou mayest eat the Passover?

¹³ And he sendeth forth two of his disciples, and saith unto them: Go ye into the city, and there will meet you a man bearing a pitcher of water: follow him; ¹⁴ and wheresoever he shall go in, say ye to the master of the house: The Master [†] saith, Where is the guest-chamber where I may eat the Passover with my disciples? ¹⁵ And he will show you a large upper room furnished and prepared; there make ready for us. ¹⁶ And his disciples went forth, and came into the city, and found as he had said unto them; and they made ready the Passover.

¹⁷ And ^b in the evening he cometh with the twelve. ¹⁸ And as they sat and were eating, Jesus said: Verily I say unto you,
One of you, even one that eateth with me, will betray me. ¹⁹ And they began to be sorrowful, and to say unto him one by one:
Is it I? and another said: Is it I? ²⁰ And he answered and said unto them: It is one of the twelve, that dipbeth with me in the dish. ²¹ For the Son of man goeth his way, even as it is written of him; but woe to that man by whom the Son of man is betrayed! It had been good for that man if he had not been born.

²² And ^c as they were eating, Jesus took bread, and blessed, and brake, and gave it to them, and said: Take, ye [§]; this is my body. ²³ And he took the cup, and when he had given thanks, he gave it to them; and they all drank of it. ²⁴ And he said unto them: This is my blood of the ^d New Covenant, which is shed ^e for many. ²⁵ Verily I say unto you, I will drink no more of the fruit of the vine until that day when I drink it new in the kingdom of God.

²⁶ And when they had sung a hymn, they went out into the mount of Olives. ²⁷ And ^f Jesus saith unto them: All ye shall be offended in me this night; for it is written, 'I will smite the shepherd, and the sheep shall be scattered' [Zech. xiii. 7]. ²⁸ But ^g after I am risen again, I will go before you into Galilee.

²⁹ But Peter said unto him: Though all should be offended, yet will not I. ³⁰ And Jesus saith unto him: Verily I say unto thee, that this day, even in this night, before the cock crow twice, thou wilt deny me thrice. ³¹ But he spake the more vehemently: If I must die with thee, yet will I not deny thee. Likewise also said they all. Christ's agony in Gethsemane; (43) his betrayal and arrest.

³² AND ^a they came to a place which was named Gethsemane. And he saith to his disciples: Sit ye here while I pray.

³³ And he taketh with him Peter and James and John, and began to be sore amazed, and to be full of heaviness; ³⁴ and he saith unto them: ^b My soul is exceeding sorrowful, even unto death; tarry ye here, and watch. ³⁵ And he went forward a little, and fell on the ground, and prayed that, if it were possible, the hour might pass from him. ³⁶ And he said: 'Abba, Father, ^d all things are possible with thee; take away this cup from me: ^e nevertheless not what I will, but what thou wilt.

³⁷ And he cometh, and findeth them asleep; and he saith unto Peter: Simon, sleepest thou? Couldst not thou watch one hour? ³⁸ Watch ye and pray, that ye enter not into temptation. The spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak. ³⁹ And again he went away, and prayed, saying the same words. ⁴⁰ And he came and found them asleep again, for their eyes were heavy; and they knew not what to answer him. ⁴¹ And he cometh the third time; and he saith unto them: Sleep on now and take your rest; it is enough, ^f the hour is come; behold, the Son of man is betrayed ^{*} into the hands of sinners. ⁴² Rise up, let us go; lo, he that betrayeth me is at hand.

⁴³ And ^g immediately, while he was yet speaking, cometh Judas, (being one of the twelve), and with him a great multitude with swords and staves, from the chief priests and the scribes and the elders. ⁴⁴ And he that betrayed him had given them a token, saying: Whomsoever I shall kiss, that same is he; take him, and lead him away safely. ⁴⁵ And when he was come, he goeth straightway to him, and saith: Master, master^{*}; and kissed him. ⁴⁶ And they laid their hands on him, and took him. ⁴⁷ And one of them that stood by drew his sword, and smote the servant of the high priest, and cut off his ear.

⁴⁸ And Jesus answered and said unto them: Are ye come out as against a robber with swords and staves to take me? ⁴⁹ I was daily with you in the temple teaching, and ye laid no hold on me; but ^a the Scriptures must be fulfilled.

Jesus before the high priest and the Sanhedrim; he is (63) condemned and (65) mocked; (66) Peter's denial.

⁵³ AND ^a they led Jesus away to the high priest; and there came together unto him all the chief priests and the elders and the scribes. ⁵⁴ And Peter followed him afar off, even into the hall of the high priest; and he sat with the officers, and warmed himself at the fire.

⁵⁵ And ^b the chief priests and all the council sought for witness against Jesus to put him to death; and found none; ⁵⁶ for many bare ^c false witness against him, but their witness agreed not together. ⁵⁷ And some stood up and bare false witness against him, saying: ⁵⁸ We heard him say, ^d I will destroy this temple that is made with hands, and within three days I will build another made without hands. ⁵⁹ But neither so did their witness agree together.

Again the high priest asked him, and said unto him: Art thou the Christ, the Son of the Blessed? ⁶² And Jesus said: I am; ^f and ye shall see the Son of man sitting on the right hand of power, and coming with the clouds of heaven. ⁶³ Then the high priest rent his clothes, and saith:

And he went out into the outer court; and the cock crew. ⁶⁹ And the maid saw him again, and began to say to them that stood by: This man is one of them. ⁷⁰ And he denied it again. And a little after, they that stood by said again to Peter: Surely thou art one of them: for 'thou art a Galilaean. ⁷¹ But he began to curse and to swear, saying: I know not this man of whom ye speak. ⁷² And the second time the cock crew. THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO ST. LUKE.

Introduction, describing the origin, plan and purpose of the work.

1. FORASMUCH as many have taken in hand to set forth in order a declaration concerning those things which are most surely believed among us, ² even ^a as they delivered them unto us who ^b from the beginning were eyewitnesses, and ^c ministers of the word, ³ it ^d seemed good to me also, having exactly traced out all things from the very first, to write unto thee in order*, most excellent Theophilus; ⁴ that ^e thou mayest know the certainty of those things wherein thou hast been instructed.

Angelic announcement of the birth of John the Baptist.

5 THERE was ^a in the days of Herod, the king of Judea, a certain priest named Zechariah, of the course of ^b Abijah; and his wife was of the daughters of Aaron, and her name was Elisabeth. ⁶ And they were both ^c righteous before God, walking in all the commandments and ordinances of the Lord blameless. ⁷ And they had no child, because Elisabeth was barren; and they both were far advanced in age.

¹² And when Zechariah saw him, ^h he was troubled, and fear fell upon him. ¹³ But the angel said unto him: Fear not, Zechariah; for thy prayer is heard; and thy wife Elisabeth shall bear thee a son, and thou shalt call his name John. ¹⁴ And thou shalt have joy and gladness; and many shall rejoice at his birth. ¹⁵ For ⁱ he shall be great in the sight of the Lord; and ^k shall drink neither wine nor strong drink; and he shall be ^l filled with the Holy Spirit, ^m even from his mother's womb. ¹⁶ And ⁿ many of the children of Israel shall he turn to the Lord their God.

¹⁸ And Zechariah said unto the angel: ^p Whereby shall I know this? For I am an old man, and my wife far advanced in age. ¹⁹ And the angel answering said unto him: I am ^q Gabriel, who stand in the presence of God; and I have been ^r sent to speak unto thee, and to show thee these glad tidings. ²⁰ And behold, ^s thou shalt be dumb and not able to speak, until the day that these things shall be performed, because thou believedst not my words, ^t which shall be fulfilled in their season.

²¹ And the people were waiting for Zechariah; and they marvelled that he tarried so long in the sanctuary. ²² And when he came out, he could not speak to them; and they perceived that he had seen a vision in the sanctuary; and he made signs to them, and remained speechless.

²³ And it came to pass, that as soon as the days of his ministration were accomplished, he departed to his own house. ²⁴ And after those days his wife Elisabeth conceived; and she hid herself five months, saying: ²⁵ Thus hath the Lord dealt with me in the days wherein he looked on me to ^u take away my reproach among men.

26 AND in the sixth month the angel Gabriel was sent from God unto a city of Galilee named Nazareth, ²⁷ to a virgin ^a betrothed to a man whose name was Joseph, of the house of David; and the virgin's name was Mary. ²⁸ And the angel came in unto her, and said: ^b Hail, thou that art highly favoured! The Lord ^c is with thee! Blessed art thou among women! ²⁹ And when she saw him, she was troubled at his saying, and cast in her mind what manner of salutation this might be.

³⁰ And the angel said unto her: Fear not, Mary; for thou hast found favour with

God. ³¹ And behold, ^e thou shalt conceive, and bring forth a son; and thou ^d shalt call his name JESUS. ³² He ^e shall be great, and shall be called ^f the Son of the Most High: and ^g the Lord God will give unto him the throne of his father David: ³³ and he shall reign over the house of Jacob for ever; and of his kingdom there shall be no end.

³⁴ Then said Mary unto the angel: How shall this be, seeing I know not a man? ³⁵ And the angel answered and said unto her: 'The Holy Spirit shall come upon thee, and the power of the Most High shall overshadow thee! Therefore also the holy child which shall be born of thee shall be called ^k the Son of God. ³⁶ And behold, thy kinswoman Elisabeth, she hath also conceived a son in her old age; and this is the sixth month with her who was called barren. ³⁷ For ⁱ with God nothing will be impossible. ³⁸ And Mary said, Behold the handmaid of the Lord; be it unto me according to thy word. And the angel departed from her.

³⁹ And Mary arose in those days, and went into the hill country with haste, unto a city of Judah: ⁴⁰ and entered into the house of Zechariah, and saluted Elisabeth. ⁴¹ And it came to pass that when Elisabeth heard the salutation of Mary, the babe leaped in her womb. And Elisabeth was filled with the Holy Spirit: ⁴² and she spake out with a loud voice and said: ^m Blessed art thou among women, and blessed is the fruit of thy womb. ⁴³ And whence is this to me that the mother of my Lord should come to me? ⁴⁴ For lo, as soon as the voice of thy salutation sounded in mine ears, the babe leaped in my womb for joy. ⁴⁵ And blessed is she that believed; for there shall be a performance of those things which have been told her from the Lord. ⁴⁶ And Mary said:

My ⁿ soul doth magnify the Lord,
⁴⁷ And my spirit ^o hath rejoiced in God my Saviour.

⁴⁸ For ^p he hath regarded the low estate of his handmaiden: ^q

For behold, from henceforth ^q all generations shall count me blessed.

⁵⁹ And it came to pass, that ^a on the eighth day they came to circumcise the child; and they were calling him Zechariah, after the name of his father; ⁶⁰ and his mother answered and said: Not so; but he shall be called John. ⁶¹ And they said unto her: There is none of thy kindred that is called by this name. ⁶² And they made signs to his father, what he would have him called; ⁶³ and he asked for a writing-tablet, and wrote, saying, His name is John; and they all marvelled. ⁶⁴ And his mouth was opened immediately and his tongue loosed, and he spake and praised God.

⁶⁵ And fear came on all that dwelt round about them: and all these things were noised abroad throughout all the hill country of Judaea. ⁶⁶ And all that heard them ^b laid them up in their hearts, saying: What then will this child be! And ^c the hand of the Lord was with him.

⁶⁸ Blessed be the Lord, the God of Israel;

For ^e he hath visited and redeemed his people,

⁶⁹ And ^f hath raised up a horn of salvation for us

*Birth of Jesus; (8) angelic annunciation to shepherds; (15) their visit to Bethlehem, and
(17) subsequent publication of the glad tidings.*

2. AND it came to pass in those days, that there went out a decree from Caesar Augustus, that all the world* should be registered. 2 This ^aregistration was first made when Quirinus was governor of Syria.
3 And all went to be registered, every one unto his own city.

4 And ^bJoseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, into Judea, unto ^cthe city of David, which is called Bethlehem, ^dbecause he was of the house and lineage of David, ^eto be registered, with Mary his ^e betrothed wife, being great with child.

6 And it came to pass, that while they were there, the days were accomplished that she should be delivered. 7 And ^fshe brought forth her firstborn son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger; because there was no room for them in the inn.

8 And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, and keeping watch over their flock by night. 9 And lo, an angel of the Lord came upon them, and ^gthe glory of the Lord shone round about them: and they were sore afraid. 10 And the angel said unto them: Fear not; for behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, ^kwhich shall be to all the people.

11 For ^lunto you is born this day in the city of David ^ka Saviour, ^lwho is Christ the Lord. 12 And this shall be the sign unto you; Ye shall find a babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger.

13 And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying:

14 Glory ^mto God in the highest! And on earth peace; good will towards men*!

15 And it came to pass, when the angels were gone away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another: Let us now go even unto Bethlehem, and see this thing which is come to pass, which the Lord hath made known unto us. 16 And they came with haste, and found both Mary and Joseph, and the babe lying in the manger.

17 And when they had seen it, they made known the saying which had been told them concerning this child. 18 And all they that heard it wondered at those things which were told them by the shepherds.
19 But ⁿMary kept all these things, and pondered them in her heart. 20 And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all the things that they had heard and seen, as it was told unto

21 AND ^awhen eight days were accomplished for the circumcising of the child, his name was called ^bJESUS, which was so named by the angel before he was conceived man was righteous and devout, waiting for the consolation of Israel; and the Holy Spirit was upon him. 26 And ^dit had been revealed unto him by the Holy Spirit, that do for him according to the custom of the law, ²⁸ then took he him up in his arms, and blessed God and said:

²⁹ Lord, ^a now thou lettest thy servant depart in peace,
According to thy word:

³⁰ For mine eyes ^a have seen thy salvation,

³¹ Which ^k thou hast prepared before the face of all the nations;

³² A ^l light to lighten the Gentiles,
And the glory of thy people Israel.

³³ And his father and mother* marvelled at those things which were spoken of him. ³⁴ And Simeon blessed them, and said unto Mary his mother: Behold, this child is set for the ^m falling and the rising again, of many in Israel, and for ⁿ a sign which shall be spoken against, ³⁵ (yea, a sword shall pierce through thy own soul also), ^o that the thoughts of many hearts may be revealed.

³⁶ And there was one, Anna, a prophetess, the daughter of Phanuel, of the tribe of ^p Asher; she was of a great age, and had lived with a husband seven years from her virginity; ³⁷ and she was a widow of about fourscore and four years; who departed not from the temple, but served God with fastings and prayers ^q night and day. ³⁸ And she, coming in at that instant, gave thanks unto the Lord; and she spake of him to all them that ^r looked for redemption in Jerusalem.

Childhood and youth of Jesus; (41) visit to Jerusalem; (51) his early life at Nazareth.

⁴¹ Now his parents went to Jerusalem ^u every year at the feast of the Passover. ⁴² And when he was twelve years old, they went up to Jerusalem according to the custom of the feast. ⁴³ And when they had fulfilled the days, as they returned, the child Jesus tarried behind in Jerusalem; and his parents; knew not of it. ⁴⁴ But supposing him to be ^d in the company, they went a day's journey; and they sought him among their kinsfolk and acquaintance; ⁴⁵ and when they found him not, they turned back again to Jerusalem, seeking him. ⁴⁶ And it came to pass that after three days they found him in the temple, sitting in the midst of the doctors*, both hearing them and asking them questions. ⁴⁷ And ^e all that heard him were astonished at his understanding and answers. ⁴⁸ And when they saw him, they were amazed: and his mother said unto him: Son, why hast thou thus dealt with us? Behold, thy father and I have sought thee sorrowing. ⁴⁹ And he said unto them: How is it that ye sought me? Knew ye not that I must be in my Father's house? ⁵⁰ And ^f they understood not the saying which he spake unto them.

⁵¹ And he went down with them, and came to Nazareth, and was subject unto them. But his mother kept all these sayings in her heart. ⁵² And Jesus increased in wisdom as in age; and in favour with God and man.

Preparatory ministry of John the Baptist; (21) the baptism of Jesus, and (22) the testimony of the Spirit and of the Father.

3. NOW in the fifteenth year of the reign of Tiberius Caesar—Pontius Pilate being governor of Judæa, and Herod being tetrarch of Galilee, and his brother Philip tetrarch of Iturea and of the region of Trachonitis, and Lysanias tetrarch of Abilene, ² Annas ^a and Caiaphas being the high priests—the word of God came unto John the son of Zechariah, in the wilderness.

⁷ Then said he to the multitude that came forth to be baptized by him: ^d O generation of vipers, who hath warned you to flee from ^e the wrath to come? ⁸ Bring ^f forth therefore fruits worthy of repentance. And begin not to say within yourselves, ⁹ We have Abraham for our father: for I say unto you, that God is able of these stones to raise up children unto Abraham. ¹⁰ And already also the axe lieth at the root of the trees; ¹¹ every tree therefore which bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire.

¹² And the multitudes asked him, saying: What must we do then? ¹³ He answered and said unto them: ⁱ He that hath two coats, let him impart to him that hath none; and he that hath food, let him do likewise.

¹² And there came also publicans* to be baptized; and they said unto him, Master, what must we do? ¹³ And he said unto them, Exact no more than that which is appointed you.

¹⁴ And soldiers likewise asked him, saying: And what must we do? And he said unto them: Do violence to no man, neither accuse any falsely; and be content with your pay.

¹⁵ And ^k as the people were in expectation, and all were reasoning in their hearts concerning John, whether he were the Christ, or not, ¹⁶ John answered saying unto them all: ^l I indeed baptize you with water; but he that is mightier than I cometh, the latchet of whose shoes I am not worthy to unloose; he will baptize you with the Holy Spirit and with fire; ¹⁷ whose winnowing-fan is in his hand, and he will thoroughly cleanse his threshing-floor; and ^m will gather the wheat into his barn, but the chaff he will burn with unquenchable fire. ¹⁸ And with many other exhortations preached he unto the people.

²¹ Now when all the people had been baptized, ^o it came to pass, that Jesus also being baptized, and praying, the heaven was opened, ²² and ^p the Holy Spirit descended in a bodily form, like a dove, upon him, and a voice came from heaven, which said: Thou ^q art my beloved Son; in ^r thee I am well pleased.

The temptation in the wilderness.

4. AND ^a Jesus, full of the Holy Spirit, returned from the Jordan, and ^b was led in the Spirit into the wilderness: ² being forty days ^c tempted by the devil. And ^d he ate nothing in those days; and when they were ended, he afterwards was hungry. ³ And the devil said unto him: If thou be the Son of God, command this stone that it become bread. ⁴ And Jesus answered him: It is written that 'man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word of God' [Deut. viii. 3].

⁵ And the devil, taking him up into a high mountain*, showed unto him all the kingdoms of the world† in a moment of time. ⁶ And the devil said unto him: All this authority will I give thee, and the glory of them; for ^e unto me it hath been delivered, and to whomsoever I will I give it: ⁷ if thou therefore wilt worship me, it shall all be thine. ⁸ And Jesus answered and said unto him*: It is written, 'Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve' [Deut. vi. 13].

⁹ And he brought him to Jerusalem, and set him on the pinnacle of the temple, and said unto him: If thou be the Son of God, cast thyself down from hence; ¹⁰ for it is written: 'He will give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee; ¹¹ and on their hands they shall bear thee up, lest at any time thou dash thy foot against a stone' [Psa. xci. 11, 12]. ¹² And Jesus answering said unto him: It is said, 'Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God' [Deut. vi. 16, Sept.].

Beginning of Christ's public ministry in Galilee—(16) His visit to Nazareth, and rejection there.

¹⁶ And ^c he came to Nazareth, where he had been brought up; and as his custom was, ^d he went into the synagogue on the sabbath day, and stood up to read. ¹⁷ And there was delivered unto him the book of the prophet Isaiah: and when he had opened the book, he found the place where it was written: ¹⁸ 'The Spirit of the Lord is upon me; because he hath anointed me to preach the gospel to the poor; he hath sent me to heal the brokenhearted, to proclaim ^e deliverance to the captives, and ^f recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberty them that are oppressed, ¹⁹ to proclaim the acceptable ^g year of the Lord' [Isa. lxi. 1, 2]. ²⁰ And he closed the book, and gave it again to the minister, and sat down. And the eyes of all that were in the synagogue were fastened on him.

²¹ And he began to say unto them: This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your ears. ²² And all bare him witness, and ^h wondered at the words of grace which proceeded out of his mouth. And they said: Is not this Joseph's son?

²³ And he said unto them: Ye will surely say unto me this proverb, Physician, heal thyself; whatsoever things we have heard done in ⁱ Capernaum, do also here in thine own country. ²⁴ And he said: Verily I say unto you, No ^k prophet is accepted in his own country. ²⁵ But I tell you of a truth, many widows were in Israel in the days of Elijah, when the heaven was shut up three years and six months, ¹ when there was a great famine throughout all the land; ²⁶ yet to no one of them was Elijah sent, but unto ^m Sarepta, a city of Sidon, to a woman that was a widow. ²⁷ And there were many lepers in Israel in the time of Elisha the prophet: yet no one of them was cleansed, but ⁿ Naaman the Syrian.

²⁸ And all they in the synagogue, when they heard these things, were filled with wrath; ²⁹ and they rose up and thrust him out of the city, and led him unto the brow of the hill whereon their city was built, that they might cast him down headlong; ³⁰ but he ^o passing through the midst of them went his way.

Jesus teaches at Capernaum; (33) casts out demons, and heals the sick; and (44) preaches throughout Galilee.

³³ And in the synagogue there was a man who had a spirit of an unclean devil*; and he cried out with a loud voice. ³⁴ saying: Let us alone; what have we to do with thee, thou Jesus of Nazareth? Art thou come to destroy us? ^c I know thee who thou art: ^d the Holy One of God. ³⁵ And Jesus rebuked him, saying: Hold thy peace and come out of him. And the devil, throwing him into the midst, came out of him, and hurt him not.

³⁶ And they were all amazed, and spake one to another, saying: What word is this? For with authority and power he commandeth the unclean spirits, and they come out. ³⁷ And the fame of him went out into every place of the country round about.

⁴⁰ And when the sun was setting, all they that had any sick with divers diseases brought them unto him; and he laid his hands on every one of them and healed them. ⁴¹ And devils also came out of many, crying out and saying, Thou art the Christ, the Son of God. And ^f he rebuking them suffered them not to speak; because they knew that he was the Christ.

42 And ^g when it was day, he came out and went to a desert place; and the multitudes sought after him, and came unto him, and stayed him that he should not depart from them. 43 But he said unto them: I must preach the kingdom of God to the other cities also; for therefore was I sent. 44 And he preached in the synagogues of Galilee*.

The calling of the first four disciples.

5, AND ^a it came to pass, that as the multitude were pressing upon him and listening to the word of God, he stood by the Lake of Gennesaret; ² and he saw two ships [†] standing by the lake; but the fishermen were gone out of them, and were washing their nets. ³ And he went into one of the ships, which was Simon's, and asked him to thrust out a little from the land; and ^b he sat down and taught the multitudes out of the ship.

4 And when he had ceased speaking, he said unto Simon: ^c Launch out into the deep, and let down your nets for a draught. 5 And Simon answering said unto him: Master, we have toiled all the night, and have taken nothing; nevertheless at thy word I will let down the net. ⁶ And when they had done this, they inclosed a great multitude of fishes; and their net began to break; ⁷ and they beckoned unto their partners, who were in the other ship, that they should come and help them. And they came, and filled both the ships, so that they began to sink.

8 When Simon Peter saw it, he fell down at Jesus' knees, saying: Depart from me; for ^d I am a sinful man, O Lord. ⁹ For he was astonished, and all that were with him, at the draught of the fishes which they had taken; ¹⁰ and so were also James and John, the sons of Zebedee, who were partners with Simon. And Jesus said unto Simon: Fear not, ^e from henceforth thou shalt catch men. ¹¹ And when they had brought their ships to land, ^f they left all and followed him.

Miracles of healing—(20) Jesus proves his authority to forgive sins—(26) The astonishment and admiration of the people.

12 AND ^a it came to pass, when he was in one of the cities, behold a man full of leprosy; who seeing Jesus fell on his face and besought him, saying: Lord, if thou wilt thou canst make me clean. ¹³ And he put forth his hand, and touched him, saying: I will, be thou cleansed. And immediately the leprosy departed from him.

14 And he charged him to tell no man; but go, and show thyself to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing ^b according as Moses commanded, for a testimony unto them. ¹⁵ But so much the more went the fame abroad concerning him; and ^c great multitudes came together to hear, and to be healed by him of their infirmities. ¹⁶ And ^d he withdrew himself into the wilderness, and prayed.

17 And it came to pass on one of the days, as he was teaching, that there were Pharisees and doctors* of the law sitting by, who were come out of every village of Galilee and Judæa, and Jerusalem; and ^e the power of the Lord was present to heal them.

18 And ^f behold, men brought on a bed a man who was palsied; and they sought to bring him in, and to lay him before him.

19 And when they could not find by what way they might bring him in, because of the multitude, they went upon the house-top, and let him down across the bricks [†] with his couch into the midst before Jesus.

20 And seeing their faith, he said unto him: Man, thy sins are forgiven thee. ²¹ And the scribes and the Pharisees began to reason, saying: Who is this that speaketh blasphemies? ²² Who can forgive sins but God alone? ²³ But Jesus knowing their reasonings, answered and said unto them: Why reason ye in your hearts?

23 Which is the easier; to say, Thy sins are forgiven thee; or to say, Rise up and walk? ²⁴ But that ye may know that the Son of man ^h hath authority upon earth to forgive sins—he said unto the sick of the palsy—I say unto thee: Arise, and take up thy couch, and go unto thy house. ²⁵ And immediately he rose up before them, and took up that whereon he lay, and departed to his own house, glorifying God.

26 And they were all amazed, and they glorified God; and they were filled with fear, saying: We have seen strange things to-day.

Call of Levi; replies to questions respecting (30) association with sinners, and (33) non-observance of fasting.

27 AND ^a after these things he went forth, and saw a publican, named Levi, sitting at the receipt of Custom; and he said unto him: Follow me. ²⁸ And he left all, rose up, and followed him.

29 And Levi made him a great feast in his house; and there was a great multitude of publicans and others that sat down with them. ³⁰ But their scribes and Pharisees murmured against his disciples, into old bottles*; else the new wine will burst the bottles, and be itself spilled, and the bottles will be destroyed: ³⁸ but new wine must be put into new bottles; and both are preserved. ³⁹ And no man also having drunk old wine desireth new;

Jesus vindicates (1) his disciples for plucking corn, and (6) himself for healing, on the sabbath; (11) the scribes and Pharisees conspire against him.

6. AND ^a it came to pass on a second-first sabbath[†], that he went through the corn fields; and ^b his disciples plucked the ears of corn, and ate them, rubbing them in their hands. ² And some of the Pharisees said unto them: ^c Why do ye that which it is not lawful to do on the sabbath days?

³ And Jesus answering them said: Have ye not read so much as this, ^d what David did, when he himself was hungry, and they that were with him; ⁴ how he went into the house of God, and took and ate the showbread, and gave also to them that were with him; ^e which it is not lawful to eat but for the priests alone? ⁵ And he said unto them: The Son of man is Lord even of the sabbath day.

⁶ And ^f it came to pass also on another sabbath, that he entered into the synagogue and taught. And there was a man whose right hand was withered; ⁷ and the scribes and the Pharisees watched him, whether he would heal on the sabbath day; ⁸ but they might find an accusation against him. ⁹ But ^h he knew their thoughts; and he said to the man that had the withered hand: Rise up, and stand forth in the midst. And he arose and stood forth.

⁹ Then said Jesus unto them: I ask you whether it is lawful on the sabbath days to do good, or to do evil; to save life, or to destroy it? ¹⁰ And looking round about upon them all, he said unto the man:
Stretch forth thy hand. And he did so;
and his hand was restored*.

¹¹ And they were filled with madness; and they communed one with another what they should do to Jesus.

Appointment of the twelve apostles; (17) a great multitude resort to Jesus.

12. AND ^a it came to pass in those days, that he went out into the mountain to pray; and he continued all night in prayer to God.

¹³ And when it was day, he called unto him his disciples; and of them he chose twelve, whom also he named Apostles;
¹⁴ Simon, ^b whom he also named Peter, and Andrew his brother, and James and John, and Philip and Bartholomew, ¹⁵ and Matthew and Thomas, and James the son of Alpheus, and Simon called Zelotes[†], ¹⁶ and Judas, the brother of James, and Judas Iscariot, who also was the traitor.

¹⁷ And he came down with them, and stood on a level place, and a multitude of his disciples, and ^a great crowd of people out of all Judea and Jerusalem, and from the sea coast of Tyre and Sidon, who came to hear him, and to be healed of their diseases; ¹⁸ and they that were vexed with unclean spirits; and they were healed.
¹⁹ And the whole multitude ^d sought to touch him; for ^e there went forth a power out of him and healed them all.

Christ's instructions to his disciples, and to the multitude.

20. AND he lifted up his eyes on his disciples, and said:

Blessed ^a are ye poor; for yours is the kingdom of God.

21. Blessed ^a are ye that hunger now; for ye shall be filled.

Blessed ^a are ye that weep now; for ye shall laugh.

22. Blessed ^c are ye when men hate you, and when they separate you from their company, and reproach you, and cast out your name as evil, for the Son of man's sake. ²³ Rejoice ^d ye in that day and leap for joy; for behold, your reward is great in heaven; for ^e in like manner did their fathers unto the prophets.

24. But ^f woe unto you that are rich; for ^g ye have received all your consolation.

²⁵ Woe unto you that are full; for ye shall hunger.

Woe unto you that laugh now; for ye shall mourn and weep.

²⁷ But ⁱ I say unto you that hear: Love your enemies, do good to them that hate you, ²⁸ bless them that curse you, and ^k pray for them that despitefully use you. ²⁹ And ^l unto him that smiteth thee on the one cheek offer also the other. And him that taketh away thy cloak forbid not to take thy coat also. ³⁰ Give ^m to every one that asketh of thee; and of him that taketh away thy goods ask them not again. ³¹ And ⁿ as ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them likewise.

³² For ^o if ye love them that love you, what thanks are due to you? For even the sinners love those that love them. ³³ And if ye do good to them that do good to you, what thanks are due to you? For even the sinners do the same. ³⁴ And if ye lend to them of whom ye hope to receive, what thanks are due to you? For even sinners lend to sinners, to receive as much in return. ³⁵ But love ye your enemies; and do good and lend, hoping for nothing again; and your reward shall be great, and ^p ye shall be the children of the Most High; for he is kind unto the unthankful and the evil. ³⁶ Be ^q ye merciful even as your Father also is merciful.

⁴⁶ And ^d why call ye me, Lord, Lord! and do not the things which I say? ⁴⁷ Every ^e one that cometh to me, and heareth my sayings and doeth them, I will show you to whom he is like. ⁴⁸ He is like a man building a house, who digged, and went deep, and laid a foundation on the rock; and when ^f a flood came, the stream beat vehemently upon that house, and could not shake it; because it was well built.

⁴⁹ But he that heareth and ^g doeth not, is like a man that without a foundation built a house upon the earth; against which the stream beat vehemently, and immediately it fell, and the ruin of that house was great.

Miraculous healing of a Roman centurion's servant, and (11) raising of a widow's son to life—(16) The fame of Jesus spreads over the whole country.

7. NOW when he had ended all his sayings in the hearing of the people, ^a he entered into Capernaum.

² And a certain centurion's servant, who was dear unto him, was sick and ready to die. ³ And hearing of Jesus, he sent unto him elders of the Jews, beseeching him that he would come and heal his servant. ⁴ And when they came to Jesus, they besought him earnestly, saying: He is worthy that thou shouldst do this for him; ⁵ for he loveth our nation, and himself ⁶ built us our synagogue. ⁶ Then Jesus went with them.

And when he was now not far from the house, the centurion sent friends to him, saying unto him: Lord, trouble not thyself; for I am not worthy that thou shouldst come under my roof; ⁷ wherefore neither thought I myself worthy to come unto thee; but command with a word, and my servant will be healed. ⁸ For I also am a man set under authority; having soldiers under me; and I say unto one, Go, and he goeth; and to another, Come, and he cometh; and to my servant, Do this, and he doeth it.

⁹ And when Jesus heard this, he marvelled at him; and he turned him about,

and said unto the multitude that followed him: I say unto you, I have not found such great faith, no, not in Israel. ¹⁰ And they that were sent, returning to the house, found the servant whole that had been sick.

¹¹ And it came to pass the day after, that he went to a city called Nain; and many of his disciples went with him, and much people. ¹² And when he came nigh to the gate of the city, behold, there was a dead man carried out, the only son of his mother, and she was a widow: and much people of the city was with her. ¹³ And when the Lord saw her, ^b he had compassion on her, and said unto her: Weep not. ¹⁴ And he came and touched the bier; and they that bare it stood still. And he said: Young man, I say unto thee, ^c Arise. ¹⁵ And the dead man sat up, and began to speak. And he delivered him to his mother.

¹⁶ And ^d there came a fear on all; and they glorified God, saying: ^e A great prophet is risen up among us; and ^f God hath visited his people. ¹⁷ And this rumour of him went forth throughout all Judæa, and throughout all the region round about.

John the Baptist's inquiry, and (22) our Lord's answer—(24) His testimony to the Forerunner; and (25) review of John's ministry and its results.

¹⁸ AND ^a the disciples of John told him of all these things. ¹⁹ And John calling unto him two of his disciples sent them to Jesus, saying: Art thou ^b he that was to come, or are we to look for another? ²⁰ And when the men were come unto him, they said: John the Baptist hath sent us unto thee, saying: Art thou he that was to come, or are we to look for another?

²¹ And in that hour he cured many of infirmities and plagues, and of evil spirits, and unto many that were blind he gave sight. ²² Then Jesus answering said unto them: Go and tell John ^c the things which ye have seen and heard; ^d that the blind see, ^e the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, the deaf hear, the dead are raised, ^f to the poor the gospel is preached. ²³ And blessed is he whosoever shall not be offended in me.

²⁴ And when the messengers of John were departed, he began to say unto the multitudes concerning John: What went ye out into the wilderness to see? A reed shaken with the wind? ²⁵ But what went ye out to see? A man clothed in soft raiment? Behold, they that are gorgeously apparelled and live delicately are in kings' courts. ²⁶ But what went ye out to see? A prophet? Yea, I say unto you, and much more than a prophet. ²⁷ This is he of whom it is written, 'Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, who shall prepare thy way before thee' [Mal. iii. 1]. ²⁸ For I say unto you, among those that are born of women there is none greater* than John the Baptist; but he that is least in the kingdom of God is greater than he. ²⁹ And all the people, when they heard him, and the publicans, ^g justified God, ^h being baptized with the baptism of John; ³⁰ but the Pharisees and the lawyers rejected the counsel of God towards themselves, being not baptized by him.

³¹ And the Lord said: Unto what then shall I liken the men of this generation; and to what are they like? ³² They are like unto children sitting in the marketplace, and calling one to another, and saying: We piped unto you, and ye danced not; we weailed unto you, and ye wept not. ³³ For ⁱ John the Baptist came neither eating bread nor drinking wine; and ye say, He hath a devil. ³⁴ The Son of man is come eating and drinking; and ye say, Behold a gluttonous man and a winebibber, a friend of publicans and sinners! ³⁵ And yet wisdom hath been justified by all her children.

The effects and evidence of the forgiveness of sins.

³⁶ AND one of the Pharisees asked him to eat with him; ^a and he went into the Pharisee's house, and sat down to meat. ³⁷ And behold, a woman in the city who was a sinner, when she knew that he sat at meat: in the Pharisee's house, brought ^b an alabaster box of ointment, ³⁸ and stood at his feet behind him weeping, and began to wet his feet with her tears, and wiped them with the hair of her head, and kissed his feet, and anointed them with the ointment.

³⁹ Now when the Pharisee who had bidden him saw it, he spake within himself, saying: This man if he were a prophet would know who and what manner of woman this is that toucheth him; for she is a sinner.

⁴¹ A certain creditor had two debtors; the one owed five hundred pence ⁱ, and the other fifty; ⁴² and when they had nothing to pay, he freely forgave them both. ⁴⁴ And he turned to the woman, and said

Jesus makes a circuit in Galilee, teaching and healing, with the twelve, and (2) the ministering women.

8. AND it came to pass afterwards that he took his way through every city and village, preaching and publishing the glad tidings of the kingdom of God; and the twelve were with him; ²and ^acertain women who had been healed of evil spirits and infirmities; Mary called the Magdalene, ^bout of whom went seven devils, ³and ^cJoanna, the wife of Chuza Herod's steward, and Susanna, and many other women, who ministered unto him of their substance.

Parables illustrating (4) the effects of the word of God, according to the reception given to it; and (16) the practical uses of Divine instruction—(19) Message of Christ's mother and brethren, and (21) his answer.

⁴AND ^awhen a great multitude was gathering together, and they were coming to him out of every city, he spake by a parable: ⁵A sower went forth to sow his seed; and as he sowed, some fell by the way side; and it was trodden down, and the birds of the air devoured it. ⁶And some fell upon the rock; and when it sprang up it withered away, because it lacked moisture. ⁷And some fell among thorns; and the thorns sprang up with it and choked it. ⁸And some fell into the good ground, and sprang up, and bare fruit a hundredfold. And when he had said these things he cried: He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

⁹And his disciples asked him, saying: What might this parable be? ¹⁰And he said: Unto you it is given to know the mysteries† of the kingdom of God: but to others these things are spoken in parables; that 'seeing they may not see, and hearing they may not understand' [Isa. vi. 9]. ¹¹Now the parable is this: The seed is the word of God. ¹²Those by the way-side are they that hear; then cometh the devil, and taketh away the word out of their hearts, lest they should believe and be saved. ¹³Those on the rock are they who when they hear receive the word with joy; and these have no root, who for a while believe, and in time of temptation fall away. ¹⁴And that which fell among the thorns, these are they who when they have heard go forth and ^bare choked with cares and riches and pleasures of life, and bring no fruit to perfection. ¹⁵But that on the good ground, these are they who ^cin an honest and good heart, having heard the word ^dhold it fast, and bring forth fruit with patience.

¹⁶No ^mman when he hath lighted a lamp, covereth it with a vessel, or putteth it under a bed; but he setteth it on the lampstand, that those who enter in may see the light.

¹⁷For ^fthere is nothing secret that shall not be made manifest, nor any thing hidden that shall not be known and come abroad. ¹⁸Take heed therefore how ye hear; ^gfor whosoever hath, to him shall be given; and whosoever hath not, from him shall be taken away even that which he seemeth to have*.

¹⁹Then ^hcame to him his mother and his brethren; and they could not come at him because of the multitude. ²⁰And it was told him: Thy mother and thy brethren stand without, desiring to see thee. ²¹And he answered and said unto them: My mother and my brethren are these who hear the word of God and do it.

22 NOW ^ait came to pass on one of those days that he went into a ship with his disciples; and he said unto them: Let us go over unto the other side of the lake; and they launched forth. ²³And as they sailed he fell asleep. And there came down a storm of wind on the lake; and they were filling with water, and were in jeopardy. ²⁴And they came to him, and awoke him, saying: Master, master, we perish! Then he arose and rebuked the wind and the raging of the water; and they ceased, and there was a calm. ²⁵And he said unto them, Where is your faith? And they were afraid and wondered, saying one to another: Who then is this, that he commandeth even the winds and the water, and they obey him?

shore to Galilee. ²⁷ And when he went forth upon the land, there met him out of the city a certain man who had had devils* a long time, and he wore no clothes, and abode not in a house, but in the tombs. ²⁸ And when he saw Jesus, he cried out and fell down before him, and with a loud voice said: What have I to do with thee, Jesus, thou Son of the Most High God? I beseech thee, torment me not. ²⁹ For he commanded the unclean spirit to come out of the man. For oftentimes it had seized him; and he was kept bound with chains and in fetters; and he brake the bands, and was driven by the devil into the wilderness.

³⁰ And Jesus asked him, saying: What is thy name? And he said, Legion; because many devils were entered into him. ³¹ And they besought him that he would not command them to go out into the deep*. ³² And there was there a herd of many ^c swine feeding on the mountain; and they besought him that he would suffer them to enter into them; and he suffered them. ³³ Then went the devils out of the man, and entered into the swine; and the herd ran violently down the steep place into the lake, and were choked. ³⁴ And when they that fed them saw what was done, they fled, and went and told it in the city and in the country. ³⁵ Then they went out to see what was done; and they came to Jesus, and found the man out of whom the devils were departed sitting at the feet of Jesus, clothed and in his right mind; and they were afraid. ³⁶ And they that had seen it told them how he that was possessed by the devils was healed. ³⁷ Then the whole multitude of the country of the Gadarenes† round about ^d besought him to depart from them; for they were taken with great fear. And he went up into the ship, and returned back again.

³⁸ And ^e the man out of whom the devils were departed besought him that he might be with him; but Jesus sent him away, saying: ³⁹ Return to thine own house, and tell what great things God hath done unto thee. And he went his way and published throughout the whole city what great things Jesus had done unto him.

⁴⁰ And it came to pass that when Jesus was returned the multitude gladly received him; for they were all waiting for him.

⁴¹ And ^f behold, there came a man named Jairus, and he was a ruler of the synagogue; and he fell down at Jesus' feet, and besought him to come into his house; ⁴² for he had one only daughter, about twelve years of age, and she was dying.

And as he went the people thronged him. ⁴³ And a woman who had had an issue of blood twelve years, who had spent all her living upon physicians, and could not be healed by any one, ⁴⁴ came behind him, and touched the fringe of his garment; and immediately her issue of blood stanch'd. ⁴⁵ And Jesus said: Who touched me? When all denied, Peter and they that were with him said: Master, the multitude throng thee and press thee, and sayest thou, Who touched me? ⁴⁶ And Jesus said: Somebody touched me: for I perceived that power went out from me. ⁴⁷ And when the woman saw that she was not hidden, she came trembling, and falling down before him she declared unto him before all the people for what cause she had touched him, and how she was healed immediately. ⁴⁸ And he said unto her: Daughter, be of good comfort: thy faith hath made thee whole; go in peace.

⁴⁹ While he was yet speaking, there cometh one from the ruler of the synagogue's house, saying to him, Thy daughter is dead; trouble not the Master*. ⁵⁰ But Jesus hearing it, answered him, saying, Fear not: only believe, and she shall be made whole. ⁵¹ And when he entered the house, he suffered no one to go in, save Peter and James and John, and the father and the mother of the maiden. ⁵² And all were weeping and bewailing her; but he said: Weep not, she is not dead ^h but sleepeth. ⁵³ And they laughed him to scorn, knowing that she was dead. ⁵⁴ And he put them all out; and he took her by the hand and called, saying, Maid, arise. ⁵⁵ And her spirit came again, and she arose straightway; and he commanded that something should be given her to eat. ⁵⁶ And her parents were astonished; but ^k he charged them that they should tell no one what had been done.

The first mission of the twelve apostles, preaching and healing.

9. THEN ^a he called his twelve disciples together, and gave them power and authority over all devils, and to cure diseases. ² And ^b he sent them forth to preach the kingdom of God, and to heal the sick. ³ And he said unto them: Take nothing for your journey, neither staves nor scrip nor bread nor money, neither have two coats apiece. ⁴ And whatsoever house ye enter into, there abide and thence depart. ⁵ And whosoever will not receive you, when ye go out of that city ^c shake off the very dust from your feet for a testimony against them.

q Ac. 13, 51.

⁶ And they going forth went through the several villages, preaching the gospel, and healing every where.

Herod's perplexity on hearing of Jesus.

⁷ NOW ^a Herod the tetrarch heard of all that was being done by him; and he was perplexed, because it was said by some that John is risen from the dead; ⁸ and by some that Elijah hath appeared; and by others, that one of the old prophets is risen again. ⁹ And Herod said: John I beheaded; but who is this of whom I hear such things? And ^b he sought to see him.

The return of the apostles—Jesus retires with them to a desert place; (11) he is followed by a multitude, whom he teaches, and miraculously feeds.

¹⁰ AND ^a the apostles returned, and told him all that they had done. And he took them and withdrew privately unto a desert place belonging to* a city called Bethsaida. ¹¹ But the multitudes, when they knew it, followed him; and he received them, and spake unto them of the kingdom of God, and healed those that had need of healing.

¹² And when the day began to wear away, the twelve came and said unto him: Send the multitude away, that they may go into the villages and country round about, and lodge, and get victuals; for we are here in a desert place. ¹³ But he said unto them: Give ye them to eat. And they said: We have no more than five loaves and two fishes; except we should go and buy food for all this people. ¹⁴ For they were about five thousand men. And he said to his disciples: Make them sit down by fifties in a company: ¹⁵ and they did so, and made them all sit down. ¹⁶ Then he took the five loaves and the two fishes, and looking up to heaven he blessed them, and brake, and gave to the disciples to set before the multitude. ¹⁷ And they ate and were all filled; and there was taken up of what remained to them of the pieces twelve baskets full.

The various opinions of the people respecting Jesus; (20) Peter's confession; (21) Jesus announces to his disciples his death, and resurrection; and (23) declares the conditions of true discipleship.

¹⁸ AND ^a it came to pass, as he was alone praying, his disciples were with him; and he asked them, saying: Who do the multitudes say that I am? ¹⁹ And they answering said: John the Baptist; but some say, Elijah; and others say, that one of the old prophets is risen again. ²⁰ He said unto them: But who say ye that I am? ^b And Peter answering said: The Christ of God.

²¹ And he strictly charged them and commanded them to tell this to no man; ²² saying: 'The Son of man must suffer many things, and be rejected by the elders and chief priests and scribes, and be put to death, and rise again the third day.

²³ And ^d he said to them all: If any one desireth to come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily, and follow me. ²⁴ For whosoever shall desire to save his life will lose it; but whosoever shall lose his life for my sake, the same will save it. ²⁵ For what is a man profited if he gain the whole world, and lose himself or be cast away? ²⁶ For ^e whosoever shall be ashamed of me and of my words, of him will the Son of man be ashamed, when he cometh in his own glory, and in the glory of his Father, and of the holy angels. ²⁷ But I tell you of a truth, there are some of them that stand here who will not taste of death till they have seen the kingdom of God.

²⁸ AND ^a it came to pass about eight days after these sayings, he took with him Peter and John and James, and went up into the mountain to pray. ²⁹ And as he prayed, ^b the appearance of his countenance was altered, and his raiment became white and glistering. ³⁰ And behold, there talked with him two men, who were Moses and Elijah; ³¹ who appeared in glory, and spake of his decease^c which he was about to accomplish at Jerusalem. ³² And Peter and they that were with him ^e were heavy with sleep; but they kept awake and saw^f his glory, and the two men that stood with him.

³³ And it came to pass, as they were departing from him, Peter said unto Jesus: Master, it is good for us to be here: and let us make three tabernacles; one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elijah; not knowing what he said. ³⁴ And while he thus spake, there came a cloud and overshadowed them, and they feared as they entered into the cloud. ³⁵ And there came a voice out of the cloud, saying, ^d This is my Son, my chosen one: hear ye him. ³⁶ And when the voice was past, Jesus was found alone.

And they kept it secret, and told no one in those days any of those things which they had seen.

Casting out of a demon; (43) astonishment of the people—(45) Jesus again foretells his sufferings, and death.

³⁷ AND ^a it came to pass, that on the next day, when they were come down from the mountain, a great multitude met him. ³⁸ And behold, a man from among the multitude cried out, saying: Master*, I beseech thee, look upon my son; for he is mine only child: ³⁹ and lo, a spirit taketh him, and suddenly crieth out, and seizeth him, so that he foameth, and, bruising him, it hardly departeth from him. ⁴⁰ And I besought thy disciples to cast it out; and they could not.

⁴¹ And Jesus answering said: O faithless and perverse generation! How long shall I be with you, and bear with you? Bring thy son hither. ⁴² And as he was yet coming, the devil threw him down and ^b tare him. And Jesus rebuked the unclean spirit, and healed the child, and delivered him again to his father.

⁴³ And they were all amazed at the mighty power: of God.

But while all were wondering at all things which Jesus did, ^c he said unto his disciples: ⁴⁴ Let these sayings sink down into your ears: for the Son of man is to be delivered up into the hands of men. ⁴⁵ But ^d they understood not this saying, and it was hidden from them, that they should not perceive it: and they feared to ask him about that saying.

Concerning (46) ambition and (49) jealousy.

⁴⁶ AND ^a there arose a dispute among them as to which of them was the greatest. ⁴⁷ And Jesus, perceiving the thoughts of their heart, took a little child and set him by him, ⁴⁸ and said unto them: ^b Whosoever receiveth this little child in my name receiveth me; and whosoever receiveth me receiveth him that sent me: for ^c he that is least among you all, the same shall be great.

⁴⁹ And ^d John answered and said: Master, we saw one casting out devils in thy name; and we forbade him, because he followeth not with us. ⁵⁰ And Jesus said unto him: Forbid him not; for ^e he that is not against us is on our side.

Jesus finally leaves Galilee, to go up to Jerusalem; (52) a Samaritan village refuses to receive him.

⁵¹ AND it came to pass, when the days were being accomplished that ^a he should be received up ^h, he stedfastly set his face to go to Jerusalem. ⁵² And he sent messengers before his face; and they went and entered into a village of the Samaritans, to make ready for him. ⁵³ And ^b they would not receive him, because his face was as though he would go to Jerusalem.

⁵⁴ And when his disciples James and John saw this, they said: Lord, wilt thou that we command fire to come down from heaven and consume them, even as ^c Elijah did? ⁵⁵ But he turned and rebuked them, [and said, ^d Ye know not what manner of spirit ye are of. ⁵⁶ For ^e the Son of man is not come to destroy men's lives, but to save *them]. And they went to another village.

Answers to three persons, explaining the requirements of discipleship.

⁵⁷ AND ^a it came to pass, that as they were journeying, a certain man said unto him in the way: I will follow thee whithersoever thou goest. ⁵⁸ And Jesus said unto him: The foxes have holes, and the birds of the air have nests; but the Son of man hath not where to lay his head.

⁵⁹ And he said unto another: Follow me. But he said: Lord, suffer me first to go away and bury my father. ⁶⁰ Jesus said unto him: Let the dead bury their dead; but go thou and publish abroad the kingdom of God.

⁶¹ And another also said: Lord, ^b I will follow thee, but let me first go and bid them farewell who are at home at my house. ⁶² And Jesus said unto him: No man having put his hand to the plough and looking back is fit for the kingdom of God.

Mission of seventy evangelists; and (17) their return.

10. AFTER these things the Lord appointed ^a seventy others also, and ^b sent them two and two before his face to every city and place whither he himself was about to come. ² And he said unto them:

The ^c harvest indeed is great, but the labourers are few; pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he would send forth labourers into his harvest. ³ Go your ways; ^d behold, I send you forth as lambs among wolves. ⁴ Carry ^e neither purse, nor scrip, nor shoes; and ^f salute no one by the way. ⁵ And into whatsoever house ye enter, first say: Peace be to this house. ⁶ And if the son of peace be there, your peace shall rest upon it; if not, it shall return unto you. ⁷ And ^g in the same house remain, eating and drinking such things as they give; for ^h the labourer is worthy of his hire; go not from house to house.

the same, and say, ¹¹ Even ² the dust of your city which cleaveth on us, we wipe off against you; yet know ye this, that the kingdom of God is come nigh unto you. ¹² But I say unto you, that ³ it will be more tolerable in that day for Sodom, than for that city.

¹³ Woe ^a unto thee, Chorazin! Woe unto thee, Bethsaida! For if the mighty works which have been done in you had been done in Tyre and Sidon, they would have repented long ago, ^o sitting in sackcloth and ashes. ¹⁴ But it will be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon at the judgment than for you. ¹⁵ And thou, Capernaum, shalt thou be exalted to heaven*? Thou shalt be brought down to hell†.

¹⁶ He that heareth you heareth me; and he that rejecteth you rejecteth me; and he that rejecteth me rejecteth him that sent me.

¹⁷ And the seventy returned with joy, saying: Lord, even the devils† are subject unto us in thy name. ¹⁸ And he said unto them: ^p I beheld Satan falling as lightning from heaven. ¹⁹ Behold, ^q I have given unto you authority to tread on serpents and scorpions, and over all the power of the enemy; and nothing shall by any means hurt you. ²⁰ Notwithstanding in this rejoice not, because the spirits are subject unto you; but rather rejoice, because ^r your names are written in heaven.

²¹ In ^s that hour Jesus rejoiced in spirit, and said: I thank thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, because ^t thou hast hidden these things from the wise and prudent, and hast revealed them unto babes; even so, Father; for so it seemed good in thy sight. ²² All ^u things have been delivered unto me by my Father: and no one knoweth who the Son is, but the Father; and ^z who the Father is, but the Son, and ^x he to whomsoever the Son will reveal him.

²³ And he turned him unto his disciples, and said privately: ^y Blessed are the eyes which see the things that ye see; ^z for I tell you, that ^a many prophets and kings desired to see those things which ye see, and did not see them; and to hear those things which ye hear, and did not hear them.

Reply to the question. How to obtain everlasting life? (29) A parable explaining and enforcing the second great commandment.

²⁵ AND behold, a certain lawyer stood up, and tempted him, saying: ^a Master†, what shall I do to inherit everlasting life? ²⁶ He said unto him: ^b What is written in the law; how readest thou? ²⁷ And he answering said: 'Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind; and thy neighbour as thyself' [Deut. vi. 5; Lev. xix. 18]. ²⁸ And he said unto him: Thou hast answered right; this do, and ^c thou shalt live.

²⁹ But he, desiring to ^d justify himself, said unto Jesus: And who is my neighbour? ³⁰ And Jesus answering said: A certain man was going down from Jerusalem to ^e Jericho; and he fell among robbers, who stripped him of his raiment, and beat him, and departed, leaving him half dead.

³¹ And by chance there came down a certain priest that way; and when he saw him, ^f he passed by on the other side. ³² And in like manner a Levite also, when he was at the place, came and looked on him, and passed by on the other side. ³³ But a certain ^g Samaritan, as he journeyed, came where he was; and when he saw him, he was moved with compassion ³⁴ and went to him, and bound up his wounds, pouring in oil and wine, and set him on his own beast, and brought him to an inn, and took care of him. ³⁵ And on the morrow when he departed, he took out two pence*, and gave them to the host, and said unto him: Take care of him; and whatsoever thou spendest more, when I come again, I will repay thee. ³⁶ Which now of these three, thinkest thou, was neighbour unto him that fell among the robbers? ³⁷ And he said: He that showed mercy on him. Then said Jesus unto him: Go, and do thou likewise.

Jesus at the house of Martha and Mary.

³⁸ NOW it came to pass, as they were journeying, that he entered into a certain village: and a certain woman named ^a Martha received him into her house. ³⁹ And she had a sister called Mary, ^b who also ^c sat at Jesus' feet, and heard his word. ⁴⁰ But Martha was ^d cumbered about much serving; and she came to him, and said: Lord, dost thou not care that my sister hath left me to serve alone? Bid her therefore that she help me. ⁴¹ And Jesus answered and said unto her: Martha, Martha, thou art anxious and troubled about many things; ⁴² but ^e one thing is needful; and Mary hath chosen the good part, which shall not be taken away from her.

And ^e lead us not into temptation; but ^f deliver us from evil.

⁵ And he said unto them: Which of you shall have a friend, and shall go unto him at midnight, and say unto him: Friend, lend me three loaves; ⁶ for a friend of mine in his journey is come to me, and I have nothing to set before him; ⁷ and he from within shall answer and say, Trouble me not; the door is now shut, and my children with me are in bed; I cannot rise and give thee? ⁸ I say unto you: ⁹ Though he will not rise and give him because he is his friend, yet because of his importunity he will rise and give him as many as he needeth.

Reply to the accusation of casting out demons by Satanic agency—(23) Answer to the demand of a sign from heaven.

¹⁴ AND ^a he was casting out a devil*, ^b and it was dumb; and it came to pass, when the devil was gone out, the dumb man spake. And the multitudes wondered; ¹⁵ but some of them said: He casteth out devils through Beelzebub, the chief of the devils; ¹⁶ and others, tempting him, ^c sought of him a sign from heaven.

¹⁷ But he, ^d knowing their thoughts, said unto them: Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation; and a house divided against a house falleth. ¹⁸ And if Satan also is divided against himself, how shall his kingdom stand? Because ye say that I cast out devils* through Beelzebub. ¹⁹ And if I by Beelzebub cast out devils, by whom do your sons cast them out? Therefore they themselves shall be your judges. ²⁰ But if I ^e by the finger of God cast out devils, then the kingdom of God is come upon you.

²³ He ^f that is not with me is against me; and he that gathereth not with me scattereth. ²⁴ When ^g the unclean spirit is gone out of a man, it goeth through dry places, seeking rest; and finding none, it saith, I will return unto my house whence I came out; ²⁵ and when it cometh, it findeth it swept and furnished. ²⁶ Then goeth it and taketh to itself seven other spirits more wicked than itself, and they enter in and dwell there; and ^h the last state of that man cometh worse than the first.

²⁷ And it came to pass, as he spake these things, a certain woman from among the multitude lifted up her voice, and said unto him: Blessed is the womb that bare thee, and the breasts which thou hast sucked. ²⁸ But he said, Nay rather, ⁱ blessed are they that hear and keep the word of God.

²⁹ And ^j when the multitudes were gathering thick together, he began to say: This is an evil generation; ^k it seeketh a sign; and there shall no sign be given it, but the sign of Jonah the prophet. ³⁰ For as ^l Jonah was a sign unto the Ninevites, ^m so shall also the Son of man be unto this generation. ³¹ The ⁿ queen of the south will rise up in the judgment with the men of this generation, and will condemn them; for she came from the uttermost parts of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon; and behold, ^o a greater* than Solomon is here. ³² The men of Nineveh will stand up in the judgment with this generation, and will condemn it; for ^p they repented at the preaching of Jonah; and behold, a greater than Jonah is here.

43 Woe unto you, Pharisees; for ^f ye love the chief seats in the synagogues, and salutations in the markets.

44 Woe ^g unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites; for ye are as sepulchres which appear not, and the men that walk over them are not aware of them.

45 Then answered one of the lawyers and said unto him: Master†, by thus saying thou revilest us also. 46 And he said: Woe unto you also, ^h ye lawyers; for ⁱ ye lade men with burdens grievous to be borne, and ye yourselves touch not the burdens with one of your fingers.

47 Woe ^j unto you; for ye build the sepulchres of the prophets, and your fathers killed them. 48 So then ye bear witness and consent unto the deeds of your fathers; for they indeed killed them, and ye build their sepulchres. 49 Therefore also said the wisdom of God: I will send them prophets and apostles, and some of them they will slay and persecute; 50 that the blood of all the prophets which hath been shed from the foundation of the world may be required of this generation: 51 from ^k the blood of Abel unto ^l the blood of Zechariah, who perished between the altar and the temple: verily I say unto you, It shall be required of this generation.

52 Woe ^m unto you, lawyers; for ye have taken away the key of knowledge; ⁿ ye entered not in yourselves, and them that were entering in ye hindered.

53 And as he went out from thence†, the scribes and the Pharisees began to urge him vehemently, and to provoke him to speech of many things; 54 laying wait for him, and ^o seeking to catch something out of his mouth, that they might accuse him.

Cautions against hypocrisy—(4) Promises to persecuted disciples.

12. IN the mean time, when there were gathered together an innumerable multitude of people, so that they trode one upon another, he began to say unto his disciples, first of all: "Beware ye of the leaven of the Pharisees, which is hypocrisy. 2 For ^p there is nothing covered that shall not be revealed, nor hidden that shall not be known. 3 Therefore whatsoever ye have spoken in the darkness shall be heard in the light; and that which ye have spoken in the ear in the secret chambers shall be proclaimed upon the housetops.

4 And I say unto you my friends, ^q Be not afraid of them that kill the body, and after that have no more that they can do.

5 But I will forewarn you whom to fear: Fear him who after he hath killed hath power ^r to cast into hell*; yea, I say unto you, Fear him. 6 Are not five sparrows sold for two farthings? And ^s not even one of them is forgotten before God: 7 but even the very hairs of your head are all numbered. Fear not therefore; ^t ye are of more value than many sparrows.

8 Also I say unto you: Whosoever shall confess me before men, ^u him will the Son of man also confess before the angels of God; 9 but ^v he that denieth me before men shall be denied before the angels of God.

10 And ^w whosoever shall speak a word against the Son of man, it shall be forgiven him; but unto him that blasphemeth against the Holy Spirit it shall not be forgiven.

11 And ^x when they bring you before the synagogues and the magistrates and the authorities, be not anxious how or what thing ye shall answer, or what ye shall say; 12 for the Holy Spirit will teach you in that very hour what ye ought to say.

Warnings against a worldly and covetous spirit; (22) exhortations to confidence in God, fidelity, and watchfulness.

13 AND one from among the multitude said unto him: Master†, speak to my brother, that he divide the inheritance with me. 14 And he said unto him: Man, who made me a judge or a divider over you?

15 And he said unto them: ^y Take heed and beware of covetousness; for a man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth.

¹⁶ And he spake a parable unto them, saying: The ground of a certain rich man brought forth plentifully; ¹⁷ and he thought within himself, saying: What shall I do, because I have no room where to lay up my fruits? ¹⁸ And he said: This will I do; I will pull down my barns, and build greater; and there will I lay up all my fruits and my goods. ¹⁹ And I will say to my soul, Soul, thou hast much goods laid up ²⁰ for many years; take thine ease, eat, drink, and be merry. ²⁰ But God said unto him: Thou fool, this night thy soul shall be required of thee: then ^c whose will those things be which thou hast provided? ²¹ So is he that layeth up treasure for himself, and is not rich towards God.

²² And he said unto his disciples: Therefore I say unto you, ^d Be not anxious for your life, what ye shall eat; nor for your body, what ye shall put on. ²³ The life is more than the food, and the body than the raiment. ²⁴ Consider the ravens; for they neither sow nor reap; which have neither storehouse nor barn; yet ^e God feedeth them: ^f of how much more value are ye than the birds? ²⁵ And which of you by being anxious can add to his stature ^g one cubit? ²⁶ If then ye cannot do that thing which is least, why are ye anxious concerning the rest? ²⁷ Consider the lilies, how they grow; they toil not, neither do they spin; and yet I say unto you, that even ^h Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these. ²⁸ If then God so clothe the grass, which is to-day in the field, and to-morrow is cast into the oven, how much more will he clothe you, O ye of little faith? ²⁹ And ⁱ seek not ye what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink, neither be ye of doubtful mind. ³⁰ For all these things do the nations of the world seek after; and your Father knoweth that ye have need of these things. ³¹ But ^j seek ye the kingdom of God; and all these things shall be added unto you.

when he shall return from the wedding, that when he cometh and knocketh, they may open unto him immediately. ³⁷ Blessed ^r are those servants whom their lord when he cometh shall find watching. Verily I say unto you, that ^s he will gird himself, and make them to sit down to meat, and will come forth and serve them. ³⁸ And if he come in the second watch, or come in the third watch, and find them so, blessed are those servants. ³⁹ And ^t know this, that if the master of the house had known what hour the thief would come, he would have watched, and not have suffered his house to be broken into. ⁴⁰ Be ^u ye also ready: for in such an hour as ye think not the Son of man cometh.

⁴¹ Then Peter said unto him: Lord, speakest thou this parable for us, or also for all? ⁴² And the Lord said: Who then is ^v the faithful and wise steward, whom his lord will set over his household, to give them their portion of food in due season? ⁴³ Blessed is that servant whom his lord when he cometh shall find so doing. ⁴⁴ Of a truth I say unto you, that he will set him over all ^w his goods. ⁴⁵ But ^x if that servant shall say in his heart, My lord delayeth his coming; and shall begin to beat the menservants and maidens, and to eat and drink and to be drunken; ⁴⁶ the lord of that servant will come in a day when he looketh not for him, and at an hour when he is not aware, and will cut him asunder, and will appoint him his portion with the faithless. ⁴⁷ And ^y that servant who knew his lord's will, and prepared not himself nor did according to his will, shall be beaten with many stripes; ⁴⁸ but ^z he that knew not, and did things worthy of stripes, shall be beaten with few stripes. For ^{aa} unto whomsoever much hath been given, of him will much be required; and to whom men have committed much, of him they will demand the more.

⁴⁹ I ^{ab} am come to send fire on the earth; and how I wish that it were already kindled! ⁵⁰ But ^{ac} I have a baptism to be baptized with; and how am I straitened till it be accomplished! ⁵¹ Suppose ^{ad} ye that I am come to give peace on earth? I tell you, Nay, ^{ae} but rather division; ⁵² for from henceforth there will be five in one house divided, three against two, and two against three; ⁵³ they will be divided, father against son, and son against father; mother against daughter, and daughter against mother; mother-in-law against her daughter-in-law, and daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law [Mic. viii. 6].

Being warned by some Pharisees to escape from Herod's jurisdiction, (32) Jesus foretells his death at Jerusalem, and (34) the coming doom of the city.

³¹ THE same day there came some of the Pharisees, saying unto him: Get thee out and depart hence; for Herod desireth to kill thee. ³² And he said unto them: Go ye and tell that fox, Behold, I cast out devils* and I do cures to-day and to-morrow, and the third day^a I am perfected. ³³ Nevertheless ^b I must go on my way to-day and to-morrow and the day following; for it cannot be that a prophet perish outside of Jerusalem.

Jesus at a Pharisee's house, (3) again vindicates his healing on the Sabbath; (7) teaches humility, and (12) true hospitality; and (16) shows by a parable the reception given to God's invitations.

¹⁴, AND it came to pass, when he was come into the house of one of the chief Pharisees ^a to eat bread on the sabbath day, that ^b they were watching him. ² And behold, there was a certain man before him who had the dropsy. ³ And Jesus answering spake unto the lawyers and Pharisees, saying, ^c Is it lawful to heal on the sabbath day or not? ⁴ And they held their peace. And he took him and healed him, and let him go. ⁵ And he answered them, saying: ^d Which of you shall have an ass or an ox fallen into a pit, and will not straightway pull it out on the sabbath day? ⁶ And ^e they could not answer him again to these things.

⁷ And he spake a parable to those who had been bidden, ^f when he marked how they chose out the highest seats; saying unto them: ⁸ When thou art bidden by any one to a wedding, sit not down in the highest seat; lest a more honourable man than thou may have been invited by him; ⁹ and he that bade thee and him come and say to thee, Give this man place; and thou begin with shame to take the lowest seat. ¹⁰ But ^g when thou art bidden, go and sit down in the lowest seat; that when he that bade thee cometh, he may say unto thee, Friend, go up higher. Then shalt thou have honour in the presence of them that sit at meat with thee. ¹¹ For ^h who-soever exalteth himself shall be humbled, and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted.

¹² Then said he also to him that had bidden him: When thou makest a dinner or a supper, call not thy friends, nor thy brethren, nor thy kinsmen, nor ⁱ thy rich neighbours; lest they also bid thee again, and a recompence be made thee. ¹³ But when thou makest a feast, call ^j the poor, the maimed, the lame, the blind; ¹⁴ and thou shalt be blessed; because they cannot recompense thee; for thou shalt be recompensed at ^k the resurrection of the just.

¹⁵ And when one of them that sat at meat with him heard these things, he said unto him: ^l Blessed is he that shall eat bread in the kingdom of God. ¹⁶ Then said he unto him: ^m A certain man made a great supper, and bade many; ¹⁷ and ⁿ he sent his servant at supper time to say to them that had been bidden, Come, for all things are now ready. ¹⁸ And they all with one consent began to make excuse. The first said unto him: I have bought a piece of ground, and I must needs go and see it; I pray thee have me excused. ¹⁹ And another said: I have bought five yoke of oxen, and I am going to prove them; I pray thee have me excused. ²⁰ And another said: I have married a wife, and therefore I cannot come. ²¹ So that servant came and told his lord these things. Then the master of the house being angry said to his servant: Go out quickly into the streets and lanes of the city, and bring in hither the poor and maimed and lame and blind. ²² And the servant said: Lord, it is done as thou hast commanded, and still there is room. ²³ And the lord said unto the servant: Go out into the highways and hedges, and compel ^o them to come in, that my house may be filled. ²⁴ For I say unto you, ^p that none of those men who were bidden shall taste of my supper.

In answer to the murmurs of the Pharisees (3) Jesus shows by three parables the joy of God in the salvation of sinners; and (11) portrays true conversion to God, (25) in contrast with Pharisaic self-righteousness.

¹⁵. THEN were all the publicans and sinners drawing near unto him to hear him.

² And ^a the Pharisees and the scribes murmured, saying: This man receiveth sinners, and eateth with them.

had lost. ¹⁰ In like manner, I say unto you, there is joy in the presence of the angels of God over one sinner that repenteth.

¹¹ And he said: A certain man had two sons; ¹² and the younger of them said unto his father, Father, give me the portion of goods that falleth to me; and he divided unto them his living. ¹³ And not many days after the younger son gathered all together, and went from home unto a far country, and there wasted his substance with riotous living. ¹⁴ And when he had spent all, there arose a mighty famine throughout that land; and he began to be in want. ¹⁵ And he went and joined himself to one of the citizens of that country; and he sent him into his fields* to feed swine. ¹⁶ And he would fain have filled his belly with the husks that the swine were eating; and no man gave unto him.

¹⁷ And when ^f he came to himself, he said: How many hired servants of my father's have bread enough and to spare, and I am perishing with hunger! ¹⁸ I ^g will arise and go to my father, and will say unto him, Father, ^h I have sinned against heaven, and before thee, ⁱ and ^j am no more worthy to be called thy son; make me as one of thy hired servants. ²⁰ And he arose and came to his father. But ^k when he was still a great way off, his father saw him, and had compassion, and ran and fell on his neck and kissed him. ²¹ And the son said unto him: Father, I have sinned against heaven, and in thy sight, and am no more worthy to be called thy son.

²² But the father said to his servants: Bring out quickly ^l the best robe, and put it on him; and put ^m a ring on his hand, and shoes on his feet: ²³ and bring hither the fatted calf, and kill it; and let us eat, and be merry. ²⁴ For ⁿ this my son was dead, and is alive again; he was lost, and is found. And they began to be merry.

²⁵ Now his elder son was in the field; and as he came and drew nigh to the house, he heard music and dancing; ²⁶ and he called one of the servants, and asked what these things meant. ²⁷ And he said unto him: Thy brother is come; and thy father hath killed the fatted calf, because he hath received him safe and sound. ²⁸ And he was angry, and would not go in; but his father came out, and intreated him. ²⁹ But he answering said to his father: Lo, these many years have I served thee, neither transgressed I at any time thy commandment; and yet thou never gavest me a kid, that I might make merry with my friends; ³⁰ but as soon as this thy son was come, who hath devoured thy living with harlots, thou hast killed for him the fatted calf. ³¹ And he said unto him: Son, thou art ever with me, and all that I have is thine. ³² But it was meet that we should make merry and be glad: for this thy brother was dead, and is alive again; and was lost, and is found.

Parable of the unfaithful steward; and (9) its application, showing the wise use of earthly possessions—(19) Parable of the rich man and Lazarus.

16. AND he said also unto his disciples: There was a certain rich man who had a steward; and the same was accused unto him that he was wasting his goods. ² And he called him, and said unto him: How is it that I hear this of thee? Give in the account of thy stewardship; for thou mayest be no longer steward. ³ Then the steward said within himself: What shall I do? For my lord taketh away from me the stewardship. I cannot dig; to beg I am ashamed. ⁴ I am resolved what to do, that when I am put out of the stewardship, they may receive me into their houses. ⁵ So he called unto him every one of his lord's debtors; and he said unto the first: How much owest thou unto my lord? ⁶ And he said: A hundred measures* of oil. And he said unto him: Take thy bill, and sit down quickly, and write fifty. ⁷ Then said he to another: And how much owest thou? And he said: A hundred measures; of wheat. And he said unto him: Take thy bill, and write fourscore. ⁸ And his lord commended the unjust steward, because he had done wisely. For ^a the children of this world are for their own generation wiser than ^b the children of light.

⁹ And I say unto you: ^c Make to yourselves friends by the mammon of unrighteousness; that when it faileth^d, they may receive you into ^e the everlasting habitations. ¹⁰ He that is faithful in that which is least is faithful also in much; and he that is unjust in the least is unjust also in much. ¹¹ If therefore ye have not been faithful in the unrighteous mammon, who will commit to your trust the true riches? ¹² And if ye have not been faithful in that which is another's, who shall give you that which is your own? ¹³ No ^f servant can serve two masters; for either he will hate the one and love the other, or else he will hold to one and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon.

derided him. ¹⁵ And he said unto them: Ye are they who ^h justify themselves before men; but ⁱ God knoweth your hearts: for ^j that which is highly esteemed among men is abomination in the sight of God.

¹⁶ The ^k Law and the Prophets were until John; since that time the kingdom of God is preached, and ^l every one is pressing into it. ¹⁷ And ^m it is easier for heaven and earth to pass away than for one tittle of the Law to fail.

¹⁹ There was a certain rich man who was clothed in purple and fine linen, and fared sumptuously* every day; ²⁰ and there was a certain beggar, named Lazarus, who lay at his gate, full of sores, ²¹ and desiring to be fed with the crumbs which fell from the rich man's table: moreover the dogs came and licked his sores. ²² And it came to pass, that the beggar died, and was carried ^o by the angels into Abraham's bosom. And the rich man also died, and was buried; ²³ and in hell^p he lifted up his eyes, ^q being in torments, and ^r seeth Abraham afar off, and Lazarus in his bosom. ²⁴ And he cried and said: Father Abraham, have mercy on me, and send Lazarus, that he may dip the tip of his finger in water and cool my tongue; for I am ^s tormented in this flame. ²⁵ But Abraham said: Son, ^t remember that thou in thy lifetime receivedst thy good things, and in like manner Lazarus his evil things: but now here he is comforted, and thou art tormented.

²⁶ And besides all this, between us and you there is a great gulf fixed; so that they that would pass from hence to you cannot, neither can they pass to us that ^u would come from thence. ²⁷ Then he said: I pray thee therefore, father, that thou wouldest send him to my father's house; ²⁸ for I have five brethren; that he may testify unto them, lest they also come into this place of torment. ²⁹ But Abraham saith unto him: ^v They have Moses and the Prophets; let them hear them. ³⁰ And he said: Nay, father Abraham; but if one go unto them from the dead, they will repent. ³¹ And he said unto him: If they hear not Moses and the Prophets, neither will they be persuaded though one rose from the dead.

but woe unto him through whom they come! ² It were better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and he cast into the sea, than that he should cause one of these little ones to fall.

⁵ And the apostles said unto the Lord: Increase our faith. ^e And the Lord said: ^f If ye had faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye might say unto this sycamine tree, Be thou plucked up by the roots, and be thou planted in the sea; and it should obey you.

⁷ But which of you, having a servant ploughing or feeding cattle, will say unto him, when he is come in from the field, Come straightway and sit down to meat? ⁸ Will he not rather say unto him, Make ready wherewith I may sup, and gird thyself and serve me, till I have eaten and drunk; and afterwards thou shalt eat and drink? ⁹ Doth he thank that servant because he did the things that were commanded him? I think not. ¹⁰ So likewise ye, when ye shall have done all those things which are commanded you, say, We are unprofitable servants; we have done that which it was our duty to do.

Cleansing of ten lepers; (15) of whom one only, a Samaritan, returns to give thanks.

¹¹ AND it came to pass, ^a as he was journeying to Jerusalem, that he passed through the midst of Samaria and Galilee.

¹² And as he entered into a certain village, there met him ten men that were lepers, ^b who stood afar off. ¹³ And they lifted up their voices, and said, Jesus, Master, have mercy on us. ¹⁴ And when he saw them, he said unto them: ^c Go show yourselves unto the priests. And it came to pass that ^d while they were going they were cleansed. ¹⁵ And one of them, when he saw that he was healed, turned back, and with a loud voice glorified God; ¹⁶ and he fell down on his face at his feet, giving him thanks; and he was a Samaritan.

¹⁷ And Jesus answering said: Were not the ten cleansed; ^e but where are the nine? ¹⁸ Were there none found that returned to give glory to God save this f stranger? ¹⁹ And ^g he said unto him: Arise, go thy way; thy faith hath made thee whole.

Answer to the Pharisees respecting the coming of the kingdom of God.

²⁰ AND ^a being asked by the Pharisees, when the kingdom of God was coming, he answered them and said: The kingdom of God cometh not with observation; ²¹ neither will they say, Behold here! or, Behold there! For behold, the kingdom of God is in the midst of you.

²² And he said unto the disciples: ^b The days will come when ye will long to see one of the days of the Son of man, and ye will not see it. ²³ And ^c they will say to you, Behold here! or, Behold there! Go not after them, nor follow them. ²⁴ For as the lightning that lighteth out of the one part under heaven shineth unto the other part under heaven, so will also the Son of man be in his day. ²⁵ But ^d first must he suffer many things and be rejected by this generation.

²⁶ And as it was ^e in the days of Noah, so will it be also in the days of the Son of man. ²⁷ They were eating, they were drinking, they were marrying wives, they were being given in marriage, until the day that Noah entered into the ark, and the flood came and destroyed them all. ²⁸ In like manner also as it was in ^f the days of Lot; they were eating, they were drinking, they were buying, they were selling, they were planting, they were building; ²⁹ but the same day that Lot went out of Sodom it rained fire and brimstone from heaven, and destroyed them all. ³⁰ Even thus will it be in the day when the Son of man ^g is revealed.

³¹ In that day, he ^h that shall be upon the housetop and his goods in the house, let him not come down to take them away; and he that is in the field, let him in like manner not turn back. ³² Remember ⁱ Lot's wife. ³³ Whosoever ^j shall seek to save his life will lose it; and whosoever shall lose his life will preserve it. ³⁴ ^k I tell you, in that night there will be two men in one bed, one will be taken and the other will be left; ³⁵ there will be two women grinding together, one will be taken and the other left; ³⁶ [two men will be in the field, the one will be taken and the other left*].

³⁷ And they answered and said unto him: Where, Lord? And he said unto them: ³⁸ Whosoever the body is, there also will the eagles be gathered together.

not God, nor regarded man; ³ and there was a widow in that city; and she came unto him, saying, Avenge me of ² mine adversary. ⁴ And he would not for a while; but afterwards he said within himself: Though I fear not God, nor regard man, ⁵ yet because this widow troubleth me, I will avenge her, lest by her continual coming she weary me.

⁶ And the Lord said: Hear what the unjust judge saith. ⁷ And ^b will not God avenge his own elect, who cry day and night unto him, ^c though he bear long on their behalf? ⁸ I tell you that he will avenge them speedily. Nevertheless, when the Son of man cometh will he find faith on the earth?

⁹ And he spake also this parable unto some ^d who trusted in themselves that they were righteous, and despised others. ¹⁰ Two men went up into the temple to pray, the one a Pharisee, and the other a publican.

¹¹ The Pharisee ^e stood and prayed thus with himself, O God, I thank thee that I am not as other men are, extortioners, unjust, adulterers, or even as this publican: ¹² I ^f fast twice in the week, ^h I give tithes of all my increase. ¹³ And the publican, standing afar off, ⁱ would not lift up so much as his eyes unto heaven, but smote his breast, saying: God, be merciful to me a sinner!

¹⁴ I tell you, this man went down to his house ^k justified rather than the other. For ^l every one that exalteth himself shall be humbled, and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted.

Jesus receives and blesses little children.

¹⁵ AND ^a they brought unto him also their infants, that he might touch them; but when his disciples saw it, they rebuked them. ¹⁶ But Jesus called them unto him, and said: Suffer the little children to come unto me, and forbid them not; for of such is the kingdom of God. ¹⁷ Verily I say unto you: Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child shall in no wise enter therein.

Answer to the question How to attain eternal life—(24) The dangers of wealth; (25) promise of abundant recompence for losses for Christ's sake.

¹⁸ AND ^a a certain ruler asked him, saying, Good Master, what shall I do to inherit eternal life? ¹⁹ And Jesus said unto him: Why callest thou me good? None is good, but One, that is, God. ²⁰ Thou knowest the commandments, ^b Do not commit adultery, do not kill, do not steal, do not bear false witness, honour thy father and thy mother' [Eccl. xx. 12, etc.]. ²¹ And he said: All these have I kept from my youth up.

²² And Jesus hearing it, said unto him: Yet lackest thou one thing; ^c sell all that thou hast, and distribute unto the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven; and come, follow me. ²³ And when he heard this he was very sorrowful; for he was very rich.

²⁴ And when Jesus saw that he was very sorrowful, he said: How hard is it for them that have riches to enter into the kingdom of God! ²⁵ For it is easier for a camel to go through a needle's eye than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God. ²⁶ And they that heard it said: Who then can be saved? ²⁷ And he said: The things which are impossible with men are possible with God.

²⁸ Then Peter said: Lo, we have left all, and have followed thee. ²⁹ And he said unto them: Verily I say unto you, There is no man that hath left house, or parents, or brethren, or wife, or children, for the kingdom of God's sake, ³⁰ who shall not receive manifold more in this present time, and in the world to come life everlasting.

On the way to Jerusalem, Jesus again foretells his death, and resurrection.

³¹ THEN ^a he took unto him the twelve and said unto them: Behold, we are going up to Jerusalem, and all things ^b that have been written by the prophets concerning the Son of man will be accomplished.

³² For ^c he will be delivered up unto the Gentiles, and will be mocked, and spitefully treated, and spit on; ³³ and they will scourge him, and put him to death; and the third day he will rise again. ³⁴ And ^d they understood none of these things; and this saying was hidden from them, neither knew they the things which were spoken.

Healing of a blind beggar—(43) The admiration of the multitude.

³⁵ AND ^a it came to pass, that as he came nigh unto Jericho, a certain blind man sat by the way side begging; ³⁶ and hearing a multitude passing by, he asked what it meant; ³⁷ and they told him, that Jesus of Nazareth was passing by. ³⁸ And he cried out, saying: Jesus, thou Son of David, have mercy on me! ³⁹ And they who went before rebuked him, that he should hold his peace; but he cried so much the more, Thou Son of David, have mercy on me! ⁴⁰ And Jesus stood, and commanded him to be brought unto him; and when he was come near, he asked him ⁴¹ saying: What wilt thou that I should do unto thee? And he said: Lord, that I

Visit to Zacchæus; (7) the murmurs of the people, and (9) the Lord's answer.

19. AND Jesus entered and was passing through Jericho. ² And behold, there was a man named Zacchæus; and he was a chief publican*, and he was rich. ³ And he sought to see Jesus who he was; and he could not, for the multitude, because he was little of stature. ⁴ And he ran before, and climbed up into a sycamore tree to see him, because he was to pass that way. ⁵ And when Jesus came to the place, he looked up and saw him, and said unto him: Zacchæus, make haste and come down; for to-day I must abide at thy house. ⁶ And he made haste and came down, and received him joyfully.

⁷ And when they saw it they all murmured, saying: ^a He is gone in to be a guest with a man that is a sinner. ⁸ And Zacchæus stood and said unto the Lord: Behold, Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor; and ^b if I have wrongfully exacted any thing from any man, I restore fourfold. ⁹ And Jesus said unto him: This day is salvation come to this house, inasmuch as ^c he also is a son of Abraham. ¹⁰ For ^d the Son of man is come to seek and to save that which was lost.

False expectations respecting the kingdom of God corrected by a parable inculcating patient and faithful service.

11 AND as they heard these things, he added and spake a parable, because he was nigh to Jerusalem, and because ^a they thought that the kingdom of God was immediately to appear.

¹² He ^b said therefore: A certain nobleman went into a far country, to receive for himself a kingdom, and to return. ¹³ And he called his ten servants, and gave them ten pound†, and said unto them, Trade with them until I come. ¹⁴ But ^c his citizens hated him, and sent an embassy after him, saying: We will not have this man to reign over us. ¹⁵ And it came to pass that when he was returned, having received the kingdom, then he commanded these servants to be called unto him to whom he had given the money, that he might know what each one had gained by trading. ¹⁶ Then came the first, saying: Lord, thy pound hath gained ten pounds. ¹⁷ And he said unto him: Well done, good servant! Because thou hast been ^d faithful in a very little, have thou authority over ten cities. ¹⁸ And the second came, saying: Lord, thy pound hath gained five pounds. ¹⁹ And he said likewise to him: Be thou also over five cities. ²⁰ And another came, saying: Lord, behold, here is thy pound, which I have kept laid up in a napkin; ²¹ for I feared thee, because thou art an austere man; thou takest up what thou layedst not down, and reapest what thou didst not sow. ²² And he saith unto him: ^e Out of thine own mouth will I judge thee, thou wicked servant. ^f Thou knewest that I am an austere man, taking up what I laid not down, and reaping what I did not sow; ²³ wherefore then gavest not thou my money into a bank, and then at my coming I should have required it back with interest? ²⁴ And he said unto them that stood by, Take from him the pound, and give it to him that hath the ten pounds—²⁵ And they said unto him, Lord, he hath ten pounds already—²⁶ For I say unto you, that ² unto every one that hath shall be given; and from him that hath not, even what he hath shall be taken away from him. ²⁷ But ^h those mine enemies who would not that I should reign over them, bring hither and slay them before me.

Jesus enters Jerusalem attended by a great multitude; and (41) on approaching the city utters a lamentation over it.

28 AND when he had thus spoken, ^a he went forward, going up to Jerusalem. ²⁹ And ^b it came to pass, when he was come nigh to Bethphage and Bethany, at the mount called the mount of Olives, he sent two of his disciples, ³⁰ saying: Go ye into the village over against you; in which at your entering ye will find a colt tied, whereon no man ever sat; loose it and bring it hither; ³¹ and if any one ask you, Why do ye loose it? thus shall ye say unto him: Because the Lord hath need of it. ³² And they that were sent went their way, and found even as he had said unto them. ³³ And as they were loosing the colt, the owners thereof said unto them: Why loose ye the colt? ³⁴ And they said: The Lord hath need of it. ³⁵ And they brought it to Jesus; and ^c they cast their garments upon the colt, and they set Jesus thereon. ³⁶ And as he went they spread their garments in the way.

³⁷ And when he was coming near, even now at the descent of the mount of Olives, the whole multitude of the disciples began to rejoice and praise God with a loud voice for all the mighty works that they had seen, ³⁸ saying: Blessed ^d is the King that cometh in the name of the Lord! Peace ^e in heaven, and glory in the highest!

³⁹ And some of the Pharisees from among the multitude said unto him, Master*, rebuke thy disciples. ⁴⁰ And he answered and said unto them: I tell you that if these should hold their peace, ^f the stones would immediately cry out.

⁴¹ And when he was come near, as he beheld the city, he ^g wept over it, ⁴² saying: ^h If thou hadst known, even thou, at least ⁱ in this thy day, the things which belong unto thy peace!—But now they are hidden from thine eyes. ⁴³ For ^k the days will come upon thee that thine enemies will cast a mound about thee, and compass thee round, and keep thee in on every side, ⁴⁴ and ^l will lay thee even with the ground, and thy children within thee; and ^m they will not leave in thee one stone upon another; ⁿ because thou knewest not the time of thy visitation.

Jesus in the temple—(45) He expels the traders, and (47) teaches daily; (ch. 20. 1) replies to the Sanhedrim questioning his authority, (9) shews by a parable their ill treatment of God's messengers, and (13) even the Son; and (17) foretells their ruin.

⁴⁵ AND ^a he went into the temple, and began to cast out those that were selling there; ⁴⁶ saying unto them: It is written, 'My house shall be a house of prayer;' but ye have made it 'a den of robbers' [Isa. lvi. 7; Jer. vii. 11].

²⁰ AND ^b it came to pass, on one of those days, as he was teaching the people in the temple and preaching the gospel, that the chief priests and the scribes came upon him with the elders; ² and they spake unto him, saying: Tell us, ^c by what authority doest thou these things? Or who is he that gave thee this authority?

³ And he answered and said unto them: I will also ask you a question, and do ye answer me: ⁴ The baptism of John, was it from heaven, or from men? ⁵ And they reasoned with themselves, saying: If we say, From heaven; he will say, Why then did ye not believe him? ⁶ But if we say, From men; all the people will stone us; for ^d they are persuaded that John was a prophet. ⁷ And they answered, that they did not know whence it was. ⁸ And Jesus said unto them: Neither do I tell you by what authority I do these things.

⁹ Then began he to speak to the people this parable: ^e A certain man planted a vineyard, and let it out to husbandmen, and went into a far country for a long time. ¹⁰ And at the season he sent a servant to the husbandmen that they might give him of the fruit of the vineyard; but the husbandmen beat him, and sent him away empty. ¹¹ And again he sent another servant; and they beat him also and treated him shamefully, and sent him away empty. ¹² And again he sent a third; and they wounded him also, and cast him out. ¹³ Then said the lord of the vineyard: What shall I do? I will send my beloved son; it may be they will reverence him when they see him. ¹⁴ But when the husbandmen saw him, they reasoned among themselves, saying: This is the heir; come, let us kill him, that the inheritance may be ours. ¹⁵ So ^f they cast him out of the vineyard and killed him. What therefore will the lord of the vineyard do unto them? ¹⁶ He will come and destroy these husbandmen, and will give the vineyard to others.

And when they heard it, they said: God forbid*! ¹⁷ And he looked upon them, and said: What then is this that is written, 'The stone which the builders rejected, the same is become the head of the corner?' [Psa. cxviii. 22, Sept.] ¹⁸ Whosoever ^g shall fall upon that stone will be broken; but ^h on whomsoever it shall fall, it will grind him to powder.

¹⁹ And the chief priests and the scribes the same hour sought to lay hands on him; and they feared the people; for they perceived that he had spoken this parable against them.

Jesus in the temple—(20) He defeats crafty attempts to ensnare him by questions: (41) questions the Scribes respecting David's Son and Lord; (45) warns the people against their false teachers; and (ch. 21. 1) commends a poor widow's offering.

²⁰ AND ^a they kept watch on him, and sent out spies feigning themselves to be just men, that they might take hold of his words, that so they might deliver him up to the power and authority of the governor. ²¹ And they asked him, saying: Master*, we know that thou speakest thou persons, but teachest the way of God in truth: ²² Is ^b it lawful for us to give tribute unto Cæsar, or not?

²⁷ Then ^d came to him certain of the Sadducees, ^e who deny that there is any resurrection ; and they asked him ²⁸ saying : Master†, Moses wrote unto us, ' If any man's brother die having a wife, and he die without children, that his brother should take his wife and raise up seed unto his brother' [Deut. xxv. 5]. ²⁹ There were therefore seven brethren ; and the first took a wife, and died without children ; ³⁰ and the second took her to wife, and he died childless ; ³¹ and the third took her : and in like manner the seven also ; and they left no children, and died : ³² last of all the woman died also. ³³ Therefore in the resurrection whose wife of them is she? For the seven had her to wife.

³⁴ And Jesus answering said unto them : The children of this world marry, and are given in marriage ; ³⁵ but ^f they that are accounted worthy to obtain that world, and the resurrection from the dead, neither marry, nor are given in marriage. ³⁶ For ^g neither can they die any more ; for they are equal unto the angels ; and are the children of God, being the children of the resurrection. ³⁷ But that the dead are raised, even Moses hath showed at the bush†, when he calleth the Lord the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob [Exod. iii. 6]. ³⁸ Now he is not a God of the dead, but of the living : for ^h all live unto him.

³⁹ Then certain of the scribes answering said : Master‡, thou hast well said. ⁴⁰ And ⁱ after that they durst not ask him any question at all.

⁴¹ And he said unto them : ^k How say they that the Christ is David's son ? ⁴² And David himself saith in the book of Psalms : ^l ' The LORD said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, ⁴³ until I make thine enemies thy footstool' [Psa. cx. 1, Sept.]. ⁴⁴ David therefore calleth him Lord, how is he then his son ?

⁴⁵ Then ^m in the hearing of all the people he said unto his disciples § : ⁴⁶ Beware of the scribes, who desire to walk in long robes, and love salutations in the marketplaces, and the chief seats in the synagogues, and the uppermost places at feasts ; ⁴⁷ who ⁿ devour widows' houses, and for a pretence make long prayers : these shall receive greater condemnation.

²¹. And he looked up ^o and saw the rich men casting their gifts into the treasury : ² and he saw also a certain poor widow casting in thither two mites. ³ And he said : Of a truth I say unto you, that this poor widow hath cast in more than they all ; ⁴ for all these have of their abundance cast in unto the offerings of God, but she of her penury hath cast in all the living that she had.

Prophecies of (5) the destruction of Jerusalem, (10) wars between nations, (12) persecutions of Christ's disciples, and (25) great troubles in the last days—(34) Exhortations to watchfulness and prayer.

⁷ And they asked him, saying : Master*, when then will these things be? And what will be the sign when these things are about to come to pass ? ⁸ And he said : Take heed that ye be not deceived ; for ^c many will come in my name, saying, I am He ; and, The time draweth near. Go ye not therefore after them. ⁹ But when ye hear of wars and commotions, be not terrified ; for these things must first come to pass ; but the end is not immediately.

¹⁰ Then said he unto them : Nation will rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom ; ¹¹ and there will be great earthquakes in divers places, and famines, and pestilences ; and fearful sights and great signs will there be from heaven.

¹² But ^d before all these things, they will lay their hands on you, and persecute you, delivering you up to the synagogues, and ^e into prisons, ^f being brought before kings and rulers for my name's sake. ¹³ And ^g it shall turn to you for a testimony. ¹⁴ Settle ^h it therefore in your hearts, not to meditate beforehand what ye shall answer. ¹⁵ For ⁱ I will give you a mouth and wisdom which all your adversaries will not be able to gainsay nor resist. ¹⁶ And ye will be delivered up† both by parents and brethren and kinsfolks and friends ; and ^k some of you will they cause to be put to death. ¹⁷ And ye will be hated by all men for my name's sake. ¹⁸ Yet ^l there shall not a hair

²⁰ And ^m when ye shall see Jerusalem compassed with armies, then know that the desolation thereof is nigh. ²¹ Then let them that are in Judea flee to the mountains; and let them that are in the midst of it depart out; and let not them that are in the fields enter thereinto. ²² For these are the days of vengeance, that ⁿ all things which are written may be fulfilled.

²³ But woe unto them that are with child, and to them that give suck, in those days! For there will be great distress in the land; and wrath upon this people. ²⁴ And they will fall by the edge of the sword, and will be led away captive into all nations. ⁹ And Jerusalem will be trodden down by the Gentiles, ^p until the times of the Gentiles be fulfilled.

²⁵ And ^q there will be signs in the sun, and in the moon, and in the stars; and upon the earth distress of nations, with perplexity, the sea and the waves roaring; ^r men's ^r hearts failing them for fear, and for expectation of the things which are coming on the worlds. For the powers of the heavens shall be shaken. ²⁷ And then shall they see the Son of man ^s coming in a cloud with power and great glory. ²⁸ And when these things begin to come to pass, ^t then look up, and lift up your heads; because ^u your redemption draweth nigh.

³⁴ But ^a take heed to yourselves, lest at any time your hearts be overcharged with surfeiting and drunkenness and cares of this life, and so ^a that day come upon you unawares. ³⁵ For as a snare will it come on all them that dwell on the face of the whole earth. ³⁶ Watch ^b ye therefore, and ^c pray always, that ye may be accounted worthy ^b to escape all these things that are to come to pass, and ^d to stand before the Son of man.

³⁷ And ^e in the day time he was teaching in the temple; and ^f at night he went out and abode in the mount that is called the mount of Olives. ³⁸ And all the people came early in the morning to him in the temple, to hear him.

The Sanhedrim resolve to seek the death of Jesus, and (5) agree to pay Judas for betraying him—(7) Jesus celebrates the Passover with his disciples, and (19) institutes the holy Supper—(21) He foretells Judas's treachery, (24) reproves contention for pre-eminence, (31) warns Peter of his fall, and (35) all the disciples of the coming conflict.

²² NOW ^a the feast of unleavened bread drew nigh, which is called the Passover. ² And the chief priests and the scribes sought how they might kill him; for they feared the people. ³ Then entered Satan into Judas called Iscariot, who was of the number of the twelve. ⁴ And he went away and communed with the chief priests and captains* how he might betray him† unto them. ⁵ And they were glad, and agreed to give him money. ⁶ And he promised; and he sought opportunity to betray him† unto them in the absence of the multitude.

⁷ Then ^b came the day of unleavened bread, when the Passover must be killed. ⁸ And he sent Peter and John, saying: Go and make ready for us the Passover, that we may eat it. ⁹ And they said unto him: Where wilt thou that we make ready? ¹⁰ And he said unto them: Behold, when ye are entered into the city, there will a man meet you bearing a pitcher of water; follow him into the house where he entereth in. ¹¹ And ye shall say unto the master of the house: The Master† saith unto thee, Where is the guestchamber where I may eat the Passover with my disciples? ¹² And he will show you a large upper room furnished; there make ready. ¹³ And they went and found as he had said unto them; and they made ready the Passover.

¹⁴ And ^c when the hour was come, he sat down, and the apostles ^d with him. ¹⁵ And he said unto them: Earnestly have I desired to eat this Passover with you before I suffer; ¹⁶ for I say unto you, I will not any more eat thereof, ^d until it be fulfilled in the kingdom of God. ¹⁷ And he took a cup, and gave thanks, and said: Take this and divide it among yourselves; ¹⁸ for I say unto you, I will not henceforth drink of the fruit of the vine until the kingdom of God be come.

¹⁹ And ^e he took bread, and gave thanks, and brake it, and gave unto them, saying: This is my body ^f which is given for you; this do ye in remembrance of me. ²⁰ And in like manner the cup after supper, saying:

This cup is the New Covenant in my blood, which is shed for you.

²¹ But ^v behold, the hand of him that betrayeth me*, is with me on the table. ²² And truly the Son of man goeth, ^h as it hath been determined; but woe unto that man by whom he is betrayed: ²³ And they began to inquire among themselves, which of them it was that would do this thing.

²⁴ And ⁱ there arose also a strife among them, which of them should be accounted the greatest. ²⁵ And ^k he said unto them: The kings of the Gentiles exercise lordship over them, and they that exercise authority over them are called Benefactors. ²⁶ But ye shall not be so; but ^l he that is greatest among you, let him be as the younger; and he that is chief, as he that serveth. ²⁷ For which is the greater, he that sitteth at meat, or he that serveth? Is it not he that sitteth at meat? But I am among you as he that serveth. ²⁸ Ye are they that have continued with me in ^m my temptations. ²⁹ And I appoint unto you a kingdom, ⁿ even as my Father hath appointed unto me; ³⁰ that ye may eat and drink at my table in my kingdom, and ^o sit on thrones judging the twelve tribes of Israel.

³¹ And the Lord said: Simon, Simon, behold, ^p Satan hath desired to have you, that he may ^q sift you as wheat; ³² but ^r I have prayed for thee, that thy faith fail not; and ^s when thou art converted, I strengthen thou thy brethren. ³³ And he said unto him: ^t Lord, I am ready to go with thee, both to prison and to death. ³⁴ And he said: I tell thee, Peter, the cock will not crow this day before thou hast thrice denied that thou knowest me.

³⁵ And he said unto them: ^u When I sent you without purse and scrip and shoes, lacked ye any thing? And they said: Nothing. ³⁶ Then said he unto them: But now he that hath a purse let him take it, and likewise his scrip; and he that hath no sword, let him sell his garment, and buy one. ³⁷ For I say unto you, that this which is written must yet be accomplished in me, ^v "And he was reckoned among the transgressors" [Isa. liii. 12]: for ^w the things concerning me have an end. ³⁸ And they said: Lord, behold, here are two swords. And he said unto them: It is enough.

³⁹ AND ^a he came out and went, as he was wont, to the Mount of Olives; and his disciples also followed him. ⁴⁰ And when he was at the place, he said unto them:

^b Pray that ye enter not into temptation.

⁴¹ And he was withdrawn from them about a stone's cast; and he kneeled down and prayed, ⁴² saying: Father, if thou be willing, remove this cup from me;—nevertheless ^c not my will, but thine, be done. ⁴³ And there appeared unto him ^d an angel from heaven, strengthening him. ⁴⁴ And ^e being in an agony he prayed more earnestly; and his sweat was as it were great drops of blood falling down to the ground. ⁴⁵ And when he rose up from his prayer, he came to his disciples, and found them sleeping for sorrow; ⁴⁶ and he said unto them: Why sleep ye? Rise and pray, lest ye enter into temptation.

⁴⁷ And ^f while he was still speaking, behold, a multitude, and he that was called Judas, one of the twelve, went before them; and he drew near unto Jesus ^g to kiss him. ⁴⁸ But Jesus said unto him: Judas, betrayest thou* the Son of man with a kiss?

⁴⁹ And when they that were about him saw what would follow, they said unto him: Lord, shall we smite with the sword? ⁵⁰ And one of them smote the servant of the high priest, and cut off his right ear. ⁵¹ And Jesus answered and said: Suffer ye thus far. And he touched his ear and healed him.

⁵² Then Jesus said unto the chief priests, and captains of the temple, and the elders, who were come against him: Are ye come out as against a robber with swords and staves? ⁵³ When I was daily with you in the temple, ye stretched not forth your hands against me: but this is your hour, and ^h the power of darkness.

Jesus is led to the high priest's house; (55) is denied by Peter; (63) is mocked and beaten; and (66) tried and condemned by the Sanhedrim.

⁵⁴ THEN ^a they laid hold on him and led him, and brought him into the high priest's house. And Peter followed afar off. ⁵⁵ And when they had kindled a fire in the midst of the court, and were set down together, Peter sat down among them. ⁵⁶ And a certain maid saw him as he sat by the fire, and earnestly looked upon him, and said: This man also was with him. ⁵⁷ But he denied him, saying: Woman, I know him not. ⁵⁸ And after a little while another saw him, and said: Thou also art one of them. And Peter said: Man, I am not. ⁵⁹ And about the space of one hour after another confidently affirmed, saying: Of a truth this man also was with him; for he is a Galileean. ⁶⁰ And Peter said:

Man, I know not what thou sayest. And immediately, while he was still speaking, the cock crew. ⁶¹ And the Lord turned, and looked upon Peter. And Peter remembered the word of the Lord, how he had said unto him, Before the cock crow thou wilt deny me thrice; ⁶² and Peter went out, and wept bitterly.

⁶³ And ^b the men that held Jesus ^c mocked him, and smote him; ⁶⁴ and when they had blindfolded him, they struck him on the face, and asked him, saying: Prophecy, who is it that smote thee? ⁶⁵ And many other things blasphemously spake they against him.

⁶⁶ And ^d as soon as it was day, the assembly of elders, both the chief priests and scribes, came together; and they led him into their council, saying: ⁶⁷ If ^e thou be the Christ, tell us. And he said unto them: If I tell you, ye will not believe: ⁶⁸ and if I also ask you, ye will not answer me, nor let me go. ⁶⁹ But from henceforth I will the Son of man be seated on the right hand of the power of God.

⁷⁰ Then said they all: Art thou then the Son of God? And he said unto them: Ye say that I am. ⁷¹ And they said: Why need we any further witness? For we ourselves have heard from his own mouth.

Jesus before (1) Pilate, and (8) Herod—(13) Pilate seeks to release Him, but (24) finally sentences him to death.

23. AND ^a the whole multitude of them arose, and led him unto Pilate. ² And they began to accuse him saying: We found this man ^b perverting the nation, and ^c forbidding to give tribute to Caesar, and saying that he himself is Christ a King. ³ And Pilate asked him, saying: Art thou the King of the Jews? And he answered him and said: Thou sayest it.

⁴ Then said Pilate to the chief priests and to the people: ^d I find no fault in this man. ⁵ But they were the more fierce, saying: He stirreth up the people, teaching throughout all Judea, ⁶ beginning from Galilee unto this place. ⁶ And when Pilate heard of Galilee, he asked whether the man were a Galilean. ⁷ And as soon as he knew that he belonged to Herod's jurisdiction, he sent him to Herod, who himself also was at Jerusalem at that time.

⁸ And when Herod saw Jesus, he was exceedingly glad; for ⁹ he had been desirous to see him for a long time, because he had heard many things of him; and he hoped to see some miracle done by him. ¹⁰ And he questioned him in many words; but he answered him nothing.

¹⁰ And the chief priests and the scribes stood and vehemently accused him. ¹¹ And ^a Herod with his guard of soldiers set him at nought, and mocked him and arrayed him in a gorgeous robe, and sent him again to Pilate. ¹² And the same day Pilate and Herod became friends with each other; for before they were at enmity between themselves.

¹³ And Pilate, when he had called together the chief priests and the rulers and the people, ¹⁴ said unto them: Ye have brought this man unto me as one that perverteth the people; and behold, ¹⁵ I, having examined him before you, have found no fault in this man touching those things whereof ye accuse him: ¹⁵ no, nor yet Herod; for I sent you to him, and behold, nothing worthy of death hath been done by him. ¹⁶ I ^b will therefore chastise him, and release him. [¹⁷ For ^c of necessity ^d he must release one unto them at the feast.] ¹⁸ But they cried out all at once, saying: Away with this man; and release unto us Barabbas; ¹⁹ who for a certain insurrection made in the city, and for murder, had been cast into prison.

26. AND ^a as they led him away, they laid hold upon one Simon, a Cyrenian, coming out of the country, and on him they laid the cross, that he might bear it after Jesus.

²⁷ And there followed him a great multitude of the people, and of women, who also bewailed and lamented him. ²⁸ But Jesus turning unto them, said: Daughters of Jerusalem, weep not for me, but weep for yourselves and for your children. ²⁹ For behold, ^b days are coming in which they will say: Blessed are the barren, and the wombs that never bare, and the breasts that never gave suck! ³⁰ Then ^c will they begin to say to the mountains, Fall on us! and to the hills, Cover us! [Hos. x. 8.]

³² And ^e there were also two others, malefactors, led with him to be put to death. ³³ And ^f when they were come to the place which is called Calvary* there they crucified him, and the malefactors, one on the right hand and the other on the left. ³⁴ Then said Jesus: Father, forgive them; for ^g they know not what they do.

And ^h they parted his raiment, and cast lots. ³⁵ And the people stood beholding. And the ⁱ rulers also with them derided him, saying: He saved others; let him save himself if he be the Christ, the chosen one of God. ³⁶ And the soldiers also mocked him, coming to him and offering him vinegar, ³⁷ and saying: If thou be the King of the Jews save thyself.

³⁹ And one of the malefactors that were hanged railed at him, saying: If thou art the Christ save thyself and us. ⁴⁰ But the other answering rebuked him, saying: Dost not thou even fear God, seeing thou art in the same condemnation? ⁴¹ And we indeed justly, for we receive the due reward of our deeds; but this man hath done nothing amiss. ⁴² And he said unto Jesus: Lord, remember me when thou comest into ^j thy kingdom. ⁴³ And Jesus said unto him: Verily I say unto thee, To-day shalt thou be with me in ^k paradise.

⁴⁴ And ^m it was about the sixth hour; and there was a darkness over all the land until the ninth hour; ⁴⁵ and the sun was darkened. And ⁿ the veil of the temple was rent in the midst.

⁴⁶ And Jesus cried with a loud voice, and said: Father, 'into thy hands I commit my spirit' [Psa. xxxi. 5.]. ⁴⁷ And having said thus, he yielded up his spirit.

⁵⁰ And ^r behold, there was a man named Joseph, who was a Councillor; a good and righteous man; ⁵¹ (the same had not consented to their counsel and deed) he was of Arimathea, a city of the Jews; ⁵² who also himself was waiting for the kingdom of God; ⁵³ this man went unto Pilate, and begged the body of Jesus. ⁵⁴ And he took it down, and wrapped it in linen, and ^t laid it in a sepulchre that was hewn out of a rock, wherein never man before was laid. ⁵⁵ And it was the day ^u of the Preparation; and the sabbath drew on.

⁵⁶ And ^v the women also who had come with him from Galilee followed after, and ^w beheld the sepulchre, and how his body was laid. ⁵⁷ And they returned, and ^x prepared spices and ointments.

Visits to the tomb, by (ch. 24. 1) the women, and (12) Peter—(13) Our Lord's appearance to two disciples going to Emmaus, and (33) to the rest in the evening after his resurrection—(44) His last instructions, and (50) ascension to heaven.

AND they rested on the sabbath day ^y according to the commandment. ²⁴ But ^z on the first day of the week, very early in the morning, they came unto the sepulchre, bringing the spices which they had prepared*. ² And they found the stone rolled away from the sepulchre; ³ and when they entered in they found not the body of the Lord Jesus.

⁴ And it came to pass, as they were much perplexed about this, ^a behold, two men stood by them in shining garments. ⁵ And as they were afraid, and bowed down their faces to the earth, they said unto them: Why seek ye the living one among the dead? ⁶ He is not here, but is risen. Remember how he spake unto you when he was still in Galilee, ⁷ saying: The Son of man must be delivered up into the hands of sinful men, and be crucified, and the third day rise again.

⁸ And they remembered his words; ⁹ and ^d they returned from the sepulchre, and told all these things unto the eleven, and to all the rest. ¹⁰ It was Mary of Magdala, and ^e Joanna, and Mary the mother of James, and the other women with them, who told these things unto the apostles. ¹¹ And their words seemed to them as idle tales, and they believed them not.

¹² But ^f Peter arose, and ran to the sepulchre; and stooping down, he saw only the linen clothes lying there; and he went away home, wondering at that which had come to pass.

¹³ And ^g behold, two of them were going that same day to a village called Emmaus, which was threescore furlongs* from Jerusalem: ¹⁴ and they talked together of all these things which had happened. ¹⁵ And it came to pass that while they were talking together and reasoning, Jesus himself drew near and went with them; ¹⁶ but their eyes were holden that they might not know him.

¹⁷ And he said unto them: What words are these which ye speak so earnestly one to another, as ye walk, and are sad? ¹⁸ And one of them ¹ whose name was Cleopas, answering, said unto him: Art thou sojourning alone in Jerusalem, and hast not known the things which are come to pass there in these days? ¹⁹ And he said unto them: What things? And they said unto him: Concerning Jesus of Nazareth†, who was a prophet mighty in deed and word before God and all the people; ²⁰ and ^k how our chief priests and rulers delivered him up to be condemned to death, and crucified him. ²¹ But we hoped ¹ that it was he who was to redeem Israel. Moreover besides all this, to-day is the third day since these things were done. ²² Yea, and ^m certain women also of our company made us astonished, who were early at the sepulchre; ²³ and when they found not his body, they came, saying that they had also seen a vision of angels, who said that he was alive.
²⁴ And some of them that were with us went to the sepulchre, and found it even so as the women had said; but him they saw not.

²⁵ Then he said unto them: O foolish ones, and slow of heart to believe all that the prophets have spoken! ²⁶ Ought not the Christ to have suffered these things, and to enter into his glory? ²⁷ And beginning with ⁿ Moses and ^o all the prophets, he expounded unto them in all the Scriptures the things concerning himself.

²⁸ And they drew nigh unto the village whither they were going; and he made as though he would go further; ²⁹ but they constrained him, saying: Abide with us; for it is towards evening, and the day is far spent; and he went in to abide with them.

³⁰ And it came to pass, as he sat at meat with them, ^p he took the bread and blessed it, and brake, and gave to them. ³¹ And their eyes were opened, and they knew him; and ^q he vanished out of their sight.

³² And they said one to another: Did not our heart burn within us, while he talked with us by the way, and while he opened to us the Scriptures? ³³ And they rose up the same hour and returned to Jerusalem; and they found the eleven and them that were with them gathered together, ³⁴ saying: The Lord is risen indeed, and ^r hath appeared to Simon. ³⁵ And they told the things that were done in the way, and how he became known to them in the breaking of bread.

³⁶ And ^s while they were speaking these things Jesus himself stood in the midst of them, and saith unto them: Peace be unto you! ³⁷ But they were terrified and affrighted, and supposed that they beheld a spirit.
³⁸ And he said unto them, Why are ye troubled? And why do doubts arise in your hearts? ³⁹ Behold my hands and my feet, that it is I myself; ^t handle me, and see;
for a spirit hath not flesh and bones, as ye see me have. ⁴⁰ And* when he had thus spoken, he showed them his hands and his feet. ⁴¹ And while they still believed not for joy, and wondered, he said unto them: ^u Have ye here anything to eat?
⁴² And ^v they gave him a piece of a broiled fish† ⁴³ And ² he took it and ate before them.

⁴⁴ And he said unto them: These are the words which I spake unto you while I was still with you, ^a that all things must be fulfilled which are written ^b in the Law of Moses and in the Prophets and in the Psalms concerning me. ⁴⁵ Then ^c opened he their understanding that they might understand the Scriptures. ⁴⁶ And he said unto them: ^d Thus it is written, and thus it behoved the Christ to suffer, and to rise from the dead the third day; ⁴⁷ and that repentance and ^e remission of sins should be preached in his name ^f unto all the nations, ^g beginning at Jerusalem. ⁴⁸ And ye are witnesses of these things. ⁴⁹ And behold, ^h I send the promise of my Father upon you. But tarry ye in the city of Jerusalem, ⁱ until ye be endued with power from on high.

⁵⁰ And he led them out ^k as far as to Bethany; and he lifted up his hands and blessed them. ⁵¹ And ¹ it came to pass, while he blessed them, he was parted from them and was carried up into heaven.
⁵² And ^m they worshipped him; and returned to Jerusalem with great joy. ⁵³ And they were continually ⁿ in the temple, praising and blessing God. Amen.

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO ST. JOHN.

The (1) eternal existence, and (3) Divine attributes and acts of the Word; (6) His manifestation and work; (10) his rejection by the world—(15) Testimony of John the Baptist.

1. IN ^a the beginning was the Word, and the Word was ^b with God, and ^c the Word was God. ² The same was in the beginning with God. ³ All ^d things were made through him; and without him was not any thing made that hath been made. ⁴ In ^e him was life; and ^f the life was the light of men. ⁵ And ^g the light shineth in the darkness; and the darkness comprehended ^h it not.

⁶ There ^a was a man sent from God, whose name was John. ⁷ He came ⁱ as a witness, to bear witness of the Light, that all ^j men through him might believe: ⁸ he was not the Light, but came to bear witness of the Light.

⁹ The ^k true Light, which enlighteneth every man, was coming into the world. ¹⁰ He was in the world, and the world was made through him, and the world knew him not. ¹¹ He ^l came unto his own, and his own ^m received him not. ¹² But ⁿ as many as received him, to them gave he the right to become the children of God, even to them that believe on his name; ¹³ who were born, not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, ^o but of God.

¹⁵ John bare witness of him, and cried, saying: This was he of whom I spake: He that cometh after me is preferred before me; for he was before me.

¹⁶ And out of his fulness have all we received, and grace upon grace. ¹⁷ For the Law was given through Moses, but grace and truth came through Jesus Christ. ¹⁸ No ^s man hath seen God at any time; ^t the only begotten Son, who is in the bosom of the Father, he hath made him known.

John's testimonies concerning Jesus to (19) the Jewish rulers, and (29) his own disciples; (37) Christ's first disciples.

¹⁹ AND this is the testimony of John, when the Jews sent priests and Levites from Jerusalem to ask him: Who art thou?

²⁰ And ^u he confessed, and denied not; but he confessed: I am not the Christ. ²¹ And they asked him: What then? Art thou ^v Elijah? And he saith: I am not. Art thou ^w the Prophet? And he answered, No. ²² They said therefore unto him: Who art thou? That we may give an answer to them that sent us. What sayest thou of thyself? ²³ He said: I am 'the voice of one crying in the wilderness, Make straight the way of the Lord' [Isa. xl. 3], as said the prophet Isaiah.

²⁴ And they had been sent from the Pharisees; ²⁵ and they asked him, and said unto him: Why baptizest thou then, if thou be not the Christ, nor Elijah, nor the Prophet? ²⁶ John answered them, saying: ^x I baptize with ^y water; but there standeth one in the midst of you whom ye know not; ²⁷ he ^z it is who coming after me is preferred before me, whose shoe's latchet I am not worthy to unloose. ²⁸ These things were done in Bethania, beyond the Jordan, ^{aa} where John was baptizing.

²⁹ The next day John seeth Jesus coming unto him, and he saith: Behold, ^{ab} the Lamb of God, ^{ac} who taketh away the sin of the world! ³⁰ This is he of whom I said: After me cometh a man who is preferred before me; for he was before me. ³¹ And I knew him not; but that he might be made manifest to Israel, on this account I came baptizing with ^{ad} water.

³² And John bare witness, saying: I saw the Spirit descending as a dove from heaven, and it remained upon him. ³³ And I knew him not; but he who sent me to baptize with ^{ae} water, the same said unto me, Upon whom thou shalt see the Spirit descending, and remaining on him, ^{af} the same is he that baptizeth with the Holy Spirit. ³⁴ And I have seen and have borne witness, that this is the Son of God.

³⁵ On the morrow again John was standing, and two of his disciples; ³⁶ and looking upon Jesus as he walked, he saith: Behold, the Lamb of God! ³⁷ And the two disciples heard him speak, and they followed Jesus. ³⁸ And Jesus turned, and saw them following, and saith unto them: What seek ye? They said unto him:

²³ Now when he was in Jerusalem at the Passover, at the feast, ^k many believed in his name, when they saw the miracles which he did. ²⁴ But Jesus ^l did not trust himself unto them, because he knew all men, ²⁵ and because he needed not that any one should testify of man; for ^m he knew what was in man.

Conversation with Nicodemus, explaining the way of entrance into the kingdom of God.

3. AND there was a man of the Pharisees named ^a Nicodemus, a ruler of the Jews; ² the same came to Jesus by night, and said unto him: Rabbi, ^b we know that thou art a teacher come from God; for ^c no man can do these miracles that thou doest, except ^d God be with him.

³ Jesus answered and said unto him: Verily verily, I say unto thee, ^e Except a man be born again* he cannot see the kingdom of God. ⁴ Nicodemus saith unto him: / How can a man be born when he is old? Can he enter a second time into his mother's womb, and be born?

⁵ Jesus answered: Verily verily, I say unto thee, ^f Except a man be born of water and of the Spirit ^h he cannot enter into the kingdom of God. ⁶ That ⁱ which is born of the flesh is flesh, and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit. ⁷ Marvel not that I said unto thee, Ye must be born again. ⁸ The ^k wind bloweth where it will, and thou hearest the sound thereof, but thou knowest not whence it cometh and whither it goeth; so is every one that is born of the Spirit.

⁹ Nicodemus answered and said unto him: ^l How can these things be? ¹⁰ Jesus answered and said unto him: Art thou the teacher of Israel, and knowest not these things? ¹¹ Verily verily, I say unto thee, We speak that which we know, and testify that which we have seen; and ye receive not our testimony. ¹² If I have told you earthly things, and ye believe not, how will ye believe if I tell you heavenly things? ¹³ And ^m no one hath ascended up into heaven, but ⁿ he that came down from heaven, even the Son of man, who is in heaven. ¹⁴ And as ^o Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so ^p must the Son of man be lifted up; ¹⁵ that whosoever believeth in him may not perish, but may have everlasting life.

¹⁶ For ^q God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him might not perish, but might have everlasting life. ¹⁷ For ^r God sent not his Son into the world that he might judge the world, but ^s that the world through him might be saved. ¹⁸ He ^t that believeth on him is not judged: but he that believeth not hath been judged already, because he hath not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God. ¹⁹ And this is the judgment, ^u that the light is come into the world, and ^v men loved the darkness rather than the light, because their deeds were evil. ²⁰ For ^y every one that doeth evil hateth the light, and cometh not to the light, lest his deeds should be reproved*; ²¹ but ^z he that doeth the truth cometh to the light, that his deeds may be made manifest, that they have been wrought in God.

Jesus gains many disciples in Judaea—(27) Further testimony of John the Baptist.

²² AFTER these things came Jesus and his disciples into the land of Judaea; and there he tarried with them, and ^a baptized. ²³ And John also was baptizing in Ænon, near to Salim, because there was much water there; and ^b they came and were baptized. ²⁴ For John was not yet ^c cast into prison.

²⁵ Then there arose a question between John's disciples and a Jew^d about purification. ²⁶ And they came unto John, and said unto him: Rabbi, he that was with thee beyond the Jordan, to whom thou barest witness, behold, the same baptizeth, and all men come to him. ²⁷ John answered and said: ^e A man can receive nothing except it have been given him from heaven. ²⁸ Ye yourselves bear me witness that I said, ^f I am not the Christ, but ^g have been sent before him. ²⁹ He ^h that hath the bride is the bridegroom; but ⁱ the friend of the bridegroom, who standeth and heareth him, rejoiceth greatly because of the bridegroom's voice: this my joy therefore is fulfilled. ³⁰ He ^j must increase, but I must decrease.

Jesus leaves Judaea, to escape the notice of the Pharisees; and (7) on his way to Galilee manifests himself to a Samaritan woman and (39) her neighbours.

4. WHEN therefore the Lord knew that the Pharisees had heard that Jesus made and ^abaptized more disciples than John, ²(though Jesus himself baptized not, but his disciples), ³he left Judaea, and departed again into Galilee. ⁴And he must needs go through Samaria. ⁵Then cometh he to ^aa city of Samaria which is called Sychar, near to ^bthe piece of ground that Jacob gave to his son Joseph. ⁶Now Jacob's well ^cwas there. Jesus therefore, being ^cwearied with his journey, was sitting thus by the well; and it was about the sixth hour.

⁷There cometh a woman of Samaria to draw water. Jesus saith unto her: Give me to drink. ⁸For his disciples were gone away into the city to buy food. ⁹Then saith the Samaritan woman unto him: How is it that thou, being a Jew, askest drink of me, who am a Samaritan woman? (For Jews have no dealings with Samaritans). ¹⁰Jesus answered and said unto her: If thou hadst known ^dthe gift of God, and who it is that saith to thee, Give me to drink, thou wouldest have asked of him, and he would have given thee ^eliving water.

¹¹The woman saith unto him: Sir, thou hast nothing to draw with, and the well is deep; whence then hast thou that living water? ¹²Art thou greater than our father Jacob, who gave us the well, and drank thereof, himself and his children and his cattle? ¹³Jesus answered and said unto her: Whosoever drinketh of this water will thirst again; ¹⁴but ^fwhosoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him will never thirst; but the water that I shall give him will ^gbecome in him a well of water springing up unto everlasting life. ¹⁵The ^hwoman saith unto him: Sir, give me this water, that I thirst not, neither come all the way hither to draw.

¹⁶Jesus saith unto her: Go, call thy husband, and come hither. ¹⁷The woman answered and said: I have no husband. Jesus saith unto her: Thou hast well said, I have no husband; ¹⁸for thou hast had five husbands, and he whom thou now hast is not thy husband; in that saidst thou truly.

¹⁹The woman saith unto him: Sir, I perceive that ⁱthou art a prophet. ²⁰Our fathers worshipped on ^kthis mountain; and ye say that in ^lJerusalem is the place where men ought to worship. ²¹Jesus saith unto her: Woman, believe me, the hour cometh ^mwhen ye shall neither in this mountain nor yet at Jerusalem worship the Father. ²²Ye worship that which ⁿye know not; we worship that which we know; because ^osalvation is of the Jews. ²³But the hour cometh, and now is, when the true worshippers will worship the Father in ^pspirit and in ^qtruth; for the Father seeketh such to worship him*. ²⁴God is a Spirit; and they that worship him must worship in spirit and in truth.

²⁵The woman saith unto him: I know that Messiah cometh, (who is called Christ), when he is come, ^rhe will tell us all things. ²⁶Jesus saith unto her: ^sI that speak unto thee am he.

²⁷And upon this came his disciples; and they marvelled that he talked with a woman; yet no man said, What seekest thou; or, Why talkest thou with her?

²⁸The woman then left her waterpot, and went her way into the city, and saith to the people: ²⁹Come, see a man who told me all things that ever I did. Is this the Christ? ³⁰Then they went out from the city, and were coming to him.

³¹In the mean while his disciples prayed him, saying, Master, eat. ³²But he said unto them: I have meat to eat that ye know not of. ³³Therefore said the disciples one to another: Hath any one brought him any thing to eat? ³⁴Jesus saith unto them: ^tMy meat is to do the will of him that sent me, and ^uto finish his work.

³⁵Say not ye, There are still four months, and then cometh harvest? Behold, I say unto you, Lift up your eyes and look on the fields, that ^vthey are white already for harvest. ³⁶And ^whe that reapeth receiveth wages, and gathereth fruit unto everlasting life; that both he that soweth and he that reapeth may rejoice together. ³⁷And herein is ^xfulfilled the true saying, One soweth and another reapeth. ³⁸I have sent you to reap that whereon ye have bestowed no labour; others have laboured, and ye have entered into their labours.

³⁹And many of the Samaritans of that city believed on him because of the saying of the woman who testified, He told me all things that ever I did. ⁴⁰So when the Samaritans were come unto him, they besought him to abide with them; and he abode there two days. ⁴¹And many more believed because of his word: ⁴²and they said unto the woman: Now we believe no longer because of thy saying, for ^ywe have heard him ourselves, and know that this is indeed the Christ, the Saviour of the world.

Jesus begins his public ministry in Galilee; and (45) is better received there than in Judaea—(46) His second miracle in Galilee.

43 NOW after the two days he departed thence, and went into Galilee; 44 for Jesus himself testified, that ^a "a prophet hath no honour in his own country." 45 Then when he came into Galilee, the Galileans received him, having seen all the things that ^b he did at Jerusalem at the Feast; for they also went unto the Feast.

46 So Jesus came again unto Cana of Galilee, ^c where he made the water wine. And there was a certain nobleman whose son was sick at Capernaum. 47 When he heard that Jesus was come out of Judaea into Galilee, he went unto him, and besought him that he would come down and heal his son; for he was at the point of death.

48 Then said Jesus unto him: ^d Except ye see signs and wonders ye will not believe. 49 The nobleman saith unto him: Sir, come down ere my child die. 50 Jesus saith unto him: Go thy way; thy son liveth. And the man believed the word that Jesus had spoken unto him, and he went his way. 51 And as he was now going down, his servants met him, and told him, saying: Thy son liveth. 52 Then inquired he of them the hour when he began to amend; and they said unto him: Yesterday at the seventh hour the fever left him. 53 So the father knew that ^e it was at the same hour in which Jesus said unto him, Thy son liveth; and himself believed, and his whole house. 54 This again, a second miracle, did Jesus, when he was come out of Judaea into Galilee.

Beginning of the conflict in Judaea—(2) Jesus heals on the sabbath; and (10) in answer to the accusations of the Jews, (19) asserts his oneness with the Father, in power, works, and honour, (31) as proved by the Father's testimony to him; and (41) shows the real cause of the Jews' unbelief.

5. AFTER ^a this there was a feast of the Jews; and Jesus went up to Jerusalem. 2 Now there is at Jerusalem by ^b the Sheep gate a pool, which is called in the Hebrew tongue Bethesda*, having five porches. 3 In these lay a great multitude of sick persons, blind, halt, withered, waiting for the moving of the water. 4 For an angel went down at a certain season into the pool, and troubled the water; whosoever then first after the troubling of the water stepped in was made whole of whatsoever disease he had.

5 And a certain man was there who had had an infirmity thirty and eight years. 6 When Jesus saw him lying there, and knew that he had been now a long time in that case, he saith unto him: Wilt thou be made whole? 7 The sick man answered him: Sir, I have no one, when the water is troubled, to put me into the pool; but while I am coming, another steppeth down before me. 8 Jesus saith unto him: ^c Rise, take up thy bed and walk. 9 And immediately the man was made whole, and took up his bed and walked. And ^d on the same day was the sabbath.

10 The Jews therefore said unto him that was cured: It is the sabbath day: ^e it is not lawful for thee to carry ^f thy bed. 11 He answered them: ^f He that made me whole, the same said unto me, Take up thy bed and walk. 12 Then asked they him: Who is the man that said unto thee, Take up thy bed and walk? 13 And he that was healed knew not who it was; for Jesus had withdrawn himself, a multitude being in the place.

14 Afterwards Jesus findeth him in the temple; and he said unto him: Behold, thou art made whole; ^g sin no more, lest a worse thing come unto thee. 15 The man went away, and told the Jews that it was Jesus who had made him whole. 16 And therefore the Jews persecuted Jesus*, because he did these things on the sabbath day.

17 But Jesus answered them: ^h My Father worketh even until now, and I work. 18 Therefore the Jews ⁱ sought the more to kill him, because he not only broke the sabbath, but also called God his own Father, ^k making himself equal with God.

19 Then answered Jesus and said unto them: Verily verily, I say unto you, ^l The Son can do nothing of himself, but what he seeth the Father do; for what things soever he doeth, these in like manner doeth the Son also. 20 For ^m the Father loveth the Son, and sheweth him all things that himself doeth; and he will show him greater works than these, that ye may marvel. 21 For as the Father raiseth up the dead and giveth ⁿ them life, even ⁿ so the Son giveth life to whom he will. 22 For neither doth the Father judge any man, but ^o hath committed all judgment unto the Son; 23 that all ^o men may honour the Son even as they honour the Father. ^p He that honoureth not the Son honoureth not the Father who hath sent him.

24 Verily verily, I say unto you, he that heareth my word, and believeth in him that sent me, hath everlasting life, and cometh not into judgment; but ^q hath passed from death into life. 25 Verily verily, I say unto you, the hour is coming, and now is, when ^r the dead shall hear the voice of the Son of God; and they that hear shall live. ²⁶ For as the Father hath life in himself, so hath he given to the Son to have life in himself; ²⁷ and he hath given him authority to execute judgment also, ²⁸ because he is the Son of man. ²⁹ Marvel not at this; for the hour is coming, in which all that are in the graves shall hear his voice, ²⁹ and [†] shall come forth; ³⁰ they that have done good, unto the resurrection of life, and they that have done evil, unto the resurrection of judgment.

³⁰ I can of myself do nothing; as I hear, ³¹ I judge; and my judgment is just, because ³² I seek not mine own will, but the will of the Father who hath sent me. ³¹ If ³² I bear witness of myself my witness is not true; ³² it is another who beareth witness of me; and I know* that the witness which he witnesseth of me is true.

³³ Ye ³⁴ have sent unto John, and he hath borne witness unto the truth. ³⁴ But the testimony which I receive is not from man: but these things I say, that ye may be saved. ³⁵ He was a burning and a shining light: and ³⁶ ye were willing for a season to rejoice in his light.

³⁶ But the testimony which I have is greater than that of John; for ³⁷ the works which the Father hath given me to finish, the very works that I do, bear witness of me, that the Father hath sent me. ³⁷ And ³⁸ the Father, who hath sent me, he himself hath borne witness of me. Ye have neither heard his voice at any time, nor seen his form. ³⁸ And ³⁹ ye have not his word abiding in you; for whom he hath sent, him ye believe not.

³⁹ Ye search the Scriptures, because in ⁴⁰ them ye think ye have everlasting life; and ⁴¹ these are they which testify of me; ⁴² and ⁴³ ye will not come to me, that ye may have life.

⁴¹ I receive not glory from men. ⁴² But I know you, that ⁴³ ye have not the love of God in you. ⁴³ I am come in my Father's name, and ye receive me not; if another come in his own name, him ye will receive. ⁴⁴ How can ye believe ⁴⁵ who receive glory one from another, and seek not the glory that cometh from the only God?

⁴⁵ Do not think that I will accuse you to the Father; ⁴⁶ there is ⁴⁷ one that accuseth you, even Moses, ⁴⁸ on whom ye have set your hope: ⁴⁹ for if ye believed Moses, ye would believe me, for ⁵⁰ he wrote of me; ⁵¹ but ⁵² if ye believe not his writings, how shall ye believe my words?

Beginning of the conflict in Galilee—Miracles of (5) feeding the multitude, and (16) walking on the water—(25) In reply to questions from the people, Jesus reveals himself as the Bread of life, given by God for the salvation of the world; to be personally appropriated by faith—(60) The falling away of many of his followers—(65) Peter's confession.

6. AFTER ^a these things Jesus went away over the Sea of Galilee, (which is the Sea of Tiberias). ² And a great multitude followed him, because they saw his miracles which he did on them that were diseased. ³ And Jesus went up into the mountain, and there he sat with his disciples. ⁴ And the Passover, the feast of the Jews, was nigh.

⁵ When Jesus then lifted up ^b his eyes and saw a great multitude coming unto him, he saith unto Philip: Whence are we to buy bread, that these may eat? ⁶ And this he said proving him; for he himself knew what he was about to do. ⁷ Philip answered him: Two hundred pennyworth^c of bread is not sufficient for them, that every one of them may take a little. ⁸ One of his disciples, Andrew, Simon Peter's brother, saith unto him: ⁹ There is a lad here who hath five barley loaves, and two small fishes; but what are these among so many?

¹⁰ And Jesus said: Make the men sit down. Now there was much grass in the place; so the men sat down, in number about five thousand. ¹¹ And Jesus took the loaves, and ^b when he had given thanks, he distributed to them that were set down; and in like manner of the fishes as much as they would.

¹⁴ Then those men, when they saw the miracle that Jesus did, said: This is of a truth ^e the prophet that was coming into the world. ¹⁵ Jesus therefore knowing that they would come and take him by force to make him a king, withdrew again into the mountain, himself alone.

¹⁶ And ^d when evening was come, his disciples went down unto the sea, ¹⁷ and entered into a ship, and were going over the sea towards Capernaum. And it was now dark, and Jesus was not yet come to them; ¹⁸ and the sea was rising by reason of a great wind that blew. ¹⁹ So when they had rowed about five and twenty or thirty furlongs, they behold Jesus walking on the sea, and drawing nigh unto the ship; and they were afraid. ²⁰ But he saith unto them: It is I; he not afraid. ²¹ Then they willingly received him into the ship; and immediately the ship was at the land whither they were going.

²² The day following, when the multitude which stood on the other side of the Sea saw that there was no other boat there, save that one whereinto his disciples had entered, and that Jesus went not with his disciples into the boat, but that his disciples went away alone, ⁽²³⁾ howbeit there came other boats from Tiberias, nigh unto the place where they ate bread, after the Lord had given thanks; ²⁴ when therefore the multitude saw that Jesus was not there, nor his disciples, they went on board the boats, and came to Capernaum, seeking Jesus.

²⁵ And when they found him on the other side of the sea, they said unto him: Rabbi, when camest thou hither? ²⁶ Jesus answered them and said: Verily verily, I say unto you, Ye seek me, not because ye saw miracles^{*}, but because ye ate of the loaves which were filled. ²⁷ Labour^e not for the meat[†] which perisheth, but for the meat[‡] which endureth unto everlasting life, which ^f the Son of man will give unto you; for ^g him the Father, even God, hath sealed.

²⁸ Then said they unto him: What must we do that we may work the works of God? ²⁹ Jesus answered and said unto them: ^h This is the work of God, that ye believe on him whom he hath sent.

³⁰ They said therefore unto him: ⁱ What sign doest thou then, that we may see, and believe thee? What dost thou work?

³¹ Our ^k fathers ate the manna in the desert; as it is written, 'He gave them bread from heaven to eat' [Psa. lxxviii. 24]. ³² Then Jesus said unto them: Verily verily, I say unto you, Moses gave you not the bread from heaven; but my Father giveth you the true bread from heaven: ³³ for the bread of God is that ^l which cometh down from heaven and giveth life unto the world.

³⁴ Then said they unto him: Lord, evermore give us this bread. ³⁵ And Jesus said unto them: I am the bread of life; ^m he that cometh to me shall never hunger, and he that believeth on me ⁿ shall never thirst.

³⁶ But I said unto you, that ^o ye have even seen me, and ye believe not. ³⁷ All ^p that the Father giveth me will come to me; and him that cometh to me I will in no wise cast out. ³⁸ For I am come down from heaven, ^q not to do mine own will, but the will of him that sent me. ³⁹ And this is the Father's will who hath sent me, ^r that of all which he hath given me I should lose nothing, but ^s should raise it up again at the last day. ⁴⁰ And this is the will of him that sent me, that every one who looketh on the Son and ^t believeth in him, should have everlasting life; and that I should raise him up at the last day.

⁴¹ The Jews then murmured about him, because he said, ^u I am the bread which came down from heaven; ⁴² and they said: ^v Is not this Jesus, the son of Joseph, whose father and mother we know? How is it then that he saith, I am come down from heaven?

⁴³ Jesus therefore answered and said unto them: Murmur not among yourselves. ⁴⁴ No man can come to me except the Father who hath sent me ^x draw him; and I will raise him up at the last day. ⁴⁵ It is written in the Prophets: 'And they shall be all taught by God' [Isa. liv. 13]. Every one that hath heard and learned from the Father cometh unto me. ⁴⁶ Not ^y that any one hath seen the Father, ^z save he that is from God, he hath seen the Father.

⁴⁷ Verily verily, I say unto you, ^a He that believeth on me hath everlasting life. ⁴⁸ I am the bread of life; ⁴⁹ your fathers ate the manna in the wilderness, and died; ⁵⁰ this is the bread which cometh down from heaven, that a man may eat thereof and not die. ⁵¹ I am the living bread ^b which came down from heaven; if any man eat of this bread he shall live for ever; and ^c the bread that I will give is my flesh, which I will give ^d for the life of the world:

⁶⁰ Many therefore of his disciples, when they heard this, said: This is a hard saying; who can hear it? ⁶¹ But Jesus ^k knew in himself that his disciples murmured about this, and he said unto them: Doth this offend you? ⁶² What then if ye should see ^l the Son of man ascending up where he was before? ⁶³ It ^m is the spirit that giveth life; the flesh profiteth nothing; the words that I have spoken unto you are spirit, and are life. ⁶⁴ But there are some of you that believe not.

For ⁿ Jesus knew from the beginning who they were that believed not, and who it was that would betray him*. ⁶⁵ And he said: For this cause have I said unto you, that no one can come unto me except it hath been given unto him from my Father.

⁶⁶ From this time many of his disciples went back, and walked no more with him. ⁶⁷ Jesus therefore said unto the twelve: Will ye also go away? ⁶⁸ Then Simon Peter answered him: Lord, ^o to whom shall we go? ^p Thou hast the words of everlasting life. ⁶⁹ And ^q we have believed and known that thou art the Christ, the Holy One of God! ⁷⁰ Jesus answered them: ^r Did not I choose you twelve, and one of you is a devil? ⁷¹ He spake of Judas Iscariot the son of Simon; for he it was that would betray him; being one of the twelve.

Renewal of the conflict at Jerusalem—(2) The unbelief of the brethren of Jesus—(10) His sudden appearance in the temple, as a teacher—(1) indication of the Divine authority of (16) his teaching, and (19) works.

7. AFTER these things Jesus walked in Galilee; for he would not walk in Judaea, because ^a the Jews sought to kill him.

² Now ^b the Jews' Feast of Tabernacles was at hand. ³ His ^c brethren therefore said unto him: Depart hence and go into Judaea, that thy disciples also may see the works that thou doest; ⁴ for no man doeth any thing in secret while he himself seeketh to be known openly. If thou doest these things, show thyself to the world. ⁵ For ^d even his brethren did not believe in him. ⁶ Jesus therefore said unto them: ^e My time is not yet come; but your time is always ready. ⁷ The world cannot hate you; but ^f me it hateth, ^g because I testify of it that the works thereof are evil. ⁸ Go ye up unto the feast; I go not up yet unto this feast; for my time is not yet fully come.

⁹ When he had said these words unto them he remained still in Galilee. ¹⁰ But when his brethren were gone up unto the Feast, then went he up also, not openly, but as it were in secret.

¹¹ Then ^h the Jews sought him at the Feast, and said: Where is he? ¹² And ⁱ there was much murmuring among the multitudes concerning him; for some said: He is a good man; others said: Nay, but he ^k deceiveth the multitude. ¹³ Howbeit no man spake openly of him ^l for fear of the Jews.

¹⁴ But when it was now the midst of the Feast Jesus went up into the temple, and taught. ¹⁵ And ^m the Jews marvelled, saying: How knoweth this man letters, having never learned? ¹⁶ Jesus answered them and said: ⁿ My teaching is not mine, but his that sent me. ¹⁷ If ^o any one desire to do his will, he will know of the teaching, whether it is from God, or whether I speak from myself. ¹⁸ He that speaketh from himself seeketh his own glory; but he that seeketh the glory of him that sent him, the same is true, and there is no unrighteousness in him. ¹⁹ Did ^p not Moses give you the law, and yet ^q none of you keepeth the law? Why ^r seek ye to kill me?

²⁰ The multitude answered and said: ^s Thou hast a devil*; who seeketh to kill thee? ²¹ Jesus answered and said unto them: ^t I did one work, and ye all marvel. ²² Moses therefore ^u gave unto you circumcision, (not that it is from Moses, but ^x from the fathers), and ye on the sabbath day circumcise a man. ²³ If a man on the sabbath day receive circumcision, that the law of Moses may not be broken, are ye angry at me because ^v I made a man every whit whole on the sabbath day? ²⁴ Judge not according to the appearance, but judge righteous judgment.

In reply to questionings among the people, (28) Jesus declares his Divine origin—(30) The rulers desire to seize him; (33) he intimates his speedy departure; and (37) promises the Holy Spirit—(45) The proceedings of the Sanhedrum.

²⁵ THEN said some of them of Jerusalem: Is not this he whom they seek to kill? ²⁶ But lo, he speaketh openly, and they say nothing unto him. Have the rulers indeed learnt that this is the Christ? ²⁷ Howbeit we know this man whence he is; but when the Christ cometh no one knoweth whence he is. ²⁸ Jesus then cried aloud in the temple, as he taught, saying: ^a Ye both know me, and ye know whence I am. And ^b I am not come of myself, but he that sent me ^c is true, whom ye know not; ²⁹ but ^d I know him; for I am but I and the Father who sent me. ¹⁷ It is also ¹⁸ written in your law, that 'the testimony of two men is true' [Deut. xix. 15.]. ¹⁸ I am one that bear witness of myself, and ¹⁹ the Father who sent me beareth witness of me. ²⁰ Then said they unto him: Where is thy Father? Jesus answered: ²¹ Ye neither know me nor my Father: ²² if ye knew me ye would know my Father also.

²⁶ Then said he again unto them: I go my way, and ²⁷ ye will seek me, and ye will die in your sin: whither I go, ye cannot come.

³⁵ They said therefore unto him: Who art thou? And Jesus saith unto them: Even that which I also have spoken unto you from the beginning*. ³⁶ I have many things to say and to judge of you; but he that sent me is true; and ³⁷ I have spoken to the world those things which I have heard from him. ³⁸ They understood not that he spake to them of the Father.

³⁹ Then said Jesus unto them: When ye have ⁴⁰ lifted up the Son of man, ⁴¹ then shall ye know that I am he, and ⁴² that I do nothing of myself, but even as the Father hath taught me I speak these things.

⁴⁶ As he spake these words many believed on him.

Further controversy with the Jews—(34) Jesus shows who are the true children of Abraham, and (42) of God; and (55) asserts his Divine pre-existence; (59) the Jews seek to stone him.

³¹ THEN said Jesus to those Jews who had believed in him: ³² If ye continue in my word then are ye my disciples indeed; ³³ and ³⁴ ye will know the truth, and ³⁵ the truth will make you free. ³⁶ They answered him: We are Abraham's seed, and have never been in bondage to any man; how sayest thou, Ye shall be made free?

³⁷ Jesus answered them: Verily verily, I say unto you, ³⁸ whosoever committeth sin is the servant* of sin. ³⁹ And ⁴⁰ the servant abideth not in the house for ever; but the son abideth for ever. ⁴¹ If ⁴² the Son therefore shall make you free, ye will be free indeed. ⁴³ I know that ye are Abraham's seed; but ⁴⁴ ye seek to kill me, because my word hath no place in you. ⁴⁵ I speak that which I have seen with my Father, and ye accordingly do that which ye have seen from your father.

⁴⁶ They answered and said unto him: ⁴⁷ Abraham is our father. Jesus saith unto them: ⁴⁸ If ye were Abraham's children ye would do the works of Abraham; ⁴⁹ but now ye seek to kill me, a man who hath spoken unto you the truth, which I have heard from God; this did not Abraham. ⁵⁰ Ye do the works of your father.

Then said they unto him: We have not been born of fornication; ⁵¹ we have one Father, even God. ⁵² Jesus said unto them: ⁵³ If God were your Father ye would love me; for I proceeded forth and am come from God; ⁵⁴ for neither am I come of myself, but he sent me. ⁵⁵ Why do ye not understand my speech? Even because ⁵⁶ ye cannot hear my word. ⁵⁷ Ye ⁵⁸ are of your father the devil, and the lusts of your father ye will do. ⁵⁹ He was a murderer from the beginning; and he standeth not in the truth, because there is no truth in him: when he speaketh a lie, he speaketh of his own; ⁶⁰ for he is a liar, and the father of it. ⁶¹ And ⁶² because I speak the truth, ye believe me not. ⁶³ Which ⁶⁴ of you convicteth me of sin? And if I speak the truth why do ye not believe me? ⁶⁵ He ⁶⁶ that is of God heareth God's words; for this cause ye hear them not, because ye are not of God.

⁶⁷ Then answered the Jews and said unto him: Say we not well that thou art a Samaritan, and ⁶⁸ hast a devil? ⁶⁹ Jesus answered: I have not a devil; but I honour my Father, and ye dishonour me. ⁷⁰ But ⁷¹ I seek not mine own glory; there is one who seeketh and judgeth. ⁷² Verily verily, I say unto you, ⁷³ if a man keep my word he will never see death.

⁷⁴ Then said the Jews unto him: Now we know that thou hast a devil. Abraham died, and the prophets; and thou sayest, If a man keep my word he will never taste death. ⁷⁵ Art thou greater than our father Abraham, who died? and the prophets died: whom makest thou thyself? ⁷⁶ Jesus answered: ⁷⁷ If I glorify myself my glory is nothing; ⁷⁸ it is my Father who glorifieth me; of whom ye say, that he is your God; ⁷⁹ yet ⁸⁰ ye have not known him. But ⁸¹ I know him; and if I should say, I know him not, I should be a liar like unto ham was born ^f I am.

59 Then ^g took they up stones to cast at him; but Jesus hid himself, and went out of the temple, ^h going* through the midst of them, and so passed by.

The miracle of giving sight to one born blind—(13) The Pharisees' judicial investigation of the case, and (24) dispute with the man, ending in his excommunication—(35) The Lord's meeting with him—(39) His declaration respecting the general effect of his ministry upon the world.

9. AND as Jesus passed by he saw a man who was blind from his birth; ² and his disciples asked him, saying: Master, who sinned, this man or his parents, that he should be born blind? ³ Jesus answered:
Neither this man sinned nor his parents, but ^a that the works of God might be made manifest in him. ⁴ I ^b must work the works of him that sent me while it is day; the night cometh, when no one can work. ⁵ As long as I am in the world ^c I am the Light of the world.

⁶ When he had thus spoken, ^d he spat on the ground, and made clay of the spittle; and he anointed the eyes of the blind man with the clay, ^e and said unto him: Go, wash them in the pool of ^f Siloam (which is by interpretation, Sent). He went his way therefore and washed them, and came seeing.

⁸ The neighbours therefore, and they that before had seen him, that he was a beggar, said: Is not this he that sat and begged?
⁹ Some said: This is he; others said: He is like him; but he said: I am he. ¹⁰ Therefore said they unto him: How were thine eyes opened? ¹¹ He answered and said:
A man that is called Jesus made clay and anointed mine eyes, and said unto me, Go to the pool of Siloam, and wash them: and I went and washed them, and I received sight. ¹² Then said they unto him: Where is he? He said: I know not.

¹³ They ^f brought to the Pharisees him that aforetime was blind. ¹⁴ Now ^g it was the sabbath day when Jesus made the clay, and opened his eyes. ¹⁵ Again therefore the Pharisees asked him how he had received his sight. He said unto them: He put clay upon mine eyes, and I washed them, and I see. ¹⁶ Therefore said some of the Pharisees: This man is not from God, because he keepeth not the sabbath day.

Others said: ^a How can a man that is a sinner do such miracles? And ^b there was a division among them. ¹⁷ They say therefore unto the blind man again: What sayest thou of him, because he opened thine eyes? He said: ^c He is a prophet.

¹⁸ But the Jews did not believe concerning him that he had been blind and received his sight, until they called the parents of him that had received his sight.
¹⁹ And they asked them, saying: Is this your son, who ye say was born blind? How then doth he now see? ²⁰ His parents answered them and said: We know that this is our son, and that he was born blind; ²¹ but by what means he now seeth we know not, or who opened his eyes we know not. He is of age; ask him; he shall speak for himself. ²² These words spake his parents because ^d they feared the Jews; for the Jews had agreed already, that if any one should acknowledge him as Christ, he ^e should be put out of the synagogue.
²³ Therefore said his parents: He is of age;
ask him.

²⁴ So they called a second time the man that had been blind; and they said unto him: ^a Give glory to God: we know that this man is a sinner. ²⁵ He answered and said: Whether he is a sinner I know not;
^b one thing I know, that whereas I was blind, now I see.

²⁶ Then said they to him again: What did he to thee? How opened he thine eyes? ²⁷ He answered them: I have told you already, and ye did not hear; wherefore would ye hear it again? Will ye also be his disciples? ²⁸ Then they reviled him and said: Thou art his disciple, but we are Moses' disciples; ²⁹ we know ^c that God spake unto Moses; but ^d as for this man, ^e we know not from whence he is.

³⁰ The man answered and said unto them: Why herein is a marvellous thing, that ye know not from whence he is, and ^f yet he hath opened mine eyes. ³¹ We know that ^g God heareth not sinners; but if any one is a worshipper of God and doeth his will, him he heareth. ³² Since the world began it was never heard that any man opened the eyes of one that was born blind. ³³ If ^a this man were not from God, he could do nothing. ³⁴ They answered and said unto him: Thou wast altogether born in sins, and dost thou teach us? And they cast him out.

³⁵ Jesus heard that they had cast him out; and he found him, and said: Dost thou believe on ^t the Son of God? ³⁶ He answered and said: Who is he, Lord, that I may believe on him? ³⁷ And Jesus said unto him: Thou hast both seen him, and ³⁸ ^u it is he that talketh with thee. ³⁸ And he said: Lord, I believe. And he worshipped him.

³⁹ And Jesus said: ^x For judgment I am come into this world, ^y that those who see not may see, and that those who see may be made blind.

⁴⁰ And some of the Pharisees who were with him heard these words; and they said unto him: ^z Are we blind also? ⁴¹ Jesus said unto them: ^a If ye were blind, ye would have no sin; but now ye say, We see, ^b therefore your sin remaineth.

Concerning true and false teachers and leaders—Parables of (7) the door, and (11) the good shepherd—(19) Further controversy among the people respecting Jesus.

10. VERILY verily, I say unto you, ^a he that entereth not through the door into the sheepfold, but climbeth up some other way, the same is a thief and a robber. ² But he that entereth in through the door is the shepherd of the sheep: ³ to him the porter openeth; and the sheep hear his voice; and ^b he calleth his own sheep by name, and leadeth them out. ⁴ And when he putteth forth his own sheep, he goeth before them, and the sheep follow him; for they know his voice; ⁵ but ^c a stranger will they not follow, but will flee from him; for they know not the voice of strangers.

⁷ Then said Jesus unto them again: Verily verily, I say unto you, ^d I am the door of the sheep. ⁸ All that ever came before me are thieves and robbers; but the sheep did not hear them. ⁹ I am the door; ^e through me if any man enter in, he shall be saved, and shall go in and out, and ^f find pasture. ¹⁰ The thief cometh not but to steal and to kill and to destroy: ^g I came that they might have life, and that they might have it ^h abundantly.

¹¹ I am the good shepherd: the good shepherd ⁱ layeth down his life for the sheep; ¹² but ^k he that is a hireling, and not the shepherd, whose own the sheep are not, seeth the wolf coming, and leaveth the sheep and fleeth; and the wolf catcheth them, and scattereth the sheep: ¹³ the hireling fleeth, because he is a hireling, and careth not for the sheep. ¹⁴ I am the good shepherd; and I ^l know my sheep, and by ^m my sheep am I known, ¹⁵ even as the Father knoweth me, and I know the Father. And I lay down my life for the sheep. ¹⁶ And ⁿ other sheep I have, which are not of this fold; ^o them also I must bring, and they shall hear my voice; ^p and they shall become one flock, ^q one Shepherd. ¹⁷ For this cause doth my Father love me, because I lay down my life, that I may take it again; ¹⁸ no ^r man taketh it from me, but I lay it down of myself. I have authority to lay it down, and I ^s have authority to take it again. ^t This commandment have I received from my Father.

¹⁹ There ^u was therefore again a division among the Jews because of these sayings. ²⁰ And many of them said: ^v He hath a devil*, and is mad; why hear ye him? ²¹ Others said: These are not the words of him that hath a devil*. Can a devil ^w open the eyes of the blind?

Jesus, (23) teaching in the temple, (30) asserts his oneness with the Father; (33) the Jews charge him with blasphemy, and (35) again attempt to seize him.

²⁴ The Jews then came round about him, and said unto him: How long dost thou hold our mind in suspense? ^b If thou be the Christ, tell us plainly. ²⁵ Jesus answered them: ^c I told you, and ye believed not. The works that I do in my Father's name, they bear witness of me. ²⁶ But ^d ye believe not because ye are not of my sheep, as I said unto you. ²⁷ My sheep hear my voice, and I know them, and they follow me. ²⁸ And ^e I give unto them everlasting life; and ^f they shall never perish, neither shall any one pluck them out of ^g my hand. ²⁹ My Father who hath given ^h them to me is greater than all; and no one is able to pluck ⁱ them out of my Father's hand. ³⁰ I ^j and the Father are one.

³¹ The ^k Jews therefore took up stones again to stone him. ³² Jesus answered them: Many good works have I showed you from my Father; for which of those works do ye stone me? ³³ The Jews answered him, saying: For a good work we stone thee not; but ^k for blasphemy, and because thou being a man ^l makest thyself God.

³⁴ Jesus answered them: Is it not written in your law, 'I said, Ye are gods?' [Ps. lxxxii. 6]. ³⁵ If he called them gods unto

⁵ Now Jesus loved Martha and her sister and Lazarus. ⁶ When therefore he heard that he was sick, he remained two days still ^d in the place where he was. ⁷ Then after that saith he to ^e his disciples: Let us go into Judea again.

⁸ His disciples say unto him: Master, ^f the Jews were of late seeking to stone thee; and goest thou thither again? ⁹ Jesus answered: Are there not twelve hours in the day? If a man walk in the day he stumbleth not, because he seeth the light of this world; ¹⁰ but ^g if a man walk in the night he stumbleth, because there is no light in him.

g Dan. 12. 2; Mt. 9. 12; Ag. 7. 69; 1 Cor. 15. 18, 51; 1 Thes. 4. 13, 14.

¹¹ These things said he; and after that he saith unto them: Our friend Lazarus hath fallen ^g asleep, but I go that I may awake him. ¹² Then said his disciples: Lord, if he hath fallen asleep, he will do well. ¹³ Howbeit Jesus spake of his death; but they thought that he had spoken of taking rest in sleep. ¹⁴ Then said Jesus unto them plainly: Lazarus is dead: ¹⁵ and I am glad for your sakes that I was not there, that ye may believe; nevertheless let us go unto him.

¹⁶ Then said ^h Thomas, who was called Didymus, unto his fellow-disciples: Let us also go, that we may die with him*.

¹⁷ Then when Jesus came, he found that he had lain in the tomb four days already.

¹⁸ Now Bethany was nigh unto Jerusalem, about fifteen furlongs† off; ¹⁹ and many of the Jews had come to Martha and Mary, to comfort them concerning their brother. ²⁰ Then Martha, as soon as she heard that Jesus was coming, went to meet him; but Mary sat still in the house.

²⁵ Jesus said unto her: I am ^l the resurrection, and ^m the life: he that believeth in me, though he die, yet shall he live; ²⁶ and whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die. Believest thou this? ²⁷ She saith unto him: Yea, Lord, ⁿ I believe that thou art the Christ, the Son of God, ^o who was to come into the world.

²⁸ And when she had so said, she went away, and called Mary her sister secretly, saying: The Master[†] is come, and calleth for thee. ²⁹ And she, as soon as she heard it, arose quickly, and went unto him. ³⁰ Now Jesus was not yet come into the village, but was still in the place where Martha met him. ³¹ The Jews then who were with her in the house, and comforted her, when they saw Mary, that she rose up hastily and went out, followed her, saying: She goeth unto the grave to weep there.

³² Then when Mary was come where Jesus was, and saw him, she fell down at his feet, saying unto him: Lord, if thou hadst been here my brother would not have died.

³³ When Jesus therefore saw her weeping, and the Jews also weeping who came with her, ^p he groaned in his spirit, and was troubled. ³⁴ And he said: Where have ye laid him? They said unto him: Lord, come and see. ³⁵ Jesus ^q wept. ³⁶ Then said the Jews: Behold how he loved him! ³⁷ But some of them said: Could not this man ^r who opened the eyes of the blind have caused that even this man should not have died?

and ^aa stone lay upon it. ³⁹ Jesus said: Take ye away the stone. Martha, the sister of him that was dead, saith unto him: Lord, by this time he stinketh, for he ^bhath been there four days. ⁴⁰ Jesus saith unto her: Said I not unto thee, that if thou wilt believe thou shalt see the glory of God? ⁴¹ Then they took away the stone from the place where the dead was laid.

And Jesus lifted up his eyes, and said: Father, I thank thee that thou hast heard me: ⁴² and I knew that thou hearest me always; but ⁴³ for the sake of the multitude that stand around I said it, ⁴⁴ that they may believe that thou hast sent me. ⁴⁵ And when he thus had spoken, he cried with a loud voice: Lazarus, come forth. ⁴⁶ And ⁴⁷ he that was dead came forth, bound hand and foot with graveclothes, and his face was bound about with a napkin. Jesus saith unto them: Loose him and let him go.

⁴⁵ Then ⁴⁶ many of the Jews who had come to Mary, and had seen the things which Jesus did, believed on him. ⁴⁷ But some of them went away to the Pharisees, and told them what things Jesus had done.

⁴⁷ Then ⁴⁸ the chief priests and the Pharisees gathered a council, and said: ⁴⁹ What are we doing? For this man doeth many miracles. ⁵⁰ If we let him thus alone all men will believe on him, and the Romans will come and take away both our place and nation. ⁵¹ And one of them namely Caiaphas, being the high priest that year, said unto them: Ye know nothing at all, ⁵² nor consider that ⁵³ it is expedient for us that one man should die for the people, and not that the whole nation should perish. ⁵⁴ And this spake he not from himself, but being high priest that year, he prophesied that Jesus was to die for the nation; ⁵⁵ and ⁵⁶ not for the nation only, but also that ⁵⁷ he might gather together into one the children of God that are scattered abroad.

Jesus is expected at Jerusalem at the Passover, and (57) the rulers lay wait for him; he (ch. 12. 1) arrives at Bethany, (3) is anointed by Mary, and (12) the next day enters the city attended by a great multitude.

⁵⁵ NOW the Jews' Passover was nigh at hand; and many went up out of the country to Jerusalem, before the Passover, ⁵⁶ to purify themselves. ⁵⁷ They ⁵⁸ sought then for Jesus; and they spake among themselves, as they stood in the temple: What think ye; that he will not come to the feast? ⁵⁹ Now both the chief priests and the Pharisees had given commandment, that if any one knew where he was he should make it known, that they might take him.

^{12.} Then Jesus, six days before the Passover, came to Bethany, ¹³ where Lazarus was who had been dead, whom he raised from the dead. ¹⁴ So there ¹⁵ they made him a supper; and Martha served, but Lazarus was one of them that sat at the table* with him.

¹⁸ Then saith one of his disciples, ¹⁹ Judas Iscariot, Simon's son, who was about to betray him: ²⁰ Why was not this ointment sold for three hundred pence; and given to the poor? ²¹ This he said, not because he cared for the poor, but because he was a thief, and kept ²² the purse, and bare²³ what was put therein.

²⁴ Then said Jesus: Let her alone; against the day of my burying hath she kept this. ²⁵ For ²⁶ the poor ye have always with you, but me ye have not always.

²⁷ A great multitude of the Jews therefore knew that he was there; and they came, not for Jesus' sake only, but that they might see Lazarus also, ²⁸ whom he had raised from the dead. ²⁹ But ³⁰ the chief priests consulted that they might put Lazarus also to death, ³¹ because ³² by reason of him many of the Jews were going away and believing on Jesus.

³³ On ³⁴ the next day a great multitude that were come to the feast, when they heard that Jesus was coming into Jerusalem, ³⁵ took branches of the palm trees, and went forth to meet him; and they cried:

Hosanna! Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord!
Even the King of Israel.

³⁶ And Jesus, having found a young ass, sat upon it; as it is written: ³⁷ Fear not, daughter of Zion! Behold, thy King cometh, sitting on an ass's colt* [Zech. ix. 9].

³⁸ These things ³⁹ understood not his disciples at the first; but ⁴⁰ when Jesus was glorified, ⁴¹ then remembered they that these things were written of him, and that they had done these things unto him.

¹⁷ The multitude therefore that was with him when he called Lazarus out of his grave and raised him from the dead, bare witness. ¹⁸ For this cause the multitude went to meet him, because they heard that he had done this miracle. ¹⁹ The Pharisees therefore said among themselves: ²⁰ Perceive ye that ye prevail nothing? Behold, ²¹ the world is gone away after him.

Some Gentile proselytes desire to see Jesus; (23) he announces his approaching sufferings, and (31) the future universal extension of his kingdom.

²⁰ AND there were certain Greeks among them: ²¹ that came up to worship at the feast: ²² the same came therefore to Philip, ²³ who was of Bethsaida of Galilee, and asked him saying: Sir, we would see Jesus. ²⁴ Philip cometh and telleth Andrew, and again Andrew and Philip come and tell Jesus.

²⁵ And Jesus answered them, saying: ²⁶ The hour is come that the Son of man should be glorified. ²⁷ Verily verily, I say unto you, ²⁸ Except a grain of wheat fall into the ground and die, it abideth alone; but if it die, it bringeth forth much fruit. ²⁹ He ³⁰ that loveth his life shall lose it, and he that hateth his life in this world shall keep it unto life everlasting. ³¹ If any man serve me, let him follow me; and where I am, there shall also my servant be: if any man serve me, ³² I him will the Father honour. ³³ Now ³⁴ I am my soul troubled; and what shall I say? Father, save me from this hour: Yet for this cause came I unto this hour. ³⁵ Father, glorify thy name.

Then ³⁶ came there a voice from heaven, saying, ³⁷ I both have glorified ³⁸ it and ³⁹ will glorify it again. ⁴⁰ The multitude therefore, that stood by and heard ⁴¹ it, said that it thundered: others said: An angel hath spoken to him. ⁴² Jesus answered and said: ⁴³ This voice hath come not for my sake, but for your sakes. ⁴⁴ Now is ⁴⁵ the judgment of this world; now shall ⁴⁶ the prince of this world be cast out. ⁴⁷ And I, ⁴⁸ if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw ⁴⁹ all men unto me. ⁵⁰ This ⁵¹ I said, signifying by what manner of death he was to die.

⁵² The multitude answered him: We have heard out of the Law that ⁵³ the Christ abideth for ever; and how sayest thou, The Son of man must be lifted up? Who is this Son of man? ⁵⁴ Then Jesus said unto them: ⁵⁵ Yet a little while is the light with you. ⁵⁶ Walk while ye have the light, lest darkness come upon you; and ⁵⁷ he that walketh in darkness knoweth not whither he goeth. ⁵⁸ While ye have the light believe in the light, that ye may become ⁵⁹ children of light.

These things spake Jesus; and he departed, and ⁶⁰ hid himself from them.

Reflections on the unbelief of the Jews—(44) Our Lord's own declarations respecting his Divine mission and the consequences of faith in him.

³⁷ BUT though he had done so many miracles* before them, yet they believed not on him; ³⁸ that the saying of Isaiah the prophet might be fulfilled which he spake: 'Lord, who hath believed our report? And to whom hath the arm of the Lord been revealed?' [Isa. liii. 1.] ³⁹ Therefore they could not believe, because Isaiah said again: ⁴⁰ 'He hath blinded their eyes, and hardened their heart; lest they should see with their eyes, and understand with their heart, and should return, and I should heal them' [Isa. vi. 10]. ⁴¹ These things said Isaiah, ⁴² when he saw his glory, and spake of him. ⁴³ Nevertheless even among the rulers many believed on him; but ⁴⁴ because of the Pharisees they did not confess it, lest they should be put out of the synagogue; ⁴⁵ for they loved the glory that is of men more than the glory that is of God.

⁴⁶ Jesus cried aloud and said: ⁴⁷ He that believeth on me, believeth not on me but on him that sent me; ⁴⁸ and ⁴⁹ he that seeth me seeth him that sent me. ⁵⁰ I ⁵¹ am come a light into the world, that whosoever believeth on me may not abide in darkness. ⁵² And if any man hear my words and keep them not, ⁵³ I judge him not; for ⁵⁴ I came not to judge the world, but to save the world: ⁵⁵ he ⁵⁶ that rejecteth me, and receiveth not my words, hath one that judgeth him; ⁵⁷ the word that I have spoken, the same shall judge him in the last day. ⁵⁸ For ⁵⁹ I have not spoken of myself; but the Father who sent me, he hath given me a commandment what I should say and what I should speak; ⁶⁰ and I know that ⁶¹ his commandment is life everlasting. Whosoever I speak therefore, even as the Father hath said unto me, so I speak.

come ^b that he should depart out of this world unto the Father, ^c having loved his own who were in the world, ^d he loved them unto the end. ² And at supper time*, ^e the devil having now put it into the heart of Judas Iscariot, Simon's son, to betray him—³ Jesus knowing that ^f the Father had given all things into his hands, and that he was come from God and was going to God, ⁴ he ^g riseth from supper, and laid aside his garments; and took a towel and ^h girded himself. ⁵ After that he poureth water into a basin, and began to wash the disciples' feet, and to wipe them with the towel wherewith he was girded.

⁶ Then cometh he to Simon Peter; and Peter saith unto him: Lord, dost thou wash my feet? ⁷ Jesus answered and said unto him: What I do thou knowest not now, but thou shalt know hereafter. ⁸ Peter saith unto him: Thou shalt never wash my feet. Jesus answered him: If I wash thee not thou hast no part with me. ⁹ Simon Peter saith unto him: Lord, not my feet only, but also my hands and my head. ¹⁰ Jesus saith to him: He that hath bathed needeth not save to wash his feet, but is clean every whit; and ⁱ ye are clean, but not all. ¹¹ For ^k he knew him that was betraying him; therefore said he: Ye are not all clean.

¹² So after he had washed their feet, and had taken his garments, and had sat down again, he said unto them: Know ye what I have done to you? ¹³ Ye call me Master §, and Lord; and ye say well; for so I am. ¹⁴ If I then, the Lord and Master, have washed your feet, ^l ye also ought to wash one another's feet. ¹⁵ For ^m I have given you an example, that ye also should do as I have done to you. ¹⁶ Verily verily, I say unto you, ⁿ the servant is not greater than his lord, neither he that is sent ^o greater than he that sent him. ¹⁷ If ^p ye know these things happy are ye if ye do them.

¹⁸ I speak not of you all; I know whom I have chosen: but that the Scripture may be fulfilled, ^q 'He that eateth bread with me hath lifted up his heel against me' [Psa. xli. 9]. ¹⁹ I ^r tell you now before it come to pass, that when it is come to pass, ye may believe that I am he.

²⁰ Verily ^s verily, I say unto you, he that receiveth whomsoever I send receiveth me; and he that receiveth me receiveth him that sent me.

²¹ When Jesus had thus said, he was troubled in spirit; and he testified and said, ^t Verily verily I say unto you that one of you will betray me. ²² The disciples then looked one on another, doubting of whom he spake. ²³ Now there was at the table, leaning on Jesus' bosom, one of his disciples, ^u whom Jesus loved. ²⁴ Simon Peter therefore beckoneth to him, that he should ask who it should be of whom he spake. ²⁵ He then, leaning on Jesus' breast, saith unto him: Lord, who is it? ²⁶ Jesus answered: He it is to whom I shall give a sop when I have dipped it. And when he had dipped the sop, he gave it to Judas Iscariot, the son of Simon. ²⁷ And ^v after the sop then Satan entered into him. Then said Jesus unto him: What thou doest, do quickly.

²⁸ Now no man at the table knew for what intent he spake this unto him. ²⁹ For some thought, because ^w Judas had the purse, that Jesus had said unto him: Buy the things that we have need of for the feast; or, that he should give something to the poor. ³⁰ He then having received the sop went immediately out. And it was night.

³¹ When therefore he was gone out, Jesus said: ^y Now is the Son of man glorified, and ^z God is glorified in him. ³² If ^a God is glorified in him, God will also glorify him in himself, and will straightway glorify him. ³³ Little children, yet a little while I am with you. Ye will seek me; and ^b as I said unto the Jews, Whither I go ye cannot come; so now I say to you.

³⁴ A ^c new commandment I give unto you, that ye love one another; even as I have loved you, that ye also love one another. ³⁵ By this shall all ^d men know that ye are my disciples, if ye have love one to another.

³⁶ Simon ^e Peter said unto him: Lord, whither goest thou? Jesus answered him: Whither I go thou canst not follow me now, but ^f thou shalt follow me afterwards. ³⁷ Peter said unto him: Lord, why cannot I follow thee now? I will lay down my life for thee. ³⁸ Jesus answered him: Wilt thou lay down thy life for me? Verily verily, I say unto thee, The cock will not crow till thou hast denied me thrice.

The valedictory discourse—In the prospect of his departure, Jesus consoles his disciples by the assurance of (1) their future re-union with himself in the Father's home, and (2) his own more immediate indwelling in them by the Holy Spirit.

14. LET not your heart be troubled; believe in God, believe also in me. ² In my Father's house are many mansions*; if it were not so, I would have told you: ³ I go to prepare a place for you. ⁴ And if I go and prepare a place for you, ⁵ I will in my love; even as I have kept my Father's commandments, and abide in his love. ¹¹ These things have I spoken unto you, that my joy may be in you, and ¹² that your joy may be made full.

²⁸ Remember the word that I said unto you, ²⁹ The servant is not greater than his lord. If they have persecuted me, they will also persecute you; if they have kept my word, they will keep yours also. ³⁰ But ³¹ all these things will they do unto you for my name's sake, ³² because they know not him that sent me. ³³ If ³⁴ I had not come and spoken unto them, they would not have sin; but ³⁵ now they have no excuse for their sin. ³⁶ He that hateth me hateth my Father also. ³⁷ If I had not done among them the works which no other man did, they would not have sin; but now have they both seen and hated both me and my Father.

³⁹ But when the Comforter* is come, whom I will send unto you from the Father, even the Spirit of truth, which proceedeth from the Father, ⁴⁰ he will bear witness of me; ⁴¹ and ⁴² ye also bear witness, because ye have been with me from the beginning.

⁴³ These things have I spoken unto you, that ye ⁴⁴ should not be offended. ⁴⁵ They ⁴⁶ will put you out of the synagogues; yea, the hour cometh when ⁴⁷ whosoever killeth you will think that he doeth God service. ⁴⁸ And these things will they do unto you, because ⁴⁹ they have not known the Father, nor me. ⁵⁰ But ⁵¹ these things have I spoken unto you, that when the hour is come, ye may remember that I told you of them. And these things I told you not at the beginning, because I was with you.

⁵² But now I go my way to him that sent me, and none of you asketh me, Whither goest thou? ⁵³ But because I have spoken these things unto you, sorrow hath filled your heart. ⁵⁴ Nevertheless I tell you the truth; it is expedient for you that I go away. For if I go not away ⁵⁵ the Comforter will not come unto you; but ⁵⁶ if I go I will send him unto you. ⁵⁷ And when he is come, ⁵⁸ he will convince ⁵⁹ the world concerning sin, and righteousness, and judgment: ⁶⁰ concerning ⁶¹ sin, because they believe not on me; ⁶² concerning ⁶³ righteousness, because I go to my Father, and ye see me no more; ⁶⁴ concerning ⁶⁵ judgment, because ⁶⁶ the prince of this world hath been judged.

⁶⁷ I have still many things to say unto you, but ⁶⁸ ye cannot bear them now. ⁶⁹ But when he, ⁷⁰ the Spirit of truth, is come, ⁷¹ he will guide you into all the truth; for he will not speak from himself, but whatsoever he shall hear, that will he speak; and ⁷² he will shew you the things to come. ⁷³ He will glorify me; for ⁷⁴ he will receive of that which is mine and will shew it unto you. ⁷⁵ All ⁷⁶ ⁷⁷ things that the Father hath are mine; therefore said I, that he receiveth of that which is mine, and will shew it unto you.

Conclusion of the valedictory discourse—(16) Jesus foretells his resurrection and glorification, and promises joy and peace to his disciples, amidst persecution from the world.

⁸⁰ Then said some of his disciples among themselves: What is this that he saith unto us, A little while and ye will no longer behold me, and again a little while and ye will see me; and, Because I go to the Father? ⁸¹ They said therefore: What is this that he saith, This little while? We know not of what he speaketh.

⁸² Jesus ⁸³ knew that they were desirous to ask him; and he said unto them: Is it of this that ye inquire among yourselves, that I said, A little while and ye will no longer behold me, and again a little while and ye will see me? ⁸⁴ Verily verily, I say unto you, that ye will weep and lament, but ⁸⁵ the world will rejoice; and ye will be sorrowful, but ⁸⁶ your sorrow will be turned into joy. ²¹ A woman when she is in travail hath sorrow, because her hour is come; but as soon as she is delivered of the child, she remembereth no more the anguish, for the joy that a man is born into the world. ²² And ye now therefore have sorrow; but I will see you again, and ²³ your heart shall rejoice, and your joy no one taketh from you. ²⁴ And in that day ye will ask me nothing. ²⁵ Verily verily, I say unto you, whatsoever ye shall ask of the Father in my name, he will give it you. ²⁶ Hitherto have ye asked for nothing in my name; ask, and ye shall receive, ²⁷ that your joy may be made full.

²⁸ These things have I spoken unto you in parables; but the hour cometh ²⁹ when I shall no more speak unto you in parables, but I shall tell you plainly of the Father. ³⁰ In that day ye will ask in my name; and I say not unto you, that I will pray the Father for you; ³¹ for the Father himself loveth you, because ye have loved me, and ³² have believed that I came forth from God. ³³ I came forth from the Father, and am come into the world; again, ³⁴ I leave the world, and go to the Father.

³⁵ His disciples said unto him: Lo, now speakest thou plainly, and speakest no parable. ³⁶ Now know we that ³⁷ thou knowest all things, and needest not that any one should ask thee; by this we believe that thou camest forth from God.

³⁸ Jesus answered them: Do ye now believe? ³⁹ Behold, ⁴⁰ the hour cometh, yea is now come, that ye will be scattered, every one unto his home, and ye will leave me alone; and ⁴¹ yet I am not alone, because the Father is with me. ⁴² These things I have spoken unto you, that ⁴³ in me ye may have peace. ⁴⁴ In the world ye will have tribulation; but be of good cheer; ⁴⁵ I have overcome the world.

Christ's intercessory prayer (1) for the manifestation of the Divine glory by his work on earth; (6) for his apostles, and (20) the whole church.

17. THESE words spake Jesus: and he lifted up his eyes to heaven, and said: Father, ² the hour is come; glorify thy Son, that thy Son also may glorify thee, ³ even ⁴ as thou hast given him authority over all flesh, ⁵ that he should give everlasting life to all that thou hast given him. ⁶ And ⁷ this is the life everlasting, that they may know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom thou hast sent. ⁸ I have glorified thee on the earth, ⁹ having finished the work which thou gavest me to do. ¹⁰ And now, O Father, glorify thou me with thine own self, with the glory ¹¹ which I had with thee before the world was.

¹² I have manifested thy name unto the men ¹³ whom thou hast given me out of the world; thine they were, and thou hast given them unto me; and they have kept thy word. ¹⁴ Now they have known that all things whatsoever thou hast given me are from thee. ¹⁵ For I have given unto them the words which thou gavest unto me; and they have received them, and ¹⁶ have known of a truth that I came forth from thee; and they have believed that thou hast sent me. ¹⁷ I pray for them: I pray not for the world, but for them whom thou hast given me; for they are thine; ¹⁸ and all things that are mine are thine, and ¹⁹ thine are mine; and ²⁰ I am glorified in them. ²¹ And I am no more in the world, but these are in the world, and I come to thee. Holy Father, ²² keep those in thy name whom thou hast given me, ²³ that they may be one, as we are. ²⁴ While I was with them in the world, I kept them in thy name; those whom thou hast given me I have guarded, and ²⁵ no one of them is lost but ²⁶ the son of perdition; ²⁷ that the Scripture might be fulfilled. ²⁸ And now come I to thee; and these things I speak in the world, ²⁹ that they may have my joy fulfilled in themselves.

⁴² And I pray not for these alone, but for them also who shall believe on me through their word; ⁴³ that ⁴⁴ they all may be one; as thou Father art in me and I in thee, that they also may be one in us; that the world may believe that thou hast sent me. ⁴⁵ And the glory which thou hast given me I have given them; ⁴⁶ that they may be one, even as we are one; ⁴⁷ ⁴⁸ in them, and thou in me, that they may be made perfect in one; and that the world may know that thou hast sent me, and hast loved them as thou hast loved me.

⁴⁹ Father, ⁵⁰ I will that those also whom thou hast given me be with me where I am; that they ⁵¹ may behold my glory which thou hast given me; for thou lovedst me before the foundation of the world. ²⁵ O righteous Father, ^o the world hath not known thee; but ^a I have known thee, and these have known that thou hast sent me; ²⁶ and ⁱ I have made known unto them thy name, and will make it known; that the love wherewith thou hast loved me may be in them, and ^k I in them.

Arrest of Jesus, and (11) his examination by the High Priest—(25) Peter's denial.

18. WHEN Jesus had spoken these words, ^a he went forth with his disciples over ^b the brook Kedron, where was a garden, into which he entered, and his disciples. ² And Judas also, who was about to betray him*, knew the place; for ^c Jesus oftentimes resorted thither with his disciples. ³ Judas ^d then, having received a band of men and officers from the chief priests and Pharisees, cometh thither, with lanterns and torches and weapons.

⁴ Then Jesus, ^e knowing all things that were coming upon him, went forth, and said unto them: Whom seek ye? ⁵ They answered him, Jesus of Nazareth. Jesus saith unto them: I am he. And Judas also, who betrayed him, was standing with them. ⁶ As soon then as he had said unto them, I am he, they went backward and fell to the ground. ⁷ Then asked he them again: Whom seek ye? And they said, Jesus of Nazareth. ⁸ Jesus answered: I told you that I am he; if therefore ye seek me, let these go their way: ⁹ that the saying might be fulfilled which he spake, ^f Of them that thou hast given me have I lost none.

¹⁰ Then Simon Peter having a sword drew it, and smote the high priest's servant, and cut off his right ear: and the servant's name was Malchus. ¹¹ Then said Jesus unto Peter: Put up thy sword into the sheath: ^o the cup which my Father hath given me, shall I not drink it?

¹² Then the ^h band and the captain, and the officers of the Jews, took Jesus and bound him, ¹³ and led him to ⁱ Annas first; for he was father-in-law to Caiaphas, who was the high priest that year. ¹⁴ Now ^k Caiaphas was he who gave counsel to the Jews that it was expedient that one man should die for the people.

¹⁵ And Simon Peter followed Jesus, and ^{so} did another disciple. That disciple was known unto the high priest, and went in with Jesus into the palace of the high priest. ¹⁶ But Peter stood at the door without: then went out that other disciple who was known unto the high priest, and spake unto her that kept the door, and brought in Peter. ¹⁷ Then saith the damsel that kept the door unto Peter: Art thou also one of this man's disciples? He saith: I am not. ¹⁸ And the servants and the officers were standing there, having made a fire of coals, for it was cold, and they were warming themselves; and Peter was standing with them, and warming himself.

¹⁹ The ^l high priest then asked Jesus about his disciples and about his teaching. ²⁰ Jesus answered him: ^m I have spoken openly to the world; I always taught in the synagogue and in the temple, whither all the Jews resort; and in secret I said nothing. ²¹ Why askest thou me? Ask them that have heard me, what I spake unto them; behold, they know what I said.

²² And when he had thus spoken, one of the officers who stood by ⁿ struck Jesus with the palm of his hand*, saying: Answerest thou the high priest so? ²³ Jesus answered him: ^o If I spake evil, bear witness of the evil; but if well, why smitest thou me? ²⁴ Now Annas had sent him bound unto Caiaphas the high priest.

²⁵ And ^p Simon Peter was standing and warming himself. They said therefore unto him: Art thou also one of his disciples? He denied it and said, I am not. ²⁶ One of the servants of the high priest, being a kinsman of him whose ear Peter cut off, saith: Did not I see thee in the garden with him? ²⁷ Peter then denied again: and immediately the cock crew.

Jesus before the Roman Governor; who (38) pronounces him innocent; (40) the Jews demand the release of Barabbas, and crucifixion of Jesus; (ch. 19. 7) they charge him with claiming to be the Son of God, and (12) making himself a king; and (16) obtain a sentence of death.

²⁸ THEN ^a led they Jesus from Caiaphas unto the Praetorium. And it was early; and ^b they themselves went not into the Praetorium, lest they should be defiled, but that they might eat the Passover.

²⁹ Pilate ^c then went out unto them, and said: What accusation bring ye against this man? ³⁰ They answered and said unto him: If he were not a malefactor we would not have delivered him up unto thee. ³¹ Then said Pilate unto them: Take ye him and judge him according to your law. The Jews therefore said unto him: It is not lawful for us to put any man to death: ³² that ^d the saying of Jesus might be fulfilled, which he spake, signifying by what manner of death he was about to die.

³³ Then Pilate entered into the Praetorium again; and he called Jesus, and said unto him: ^e Art thou the King of the Jews? ³⁴ Jesus answered him: Sayest thou this thing of thyself, or did others tell it thee of me? ³⁵ Pilate answered: Am I a Jew? ^f Thine own nation and the chief priests have delivered thee unto me. What hast thou done?

³⁶ Jesus answered: ^g My kingdom is not of this world; if my kingdom were of this world, then would my servants fight, that I might not be delivered to the Jews; but now is my kingdom not from hence. ³⁷ Pilate therefore said unto him: Art thou a king then? Jesus answered: Thou sayest that I am a king. For this end was I born, and for this end am I come into the world, ^h that I may bear witness unto the truth. ⁱ Every one that is of the truth heareth my voice. ³⁸ Pilate saith unto him: What is truth?

And when he had said this, he went out again unto the Jews, and saith unto them: I find no fault in him: ³⁹ but ^k ye have a custom that I should release unto you one at the Passover; will ye therefore that I release unto you the King of the Jews? ⁴⁰ Then ^l cried they all again, saying, Not this man, but Barabbas. Now Barabbas was a robber.

⁴ Then Pilate went out again, and saith unto them: Behold, I bring him forth to you that ye may know that I find no fault in him. ⁵ Then came Jesus forth, wearing the crown of thorns and the purple robe. And ⁶ Pilate saith unto them: Behold the man!

⁶ When ⁿ therefore the chief priests and the officers saw him, they cried out, saying: Crucify, crucify him! Pilate saith unto them: ^o Take ye him and crucify him: for I find no fault in him. ⁷ The Jews answered him: We have ^p a law, and according to our law he ought to die, because ^q he made himself the Son of God.

⁸ When Pilate therefore heard this saying, he was the more afraid; ⁹ and he went into the Praetorium again, and saith unto Jesus: Whence art thou? But ^r Jesus gave him no answer. ¹⁰ Then saith Pilate unto him: Speakest thou not unto me? Knowest thou not that I have power to release thee, and have power to crucify thee? ¹¹ Jesus answered: ^s Thou wouldest have no power at all against me if ^t it had not been given thee from above; therefore he that delivered me up unto thee hath the greater sin.

¹² And from thenceforth Pilate sought to release him; but the Jews cried out, saying: If thou let this man go thou art not Caesar's friend; ^u whosoever maketh himself a king speaketh against Caesar. ¹³ When Pilate therefore heard that saying, he brought Jesus forth, and sat down upon the judgment seat, in a place that is called the Pavement, but in the Hebrew, Gabbatha. ¹⁴ And ^v it was the Preparation of the Passover, and about the sixth hour. And he saith unto the Jews: Behold your King! ¹⁵ But they cried out: Away with him! Away with him! Crucify him! Pilate saith unto them: Shall I crucify your King? The chief priests answered: We have no king but Caesar. ¹⁶ Then delivered he him therefore unto them to be crucified.

The crucifixion; (19) the inscription on the cross; (23) partition of the garments; (28) last words of Jesus; (34) the piercing of his side; (38) his burial by two secret disciples.

AND they took Jesus and led him away. ¹⁷ And ^w he, bearing his cross, ^b went forth unto the place called The place of a skull, which is called in the Hebrew, Golgotha; ¹⁸ where ^c they crucified him, and two others with him, on either side one, and Jesus in the midst.

¹⁹ And Pilate wrote a title, and put it on the cross. And the writing was: JESUS OF NAZARETH* THE KING OF THE JEWS. ²⁰ This title then read many of the Jews; for the place where Jesus was crucified was nigh to the city; and it was written in Hebrew and Greek and Latin. ²¹ Then said the chief priests of the Jews to Pilate: Write not, The King of the Jews; but that he said, I am the King of the Jews. ²² Pilate answered: What I have written, I have written.

²³ Then the soldiers, when they had crucified Jesus, took his garments and made four parts, to each soldier a part; and also ^d his coat. Now the coat was without seam, ^d woven from the top throughout; ²⁴ they said therefore among themselves: Let us not rend it, but cast lots for it, whose it shall be: that the Scripture might be fulfilled which saith: 'They parted my raiment among them, and for my vesture they cast lots' [Psa. xxii. 18, Sept.]. These things therefore the soldiers did.

Mary the wife of ^f Clopas, and ^g Mary of Magdala. ²⁶ When Jesus therefore saw his mother, and ^h the disciple standing by whom he loved, he saith unto his mother: ⁱ Woman, behold thy son! ²⁷ Then saith he to the disciple: Behold thy mother! And from that hour that disciple took her unto his own home.

²⁸ After ^k this, Jesus ^l knowing that all things were now accomplished, that the Scripture might be fulfilled, saith: I thirst. ²⁹ Now there was set a vessel full of vinegar; and ^m they filled a sponge with vinegar, and put it upon ⁿ a stalk of hyssop, and raised it to his mouth. ³⁰ When therefore Jesus had received the vinegar, he said: ³¹ It is finished; and he bowed his head and yielded up his spirit.

³¹ Then the Jews, because it was the Preparation, ^o that the bodies might not remain upon the cross on the sabbath day (for ^p that sabbath was a high day), besought Pilate that their legs might be broken, and ^q that they might be taken away. ³² Then came the soldiers, and brake the legs of the first, and of the other that was crucified with him; ³³ but when they came to Jesus, and saw that he was dead already, they brake not his legs; ³⁴ but one of the soldiers with a spear pierced his side, and immediately ^r there came out blood and water.

³⁵ And ^s he that saw it hath borne witness, and his testimony is true, and he knoweth that he saith the truth, ^t that ye also may believe. ³⁶ For these things came to pass that the Scripture might be fulfilled: 'A bone of him shall not be broken,' [Exod. xii. 46]. ³⁷ And again another Scripture saith: 'They shall look on him whom they pierced' [Zech. xli. 10].

³⁸ And ^u after these things Joseph of Arimathea, being a disciple of Jesus, but secretly ^x for fear of the Jews, besought Pilate that he might take away the body of Jesus; and Pilate gave him leave. He came therefore and took the body of Jesus. ³⁹ And there came also ^y Nicodemus, (who at the first came to Jesus by night), bringing ^z a mixture of myrrh and aloes, about a hundred pound weight. ⁴⁰ Then took they the body of Jesus, and ^a bound it in linen cloths with the spices, as the manner of the Jews is to bury.

⁴¹ Now in the place where he was crucified there was a garden; and in the garden a new sepulchre, in which no one had ever yet been laid. ⁴² There ^b laid they Jesus therefore, because of the Jews' Preparation day; for the sepulchre was nigh at hand.

Appearances to the disciples after the resurrection.

20. NOW on the ^a first day of the week cometh Mary of Magdala early, when it was still dark, unto the sepulchre; and she seeth ^b the stone taken away from the sepulchre. ² Then she runneth and cometh to Simon Peter, and to the ^c other disciple whom Jesus loved; and she saith unto them: They have taken away the Lord out of the sepulchre, and we know not where they have laid him.

³ Peter ^d therefore went forth, and that other disciple; and they went to the sepulchre. ⁴ So they ran both together; and the other disciple outran Peter, and came first to the sepulchre; ⁵ and he stooping down and looking in seeth ^e the linen cloths lying; yet went he not in. ⁶ Then cometh Simon Peter following him; and he went into the sepulchre, and beholdeth the linen cloths, ⁷ and ^f the napkin that had been upon his head, not lying with the linen cloths, but wrapped together in a place by itself. ⁸ Then went in also that other disciple who came first to the sepulchre, and he saw and believed. ⁹ For as yet ^g they knew not the Scripture, ^h that he must rise again from the dead. ¹⁰ Then the disciples went away again unto their own home.

¹¹ But Mary stood without at the sepulchre weeping. And as she wept, she stooped down and looked into the sepulchre; ¹² and she beholdeth two angels in white, sitting the one at the head and the other at the feet, where the body of Jesus had lain. ¹³ And they say unto her: Woman, why weepest thou? She saith unto them: Because they have taken away my Lord, and I know not where they have laid him. ¹⁴ And when she had thus said, she turned herself back, and ⁱ beheld Jesus standing; and ^k she knew not that it was Jesus. ¹⁵ Jesus saith unto her, Woman, why weepest thou? Whom seekest thou? She, supposing him to be the gardener, saith unto him: Sir, if thou hast borne him hence, tell me where thou hast laid him; and I will take him away. ¹⁶ Jesus saith unto her, Mary! She turned herself, and saith unto him, Rabboni! which is to say, Master! ¹⁷ Jesus saith unto her: Touch me not; for I am not yet ascended to my Father: but ^l go to my brethren, and say unto them: ^m I ascend unto my Father and your Father, and ⁿ my God and your God.

p Mk. 16. 14-18; Lk. 24.36 -49; 1 Cor. 15.5.	¹⁹ Then on ^p the same day at evening, being the first day of the week, when the doors were shut where the disciples were assembled, for fear of the Jews, came Jesus and stood in the midst; and he saith unto them: Peace be unto you. ²⁰ And when he had so said, he showed unto them his hands and his side. Then were the disciples glad when they saw the Lord.	entered into the ship; and that night they caught nothing. ⁴ But when the morning was now come, Jesus stood on the shore: but the disciples ^d knew not that it was Jesus. ⁵ Then ^e Jesus saith unto them: Children, have ye anything to eat? They answered him, No. ⁶ And he said unto them: ^f Cast the net on the right side of the ship, and ye will find. They cast therefore, and now they were not able to draw it for the multitude of the fishes. ⁷ Therefore ^g that disciple whom Jesus loved saith unto Peter: It is the Lord. Now when Simon Peter heard that it was the Lord, he girt his fisher's coat about him, (for he was naked), and cast himself into the sea. ⁸ And the other disciples came in the boat (for they were not far from land, but about two hundred cubits off), dragging the net with the fishes.	d ch. 20. 14; Lk. 24.16. e Lk. 24. 41. f Lk. 5. 4, 6, 7.
q ch. 14. 27. r ch. 17.18; Mt. 28.18, 19.	²¹ Then said Jesus to them again: ^q Peace be unto you: ^r as the Father hath sent me even so send I you. ²² And when he had said this, he breathed on them, and saith unto them: Receive ye the Holy Spirit: ²³ whosoever ^s sins ye remit, they are remitted unto them; and whosoever sins ye retain, they are retained.	⁹ As soon then as they were come to land, they saw a fire of coals there, and fish laid thereon and bread. ¹⁰ Jesus saith unto them: Bring of the fish which ye have now caught. ¹¹ Simon Peter went on board and drew the net to land, full of great fishes, a hundred and fifty and three: and although there were so many, yet was not the net broken.	g ch. 13. 23.
s Mt. 16.19.	²⁴ But Thomas, one of the twelve, ^t called Didymus, was not with them when Jesus came. ²⁵ The other disciples therefore said unto him: We have seen the Lord. But he said unto them: Except I see in his hands the print of the nails, and put my finger into the print of the nails, and put my hand into his side, I will not believe. ²⁶ And after eight days, again his disciples were within and Thomas with them: then cometh Jesus, the doors being shut; and he stood in the midst, and said: Peace be unto you. ²⁷ Then saith he to Thomas: Reach hither thy finger, and behold my hands; and reach hither thy hand, and put it into my side; and be not faithless, but believing. ²⁸ And Thomas answered and said unto him: My Lord and my God! ²⁹ Jesus saith unto him: Thomas, because thou hast seen me thou hast believed; ^u blessed are they that have not seen and yet have believed.	¹² Jesus saith unto them: ^v Come and dine. And none of the disciples durst ask him, Who art thou? knowing that it was the Lord. ¹³ Jesus then cometh and taketh the bread and giveth unto them, and the fish likewise. ¹⁴ This is now ^w the third time that Jesus showed himself to his disciples after he was risen from the dead. ¹⁵ So when they had dined, Jesus saith to Simon Peter: Simon, son of Jonas, lovest thou me ^x more than these? He saith unto him: Yea, Lord, thou knowest that I love thee. He saith unto him: Feed my lambs. ¹⁶ He saith to him again the second time: Simon, son of Jonas, lovest thou me? He saith unto him: Yea, Lord, thou knowest that I love thee. He saith unto him: Feed ^y my sheep. ¹⁷ He saith unto him ^z the third time: Simon, son of Jonas, lovest thou me? Peter was grieved because he said unto him the third time, Lovest thou me; and he said unto him: Lord, ^{aa} thou knowest all things, thou knowest that I love thee. Jesus saith unto him: Feed my sheep. ¹⁸ Verily ^{ab} verily, I say unto thee, when thou wast young thou girdedst thyself, and walkedst whither thou wouldest; but when thou shalt be old thou wilt stretch forth thy hands, and another will gird thee, and carry thee	h see Ac. 10. 41. i ch. 20.19, 26.

(2) It is here assumed that the "Feast of the Jews," mentioned in John v. 1, was the Passover. The third Passover is the one mentioned in John vi. 4, which our Lord appears not to have celebrated at Jerusalem, probably because the rulers were seeking to kill him; see John vii. 1.

(3) Robinson places Luke ch. 4, 16-30 in Section 27; assuming two different visits to Nazareth; but as Luke's narrative, in ver. 23, implies that Jesus had lived for some time in Capernaum, and had wrought many miracles there, before this visit to Nazareth, it appears more probable that the three narratives all refer to the same event. (4) Robinson places Luke ch. vii. 1-3 between Sections 45 and 46; but there appears to be no sufficient reason for supposing the circuit in Galilee related by Luke to be different from the second one mentioned by Matthew and Mark.

(5) Some would place the passages in the Gospel of John from ch. vii. 2 to ch. xi. 54 between sections 70 and 71. They think that the events there related occurred before the raising of Lazarus, and that, probably, after the raising of Lazarus, and the retreat to Ephraim near the desert, he led his disciples northwards, and in the quiet retirement of Casarea

Philippi gave them the first intimations of his approaching death. From thence the three synoptic Gospels represent him as taking them privately, through Galilee straight to Jerusalem. If this was the true order of events, only a few weeks would intervene between the transfiguration on mount Hermon and the crucifixion at Jerusalem.

THE ACTS OF THE APOSTLES.

Introduction—(7) Our Lord's last instructions to his disciples, and (9) his ascension—1. The apostles wait at Jerusalem, and (14) meet daily for prayer—(15) Appointment of a new apostle in the place of Judas.

1. THE former treatise have I made, O ^aTheophilus, concerning all that Jesus began both to do and teach, ²until ^bthe day in which he was taken up, after he, ^cthrough the Holy Spirit, ^dhad given commandment unto the apostles whom he had chosen. ³To whom also ^ehe showed himself alive, after he had suffered, by many infallible proofs, being seen by them during forty days, and ^fspeaking of the things pertaining to the kingdom of God.

⁴And ^gbeing assembled together with them, he commanded them not to depart from Jerusalem, but to wait for ^hthe promise of the Father, which, saieth he, ye have heard from me; ⁵for ⁱJohn indeed baptized with water, but ^kye shall be baptized with the Holy Spirit not many days hence.

⁶They came then together, and asked him, saying: Lord, wilt thou at this time ^lrestore again the kingdom to Israel? ⁷And he said unto them: ^mIt is not for you to know the times or seasons, which the Father hath placed under ⁿhis own authority. ⁸But ^oye shall receive power, by the Holy Spirit coming upon you: and ^pye shall be my witnesses both ^qin Jerusalem, and in all Judea, and ^rin Samaria, and ^sunto the uttermost part of the earth.

⁹And ^twhen he had spoken these things, while they beheld, he was taken up; and a cloud received him out of their sight.

¹⁰And while they looked stedfastly towards heaven as he went up, behold, two men stood by them ^uin white apparel; ^vwho also said: ^wYe men of Galilee, why stand ye gazing up towards heaven? This same Jesus, who hath been taken up from you into heaven, ^xwill so come in like manner as ye beheld him go into heaven.

¹²Then ^yreturned they unto Jerusalem from the mount called Olivet, which is nigh unto Jerusalem, being a sabbath day's journey. ¹³And when they were come in, they went up into ^zthe upper room where they abode; namely ^aPeter, and James, and John, and Andrew, Philip, and Thomas, Bartholomew, and Matthew, James the son of Alphaeus, and Simon Zelotes, and Judas the brother of James. ¹⁴These ^ball continued with one accord in prayer ^c, with ^dthe women and Mary the mother of Jesus, and with ^ehis brethren.

¹⁵And in those days Peter stood up in the midst of the brethren, and said—the number of the names together was about a hundred and twenty:

²¹Wherefore of these men who companied with us all the time that the Lord Jesus went in and out among us, ²²beginning from the baptism of John, unto the day that he was taken up from us, ^kmust one be made a witness with us of his resurrection.

²³And they appointed two, Joseph called Barsabas, who was surnamed Justus, and Matthias. ²⁴And they prayed and said: Thou, Lord, ^mwho knowest the hearts of all men, show which of these two thou hast chosen, ²⁵that he may take the office of this ministry and apostleship, from which Judas by transgression fell, ⁿthat he might go to his own place. ²⁶And ^othey cast lots for them, and the lot fell upon Matthias; and he was numbered with the eleven apostles.

The gift of the Holy Spirit at Pentecost, (2) outwardly manifested by the miraculous gift of tongues; (14) Peter's address, showing this to be (16) the fulfilment of prophecy; and (32) the fruit of Christ's resurrection; (37) conversion of a great multitude; (42) their love, devotion, and holy joy.

2. AND when ^a the day of Pentecost was fully come, ^b they were all with one accord in one place. ² And suddenly there came a sound from heaven ^c as of a rushing mighty wind, and it filled all the house where they were sitting. ³ And there appeared unto them tongues, ^d as of fire, dividing themselves, and it sat upon each of them. ⁴ And ^e they were all filled with the Holy Spirit; and they began ^f to speak with other tongues, as the Spirit gave them utterance.

⁵ Now there were dwelling at Jerusalem Jews, devout men, out of every nation under heaven. ⁶ And when this was noised abroad ^g, the multitude came together; and they were confounded, because every man heard them speaking in his own language. ⁷ And they were all amazed and marvelled, saying: Behold, are not all these who speak ^h Galileans? ⁸ And how hear we every man in our own tongue, wherein we were born, — ⁹ Parthians, and ⁱ Medes, and ^j Elamites, and the dwellers in Mesopotamia, and in Judaea, and ^k Cappadocia, in Pontus, and Asia, ¹⁰ Phrygia, and Pamphylia, in Egypt, and in the parts of Libya about ^l Cyrene, and the ^m sojourners from Rome, both Jews and proselytes, ¹¹ Cretans and Arabians — how hear we them speaking in our own tongues the wonderful works of God? ¹² And they were all amazed, and were in doubt, saying one to another: What meaneth this? ¹³ But others mocking said: They are full of new wine.

Ye men of Judaea, and all ^{ye} that dwell at Jerusalem, Be this known unto you, and hearken to my words. ¹⁵ For these are not drunken, as ye suppose, ⁿ seeing it is but the third hour of the day. ¹⁶ But this is that which was spoken by the prophet Joel: ¹⁷ 'And it shall come to pass ^o in the last days, saith God, ^p that I will pour out of my Spirit upon all flesh: and your sons and ^q your daughters shall prophesy, and your young men shall see visions, and your old men shall dream dreams: ¹⁸ yea and on my servants and on my handmaidens I will pour out in those days of my Spirit: and ^r they shall prophesy. ¹⁹ And I will show wonders in heaven above, and signs in the earth beneath; blood, and fire, and vapour of smoke. ²⁰ The ^s sun shall be turned into darkness and the moon into blood, before the great and notable day of the Lord come. ²¹ And it shall come to pass, that ^t whosoever shall call on the name of the Lord shall be saved' [Joel ii. 28—32].

²² Ye men of Israel, hear these words; Jesus of Nazareth*, a man approved by God unto you ^u by miracles and wonders and signs, which God did by him in the midst of you, as ye yourselves also know, ²³ him, ^v being delivered up, according to the determinate counsel and foreknowledge of God, ye have taken and by the hand of wicked ^w men have crucified and slain: ²⁴ whom ^x God raised up, having loosed the pains of death, because ^y it was not possible that he should be holden by it. ²⁵ For David speaketh concerning him: 'I saw the Lord always before my face, for he is on my right hand, that I should not be moved. ²⁶ Therefore my heart rejoiced, and my tongue was glad; moreover also my flesh shall rest in hope: ²⁷ because thou wilt not leave my soul in Hades, ²⁸ neither wilt thou suffer thy Holy One to see corruption. ²⁹ Thou hast made known to me the ways of life; thou wilt make me full of joy with thy countenance' [Psa. xvi. 8—11, Sept.].

³⁰ Men and brethren, I may freely speak unto you of the patriarch David; that he both died and was buried, and his sepulchre is with us unto this day. ³¹ Therefore being a prophet, and ^a knowing that God had sworn with an oath to him, that of the fruit of his loins, according to the flesh, he would set one upon ^b his throne; ³² he foresaw and spake of the resurrection of the Christ, that his soul was not left in Hades, nor did his flesh see corruption.

³³ This Jesus hath God raised up, ^c whereof we all are witnesses. ³⁴ Being ^d therefore exalted by the right hand of God, and ^e having received from the Father the promise of the Holy Spirit, he hath shed forth this which ye now see and hear. ³⁵ For David did not ascend into the heavens; but he saith himself: 'The LORD said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, ³⁶ until I make thine enemies thy footstool. [Psa. cx. 1, Sept.] ³⁷ Therefore let all the house of Israel know assuredly, that God hath made this same Jesus whom ye crucified both Lord and Christ.

³⁸ Now when they heard ^f this ^g they were pierced to the heart; and they said to Peter and to the rest of the apostles: Men and brethren, ^h what shall we do? ³⁹ Then

Peter said unto them: ⁱ Repent and ^k be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of your sins; and ^l ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Spirit. ³⁰ For ^m the promise is to you and to your children, and ⁿ to all that are afar off, even as many as the Lord our God shall call.

⁴¹ Then they that gladly received his word were baptized; and the same day there were ^p added unto them about three thousand souls.

⁴² And they attended constantly on the teaching of the apostles, and the fellowship*, and the breaking of bread, and the prayers. ⁴³ And fear came upon every soul; and ^q many wonders and signs were done by the apostles. ⁴⁴ And all that believed were together, and ^r had all things common; ⁴⁵ and they sold their possessions and goods, and parted them to all men as any one had need. ⁴⁶ And attending daily with one accord ^s in the temple, and breaking bread in the several houses†, they ate their food with gladness and singleness of heart, ⁴⁷ praising God, and having favour with all the people. And ^t the Lord added to the church daily those who were being saved.

well, that it was he that sat for alms at the Beautiful Gate of the temple; and they were filled with wonder and amazement at that which had happened unto him. ¹¹ And as he* held Peter and John, all the people ran together unto them at ^e the porch that is called Solomon's, greatly wondering.

Ye men of Israel, Why marvel ye at this man? or why look ye earnestly on us, as though by our own power or godliness we had made him to walk? ¹³ The God of Abraham and of Isaac and of Jacob, the God of our fathers, ^f hath glorified his Son† Jesus; ^g whom ye delivered up, and denied him in the presence of Pilate, when he had determined to let him go: ¹⁴ but ^h ye killed the Holy and Righteous One; and desired a murderer to be granted unto you; ¹⁵ and ye killed the ⁱ Author of life; whom God hath raised from the dead; whereof we are witnesses. ¹⁶ And his name, ^k through faith in his name, hath made this man strong, whom ye see and know; yea, the faith which is by him hath given him this perfect soundness in the presence of you all.

¹⁷ And now, brethren, I know that ⁱ in ignorance ye did it, as did also your rulers; ¹⁸ but those things which God before declared, ^m by the mouth of all his prophets, that the Christ would suffer, he hath so fulfilled. ¹⁹ Repent ye therefore, and turn to Him, ⁿ for the blotting out of your sins, that the ^o times of refreshing may come from the presence of the Lord; ²⁰ and that he may send forth the Christ, who was foreordained for you, even Jesus; ²¹ whom the heaven must receive until the times of ^p the restoration of all things; of which God hath spoken by the mouth of all his holy prophets since the world began.

²² For Moses truly said unto the fathers: 'A Prophet will the Lord your God raise up unto you from among your brethren, like unto me; him shall ye hear in all things whatsoever he shall say unto you: ²³ and it shall come to pass that every soul that heareth not that Prophet shall be destroyed from among the people' [Deut. xviii. 15, 19]. ²⁴ Yea, and all the prophets, from Samuel and those that follow after, as many as have spoken, have likewise foretold of these days.

Miraculous healing of a lame man, which (12) Peter, addressing the people, ascribes to the power of the crucified and risen Saviour; (ch. 4. 1) arrest of Peter and John by the Jewish rulers.

⁹ And all the people saw him walking and praising God; ¹⁰ and they knew him

And as they spake unto the people, the priests and the ^u captain of the temple and ^x the Sadducees came upon them, ² being grieved that they taught the people, and proclaimed in Jesus the resurrection from the dead; ³ and they laid hands on them, and put them in prison until the next day; for it was now evening. ⁴ Howbeit many of them that heard the word believed; and the number of the men became about five thousand. Examination of the two apostles before the Sanhedrim, and (21) their release—(24) The prayer of the church. 5 AND it came to pass on the morrow, that their rulers and elders and scribes, ⁶ and ^a Annas the high priest, and Caiaphas and John and Alexander, and as many as were of the kindred of the high priest, were gathered together at Jerusalem. ⁷ And when they had set them in the midst, they asked them: By what power or by what name have ye done this? ⁸ Then ^b Peter, filled with the Holy Spirit, said unto them: Ye rulers of the people, and elders of Israel, ⁹ If we this day are examined concerning the good deed done to the lame man, by what means he hath been made whole; ¹⁰ be it known unto you all, and to all the people of Israel, that ^c by the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth ^t , whom ye crucified, whom God raised from the dead, even by him doth this man stand here before you whole. ¹¹ This ^d is 'the stone which was set at nought by you, the builders, which is become ^e the head of the corner' [Psa. cxviii. 22]. ¹² Neither ^f is there salvation in any other: for there is no other name under heaven given among men whereby we must be saved. ¹³ Now when they saw the boldness of Peter and John, and knew that ^g they were unlearned and ignorant men, they marvelled; and they recognized them as having been with Jesus: ¹⁴ and beholding the man who was healed standing with them, they could say nothing against it. ¹⁵ But when they had commanded them to go aside out of the council, they conferred among themselves ¹⁶ saying: What ^h must we do to these men? For that indeed a notable miracle hath been done by them is ⁱ manifest to all that dwell in Jerusalem; and we cannot deny it . ¹⁷ But that it spread no further among the people, let us strictly threaten them that they speak henceforth to no man in this name.	¹⁸ And ^k they called them, and commanded them not to speak at all nor teach in the name of Jesus. ¹⁹ But Peter and John answered and said unto them: ² Whether it is right in the sight of God to hearken unto you more than unto God, judge ye. ²⁰ For ^m we cannot but speak the things which ⁿ we have seen and heard. ²¹ So when they had further threatened them, they let them go, not finding how they might punish them, ⁹ because of the people; for all men glorified God for that which was done; ²² for the man was above forty years old on whom this miracle of healing had been wrought. ²³ And being let go, they went to their own company, and reported all that the chief priests and elders had said unto them. ²⁴ And when they heard that , they lifted up their voice to God with one accord and said: Lord, ² Thou who hast [*] made the heaven and the earth and the sea, and all things which are in them, ²⁵ who by the mouth of thy servant David saidst: 'Why did the nations rage, and the peoples imagine vain things?' ²⁶ The kings of the earth stood up, and the rulers were gathered together against the Lord, and against his Anointed one' [Psa. ii. 1, 2, Sept.]. ²⁷ For ^q of a truth against thy holy Son ^t Jesus, whom thou didst anoint, both Herod and Pontius Pilate, with the Gentiles, and the people of Israel, were gathered together, ²⁸ to do whatsoever thy hand and thy counsel ^r determined before to be done. ²⁹ And now, Lord, behold their threatenings: and grant unto thy servants ^s that with all boldness they may speak thy word, ³⁰ by stretching forth thy hand to heal; and that signs and wonders may be done through the name of thy holy Son ^t Jesus. ³¹ And when they had prayed, ^t the place was shaken where they were assembled together: and they were all filled with the Holy Spirit, and they spake the word of God with boldness. The unity and self-sacrificing spirit of the disciples—(ch. 5. 1) Punishment of false pretensions to liberality—(12) Miraculous power of the apostles; and great increase of the church. 32 AND the multitude of them that believed ^a were of one heart and of one soul: ^b and no one said that aught of the things which he possessed was his own; but they had all things common. ³³ And with ^c great power gave the apostles witness of the resurrection of the Lord Jesus; and great grace was upon them all. ³⁴ Neither was there any one among them	k ch. 5. 40. l ch. 5. 29. m ch. 18. 5; Jer. 20. 9. n 1 John 1. 1, 3. o ch. 5. 26; Mt. 21. 24; 1 k. 20. 6, 19. p 2 Ki. 19. 15. * Rec. text reads thou art God who. q 1 k. 22. 2; 23. 1—12. † or, Servant. r see ch. 2. 23. s ch. 13. 46; 19. 8; Eph. 6. 19. † or, Servant. t ch. 2. 2, 4. a Ro. 15. 58; Phil. 2. 2. b ch. 2. 44, 45. c 1 Thes. 1. 5. † or, there was great favour towards them all.

that was in want; for as many as were possessors of lands or houses sold them, and brought the prices of the things that were sold ³⁵ and ^d laid them down at the apostles' feet; and ^e distribution was made to every one according as he had need.

⁷ And it came to pass about the space of three hours after, that his wife, not knowing what had happened, came in. ⁸ And Peter answered unto her: Tell me whether ye sold the land for so much. And she said: Yea, for so much. ⁹ Then Peter said unto her: How is it that ye agreed together to tempt the Spirit of the Lord? Behold, the feet of them that have buried thy husband are at the door and shall carry thee out. ¹⁰ Then fell she down straightway at his feet and died. And the young men came in and found her dead, and carrying her forth buried her by her husband. ¹¹ And ⁱ great fear came upon all the church, and upon all that heard these things.

¹² And ^k by the hands of the apostles were many signs and wonders wrought among the people; ^l and they were all with one accord in Solomon's porch. ¹³ But ^m of the rest durst no man join himself to them; but ⁿ the people magnified them. —¹⁴ And believers were the more added to the Lord, multitudes both of men and women. —¹⁵ So that they brought out the sick along the streets, and laid them on beds and couches, ^o that at least the shadow of Peter passing by might overshadow some one of them. ¹⁶ And a multitude also out of the cities round about came together to Jerusalem, bringing sick persons and those that were vexed with unclean spirits; and they were healed every one.

Second arrest of the apostles—After (10) a miraculous deliverance from prison, (26) they are brought before the Sanhedrin, (33) who desire to put them to death, but (34) are prevented by Gamaliel's counsel.

¹⁷ THEN ^a the high priest rose up, and all that were with him (which is the sect of the ^b Sadducees) and were filled with indignation; ¹⁸ and they ^c laid their hands on the apostles, and put them in the common prison.

¹⁹ But ^d an angel of the Lord by night opened the prison doors, and brought them forth, and said: ²⁰ Go, stand, and speak in the temple to the people ^e all the words of this life. ²¹ And when they heard that, they entered into the temple early in the morning, and taught.

And the high priest came, and they that were with him, and called the council together, and all the senate ^f of the children of Israel; and they sent to the prison to have them brought. ²² But the officers who went found them not in the prison; and they returned and told, ²³ saying: The prison truly found we shut with all safety, and the keepers standing before the doors; but when we had opened we found no man within.

²⁴ Now when ^g the captain of the temple and the chief priests heard these things, they were perplexed about them, whereunto this would grow. ²⁵ Then came one and told them: Behold, the men whom ye put in the prison are standing in the temple and teaching the people.

²⁶ Then went the captain with the officers, and brought them, without violence; for they feared the people, lest they should be stoned. ²⁷ And when they had brought them, ^h they set them before the council. And the high priest asked them, ²⁸ saying: ⁱ Did not we strictly command you that ye should not teach in this name? And behold, ye have filled Jerusalem with your teaching, and ^j ye desire to bring this man's ^k blood upon us.

³⁴ Then stood there up one in the council, a Pharisee named Gamaliel, ^a "a doctor* of the law, had in reputation among all the people, and bade them to put the apostles outside a little while; ³⁵ and he said unto them:

Ye men of Israel, take heed to yourselves as to what ye are about to do as touching these men. ³⁶ For before these days rose up Theudas, boasting himself to be somebody; to whom a number of men, about four hundred, joined themselves: who was slain; and all, as many as obeyed him, were scattered and came to nought. ³⁷ After this man rose up Judas of Galilee in the days of ^a the registration, and drew away much people after him: he also perished; and all, even as many as obeyed him, were dispersed. ³⁸ And now I say unto you, Refrain from these men, and let them alone: for ^b if this counsel or this work be of men it will be overthrown; ³⁹ but if it be of God, ye will not be able to overthrow them; lest haply ye be found even ^c to fight against God.

Disension in the church; (2) appointment of officers to distribute its charities; (7) growing prosperity—(8) Stephen's character and ministry; (9) his disputation with foreign Jews, who, (10) defeated in argument, (12) bring him before the Sanhedrin on the charge of blasphemy.

6. AND in those days, when the number of the disciples was being multiplied, there arose a murmuring of the Grecian Jews against the Hebrews, that their widows were neglected in ^a the daily ministration.

² Then the twelve called the multitude of the disciples unto them and said: ^b It is not right that we should leave the word of God and serve tables. ³ Wherefore, brethren, ^c look ye out among you seven men of good report, full of the Holy Spirit and of wisdom, whom we will appoint over this business; ^d but we will give ourselves continually to prayer and to the ministry of the word.

⁵ And the saying pleased the whole multitude: and they chose Stephen, a man full of faith and of the Holy Spirit, and ^a Philip, and Prochorus, and Nicanor, and Timon, and Parmenas, and Nicolas a proselyte of Antioch; ^b whom they set before the apostles; and ^c when they had prayed, they laid their hands on them.

⁸ And Stephen, full of grace^a and power, did great wonders and miracles among the people. ⁹ But there arose certain of the Synagogue which is called the Synagogue of the Libertines and Cyrenians and Alexandrians, and of them of Cilicia and of Asia, disputing with Stephen: ¹⁰ and ^b they were not able to resist the wisdom and ^c the spirit by which he spake. ¹¹ Then ^b they suborned men, who said: We have heard him speak blasphemous words against Moses and against God. ¹² And they stirred up the people and the elders and the scribes, and they came upon him and seized him, and brought him to the council. ¹³ And they set up false witnesses, who said: This man ceaseth not to speak words ^d against this holy place, and the law; ¹⁴ for we have heard him say, that this Jesus of Nazareth: will destroy this place, and will change the customs which Moses delivered to us. ¹⁵ And all that sat in the council, looking stedfastly on him, saw his face as the face of an angel.

Stephen's defence—(2) He refutes the charges against him of blaspheming Moses, and speaking against the people of God, and their law and temple, and shews that (51) the Jews, by rejecting Christ and persecuting his followers, were imitating the unbelief and rebellion of their fathers; (54) Stephen's death.

7. THEN said the high priest, Are these things so?

² And he said: Men, brethren and fathers^a, hearken; The God of glory appeared unto our father Abraham, when he was in Mesopotamia, before he dwelt ^a in Haran; ³ and said unto him: 'Get thee out of thy country, and from thy kindred, and go into the land which I will show thee' [Gen. xii. 1]. ⁴ Then ^b came he out of the land of the Chaldeans, and dwelt in Haran: and from thence, when his father was dead, He removed him into this land wherein ye now dwell. ⁵ And ^c he gave him no inheritance in it, no, ^d not so much as to set his foot on; yet ^e he promised that he would give it to him for a possession, and to his seed after him, when as yet he had no child. ⁶ And God spake in this manner, 'That his seed would sojourn in a foreign land; and that they would bring them into bondage and illtreat them / four hundred years. ⁷ And ⁸ the nation to whom they shall be in bondage will I judge, said God; and after that shall they come forth' [Gen. xv. 13, 14], and 'serve me in this place' [Exod. iii. 12]. ⁸ And ⁹ he gave him the covenant of circumcision: and ¹⁰ so Abraham begat Isaac and circumcised him the eighth day, and ¹¹ Isaac begat Jacob, and ¹² Jacob begat the twelve patriarchs.

¹³ And ¹⁴ the patriarchs, moved with envy, sold Joseph into Egypt: but ¹⁵ God was with him, ¹⁶ and delivered him out of all his afflictions, and ¹⁷ gave him favour and wisdom in the sight of Pharaoh king of Egypt; and he made him governor over Egypt and over all his house. ¹⁸ Now ¹⁹ there came a famine over all Egypt and Canaan, and great affliction; and our fathers found no sustenance. ²⁰ But ²¹ when Jacob heard that there was corn in Egypt, he sent out our fathers first; ²² and ²³ at the second time Joseph was made known to his brethren, and Joseph's kindred was made known unto Pharaoh. ²⁴ Then ²⁵ sent Joseph and called his father Jacob to him, and ²⁶ all his kindred, threescore and fifteen souls. ²⁷ So ²⁸ Jacob went down into Egypt, and ²⁹ died, he and our fathers; ³⁰ and ³¹ they were carried over into Shechem, and were laid in ³² the sepulchre that Abraham bought for a sum of money of the sons of Hamor the father of Shechem.

³³ But when ³⁴ the time of the promise drew nigh, which God had made to Abraham, the people grew and multiplied in Egypt, ³⁵ till another king arose 'who knew not Joseph' [Exod. i. 8]. ³⁶ The same dealt subtilly with our kindred, and illtreated our fathers; ³⁷ so that they cast out their young children, in order that they might not live. ³⁸ In ³⁹ which time Moses was born; and he ⁴⁰ was exceeding comely; and was nourished up in his father's house three months: ⁴¹ and ⁴² when he was cast out, Pharaoh's daughter took him up, and nourished him / for her own son. ⁴³ And Moses was instructed in ⁴⁴ all the wisdom of the Egyptians, and was mighty in his words and deeds.

⁴⁵ And ⁴⁶ when he was full forty years old, it came into his heart to visit his brethren the children of Israel. ⁴⁷ And seeing one of them suffer wrong, he defended him, and avenged him that was oppressed, by smiting the Egyptian. ⁴⁸ For he supposed his brethren would understand that God by his hand was giving them deliverance; but they understood not. ⁴⁹ And the next day he showed himself unto them as they strove, and would have set them at one again, saying: 'Sirs, ye are brethren; why do ye wrong one to another?' ⁵⁰ But he that was doing his neighbour wrong thrust him away, saying: 'Who made thee a ruler and a judge over us?' ⁵¹ Wouldst thou kill me, as thou didst the Egyptian yesterday? ⁵² Then ⁵³ fled Moses at this saying, and became a sojourner in the land of Midian, where he begat two sons.

⁵⁴ And ⁵⁵ when forty years were expired, there appeared to him in the wilderness of mount Sinai an angel* in a flame of fire in a bush. ⁵⁶ And Moses seeing it, wondered at the sight. And as he drew near to behold it, the voice of the Lord came unto him, ⁵⁷ saying: 'I am ⁵⁸ the God of thy fathers, the God of Abraham and of Isaac and of Jacob' [Exod. iii. 6]. Then Moses ⁵⁹ trembled and durst not behold. ⁶⁰ Then said the Lord to him: ⁶¹ Put off thy shoes from thy feet; for the place where thou standest is holy ground. ⁶² I have surely seen the oppression of my people which is in Egypt, and I have heard their groaning, and ⁶³ am come down to deliver them. And now come, I will send thee into Egypt' [Exod. iii. 5, 7, 8, 10].

⁶⁴ This Moses whom they refused, saying, 'Who made thee a ruler and a judge?' [Exod. ii. 14, Sept.] the same did God send to be a ruler and a deliverer, ⁶⁵ by the hand of the angel who appeared to him in the bush. ⁶⁶ This man brought them out, and ⁶⁷ showed wonders and signs in the land of Egypt, and in the Red Sea, and ⁶⁸ in the wilderness forty years. ⁶⁹ This is that Moses who said unto the children of Israel: 'A Prophet will the Lord your God raise up unto you of your brethren, like unto me; ⁷⁰ him shall ye hear' [Deut. xviii. 15]. ⁷¹ This is he who was in the church in the wilderness, with ⁷² the angel who spake to him in the mount Sinai, and with our fathers; ⁷³ who received the living ⁷⁴ oracles to give unto us: ⁷⁵ to ⁷⁶ whom our fathers would not be obedient, but thrust him from them, and ⁷⁷ in their hearts turned back unto Egypt, ⁷⁸ saying unto Aaron: 'Make us gods who shall go before us; for as for this Moses, who brought us out of the land of Egypt, we know not what is become of him' [Exod. xxxii. 1]. ⁷⁹ And ⁸⁰ they made a calf in those days, and offered sacrifice unto the idol, and rejoiced in the works of their own hands.

written in the book of the Prophets : ' O ye house of Israel, did ye offer to me slain beasts and sacrifices forty years in the wilderness ? ⁴³ Yea, ye took up the tabernacle of Moloch, and the star of your god * Re-phan, the figures which ye made to worship them : and I will carry you away beyond Babylon' [Amos v. 25—27, Sept.].

⁵⁴ When they heard these things, they were cut to the heart, and they gnashed against him with their teeth. ⁵⁵ But he, ^r being full of the Holy Spirit, looked up stedfastly into heaven, and ^s saw the glory of God, and Jesus standing on the right hand of God ; ⁵⁶ and he said : Behold, ^t I see the heavens opened, and the ^u Son of man standing on the right hand of God.

Persecution and scattering of the disciples ; (5) preaching of the gospel in Samaria by Philip, (14) followed by the apostles Peter and John—(15) Bestowal of the miraculous gifts of the Holy Spirit.

AND at that time there arose a great persecution against the church which was at Jerusalem ; and ^a they were all scattered abroad throughout the regions of Judæa and Samaria, except the apostles.

² And devout men carried Stephen to his burial, and made great lamentation over him. ³ As for Saul, ^b he made havoc of the church, entering into the several houses*, and dragging men and women committed them to prison.

⁴ They therefore that were scattered abroad went every where preaching the word. ⁵ And ^c Philip went down to the city† of Samaria, and preached Christ unto them. ⁶ And the multitudes with one accord gave heed unto the things which Philip spake, when they heard him, and saw the miracles which he did. ⁷ For ^d unclean spirits, crying with a loud voice, came out of many that were possessed with them ; and many that were palsied and that were lame were healed. ⁸ And there was great joy in that city.

⁹ But there was before in the city a certain man called Simon, who ^e used magic arts, and amazed the people of Samaria, giving out that himself was some great one : ¹⁰ to whom they all gave heed, from the least to the greatest, saying : This man is the great power of God†. ¹¹ And to him they had regard, because they had for a long time been bewitched by his magic arts. ¹² But when they believed Philip preaching ^f the glad tidings concerning the kingdom of God and the name of Jesus Christ, they were baptized, both men and women. ¹³ Then Simon himself believed also : and when he was baptized, he attended on Philip, and was amazed, beholding the signs and great miracles which were done.

¹⁴ Now when the apostles at Jerusalem heard that Samaria had received the word of God, they sent unto them Peter and John ; ¹⁵ who came down, and prayed for them ^g that they might receive the Holy Spirit ; ¹⁶ for ^h it had not yet fallen upon any of them ; only ⁱ they had been baptized into the name of the Lord Jesus. ¹⁷ Then ^k laid they their hands on them, and they received the Holy Spirit.

Philip's Divine commission to instruct a devout Ethiopian.

²⁶ AND an angel of the Lord spake unto Philip, saying: Arise and go towards the south unto the way that goeth down from Jerusalem unto ^a Gaza; which is desert†: ²⁷ and he arose and went. And behold, ^b a man of Ethiopia, a eunuch of great authority under Candace queen of the Ethiopians, who was over all her treasure, and ^c had come to Jerusalem to worship, ²⁸ was returning, and sitting in his chariot; and he was reading the prophet Isaiah.

²⁹ Then ^d the Spirit said unto Philip: Go near and join thyself to this chariot. ³⁰ And Philip ran thither to him, and heard him reading the prophet Isaiah. And he said: Understandest thou what thou readest? ³¹ And he said: How can I except some one guide me? And he desired Philip to come up and sit with him.

me from being baptized? ³⁷ [And* Philip said, / If thou believest with all thy heart, thou mayest. And he answered and said, ⁹ I believe that Jesus Christ is the Son of God.] ³⁸ And he commanded the chariot to stand still: and they went down both into the water, both Philip and the eunuch; and he baptized him.

³⁹ And when they were come up out of the water, ^h the Spirit of the Lord caught away Philip, and the eunuch saw him no more; and he went on his way rejoicing. ⁴⁰ But Philip was found at Azotus: and passing through he preached in all the cities, till he came to Caesarea.

Conversion of Saul; his (15) call to the apostleship, and first preaching (20) at Damascus and (29) at Jerusalem. (31) Rest and prosperity of the church.

9. AND ^a Saul, still breathing out threatening and slaughter against the disciples of the Lord, went unto the high priest, ² and asked from him letters to Damascus, to the synagogues, that if he found any of this Way, whether they were men or women, he might bring them bound unto Jerusalem.

³ And ^b as he journeyed, it came to pass that he drew near to Damascus: and suddenly there shone round about him a light from heaven: ⁴ and he fell to the earth, and heard a voice saying unto him, Saul, Saul: ⁵ Why persecutest thou me? ⁵ And he said, Who art thou, Lord? And the Lord said, I am Jesus whom thou persecutest. [It is hard for thee to kick against the goads. ⁶ And he trembling and astonished said, Lord, ^d what wilt thou have me to do? And the Lord said unto him,] ^e Arise and go into the city, and it shall be told thee what thou must do.

⁷ And ^f the men who journeyed with him stood speechless, hearing the voice, but seeing no man. ⁸ And Saul arose from the earth; and when his eyes were opened, he saw no man; but they led him by the hand and brought him into Damascus. ⁹ And he was three days without sight, and neither ate nor drank.

¹⁰ And there was a certain disciple at Damascus, ⁹ named Ananias; and to him said the Lord in a vision, Ananias. And he said: Behold, I am here, Lord. ¹¹ And the Lord said unto him: Arise and go into the street which is called Straight, and inquire in the house of Judas for one called Saul, ^h of Tarsus; for behold, he prayeth; ¹² and he hath seen in a vision a man named Ananias coming in and putting his hand on him, that he may receive his

¹⁷ And Ananias went his way and entered into the house; and putting his hands on him he said: Brother Saul, the Lord, even Jesus, who appeared unto thee in the way that thou camest, hath sent me that thou mayest receive thy sight, and ^p be filled with the Holy Spirit. ¹⁸ And immediately there fell from his eyes as it were scales; and he received his sight, and arose and was baptized: ¹⁹ and when he had received food he was strengthened.

Then ^q was Saul certain days with the disciples who were at Damascus. ²⁰ And ^r straightway he preached the Christ* in the synagogues, that he is the Son of God. ²¹ But all that heard him were amazed, and said: ^s Is not this he who destroyed them that called on this name in Jerusalem, and came hither for that intent, that he might bring them bound unto the chief priests? ²² But Saul increased the more in strength, and ^t confounded the Jews who dwelt at Damascus, proving that this is the Christ.

²³ And after many days were fulfilled, ^u the Jews took counsel to kill him; ²⁴ but their conspiracy became known to Saul: and they watched the gates day and night to kill him; ²⁵ but the disciples took him by night, and ^v let him down through the wall, in a basket.

²⁶ And ^w when Saul was come to Jerusalem, he endeavoured to join himself to the disciples; but they were all afraid of him, not believing that he was a disciple. ²⁷ But ^x Barnabas took him and brought him to the apostles, and declared unto them how he had seen the Lord in the way, and that he had spoken to him, and how he had preached boldly at Damascus in the name of Jesus.

²⁸ And he was with them coming in and going out at Jerusalem; ²⁹ and he preached boldly in the name of the Lord; and he spake and disputed against the Grecian Jews: ^y ^a but they went about to slay him. ³⁰ But the brethren, having knowledge of it, brought him down to Caesarea, and sent him forth to Tarsus. ³¹ So then the church †

throughout all Judea and Galilee and Samaria had peace, being built up and walking in the fear of the Lord: and ^b by the exhortation* of the Holy Spirit, it was multiplied.

Peter at Lydda and Joppa; (33) miraculous healing of a paralytic, and (36) raising of Dorcas to life; leading to the conversion of many throughout that region.

³² AND it came to pass, as Peter passed ^a throughout all quarters, he came down also to the saints who dwelt at Lydda. ³³ And there he found a certain man named Aeneas, who had kept his bed eight years, and was palsied. ³⁴ And Peter said unto him: Aeneas, ^b Jesus the Christ maketh thee whole; ^c arise, and make thy bed; and he arose immediately. ³⁵ And all that dwelt at Lydda and ^d Sharon saw him; and ^e they turned to the Lord.

³⁶ Now there was at Joppa a certain disciple named Tabitha, (which by interpretation is called Dorcas †): this woman was full of good works and alms-deeds which she did. ³⁷ And it came to pass in those days, that she fell sick and died; and when they had washed her, they laid her in an upper chamber. ³⁸ And as Lydda was nigh to Joppa, the disciples, hearing that Peter was there, sent unto him two men desiring him that he would not delay to come to them.

³⁹ Then Peter arose and went with them. And when he was come, they brought him into the upper chamber: and all the widows stood by him weeping, and showing the coats and cloaks which Dorcas made while she was with them. ⁴⁰ But Peter ^q put them all forth, and kneeled down and prayed; and turning to the body he ^k said, Tabitha, arise. And she opened her eyes, and when she saw Peter she sat up: ⁴¹ and he gave her his hand and lifted her up; and calling the saints and widows, he presented her alive. ⁴² And it became known throughout all Joppa; and ⁱ many believed in the Lord. ⁴³ And it came to pass that he tarried many days in Joppa, with one Simon a tanner.

⁷ And when the angel who spake unto him had departed, he called two of his household servants, and a devout soldier of those that waited on him continually, ⁸ and when he had declared all these things unto them, he sent them to Joppa.

⁹ On the morrow, as they went on their journey and drew nigh unto the city, Peter went up upon the housetop to pray, about the sixth hour. ¹⁰ And he became very hungry, and desired to eat: but while they made ready he ^c fell into a trance,

¹¹ and ^d saw the heaven opened, and a certain vessel descending, as it had been a great sheet tied with four ropes, and let down to the earth; ¹² wherein were all the fourfooted beasts and creeping things of the earth, and birds of the air. ¹³ And there came a voice to him: Arise, Peter; kill and eat: ¹⁴ but Peter said: Not so, Lord; for ^e I have never eaten anything common or unclean. ¹⁵ And the voice spake unto him again the second time:

^f What God hath cleansed that call not thou common. ¹⁶ This was done thrice; and the vessel was taken up again into heaven.

¹⁹ While Peter thought on the vision, ^g the Spirit said unto him: Behold, three men are seeking thee: ²⁰ arise therefore and get thee down, and go with them, doubting nothing; for I have sent them. ²¹ Then Peter went down to the men; and said: Behold, I am he whom ye seek: what is the cause wherefore ye are come? ²² And they said: Cornelius a centurion, a righteous man, and one that feareth God, and of good report among all the nation of the Jews, was commanded from God by a holy angel to send for thee into his house, and to hear words from thee. ²³ Then called he them in and lodged them.

And on the morrow Peter went away with them, and certain of the brethren from Joppa accompanied him; ²⁴ and the morrow after they entered into Caesarea. And Cornelius was waiting for them, having called together his kinsmen and near friends. ²⁵ And as Peter was coming in, Cornelius met him, and fell down at his feet and worshipped him: ²⁶ but Peter raised him up, saying: ^h Stand up, I myself also am a man. ²⁷ And as he talked with him he went in, and found many that were come together.

²⁸ And he said unto them: Ye know that ⁱ it is an unlawful thing for a man that is a Jew to keep company with, or come unto one of another nation, but ^k God hath showed me that I should not call any man common or unclean: ²⁹ therefore came I without gainsaying, as soon as I was sent for: I ask therefore for what cause ye have sent for me?

³⁰ And Cornelius said: Four days ago I was fasting until this hour; and at the ninth hour I was praying in my house, and behold, ^l a man stood before me in bright clothing, ³¹ and said: Cornelius, ^m thy prayer is heard, and ⁿ thine alms are had in remembrance in the sight of God. ³² Send therefore to Joppa, and call hither Simon whose surname is Peter; he is lodged in the house of Simon, a tanner, by the sea side*: who, when he cometh, will speak unto thee. ³³ Immediately therefore I sent to thee; and thou hast well done that thou art come. Now therefore we are all here present before God, to hear all things that are commanded thee by God.

³⁴ Then Peter opened his mouth and said: ^o Of a truth I perceive that God is no respecter of persons; ³⁵ but ^p in every nation he that feareth him and worketh righteousness is accepted with him. ³⁶ The word which He sent unto the children of Israel, ^q preaching peace through Jesus Christ — ^r he is Lord of all — ³⁷ that word, I say, ye ^s know, which was published throughout all Judea, beginning from Galilee, after the baptism which John preached; ³⁸ how God ^t anointed Jesus of Nazareth with the Holy Spirit and with power: who went about doing good, and healing all that were oppressed by the devil; ³⁹ because God was with him. ⁴⁰ And ^u we are witnesses of all things which he did, both in the land of the Jews and in Jerusalem: ⁴¹ whom they slew by hanging him on a cross. ⁴² Him God raised up on the third day, and showed him openly, ⁴³ not ^v to all the people, but to witnesses chosen before by God, even to us ^w who ate and drank with him after there stood up one of them named ^a Agabus, and signified by the Spirit that there would be a great famine throughout all the world ^b: which came to pass in the reign of Claudius Caesar. ^c Then the disciples, ^d every one according to his ability, determined to send ^e relief unto the brethren who dwelt in Judea: ^f which also they did, and sent it to ^g the elders by the hands of Barnabas and Saul.

12. Now about that time Herod the king laid his hands on certain of the church to ill-treat them: ^h and he killed ⁱ James the brother of John with the sword. ^j And because he saw it pleased the Jews, he proceeded further to take Peter also, (then were ^k the days of unleavened bread), ^l and he seized him, and put him in prison, and delivered him to four quaternions ^m of soldiers to keep him; intending after the Passover to bring him forth to the people. ⁿ Peter therefore was kept in the prison: but ^o prayer was made fervently by the church unto God for him.

^p And when Herod was about to bring him forth, the same night Peter was sleeping between two soldiers, bound with two chains; and keepers ^q before the door were guarding the prison. ^r And behold, ^s an angel of the Lord came upon him, and a light shone in the cell: and he smote Peter on the side and awoke him, saying: Arise up quickly. And his chains fell off from his hands. ^t And the angel said unto him: Gird thyself, and bind on thy sandals: and so he did. And he saith unto him: Cast thy garment about thee, and follow me. ^u And he went out and followed him; and he knew not that it was true which was done by the angel, but thought ^v he saw a vision. ^w And when they had passed the first and the second ward, they came unto the iron gate that leadeth unto the city, ^x which opened to them of its own accord; and they went out, and passed on through one street; and forthwith the angel departed from him.

^y And when Peter was come to himself, he said: Now I know of a surety that ^z the Lord hath sent his angel, and ^a hath delivered me out of the hand of Herod, and from all the expectation of the people of the Jews. ^b And when he understood it, he came to the house of Mary, the mother of ^c John, whose surname was Mark, where many were gathered together, and were praying. ^d And as Peter knocked at the door of the gate, a damsel came to hearken, named Rhoda. ^e And she, knowing Peter's voice, opened not the gate for gladness, but ran in and told them that Peter was standing before the gate. ^f And they said unto her: Thou art mad; but she confidently affirmed that it was even so. Then said they: It is his ^g angel. ^h But Peter continued knocking; and when they had opened the door they saw him, and were astonished. ⁱ But he, ^j beckoning unto them with the hand to hold their peace, declared unto them how the Lord had brought him out of the prison. And he said: Go and tell these things to ^k James and to the brethren. And he departed and went into another place.

^l Now as soon as it was day, there was no small stir among the soldiers as to what was become of Peter. ^m And when Herod had sought for him and found him not, he examined the keepers, and commanded that they should be put to death.

And he went down from Judea to Caesarea, and there abode. ⁿ And Herod was highly displeased with the Tyrians and Sidonians: but they came with one accord to him, and having made Blastus the king's chamberlain their friend, desired peace, because ^o their country was nourished by the king's country. ^p And upon a set day Herod, arrayed in royal apparel, sat upon his throne, and made an oration unto them. ^q And the people gave a shout, saying: It is the voice of a god and not of a man. ^r And immediately an angel of the Lord ^s smote him, because he gave not God the glory; and he was eaten by worms, and died.

^t But ^u the word of God grew and multiplied. ^v And Barnabas and Saul returned from Jerusalem, when they had performed their ^w service, and ^x took with them John, whose surname was Mark.

13. NOW there were ^a in the church that was at Antioch certain prophets and teachers; as Barnabas, and Simeon that was called Niger, and ^b Lucius of Cyrene, and Manaen, the foster-brother of Herod the tetrarch, and Saul. ^c As they ministered to the Lord and fasted, the Holy Spirit said: ^d Separate me Barnabas and Saul for the work ^e whereunto I have called them. ^f Then ^g when they had fasted and prayed, and laid their hands on them, they sent them away.

^h So they, being sent forth by the Holy Spirit, went down to Seleucia; and from thence they sailed to Cyprus: ⁱ and having

g ch. 8. 9. ⁶ And when they had gone through the whole island unto Paphos, they found a certain ^g magician, a Jewish false prophet, whose name was Bar-jesus*: ⁷ who was with the proconsul, Sergius Paulus, a man of understanding; who called for Barnabas and Saul, and desired to hear the word of God. ⁸ But ^h Elymas the magician (for so is his name by interpretation) withstood them, seeking to turn away the proconsul from the faith.

⁹ Then Saul (who also is called Paul) filled with the Holy Spirit, set his eyes on him, ¹⁰ and said: O full of all deceit and all mischief, ⁱ thou child of the devil, ^{thou} enemy of all righteousness! Wilt thou not cease to pervert the right ways of the Lord? ¹¹ And now, behold, the hand of the Lord is upon thee, and thou shalt be blind, not seeing the sun for a season. And immediately there fell on him a mist and darkness; and he went about seeking some to lead him by the hand. ¹² Then the proconsul, when he saw what was done, believed, being astonished at the doctrine of the Lord.

Paul and Barnabas at Antioch in Pisidia; their preaching (15) first in the synagogue, and afterwards (43) to the Gentiles, in the city and throughout the adjacent country, (50) until the Jews procure their expulsion.

¹³ THEN Paul and his companions, having put to sea from Paphos, came to Perga in Pamphylia. And ^a John, departing from them, returned to Jerusalem; ¹⁴ but they, passing through the country from Perga, came to Antioch in Pisidia. And they went into the synagogue on the sabbath day, and sat down; ¹⁵ and after ^b the reading of the Law and the Prophets, the rulers of the synagogue sent unto them, saying: Men and brethren†, if ye have any word of exhortation for the people, say on.

¹⁶ Then Paul stood up, and beckoning with his hand, said:

Men of Israel, and ye that fear God†, give audience. ¹⁷ The God of this people of Israel chose our fathers, and exalted the people when they dwelt as strangers in the land of Egypt, and with a high arm brought he them out of it. ¹⁸ And for about forty years suffered he their manners‡ in the wilderness. ¹⁹ And when he had destroyed seven nations in the land of Canaan, he gave them their land as an inheritance. ²⁰ And after that he gave them judges for about four hundred and fifty years, ^c until Samuel the prophet. ²¹ And ^d afterwards they asked for a king; and God gave unto them Saul the son of Kish, a man of the tribe of Benjamin, for the space of forty years. ²² And ^e having removed him, ^f he raised up unto them David to be their king; to whom also he gave testimony and said: 'I have found David the son of Jesse, a man after mine own heart, who will fulfil all my will' [1 Sam. xiii. 14; Psa. lxxxix. 20].

²³ Of ^g this man's seed hath God, according ^h to his promise, raised up unto Israel ⁱ a Saviour, Jesus; ²⁴ when ^k John had first preached before his coming the baptism of repentance to all the people of Israel. ²⁵ And as John fulfilled his course, he said: ^l Who think ye that I am? I am not he; but behold, there cometh one after me, the shoes of whose feet I am not worthy to unlouse.

²⁶ Men and brethren, children of the stock of Abraham, and ^m whosoever among you feareth God, to you is the word of this salvation sent. ²⁷ For they that dwell at Jerusalem and their rulers, ⁿ because they knew him not, nor yet the voices of the prophets which are read every sabbath day, ^o they fulfilled them in condemning him: ²⁸ and ^p though they found no cause of death in him, yet desired they Pilate that he should be slain. ²⁹ And ^q when they had fulfilled all that was written of him, they took him down from the cross, and laid him in a sepulchre. ³⁰ But ^r God raised him from the dead: ³¹ and ^s he was seen for many days by those who came up with him from Galilee to Jerusalem, ^t who are now his witnesses unto the people.

³² And we declare unto you the glad tidings, that ^u the promise which was made unto the fathers, ^v God hath fulfilled the same unto us their children, in that he hath raised up Jesus again; as it is also written in the second Psalm, ^w 'Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee' [Psa. ii. 7]. ³⁴ And as concerning that he raised him up from the dead, ^y no more to return to corruption, he hath spoken thus: 'I will give you the sure mercies of David' [Isa. lv. 3]. ³⁵ Wherefore he saith also in another Psalm, 'Thou wilt not suffer thy Holy One to see corruption' [Psa. xvi. 10]. ³⁶ For David, after he had served his own generation by the will of God, ^z fell asleep, and was laid unto his fathers, and saw corruption; ³⁷ but he whom God raised again saw not corruption.

⁴⁰ Beware therefore, lest that come upon you which is spoken of in the Prophets: ⁴¹ 'Behold, ye despisers, and wonder, and perish! For I work a work in your days, a work which ye will in no wise believe, though one declare it unto you' [Hab. i. 5].

⁴² And as they were going out of the synagogue, they besought* that these words might be preached to them on the next sabbath. ⁴³ And when the congregation was broken up, many of the Jews and devout proselytes followed Paul and Barnabas; who, speaking to them, ^c persuaded them to continue in the grace of God.

⁴⁴ And on the next sabbath-day, came almost the whole city together to hear the word of God. ⁴⁵ But when the Jews saw the multitudes, they were filled with indignation, and ^e spake against the things which were spoken by Paul, contradicting and blaspheming. ⁴⁶ Then Paul and Barnabas spake out boldly and said: ^f It was necessary that the word of God should first be spoken to you: but ^g seeing ye put it from you, and judge yourselves unworthy of the everlasting life, lo, ^h we turn to the Gentiles. ⁴⁷ For so hath the Lord commanded us, saying, 'I have set thee ⁱ to be a light of the Gentiles, that thou shouldst be for salvation unto the ends of the earth' [Isa. xlix. 6].

⁴⁸ And when the Gentiles heard this, they were glad, and glorified the word of the Lord: and as many as were ordained[†] to everlasting life believed.

Paul and Barnabas at (1) Iconium, (6) and in Lycaonia, (24) Pisidia, and Pamphylia—(26) Their return to Antioch.

14. AND it came to pass in Iconium that they went both together into the synagogue of the Jews, and so spake that a great multitude both of Jews and also of Greeks believed. ² But the unbelieving Jews stirred up and embittered the minds of the Gentiles against the brethren. ³ A long time therefore abode they speaking boldly in the Lord, ^a who gave testimony unto the word of his grace, by granting signs and wonders to be done by their hands.

⁴ But the multitude of the city was divided; and part held with the Jews, and part with the apostles. ⁵ And when there was an onset made both of the Gentiles and also of the Jews, with their rulers, ^b to use them despitefully and to stone them, ^c they were aware of it, and ^e escaped to Lystra and Derbe, cities of Lycaonia, and to the region that lieth round about: ⁷ and there they preached the gospel.

¹¹ And the multitude, seeing what Paul had done, lifted up their voices, saying in the speech of Lycaonia: ^g The gods are come down to us in the likeness of men. ¹² And they called Barnabas, Jupiter*; and Paul, Mercury†, because he was the chief speaker. ¹³ Then the priest of Jupiter, that was before the city, brought oxen and garlands unto the doors, ^h and would have offered sacrifice, with the multitudes. ¹⁴ But when the apostles, Barnabas and Paul, heard of it, ⁱ they rent their clothes, and ran out unto the people, crying out ^j and saying: Sirs, why do ye these things? ^k We also are men of like nature with you, and preach unto you that ye should turn from ^l these vanities unto ^m the living God, who made the heaven and the earth and the sea, and all things that are therein: ¹⁶ who ⁿ in the generations gone by suffered all the nations to walk in their own ways; ¹⁷ nevertheless ^o he left not himself without witness, in that he did good, and ^p gave us rain from heaven and fruitful seasons, filling our hearts with food and gladness. ¹⁸ And with these sayings scarcely restrained they the multitudes from offering sacrifice unto them.

¹⁹ But ^q there came thither Jews from Antioch and Iconium, who persuaded the multitudes, and, ^r having stoned Paul, they drew him out of the city, supposing him to be dead; ²⁰ but, as the disciples stood round about him, he rose up and came into the city.

And the next day he departed with Barnabas to Derbe. ²¹ And when they had preached the gospel to that city, and had made many disciples, they returned to Lystra, and to Iconium, and to Antioch *; ²² confirming ^a the souls of the disciples, and ^b exhorting them to continue in the faith, and that ^c we must through many tribulations enter into the kingdom of God. ²³ And when they had ^d appointed for them ^e elders in every church, they ^f prayed with fasting, and commended them to the Lord, on whom they had believed.

²⁴ And after they had passed throughout Pisidia, they came to Pamphylia. ²⁵ And when they had preached the word in Perga, they went down to Attalia; ²⁶ and from thence they sailed to Antioch, ^a from whence they had been recommended to the grace of God for the work which they had fulfilled.

²⁷ And when they were come, and had gathered the church together, they reported all that God had done with them, and how he had ^b opened the door of faith unto the Gentiles. ²⁸ And there they abode no little time with the disciples.

Controversy in the church at Antioch respecting the subjection of Gentile converts to circumcision and the Mosaic institutions; (2) mission of Paul and Barnabas to Jerusalem; (22) decision of the church at Jerusalem.

^{15.} AND ^a certain men came down from Judæa, and taught the brethren: ^b Except ye be circumcised ^c after the manner of Moses, ye cannot be saved. ² And when Paul and Barnabas had no small dissension and disputation with them, they determined that ^d Paul and Barnabas, and certain others of them, should go up to Jerusalem, unto the apostles and elders, about this question. ³ And ^e being brought on their way by the church, they passed through Phœnicia and Samaria, ^f declaring the conversion of the Gentiles: and they caused great joy unto all the brethren.

⁴ And when they were come to Jerusalem, they were received by the church and by the apostles and the elders, and they reported all things that God had done with them. ⁵ But there rose up certain of the sect of the Pharisees who believed, saying: It is needful to circumcise them and to command ^g them to keep the law of Moses.

Men and brethren [†], ye know that a good while ago ^g God made choice among you *, that the Gentiles by my mouth should hear the word of the gospel and believe.

⁸ And God, who knoweth the hearts, bare them witness, ^h giving unto them the Holy Spirit even as unto us; ⁹ and he ⁱ put no difference between us and them, ^k purifying their hearts by faith. ¹⁰ Now therefore why tempt ye God, to put ^l a yoke upon the neck of the disciples which neither our fathers nor we were able to bear? ¹¹ But we believe that ^m through the grace of the Lord Jesus Christ we are saved, in the same manner as they also are.

Men and brethren, hearken unto me; ¹⁴ Simeon [†] hath declared how God first visited the Gentiles to take out of them a people for his name. ¹⁵ And to this agree the words of the prophets, as it is written:

¹⁶ 'After this I will return and will build again the tabernacle of David, which is fallen down, and I will build again the ruins thereof, and I will set it up; ¹⁷ that the residue of men may seek after the Lord, and all the Gentiles, upon whom my name is called, saith the Lord, who doeth all these things' [Amos ix. 11, 12]: ¹⁸ known unto God are all his works; from the beginning of the world. ¹⁹ Wherefore my judgment is, that we trouble not those who from among the Gentiles are turning unto God; ²⁰ but that we write unto them, to abstain ^o from pollutions of idols, and ^p from fornication, and from things strangled, and ^q from blood. ²¹ For Moses from old times hath in every city those who preach him, ^r being read in the synagogues every sabbath day.

The apostles and elders and brethren [†] unto the brethren who are of the Gentiles in Antioch and Syria and Cilicia, greeting, ²⁴ Forasmuch as we have heard that ^t certain who went out from us have troubled you with words, subverting your souls, saying: Ye must be circumcised and keep the law; to whom we gave no such commandment; ²⁵ it seemed good unto us, being assembled with one accord*, to choose out and send men unto you, with our beloved Barnabas and Paul, ²⁶ men ² that have hazarded their lives for the name of our Lord Jesus Christ. ²⁷ We have sent therefore Judas and Silas, who will also themselves tell you the same things by word of mouth. ²⁸ For it seemed good to the Holy Spirit and to us, to lay upon you no further burden than these necessary things; ²⁹ that ye abstain from meats offered to idols, and from blood, and from things strangled, and from fornication; from which things if ye keep yourselves, ye will do well. Fare ye well.

³⁰ So when they were dismissed, they went down to Antioch. And when they had gathered the multitude together, they delivered the letter; ³¹ and when they had read it, they rejoiced for the consolation. ³² And Judas and Silas, being prophets; also themselves, exhorted the brethren with many words, and confirmed them. ³³ And after they had tarried there a space, they were let go in peace from the brethren unto those who had sent them forth. ³⁴ But Paul and Barnabas continued in Antioch, teaching and preaching the word of the Lord, with many others also.

Paul's second missionary journey (40) accompanied by Silas. He visits the churches in (41) Syria, Cilicia, and Lycaonia; (ch. 16, 1) chooses Timothy to attend him; and (6) after passing through Phrygia and Galatia, is led by Divine intimations, (8) to Troas, and (9) across the Ægean Sea to Macedonia.

³⁶ AND some days after, Paul said unto Barnabas: Let us go again and visit our brethren ^a in every city where we preached the word of the Lord, and see how they do. ³⁷ And Barnabas wished to take with them ^b John, whose surname was Mark; but Paul thought it not good to take him with them ^c who departed from them from Pamphylia, and went not with them to the work. ³⁸ And the contention was so sharp between them that they separated one from the other: and so Barnabas took Mark, and sailed unto Cyprus. ³⁹ And Paul chose Silas and departed, ^d being commended by the brethren unto the grace of God.

⁴¹ And he went through Syria and Cilicia, ^e confirming the churches.

¹⁶. Then came he to / Derbe and Lystra. And behold, a certain disciple was there, ² named Timothy—^a the son of a certain Jewish woman who believed, but his father was a Greek—² who was well reported of by the brethren at Lystra and Iconium. ³ Him Paul desired to go forth with him; and he ⁴ took and circumcised him, because of the Jews who were in those quarters; for they all knew that his father was a Greek.

⁴ And as they went through the cities, they delivered to them the decrees to keep, ^k that were ordained by the apostles and elders who were at Jerusalem. ⁵ And so the churches were established in the faith, and increased in number daily.

⁹ And a vision appeared to Paul in the night; there stood a man of Macedonia, beseeching him and saying: Come over into Macedonia and help us. ¹⁰ And after he had seen the vision, immediately we sought to go forth ^m to Macedonia, assuredly gathering that the Lord had called us to preach the gospel unto them. ¹¹ Therefore putting to sea from Troas, we went with a straight course to Samothracia, and the next day to Neapolis; ¹² and from thence to Philippi, which is the first city: of the district of Macedonia, and a colony. And we were in this city abiding certain days.

Paul and Silas at Philippi; (13) they gather a Christian congregation; but (16) the casting out of an evil spirit from a woman who brought her owners much gain brings upon them (23) scourging, imprisonment, and banishment from the city.

¹³ AND on the sabbath we went out of the city by a river side, where prayer was wont to be made; and we sat down and spake unto the women who were assembled there. ¹⁴ And a certain woman named Lydia, a seller of purple, of the city of ^a Thyatira, who worshipped God, heard us; whose ^b heart the Lord opened to attend unto the things which were spoken by Paul. ¹⁵ And when she was baptized, and her household, she besought us, saying: If ye have judged me to be faithful to the Lord, come into my house and abide there; and ^c she constrained us.

¹⁶ And it came to pass, as we went to the place of prayer, a certain damsel ^d possessed with a spirit of divination[‡] met us, who brought her masters much gain by soothsaying: ¹⁷ the same followed Paul honourable Grecian women, and of men, not a few.

¹³ But when the Jews of Thessalonica knew that the word of God was preached by Paul at Berea, they came, and there also troubled and stirred up the people.

Paul at Athens; his disputations with (17) the Jews and (18) the Greek philosophers.

¹⁸ And certain also of the Epicurean and Stoic philosophers encountered him. And some said: What would this babbler say? And others: He seemeth to be a setter forth of foreign gods; because he preached unto them Jesus and the resurrection. ¹⁹ And they took him and brought him unto the Areopagus†, saying: May we know what this new doctrine whereof thou speakest is? ²⁰ For thou bringest certain strange things to our ears: we would know therefore what these things mean. ²¹ Now all the Athenians and the strangers who sojourned there spent their time in nothing else but either to tell or to hear some new thing.

²² Then Paul, standing in the midst of the Areopagus, said:

Ye men of Athens, I perceive that in all things ye are very religious. ²³ For as I passed by, and beheld your objects of worship, I found an altar with this inscription, TO AN UNKNOWN GOD. Whom therefore ye ²⁴ worship without knowing him, him declare I unto you. ²⁵ God ²⁶ who made the world and all things therein, seeing that he is ²⁷ Lord of heaven and earth, ²⁸ dwelleth not in temples made with hands; ²⁹ neither is he served by men's hands, as though he needed any thing, seeing that ³⁰ he giveth to all life and breath and all things; ³¹ and he ³² made of one blood all nations of men to dwell on all the face of the earth, and ³³ he determined the times before appointed, and the bounds of their habitation; ³⁴ that they should seek God^{||}, if haply they might feel after him and find him, ³⁵ though he is not far from every one of us. ³⁶ For

³⁷ in him we live and move and have our being; ³⁸ as certain also of your own poets have said, 'For we are also his offspring.'

³⁹ Forasmuch then as we are the offspring of God, ⁴⁰ we ought not to think that the Godhead is like unto gold or silver or stone graven by art and man's device. ⁴¹ And ⁴² the times of this ignorance God overlooked, but ⁴³ now he commandeth all men every where to repent; ⁴⁴ because he hath appointed a day in which ⁴⁵ he will judge the world in righteousness by the Man whom he hath ordained; ⁴⁶ whereof he hath given assurance unto all men ⁴⁷ by raising him from the dead.

⁴⁸ And when they heard of the resurrection of the dead some mocked, and others said: We will hear thee again concerning this matter. ⁴⁹ So Paul departed from among them. ⁵⁰ Howbeit certain men joined themselves unto him and believed; among whom was Dionysius the Areopagite*, and a woman named Damaris, and others with them.

Paul at Corinth; (2) his long and fruitful ministry there, amidst fierce Jewish opposition; his return by (19) Ephesus, (22) Caesarea, and (23) Jerusalem, to Antioch.

18. AFTER these things Paul departed from Athens, and came to Corinth. ² And finding a certain Jew named ³ Aquila, born in Pontus, lately come from Italy, with his wife Priscilla, (because Claudius had commanded all the Jews to depart from Rome), he came unto them. ⁴ And because he was of the same craft, he abode with them ⁵ and worked; for by their occupation they were tentmakers. ⁶ And ⁷ he reasoned in the synagogue every sabbath, and persuaded both Jews and Greeks.

⁸ And ⁹ when Silas and Timothy came from Macedonia, Paul was ¹⁰ earnestly occupied with the word[†], testifying to the Jews that Jesus was the Christ. ¹¹ And when they opposed themselves and blasphemed, ¹² he shook his raiment, and said unto them: ¹³ Your blood be upon your own heads; ¹⁴ I am clean; from ¹⁵ henceforth I will go unto the Gentiles. ¹⁶ And he departed thence, and went to the house of a certain man named ¹⁷ Justus, one who worshipped God, whose house joined close to the synagogue. ¹⁸ And ¹⁹ Crispus, the ruler of the synagogue, believed on the Lord, with all his house. And many of the Corinthians hearing believed and were baptized.

¹⁹. And it came to pass that, while Apollus was at Corinth, Paul, having passed through the upper districts ^t, came to Ephesus. And finding certain disciples, ² he said unto them: ^u Did ye receive the Holy Spirit when ye believed? And they said unto him: We did not so much as hear whether there was a Holy Spirit. ³ And he said unto them: Unto what then were ye baptized? And they said: Unto John's baptism. ⁴ Then said Paul: ^h John verily baptized with the baptism of repentance, saying unto the people that they should believe on him who was coming after him, that is, on Christ Jesus. ⁵ And when they heard this, they were baptized into the name of the Lord Jesus. ⁶ And when Paul had ⁱ laid his hands upon them, the Holy Spirit came upon them, and they spake with tongues and prophesied. ⁷ And all the men were about twelve.

them and prevailed against them, so that they fled out of that house naked and wounded.

¹⁷ And this became known to all, both Jews and Greeks, who dwelt at Ephesus; and ¹⁸ fear fell on them all, and the name of the Lord Jesus was magnified. ¹⁹ And many of those who believed came and confessed and made known their deeds. ²⁰ Many of also of those that practised magic brought their books together, and burned them before all men: and they counted the price of them, and found it fifty thousand pieces of silver*. ²¹ So ²² mightily grew the word of God and prevailed.

²³ And after these things were ended, Paul ²⁴ purposed in the spirit, when he had passed through Macedonia and Achaia, to go to Jerusalem, saying: After I have been there ²⁵ I must also see Rome. ²⁶ So he sent into Macedonia two of those who ministered unto him, Timothy and ²⁷ Erastus; but he himself stayed in Asia for a season.

²³ AND ²⁴ at that time there arose no small stir about ²⁵ the Way: ²⁶ for a certain man named Demetrius, a silversmith, who made silver shrines for Diana, brought no small gain: unto the craftsmen; ²⁷ whom he called together, with the workmen of like occupation, and said: Sirs, ye know that by this business we have our wealth: ²⁸ moreover ye see and hear, that not alone at Ephesus but almost throughout all Asia, this Paul hath persuaded and turned away much people, saying that ²⁹ they are no gods which are made with hands; ³⁰ so that not only this our craft is in danger of being set at nought, but also that the temple of the great goddess Diana should be despised, and her magnificence should be destroyed, whom all Asia and the world worshippeth.

greater part knew not wherefore they were come together. ³⁸ And they drew Alexander out of the multitude, the Jews putting him forward: and ³⁹ Alexander beckoned with the hand, and wished to make his defence unto the people. ⁴⁰ But when they knew that he was a Jew, all with one voice, for about the space of two hours, cried out: Great is Diana of the Ephesians!

⁴¹ And when the townclerk had quieted the people, he said: Ye men of Ephesus, what man is there that knoweth not that the city of the Ephesians is the Temple-keeper* of the great goddess Diana, and of the image which fell down from Jupiter? ⁴² Seeing then that these things cannot be denied, ye ought to be quiet, and to do nothing rashly. ⁴³ For ye have brought hither these men who are neither robbers of temples nor yet blasphemers of your goddess. ⁴⁴ Wherefore if Demetrius and the craftsmen who are with him have a matter against any man, the courts are open, and there are proconsuls: let them implead one another. ⁴⁵ But if ye inquire anything concerning other matters, it shall be determined in the lawful assembly. ⁴⁶ For we are in danger of being called in question for this day's uproar, there being no cause whereby we may give an account of this concourse. ⁴⁷ And when he had thus spoken he dismissed the assembly.

Paul, leaving Ephesus, (2) re-visits Greece; and returns through Macedonia to (6) Troas and (15) Miletus, on his way to Syria.

²⁰ AND after the uproar had ceased, Paul called unto him the disciples, and embraced them, and ²¹ departed to go to Macedonia. ²² And when he had gone over those parts, and had given them much exhortation, he came into ²³ Greece; ²⁴ and there he abode three months.

And ²⁵ when the Jews laid wait for him, as he was about to sail to Syria, he purposed to return through Macedonia. ²⁶ And there accompanied him as far as Asia ²⁷ Sopater the son of Pyrrhus, a Berean; and of the Thessalonians, ²⁸ Aristarchus and Secundus; and Gaius of Derbe, and ²⁹ Timothy; and of Asia, ³⁰ Tychicus and ³¹ Trophimus; ³² these going before waited for us at Troas. ³³ And we sailed away from Philippi after ³⁴ the days of unleavened bread; and we came unto them, ³⁵ to Troas, in five days; where we tarried seven days.

to depart on the morrow, and continued his speech until midnight. ⁸ And there were many lights in the upper chamber where they were gathered together. ⁹ And there sat at the window a certain young man named Eutychus, who fell into a deep sleep; and as Paul was long preaching, he sank down in his sleep, and fell down from the third story, and was taken up dead. ¹⁰ And Paul went down and ^a fell on him, and embracing him said: ^o Trouble not yourselves, for his life is in him. ¹¹ Then when he had come up again, and had broken bread and eaten, he talked a long while, even till break of day, and so departed. ¹² And they brought the young man alive, and were not a little comforted.

¹³ And we went forward to the ship, and put to sea for Assos, there intending to take in Paul; for so had he appointed, intending himself to go by land. ¹⁴ And when he met with us at Assos, we took him in, and came to Mitylene. ¹⁵ And sailing from thence, we came on the morrow over against Chios; and the next day we put in to Samos; and having tarried at Trogyllum, on the following day we came to Miletus. ¹⁶ For Paul had determined to sail past Ephesus, because he would not spend the time in Asia; for ^p he was hastening, if it were possible for him, to be at Jerusalem ^q on the day of Pentecost.

¹⁷ AND from Miletus he sent to Ephesus, and called ^a the elders of the church; ¹⁸ and when they came to him, he said unto them: Ye know, ^b from the first day that I came into Asia, after what manner I was with you at all seasons, ¹⁹ serving the Lord ^c with all humility, and with tears, and ^d temptations which befell me by the lying in wait of the Jews; ²⁰ and how I kept back nothing that was profitable for you, but declared to you, and taught you publicly, and in the several houses*, ²¹ testifying both to Jews and Greeks, ^e repentance towards God and faith towards our Lord Jesus Christ.

²² And now, behold, ^f I go bound in the spirit unto Jerusalem, not knowing the things that will befall me there, ²³ save that ^g the Holy Spirit witnesseth in every city, saying that bonds and afflictions await me. ²⁴ But ^h I count my life of no value unto myself, ⁱ so that I may finish my course with joy, and the ministry ^k which I received from the Lord Jesus, to testify the gospel of the grace of God.

²⁵ And now, behold, I know that ye all, among whom I went about preaching the kingdom of God, will see my face no more. ²⁶ Wherefore I take you to witness this day, that I ^{am} ^l pure from the blood of all men, ²⁷ for I shunned not to declare unto you all the counsel of God. ²⁸ Take ^m heed therefore unto yourselves, and to all the flock, in which the Holy Spirit hath made you bishops, to feed ⁿ the church of God, ²⁹ which he purchased with his own blood. ³⁰ For I know this, that after my departing ^o grievous wolves will enter in among you, not sparing the flock. ³¹ Also ^p from among yourselves will men arise, speaking perverse things, to draw away the disciples after them. ³² Therefore watch, and remember that ^q for three years I ceased not ^r to warn every one night and day with tears.

³³ And now, brethren, I commend you to God, and to the word of his grace, which is able to build you up, and to give you ^s an inheritance among all them that are sanctified. ³⁴ I ^t coveted no man's silver or gold or apparel; ³⁵ yea, ye yourselves know, ^u that these hands ministered unto my necessities, and to them that were with me. ³⁶ I showed you in all things, that so labouring ye ought to support the weak, and to remember the words of the Lord Jesus, how he said: It is more blessed to give than to receive.

³⁷ And when he had thus spoken, he kneeled down, and prayed with them all. ³⁸ And they all wept sore, and fell on Paul's neck and kissed him, ³⁹ sorrowing most of all for the words which he spake, that they would see his face no more. And they accompanied him unto the ship.

Paul's onward voyage to Syria; visits to (3) Tyre, (7) Ptolemais, and (8) Cæsarea; and (15) journey thence to Jerusalem.

²¹. AND it came to pass that after we had torn ourselves away from them, and had put to sea, we went with a straight course unto Cos, and on the day following unto Rhodes, and from thence unto Patara. ² And finding a ship sailing over unto Phœnicia, we went aboard, and put to sea. ³ And having discovered Cyprus, and passed it on our left hand, we sailed to Syria; and we landed at Tyre, for there the ship was to unlade her cargo. ⁴ And having found out the disciples, we tarried there seven days; ^a and they said to Paul through the Spirit that he should not go up to Jerusalem.

⁵ And when we had completed those days, we departed and went our way; and they all brought us on our way, with wives and children, till we were out of the city: and ^b we kneeled down on the shore, and prayed; ^c and when we had taken our leave one of another, we took ship, and they returned home again.

^d And when we had finished our voyage from Tyre, we came to Ptolemais*, and saluted the brethren, and abode with them one day. ^e And the next day we that were of Paul's company departed, and came unto Cesarea. And we entered into the house of Philip the evangelist, ^f who was one of the seven, and abode with him.

^g And this man had four daughters, virgins, ^h who prophesied.

ⁱ And as we tarried there some days longer, there came down from Judea a prophet named ^j Agabus. ^k And he, coming to us, took Paul's girdle and bound his own hands and feet, and said: Thus saith the Holy Spirit, So will the Jews at Jerusalem bind the man that owneth this girdle, and ^l will deliver him up into the hands of the Gentiles. ^m And when we heard these things, both we and they of that place besought him not to go up to Jerusalem. ⁿ Then Paul answered: What do ye, weeping and breaking my heart? For ^o I am ready not to be bound only but also to die at Jerusalem for the name of the Lord Jesus. ^p And when he would not be persuaded, we ceased, saying:

^q The will of the Lord be done.

^r And after those days we ^s made ready our baggage, and went up to Jerusalem. ^t And there went with us certain of the disciples of Cesarea, and brought us to one Mnason of Cyprus, an old disciple, with whom we were to lodge.

^u Paul's reception by the church at Jerusalem; (26) his attempt to conciliate the Helæro Christians; (27) his seizure by the populace, and (32) rescue by the Roman commander.

^v AND when we came to Jerusalem, the brethren received us gladly. ^w And on the day following Paul went in with us unto James; and ^x all the elders were present: ^y and when he had saluted them, ^z he declared particularly what things God had wrought among the Gentiles by his ministry. ^{aa} And when they heard it, they glorified the Lord: and they said unto him: Thou seest, brother, how many thousands of Jews there are that have believed, and they are all ^{ab} zealous for the law; ^{ac} and they have been informed concerning thee, that ^{ad} thou teachest all the Jews who are among the Gentiles to forsake Moses, ^{ae} telling them not to circumcise their children, nor to walk after the customs. ^{af} What is it therefore? A multitude must needs come together; for they will hear that thou art come. ^{ag} Do therefore this that we say to thee: We have four men who ^{ah} have a vow on them; ^{ai} them take, and purify thyself with them, and pay their charges for them, that they may shave their heads. And all will know that those things whereof they have been informed concerning thee, are nothing, but ^{aj} that thou thyself also walkest in observance of the law. ^{ak} As touching the Gentiles who have believed, ^{al} we have written to them and determined that they observe no such thing, save only that they keep themselves from things offered to idols, and from blood, and from things strangled, and from fornication.

^{am} Then Paul took the men, and the next day, purifying himself with them, he entered into the temple, and gave notice of their fulfilment of the days of purification, until the offering ^{an} should be offered for each one of them. ^{ao} And when the seven days were almost ended, ^{ap} the Jews from Asia, when they saw him in the temple, stirred up all the people; and they ^{aq} laid hands on him, ^{ar} crying out: Men of Israel, help! This is the man ^{as} that teacheth all men every where against the people and the law and this place, and further also he brought Greeks into the temple*, and hath polluted this holy place. ^{at} For they had seen before with him in the city Trophimus the Ephesian, whom they supposed that Paul had brought into the temple.

^{au} And all the city was moved, and the people ran together: and ^{av} they laid hold on Paul, and dragged him out of the temple; and forthwith the doors were shut.

^{aw} And ^{ax} as they were seeking to kill him, tidings came unto the chief captain of the band, that all Jerusalem was in an uproar; ^{ay} ^{az} who ^{ba} immediately took soldiers and centurions, and ran down unto them. And when they saw the chief captain and the soldiers, they left off beating Paul. ^{bb} Then the chief captain came near, and laid hold on him, and commanded him to be bound with two chains; and inquired who he was, and what he had done. ^{bc} And some cried one thing, some another, among the multitude. And when he could not know the certainty for the tumult, he commanded him to be taken into the castle. ^{bd} And when he came upon the stairs, so it was that he was carried by the soldiers, for the violence of the people; ^{be} for the multitude of the people followed after, crying out,

Paul addresses the people, until (ch. 22. 21) the recital of his mission to the Gentiles causes a fresh out-burst of rage; (24) the Roman officer, not understanding his language, and wishing to ascertain his offence, proposes to extort confession by torture, but (25) Paul obtains exemption as a Roman citizen.

37 AND as Paul was about to be taken into the castle, he saith unto the chief captain: May I speak unto thee? Who said: Canst thou speak Greek? 38 Art thou not then that Egyptian who before these days made an uproar, and led out into the wilderness those four thousand men that were murderers*? 39 But Paul said: b I am a Jew of Tarsus, in Cilicia, c a citizen of no mean city: and, I beseech thee, suffer me to speak unto the people. 40 And when he had given him leave, Paul stood on the stairs, and d beckoned with the hand unto the people. And when there was made a great silence, he spake unto them in the Hebrew tongue, saying:

22. Men, brethren, and fathers f, hear ye my defence which I now make unto you—2 And when they heard that he spake in the Hebrew tongue to them, they kept the more silence: and he saith—3 I e am a Jew, born at Tarsus, in Cilicia, yet brought up in this city, f at the feet of g Gamaliel, and taught according to the strictness of the law of the fathers, and h was zealous for God, as ye all are this day. 4 And i I persecuted this Way unto death, binding and delivering into prisons both men and women; 5 as also the high priest doth bear me witness, and all the council of the elders; k from whom also I received letters unto the brethren, and went to Damascus, to bring them also that were there bound, unto Jerusalem, to be punished.

6 And l it came to pass, that, as I made my journey, and was coming nigh unto Damascus, about noon, suddenly there shone from heaven a great light round about me. 7 And I fell unto the ground, and heard a voice saying unto me: Saul, Saul! Why persecutest thou me? 8 And I answered: Who art thou, Lord? And he said unto me: I am Jesus of Nazareth i, whom thou persecutest. 9 And m they that were with me saw indeed the light, and were afraid, but they heard not the voice of him that spake to me. 10 And I said: What shall I do, Lord? And the Lord said unto me: Arise and go into Damascus, and there it shall be told thee of all things which are appointed for thee to do. 11 And when I could not see for the glory of that light, being led by the hand by them that were with me, I came into Damascus. 12 And one Ananias, a devout man according to the law, n having a good report of all the Jews who dwell there, 13 came unto me, and stood and said unto me: Brother Saul, receive thy sight. And the same hour I looked up upon him. 14 And he said: o The God of our fathers hath chosen thee, that thou shouldest know his will, and p see the q Righteous One, and r shouldest hear a voice from his mouth: 15 for s thou shalt be a witness for him unto all men of what thou hast seen and heard. 16 And now why tarriest thou? Arise, and be baptized and wash away thy sins, t calling on his name*.

17 And it came to pass, that u when I was come again to Jerusalem, even while I was praying in the temple, I was in a trance; 18 and I saw him saying unto me: Make haste and get thee quickly out of Jerusalem; for they will not receive thy testimony concerning me. 19 And I said: Lord, v they know that I imprisoned and w beat in every synagogue those that believe on thee; 20 and x when the blood of thy martyr t Stephen was shed, I also was standing by and b consenting unto his death, and kept the raiment of them that slew him. 21 And he said unto me: Depart, for y I will send thee far hence unto the Gentiles.

22 And they gave him audience unto this word, and then lifted up their voices and said, z Away with such a fellow from the earth! For it is not fit that he should live. 23 And as they cried out, and shook their clothes, and threw dust into the air, 24 the chief captain commanded him to be brought into the castle; and bade that he should be examined by scourging, that he might know for what cause they cried so against him.

25 And as they bound him with the thongs, Paul said unto the centurion that stood by: a Is it lawful for you to scourge a man that is a Roman, and uncondemned? 26 When the centurion heard that, he went and told the chief captain, saying: Take heed what thou doest, for this man is a Roman. 27 Then the chief captain came, and said unto him: Tell me, art thou a Roman? He said, Yea. 28 And the chief captain answered: With a great sum obtained I this citizenship: and Paul said: But I was free born. 29 Then straightway they that were about to examine him departed from him; and the chief captain also was afraid, b when he knew that he was a Roman, and because he had bound him.

Paul is brought before the Jewish Sanhedrim, (ch. 23. 7) amongst whom a fierce contention arises, and (10) he is again rescued by the Roman officer.

³⁰ ON the morrow, desiring to know with certainty wherefore he was accused by the Jews, he loosed him, and commanded the chief priests and all their council to assemble³¹; and he brought Paul down, and set him before them.

²³ And Paul, earnestly beholding the council, said: Men and brethren,^a I have lived in all good conscience before God unto this day. ²⁴ And the high priest Ananias commanded those that stood by him^b to smite him on the mouth. ²⁵ Then said Paul unto him: God will smite thee, thou whited wall! For sittest thou to judge me after the law, and^c commandest me to be smitten contrary to the law? ²⁶ And they that stood by said: Revilest thou God's high priest? ²⁷ Then said Paul: I knew not, brethren, that he was the high priest; for it is written, 'Thou shalt not speak evil of the ruler of thy people' [Eccl. xxii. 28].

²⁸ And when Paul perceived that the one part were Sadducees and the other Pharisees, he cried out in the council: Men and brethren,^d I am a Pharisee, the son of Pharisees; ²⁹ concerning the hope and resurrection of the dead I am called in question. ³⁰ And when he had so said, there arose a dissension between the Pharisees and the Sadducees, and the multitude was divided; ³¹ for^e the Sadducees say that there is no resurrection, nor angel nor spirit, but the Pharisees acknowledge both. ³² And there arose a great cry; and the scribes that were of the Pharisees' part arose and strove, saying: We find no evil in this man; what if a spirit or an angel hath spoken to him:?

³⁴ And on^f the night following the Lord stood by him, and said: ³⁵ Be of good courage, Paul; for as thou hast borne witness of me in Jerusalem, so must thou bear witness also at Rome.

Paul. ³⁸ And they were more than forty who made this conspiracy. ³⁹ And they came to the chief priests and elders, and said: We have bound ourselves under a great curse, that we will eat nothing until we have slain Paul; ⁴⁰ now therefore do ye with the council signify to the chief captain that he bring him down unto you to-morrow, as though ye would inquire something more perfectly concerning him; and we, before he come near, are ready to kill him.

⁴¹ And when Paul's sister's son heard of their lying in wait, he went and entered into the castle, and told Paul. ⁴² Then Paul called one of the centurions unto him, and said: Bring this young man unto the chief captain; for he hath something to tell him. ⁴³ So he took him and brought him to the chief captain, and said: Paul the prisoner called me unto him, and asked me to bring this young man unto thee, as he hath something to say unto thee. ⁴⁴ Then the chief captain took him by the hand, and went aside privately, and asked him: What is it that thou hast to tell me? ⁴⁵ And he said: The Jews have agreed to ask thee that thou wouldest bring down Paul to-morrow into the council, as though they would^g inquire something concerning him more perfectly. ⁴⁶ But do not thou yield unto them; for there lie in wait for him of them more than forty men, who have bound themselves with an oath that they will neither eat nor drink till they have killed him; and now are they ready, looking for the promise from thee. ⁴⁷ So the chief captain let the young man depart, and charged him: See thou tell no man that thou hast showed these things to me.

⁴⁸ And he called unto him two centurions, saying: Make ready two hundred soldiers to go to Cæsarea, and horsemen threescore and ten, and spearmen two hundred, at the third hour of the night; ⁴⁹ and provide beasts, that they may set Paul thereon, and bring him safe unto Felix the governor.

⁵⁰ And he wrote a letter after this manner: ⁵¹ Claudius Lysias unto the most excellent governor Felix sendeth greeting. ⁵² This^h man was taken by the Jews, and would have been killed by them; but I came upon them with the soldiery, and rescued him, having learnt that he was a Roman. ⁵³ Andⁱ desiring to know the cause wherefore they accused him, I took him down into their council; ⁵⁴ but I found him to be accused of^j questions of their law, but^k to have nothing laid to his charge worthy of death or of bonds. ³⁰ And when it was told me that the Jews laid wait for the man, I sent him straightway to thee, and gave commandment to his accusers also to say before thee what they had against him. Farewell.

³¹ So then the soldiers, as it was commanded them, took Paul and brought him by night to Antipatris. ³² And on the morrow they left the horsemen to go with him, and returned to the castle: ³³ and, when they came to Caesarea, and delivered the letter to the governor, they presented Paul also before him. ³⁴ And when the governor had read the letter, he asked of what province he was; and when he understood that he was of Cilicia, ³⁵ I ^o will hear thee, said he, when thine accusers also are come: and he commanded him to be kept in Herod's Prætorium*.

Paul's trial before the Roman governor; and (23) imprisonment for two years at Caesarea.

²⁴ AND after five days ^a Ananias the high priest came down* with certain elders and an orator named Tertullus; and they informed the governor against Paul. ² And when he was called forth, Tertullus began to accuse him, saying: Seeing that by thee we enjoy much peace, and that many things have been set right in this nation by thy providence, ³ we acknowledge it always and in all places, most noble Felix, with all thankfulness. ⁴ But that I be not further tedious unto thee, I pray thee to hear us in thy clemency a few words. ⁵ For ^b we found this man a pestilent fellow, and a mover of sedition among all the Jews throughout the world, and a ringleader of the sect of the Nazarenes; ⁶ who even attempted to profane the temple: whom also we took, [and ^t we desired to judge him according to our law. ⁷ But the chief captain Lysias came upon us, and with great violence took him away out of our hands, ⁸ commanding ^c his accusers to come unto thee]; and by examining him thou canst thyself take knowledge of all these things whereof we accuse him.

¹⁰ Then Paul, after the governor had beckoned to him to speak, answered: Forasmuch as I know that thou hast been for many years a judge unto this nation, I do the more cheerfully answer for myself; ¹¹ because thou mayest know that there are not more than twelve days since I went up to Jerusalem ^d to worship. ¹² And ^e they neither found me in the temple disputing with any one or stirring up the people, nor in the synagogues, nor in the city; ¹³ neither can they prove the things whereof they now accuse me. ¹⁴ But this I confess unto thee, that according to ^f the way which they call a sect*, so worship I the God of my fathers, believing all things which are written in ^g the Law and in the Prophets; ¹⁵ having ^h hope towards God, for which they themselves also look, ^t that there will be a resurrection of the dead, both of the just and the unjust. ¹⁶ And ^k here-in do I exercise myself to have always a conscience void of offence towards God and towards men. ¹⁷ Now after many years ⁱ I came to bring alms to my nation, and offerings: ¹⁸ whereupon ^m certain Jews from Asia found me purified in the temple, neither with a multitude nor with tumult: ¹⁹ who ⁿ ought to have been here before thee, and to have accused me, if they had ought against me. ²⁰ Or else let these same ^{here} say, if they found any evil doing in me, while I stood before the council, ²¹ except it were for this one voice that I cried standing among them: ^o Touching the resurrection of the dead I am called in question by you this day.

²² And when Felix heard these things, having a more perfect knowledge of the Way, he deferred them, and said: When Lysias the chief captain cometh down, I will inquire fully into your cause. ²³ And he commanded the centurion to keep Paul, and to let him have liberty, and to ^p forbid none of his friends to minister unto him.

²⁴ And after some days, Felix came with his wife Drusilla, who was a Jewess; and he sent for Paul, and heard him concerning the faith in Christ. ²⁵ And as he reasoned of righteousness, temperance ^t, and the judgment to come, Felix trembled, and answered: Go thy way for this time; when I have a convenient season, I will call for thee. ²⁶ At the same time also he hoped that money would be given him by Paul, that he might release him; wherefore he sent for him the oftener, and communed with him. ²⁷ But after two years Porcius Festus came into Felix' room; and Felix, ^q wishing to gain favour with the Jews, left Paul bound.

Renewed proceedings against Paul on the arrival of a new governor; (10) his appeal to the Roman emperor.

²⁵ NOW when Festus was come into the province, after three days he went up from Caesarea to Jerusalem. ² And ^a the high priest; and the chief men of the Jews informed him against Paul, and besought him, ³ asking favour against him, that he would send for him to Jerusalem; ^b laying wait in the way to kill him. ⁴ But Festus answered that Paul was in custody at Caesarea, and that he himself would depart shortly thither. ⁵ Let those therefore, said he, that are in power among you, go down with me, and accuse this man, if there is any wickedness in him.

* For text has more than ten days.

⁶ And when he had tarried among them not more than eight or ten days *, he went down to Caesarea; and the next day sitting on the judgment seat he commanded Paul to be brought forth. ⁷ And when he was come, the Jews who came down from Jerusalem stood round about, and ^c brought against him many grievous charges, which they could not prove: ⁸ while Paul answered for himself: Neither against the law of the Jews, nor against the temple, nor yet against Cæsar, have I offended in anything at all.

⁹ But Festus, wishing to gain favour with the Jews, answered Paul and said: Art thou willing to go up to Jerusalem, and there be judged concerning these things before me?

¹⁰ Then said Paul: I stand at Cæsar's judgment seat, where I ought to be judged. To the Jews have I done no wrong, as thou very well knowest. ¹¹ For if I be an offender and have committed anything worthy of death, I ask not that I may not die; but if there be nothing in the things whereof these accuse me no man may give me up unto them. ^d I appeal unto Cæsar. ¹² Then Festus, when he had conferred with the council, answered: Thou hast appealed unto Cæsar; unto Cæsar shalt thou go.

Paul's defence before king Agrippa and the chief local authorities.

¹³ AND after some days king Agrippa and Bernice came to Caesarea, to salute Festus. ¹⁴ And as they were staying there many days, Festus made known Paul's cause unto the king, saying: ^a There is a certain man left in bonds by Felix, ¹⁵ about whom, when I was at Jerusalem, the chief priests and the elders of the Jews informed me, desiring to have judgment against him.

¹⁶ To ^b whom I answered: It is not the manner of the Romans to give up any man to die, before the accused hath the accusers face to face, and hath opportunity to answer for himself concerning the crime laid against him. ¹⁷ When therefore they were come together here, without any delay, on the morrow, I sat on the judgment seat, and commanded the man to be brought forth: ¹⁸ against whom, when the accusers stood up, they brought no accusation of such things as I had supposed; ¹⁹ but they ^c had certain questions against him about their own religion, and about one Jesus who was dead, whom Paul affirmed to be alive. ²⁰ And being perplexed about such questions, I asked him whether he was willing to go to Jerusalem, and there be judged of these matters. ²¹ But Paul having appealed to be reserved unto the decision of Augustus, I commanded him to be kept till I might send him to Cæsar. ²² Then ^d Agrippa said unto Festus, I would also hear the man myself. To-morrow, said he, thou shalt hear him.

²³ Accordingly on the morrow, when Agrippa was come, and Bernice, with great pomp, and they had entered into the place of hearing, with the chief captains and the principal men of the city, at Festus' commandment Paul was brought forth. ²⁴ And Festus saith: King Agrippa, and all men who are here present with us, ye see this man, about whom all the multitude of the Jews have dealt with me, both at Jerusalem and also here, crying out that ^e he ought not to live any longer. ²⁵ But I found that ^f he had committed nothing worthy of death; and when he himself appealed to Augustus, I determined to send him. ²⁶ Of whom I have nothing certain to write unto my lord. Wherefore I have brought him forth before you, and specially before thee, O king Agrippa, that, after examination had, I may have something to write. ²⁷ For it seemeth to me unreasonable to send a prisoner and not withal to signify the crimes laid against him.

²⁶. Then Agrippa said unto Paul: ^g Thou art permitted to speak for thyself. Then Paul stretched forth his hand, and answered for himself:

g ch. 25. 16.

² I think myself happy, king Agrippa, that I am to answer for myself this day before thee touching all the things whereof I am accused by the Jews; ³ especially as thou art acquainted with all customs and questions which are among the Jews: wherefore I beseech thee to hear me patiently.

⁴ My ^h manner of life then, from my youth, which was at the first among my own nation and in Jerusalem, know all the Jews; ⁵ who have known me from the beginning, if they would testify, that after ⁱ the strictest sect of our religion I lived a Pharisee. ⁶ And now I stand and am judged for the hope of ^k the promise made by God unto our fathers; ⁷ unto which promise our twelve tribes, earnestly serving God day and night, hope to come : for which hope's sake, O king Agrippa, I am now accused by the Jews. ⁸ Why [†] is it judged a thing incredible with you if God raiseth the dead?

⁹ I [¶] verily thought with myself that I ought to do many things against the name of Jesus of Nazareth*. ¹⁰ Which [¶] I also did in Jerusalem; and many of the saints I shut up in prison, [¶] having received authority from the chief priests; and when they were put to death, I gave my voice [†] against them: ²¹ and I punished them oft in every synagogue, and compelled them to blaspheme; and being exceedingly mad against them, I persecuted them even unto foreign cities.

¹⁹ Whereupon, O king Agrippa, [¶] I was not disobedient unto the heavenly vision: ²⁰ but [¶] showed first unto them at Damascus, and at Jerusalem, and throughout all the country of Judea, and then to the Gentiles, that they should repent and turn to God, doing [¶] works worthy of repentance.

²² Having therefore [¶] obtained help from God, I continue unto this day, witnessing both to small and great, saying nothing except those things [¶] which the prophets and Moses said would come to pass; ²³ that [¶] the Christ would suffer, and that he first, by his resurrection from the dead, [¶] would show light, both to the people and to the Gentiles.

²⁴ And as he thus spake for himself, Festus said with a loud voice: Paul, [¶] thou art beside thyself; thy much learning doth make thee mad. ²⁵ But he said: I am not mad, [¶] most noble Festus, but speak forth words of truth and soberness. ²⁶ For the king knoweth of these things, before whom also I speak freely; for I am persuaded that none of these things are hidden from him; for [¶] this thing was not done in a corner. ²⁷ King Agrippa, believest thou the prophets? I know that thou believest. ²⁸ Then Agrippa said unto Paul: Almost thou persuadest me* to become a Christian. ²⁹ And Paul said: I would to God, that not only thou, but also all that hear me this day, were both almost and altogether† such as I am, except these bonds.

³⁰ And when he had thus spoken, the king rose up, and the governor, and Bernice, and they that sat with them; ³¹ and when they were gone aside, they talked between themselves, saying: This man doeth nothing worthy of death or of bonds. ³² Then said Agrippa unto Festus: This man might have been set at liberty, if he had not appealed unto Cæsar.

Paul's voyage from Cæsarea to Italy—(1.) Storm in the Adriatic Sea; (41) shipwreck and (ch. 28. 1) detention at Melita; (16) arrival at Rome.

²⁷ AND when [¶] it was determined that we should sail to Italy, they delivered Paul and certain other prisoners unto a centurion named Julius, of the Augustan band. ² And going on board a ship of Adramyttium, bound for the coasts of Asia, we put to sea; [¶] Aristarchus, a Macedonian of Thessalonica, being with us. ³ And the next day we touched at Sidon; and Julius [¶] treated Paul kindly, and gave him liberty to go unto his friends and receive their care. ⁴ And putting to sea from thence, we sailed under Cyprus§, because the winds were contrary. ⁵ And when we had sailed over the sea of Cilicia and Pamphylia, we came to Myra, a city of Lycia. ⁶ And there the centurion found a ship of Alexandria sailing to Italy, and he put us therein.

⁷ And after sailing slowly for many days, and having with difficulty come over against Cnidus, the wind not suffering us, we sailed under Crete, over against Salmone; ⁸ and, coasting along it with difficulty, we came unto a place called the Fair Havens; [¶] nigh whereunto was the city of Lasea.

⁹ And when much time had been spent, and the voyage was now dangerous, because the Fast* was already past, Paul admonish- ed them ¹⁰ and said: Sirs, I perceive that this voyage will be with hurt and much damage, not only to the lading and ship, but also to our lives. ¹¹ But the centurion believed the master† and the owner of the ship more than the things which were spoken by Paul. ¹² And because the haven was not commodious to winter in, the greater number advised to sail from thence also, if by any means they might reach to Phenix, and winter there; which is a haven of Crete, looking towards the south-west and north-west‡.

¹³ And when the south wind blew softly, supposing that they had obtained their purpose, they weighed anchor and coasted along close by Crete. ¹⁴ But not long after there beat down from it a tempestuous wind, called Euroclydon §. ¹⁵ And the ship being caught, and unable to bear up against the wind, we let her drive. ¹⁶ And running under a certain small island called Claudia, we had much work to lay hold of the boat; ¹⁷ and when they had taken it up, they used helps, undergirding the ship; and, fearing lest they should fall into the Syrtis*, they lowered the sails and so were driven. ¹⁸ And we being exceedingly tossed with tempest, the next day they lightened the ship; ¹⁹ and on the third day^d we cast out with our own hands the tackling of the ship. ²⁰ And when neither sun nor stars for many days appeared, and no small tem- pest lay on us, all hope that we should be saved was then taken away.

²¹ But after long abstinence Paul stood forth in the midst of them, and said: Sirs, ye should have hearkened unto me, and not have put to sea from Crete; and so have escaped this harm and loss. ²² And now I exhort you to be of good cheer; for there will be no loss of life among you, but only of the ship. ²³ For e^e there stood by me this night an angel of God, whose I am, and whom I serve, ²⁴ saying: Fear not, Paul, thou must be brought before Cæsar; and lo, God hath given thee all them that sail with thee. ²⁵ Wherefore, sirs, be of good cheer, for I believe God, that it shall be even as it hath been told me. ²⁶ Howbeit^h we must be cast upon a certain island.

²⁷ And when the fourteenth night was come, as we were driven about in the Adriatic Sea, about midnight the seamen deem- ed that they drew near to some country; ²⁸ and they sounded, and found it twenty fathoms; and when they had gone a little further, they sounded again, and found it fifteen fathoms. ²⁹ Then fearing lest we should fall upon rocks, they cast four an- chors out of the stern, and wished for the day.

³⁰ And as the seamen were seeking to flee out of the ship, and had let down the boat into the sea, under pretence as though they would carry out anchors from the foreship, ³¹ Paul said to the centurion and to the soldiers: Except these abide in the ship ye cannot be saved. ³² Then the sol- diers cut off the ropes of the boat, and let it fall off.

³⁹ And when it was day, they knew not the land; but they perceived a certain creek with a shore, on which they deter- mined, if it were possible, to run the ship aground. ⁴⁰ And having cut away the an- chors, they left them in the sea; and they loosened the rudder bands, and hoisted up the foresail to the wind, and made towards the shore. ⁴¹ And falling into a place where two seas met, k they ran the ship aground; and the forepart stuck fast, and remained immovable, but the hinder part was broken with the violence of the waves.

²⁸. And when we were escaped, then we learned that the island was called Melita. ² And the Barbarians² showed us no little kindness; for they kindled a fire, and re- ceived us every one, because of the present

Salutation, and introduction, describing (1) the writer, (2) his Divine commission, and (3) the persons addressed.

1. PAUL, a servant * of Jesus Christ, ^a called to be an apostle, separated ^b unto the gospel of God, ² which he promised before ^c by his prophets in the Holy Scriptures, ³ concerning ^d his Son, ^e who was born of the seed of David according to the flesh, ⁴ and was with power declared to be the Son of God ^f according to the Spirit of holiness, ^g by the resurrection from the dead, even Jesus Christ our Lord; ⁵ through whom ^h we have received grace and apostleship, in behalf of his name, for obedience to the faith among all nations; ⁶ among ⁱ whom are ye also ^k the called of Jesus Christ; ⁷ to all that are in Rome, ⁸ beloved of God, ^m called to be saints; grace to you and peace, from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

Paul's (8) deep interest in the Roman Christians; his (10) long-cherished desire to preach at Rome the gospel of Christ, (15) which is divinely efficacious for the salvation of men of all nations.

⁸ FIRST, ^a I thank my God, through Jesus Christ, for you all, that ^b your faith is spoken of throughout the whole world. ⁹ For ^c God is my witness, whom I serve with my spirit in the gospel of his Son, how ^d unceasingly I make mention of you always in my prayers; ¹⁰ making ^e request if by any means now at length I may have a way opened, by the will of God, to come unto you. ¹¹ For I long to see you, that ^f I may impart unto you some spiritual gift, to the end that ye may be established; ¹² that is, that I with you may be comforted among you by the mutual faith both of you and me.

¹³ Now I would not have you ignorant, brethren, that ^g oftentimes I purposed to come unto you, (^h though I have been hindered hitherto,) that I might have some ⁱ fruit among you also, even as among the rest of the Gentiles. ¹⁴ I ^k am debtor both to Greeks and to Barbarians, both to the wise and to the unwise. ¹⁵ So, as much as lieth in me, I am ready to preach the gospel to you also that are at Rome.

¹⁶ For I am not ashamed of the gospel;

for ^m it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth; to the Jew first, and also to the Greek*. ¹⁷ For ⁿ therein is revealed the righteousness of God ^o by faith unto faith; as it is written, 'The just shall live by faith' [Hab. ii. 4].

The need of the Gospel shown first (18) from the inexcusable impurity and immorality of the Gentiles; and their consequent guilt and condemnation.

²⁴ Wherefore ^f also God gave them up to uncleanness in the lusts of their hearts, ^g to dishonour their bodies ^h among themselves; ²⁵ inasmuch as they changed the truth of God for a ⁱ lie, and worshipped and served the creature rather than the Creator, who is blessed for ever: Amen.

29 being filled with all unrighteousness, wickedness, covetousness, maliciousness; full of envy, murder, strife, deceit, malignity; whisperers*, 30 slanderers, haters of God, despotic, proud, boasters, inventors of evil things, disobedient to parents, 31 without understanding, covenant-breakers, without natural affection, implacable, unmerciful; 32 men who ^m knowing the righteous judgment of God, that they that commit such things ^a are worthy of death, not only do the same, but ^o have pleasure in those that do them.

The aggravated guilt of the Jews—(8) The impartiality of God's judgment—(17) Exposition with Jews who, while glorying in their religious privileges, lived in the practice of sin.

2. THEREFORE thou art inexcusable, O man, whosoever thou art, that judgest; for ^a wherein thou judgest another thou condemnest thyself, for thou that judgest dost meet the same things. ² But we know that the judgment of God is according to truth against them that do such things. ³ And thinkest thou this, O man, who judgest them that do such things and dost the same, that thou wilt escape the judgment of God? ⁴ Or ^b despisest thou ^c the riches of his goodness and forbearance and longsuffering, not knowing that ^d the goodness of God is leading thee to repentance? ⁵ And according to thy hardness and impenitent heart ^e thou art treasuring up unto thyself wrath in the day of wrath and of the revelation of the righteous judgment of God. ⁶ Who ^f will render to every man according to his works; ⁷ to them that by patient continuance in well doing seek for glory and honour and immortality, eternal life; ⁸ but unto them that are contentious, and ^g do not obey the truth but obey unrighteousness, there will be indignation and wrath, ⁹ tribulation and anguish, upon every soul of man that doeth evil, of the Jew ^h first, and also of the Greek; ¹⁰ but glory, honour and peace, to every man that worketh good, to the Jew first, and also to the Greek. ¹¹ For ⁱ there is no respect of persons with God.

¹² For as many as have sinned without the law will also perish without the law, and as many as have ^k sinned under the law will be judged by the law—¹³ For ^l not the hearers of the law are just before God, but ^m the doers of the law shall be justified. ¹⁴ For when Gentiles who have no law do by nature the things of the law, these though they have no law are a law unto themselves; ¹⁵ since they show the work of the law ⁿ written in their hearts, their conscience also bearing witness to it, ^o and their thoughts one with another, accusing or else excusing them—¹⁶ in ^p the day when God will judge the secrets of men ^q by Jesus Christ, according to my gospel.

¹⁷ Behold, thou art called a Jew, and ^r retest upon the law, ^s and makest thy boast in God, ^t and ^u knowest his will, and ^v approvest the things that are more excellent, being instructed out of the law; ¹⁹ and thou art confident that thou thyself art ^x a guide of the blind, a light of them that are in darkness, ²⁰ an instructor of the foolish, a teacher of babes, ^y having the form* of knowledge and of the truth, in the law. ²¹ Thou ^z then that teachest another, teachest thou not thyself? Thou that preachest men should not steal, dost thou steal? ²² Thou that forbiddest to commit adultery, dost thou commit adultery? Thou that abhorrest idols, ^a dost thou rob temples? ²³ Thou that makest thy boast in the law, by thy breaking of the law dishonourest thou God? ²⁴ For 'the name of God is blasphemed among the Gentiles because of you;' as it is written [Isa. lii. 5; Ezek. xxxvi. 20].

²⁵ For ^b circumcision verily profiteth if thou keep the law; but if thou be a breaker of the law thy circumcision is become uncircumcision. ²⁶ If then ^c the Uncircumcision keep the ordinances of the law, will not his uncircumcision be counted as circumcision? ²⁷ And will not the uncircumcision which is by nature, if it fulfil the law, ^d judge thee who through the letter and circumcision dost transgress the law?

Replies to Jewish objections; and (10) proofs from the Old Testament of the universal corruption of Jews as well as Gentiles; (19) establishing the impossibility of attaining to righteousness by the law.

3. WHAT then is the advantage of the Jew? Or what is the benefit of circumcision? ² Much every way; chiefly that ^a they were entrusted with the oracles of God. ³ For what if some were unfaithful, ^b will their unfaithfulness make void the faithfulness of God? ⁴ God forbid: yea, let ^c God be true, but every man a liar; as it is written, 'That thou mayest be justified in thy sayings, and mayest overcome when thou art judged.' ⁵ But ^d if our unrighteousness sheweth forth the righteousness of God, what shall we say? ^e Is God unrighteous who inflicteth his wrath?—^f I am speaking as men do—^g God forbid! For then ^h how shall God judge the world?

⁷ For if by my falsehood the truth of God hath more abounded unto his glory, ² why am I still to be judged as a sinner? ⁸ And ^{why} not say, (as we are slanderously reported, and as some affirm that we say), ^k Let us do evil that good may come? Whose condemnation is just.

⁹ What then, are we better than others? No, in no wise: ⁱ we have before charged both Jews and Greeks, that they are all under sin; ¹⁰ as it is written, 'there is none righteous, no not one; ¹¹ there is none that understandeth, there is none that seeketh after God; ¹² they are all gone out of the way, they are together become unprofitable, there is none that doeth good, no not one' [Psa. xiv. 1—3]; ¹³ 'their throat is an open sepulchre; with their tongues they have used deceit' [Psa. v. 9, Sept.]; 'the poison of asps is under their lips' [Psa. cxl. 3]; ¹⁴ 'whose mouth is full of cursing and bitterness' [Psa. x. 7]; ¹⁵ 'their ^k feet are swift to shed blood, ¹⁶ destruction and misery are in their ways, ¹⁷ and the way of peace have they not known' [Isa. lix. 7, 8]. ¹⁸ 'there is no fear of God before their eyes' [Isa. xxxvi. 1].

¹⁹ Now we know that what things soever the law saith, it saith to them that are under the law: that ^l every mouth may be stopped, and ^m all the world may become guilty before God; ²⁰ because ⁿ by works of the law there shall no flesh be justified in his sight, for ^o through the law is the knowledge of sin.

The Divine method of justification, by grace through faith in Jesus Christ; (25) manifesting God's combined righteousness and mercy; and (27) excluding Jewish boasting, but (31) establishing the law.

²¹ BUT now ^a the righteousness of God without the law hath been manifested, ^b being witnessed by the Law ^c and the Prophets, ²² even the righteousness of God ^d through faith in Jesus Christ, unto all and upon all them that believe, (for there is no distinction, ²³ for ^e all have sinned and come short of the glory of God), ²⁴ being justified freely ^f by his grace ^g through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus; ²⁵ whom God hath set forth as a ^h propitiatory sacrifice, through faith in his blood; ²⁶ for the showing forth of his righteousness because of the ⁱ passing over of the sins of former times, by the forbearance of God; ²⁶ for the showing forth I say of his righteousness in this present time, ¹ that he may be just, and the justifier of him that believeth in Jesus.

²⁷ Where ^m is our boasting then? It is excluded. By what law? Of works? Nay, but by the law of faith: ²⁸ for we conclude that a man is justified by faith without works of the law. ²⁹ Or is God the God of the Jews only? Is he not also of the Gentiles? Yes, ⁿ of the Gentiles also; ³⁰ seeing that there is one God who will justify the Circumcision by faith, and the Uncircumcision through the faith.

Historical confirmation of the doctrine—(ch. 4. 1) Abraham's justification was by faith, wholly irrespectively of works, and was before (10) circumcision and (13) the law; (16) he was therefore the father of all believers, both Jews and Gentiles.

4. WHAT then shall we say that ^a Abraham our father, as pertaining to the flesh, hath found? ² For if Abraham was justified by works, he hath whereof to boast: but he hath not before God; ³ for what saith the Scripture? 'Abraham ^b believed God, and it was accounted unto him for righteousness.' [Gen. xv. 6, Sept.] ⁴ Now ^c unto him that worketh is the reward not accounted as a matter of grace, but of debt; ⁵ but ^d unto him that worketh not, but believeth on him that justifieth the ungodly, his faith is accounted for righteousness. ⁶ Even as David also describeth the blessedness of the man unto whom God accounteth righteousness ^e without works, ⁷ saying: 'Blessed are they whose iniquities are forgiven, and whose sins are covered; ⁸ blessed is the man unto whom the Lord will not account sin.' [Psa. xxxii. 1, 2, Sept.]

⁹ Is ^f this blessedness then pronounced upon the Circumcision only, or upon the Uncircumcision also? For we say that faith was accounted to Abraham for righteousness. ¹⁰ How was it then accounted; when he was in circumcision, or in uncircumcision? Not in circumcision, but in uncircumcision. ¹¹ And ^g he received the sign of circumcision, as ^h a seal of ⁱ the righteousness of the faith which he had while yet uncircumcised; that ^k he might be the father of all them that believe without being circumcised; that righteousness might be accounted unto them also; ¹² and the father of the Circumcision ^l to them who are not only of the circumcision, but who also walk in the steps of that faith of our father Abraham which he had while yet uncircumcised.

¹³ For the promise that he should be the ^m heir of the world ~~was~~ not made to Abraham or to his seed ⁿ through the law, but through the righteousness of faith. ¹⁴ For ^o if they that are of the law be the heirs, faith is made void, and the promise is made of no effect; ¹⁵ because ^p the law worketh wrath; but ^q where there is no law there is no transgression. ¹⁶ Therefore it ^r was of faith that it might be ^s by grace; ^t so the end that the promise might be sure to all the seed, not to that only which is of the law, but to that also which is of the faith of Abraham; ^u who is the father of us all—¹⁷ as it is written, 'I have made thee a father of many nations'—[Gen. xvii. 5], before that God whom he believed, ^v who giveth life to the dead, and calleth the ^w things which are not as though they were; ¹⁸ who against hope believed in hope, that he might become the father of many nations, according to that which was spoken, 'So shall thy seed be' [Gen. xv. 5]; ¹⁹ and not being weak in faith, ^x he considered ^y his own body now become dead, when he was about a hundred years old, and the deadness of Sarah's womb, ²⁰ yet he staggered not at the promise of God through unbelief, but became strong in faith, giving glory to God, ²¹ and being fully persuaded that what he had promised ^z he was able also to perform. ²² Wherefore also it was accounted unto him for righteousness.

²³ Now ^a it was not written for his sake alone, that it was accounted unto him, ²⁴ but for our sakes also, to whom it will be accounted, even to us who believe on him who raised up Jesus our Lord from the dead; ²⁵ who ^b was delivered up because of our offences, and ^c was raised again because of our justification.

The fruits of justification by faith—(ch. 5. 1) Peace with God, hope of future glory, and union with Christ, (12) bringing, in place of condemnation and death derived through Adam, righteousness and everlasting life, through Jesus Christ.

5. BEING then justified by faith, we have ^d peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ; ² through whom also we have had our access by faith; into that grace wherein we stand, and we rejoice in hope of the glory of God. ³ And not only ^e so, but we even rejoice in our tribulations; knowing that tribulation worketh patience; ⁴ and patience, experience ^f, and experience, hope; ⁵ and hope maketh not ashamed, because the love of God hath been shed abroad in our hearts by the Holy Spirit which was given unto us.

⁶ For ^g while we were yet without strength, ^h in due time Christ died for the ungodly. ⁷ Now scarcely for a righteous man will any one die; though peradventure for a good man ⁱ some one would ^j even dare to die; ⁸ but ^k God commendeth his love towards us in that while we were yet sinners Christ died for us. ⁹ Much more then, being now justified ^l by his blood, we shall be saved from ^m wrath through him. ¹⁰ For if when we were enemies ⁿ we were reconciled to God through the death of his Son, much more being reconciled we shall be saved ^o by his life. ¹¹ And not only ^p so, but we also ^q rejoice in God through our Lord Jesus Christ, through whom we have now received the ^r reconciliation.

¹² Therefore, as ^s through one man sin entered into the world, and ^t through sin death, even so death passed upon all men, because all sinned; ¹³ for before the Law sin was in the world; but ^u sin is not imputed where there is no law; ¹⁴ nevertheless death reigned from Adam to Moses, even over those that did not sin after the likeness of Adam's transgression; ^v who is a figure of him that was to come.

¹⁵ Not however as the offence, so also is the free gift; for if by the offence of the one man the many died, much more hath the grace of God and ^w the gift which is by the grace of the one man, Jesus Christ, abounded ^x unto the many. ¹⁶ And not as it was through one that sinned, so is the gift; for ^y the judgment was after ^z one offence unto condemnation, but the gift of grace ^a is after ^b many offences unto justification. ¹⁷ For if by the one man's offence death reigned through the one, much more they who receive the abundance of grace and of the gift of righteousness ^c will reign in life through the one, even Jesus Christ.

6. WHAT shall we say then? ^a Shall we continue in sin, that grace may abound? ^b God forbid! How shall we ^c who died unto sin live any longer therein? ^d Or know ye not, that ^e all we who ^f were baptized unto Jesus Christ were baptized into his death? ^g We were ^h buried therefore with him through our baptism into his death; that ⁱ as Christ was raised up from the dead by the glory of the Father, ^j even so we also should walk in newness of life. ^k For ^l if we have become united to the likeness of his death, we shall be also to the likeness of his resurrection; ^m knowing this, that ⁿ our old man was crucified with him, that ^o the body of sin might be destroyed, that we might no longer be in bondage to sin. ^p For he that hath died hath been set free from sin.

^q Now ^r if we died with Christ, we believe that we shall also live with him; ^s knowing that ^t Christ being raised from the dead dieth no more; death hath no longer dominion over him. ^u For in that he died, ^v he died unto sin once for all; but in that he liveth, he liveth unto God. ^w Even so reckon ye also yourselves to be dead indeed unto sin, but ^x alive unto God in Jesus Christ our Lord. ^y 12 Let ^z not sin therefore reign in your mortal body, ^{aa} that ye should obey it in the lusts thereof; ^{ab} neither yield ye your ^{ac} members as instruments of unrighteousness unto sin; but ^{ad} yield yourselves unto God, as being alive from the dead, and your members ^{ae} as instruments of righteousness unto God.

^{af} 14 For sin shall not have dominion over you; ^{ag} for ye are not under law, but under grace. ^{ah} 15 What then? Shall we sin, because we are not under law but under grace? God forbid! ^{ai} 16 Know ye not, ^{aj} that to whomsoever ye yield yourselves as servants to obey, his servants ye are whom ye obey: whether it be of sin unto death, or of obedience unto righteousness. ^{ak} 17 But God be thanked, that whereas ye were the servants of sin, ye obeyed from the heart ^{al} that form of doctrine whereunto ye were delivered, ^{am} and being ^{an} made free from sin, ye became servants of righteousness. ^{ao} 19 I speak after the manner of men, because of the infirmity of your flesh; for as ye once yielded your members servants to uncleanness and to iniquity unto iniquity,

^{ap} 20 For when ye were the servants of sin, ye were free with respect to righteousness. ^{aq} 21 What ^{ar} fruit then had ye at that time in those things whereof ye are now ashamed? For ^{as} the end of those things is death; ^{at} 22 but now being made free from sin, and become servants to God, ye have your fruit unto sanctification, and the end everlasting life. ^{au} 23 For ^{av} the wages of sin is death; but ^{aw} the free gift of God is everlasting life in Jesus Christ our Lord.

Other results of justification by faith—(ch. 7. 1)
Emancipation from the law by union with Christ—(7) The character of the law, and its work in manifesting sin—(12) Its inability to deliver from sin, notwithstanding its excellence.

7. KNOW ye not, brethren, (for I speak ^a to them that know the law), that the law hath dominion over a man as long as he liveth? ^b 2 For ^c the married woman is bound by the law to her husband so long as he liveth; but if the husband die, she is released from the law of the husband. ^d 3 Therefore ^e if while the husband is living, she be married to another man; she will be called an adulteress, but if her husband die she is free from the law, so that she is no adulteress though she be married to another man. ^f 4 So then, my brethren, ye also were made ^g dead to the law through the body of Christ; ^h that ye might be married to another, ⁱ even to him who was raised from the dead, that ye might ^j bring forth fruit unto God.

^k 6 For when we were ^l in the flesh, the passions of sins, which were through the law, wrought in our members ^m to bring forth fruit unto death; ⁿ but now we have been released from the law, ^o having died to that wherein we were held fast; so that we serve in the newness of the spirit, and not in the oldness of ^p the letter.

^q 7 What shall we say then? ^r Is the law sin? God forbid! But ^s I had not known sin except through the law. For I should not know coveting if the law did not say, 'Thou shalt not covet' [Erod. xx. 17]; ^t 8 but ^u sin, taking occasion by the commandment, ^v wrought in me all manner of coveting*. For ^w without the law sin is dead. ^x 9 And I was alive without the law once; but when the commandment came, sin came to life again, and I died; ^y 10 and the very commandment ^z which was for life, I found to be for death; ^{aa} 11 for sin, taking occasion by means of the commandment, ^{ab} deceived me, and by it slew me.

¹³ Did then that which is good become death unto me? God forbid. But sin became so, that it might appear as sin, working death for me by that which is good; that sin by means of the commandment might prove itself exceeding sinful.

¹⁴ For we know that the law is spiritual; but I am carnal, ^a enslaved under sin. ¹⁵ For what I perform I allow* not; for ^t it is not what I desire, that I do, but what I hate, that do I. ¹⁶ But if I do that which I desire not, I consent unto the law that it is good. ¹⁷ So now it is no more I that perform it, but sin that dwelleth in me. ¹⁸ For I know that ^u in me, that is, in my flesh, dwelleth no good thing; for to desire is present with me, but to perform that which is good is not: ¹⁹ for the good that I desire I do not; but the evil that I desire not, that I do. ²⁰ But if I do what I desire not, it is no more I that perform it, but sin that dwelleth in me. ²¹ I find then this law, that when I desire to do good, evil is present with me: ²² for I ^x delight in the law of God after ^y the inward man; ²³ but ^z I see a different law in my members, warring against the law of my mind, and bringing me into captivity to the law of sin which is in my members. ²⁴ O wretched man that I am! Who will deliver me from ^a this body of death? ²⁵ I ^b thank God through Jesus Christ our Lord. So then with the mind I myself serve the law of God, but with the flesh the law of sin.

(ch. 8. 1) Freedom from condemnation, and
(2) by the indwelling of the Spirit of Christ, progressive sanctification, and (14) sonship, with all its blessings; and (17) through present suffering, with and for Christ, future perfection and glory; (31) all needful help and grace, and final victory being assured.

8. THERE is therefore now ^a no condemnation to them that are in Christ Jesus, [who ^b walk not after the flesh but after the Spirit]. ² For ^c the law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus set me free from the law of sin and death. ³ For ^d what the law could not do, in that ^e it was weak through the flesh—God sending his own Son ^f in the likeness of sinful flesh and for sin, condemned sin in the flesh; ⁴ that the righteousness of the law might be fulfilled in us who walk not after the flesh but after the Spirit.

⁶ For the mind of the flesh is death, but the mind of the Spirit is life and peace; ⁷ because ⁱ the mind of the flesh is enmity against God; for it is not subject to the law of God, ^k neither indeed can be; ⁸ and they that are in the flesh cannot please God.

⁹ But ye are not in the flesh, but in ^l the Spirit, if indeed the Spirit of God dwelleth in you. But if any one hath not the Spirit of Christ, he is none of his. ¹⁰ But if Christ is ^m in you, the body is dead because of sin, but the spirit is life because of righteousness. ¹¹ And if the Spirit of him who raised up Jesus from the dead dwelleth in you, ⁿ he who raised up Christ from the dead will give life also to your mortal bodies because of his Spirit that dwelleth in you.

¹² Therefore, ^o brethren, we are debtors, not to the flesh, to live after the flesh; ¹³ for ^p if ye live after the flesh, ye shall die; but if through the Spirit ^q ye put to death the deeds of the body, ye shall live.

¹⁴ For as many as are led by the Spirit of God, ^r they are sons of God; ¹⁵ for ye received not a spirit of bondage again ^s unto fear; but ^t ye received a spirit of adoption, whereby we cry, ^u Abba, Father! ¹⁶ The ^v Spirit itself beareth witness with our spirit that we are children of God; ¹⁷ and if children, then ^y heirs, heirs of God, and joint heirs with Christ, ^z if indeed we suffer with him, that we may be also glorified together.

¹⁸ For I reckon that ^a the sufferings of this present time are of no account compared with the glory which is to be revealed on us. ¹⁹ For the earnest expectation of the creation ^b is waiting for the ^c revelation of the sons of God. ²⁰ For ^d the creation was made subject to vanity, not of its own will, but by reason of him who made it subject, in hope, ²¹ because ^e the creation itself also will be set free from the bondage of corruption into the liberty of the glory of the children of God. ²² For we know that the whole creation groaneth and travaileth in pain together until now; ²³ and not only ^f they, but even we who have ^g the firstfruits of the Spirit, ^h even we ourselves groan within ourselves, waiting for the adoption, ⁱ to wit, the ^j redemption of our body. ²⁴ For ^k we were saved in hope; but hope that is seen is not hope; for what a man seeth, why doth he also hope for? ²⁵ But if we hope for what we see not, we then with patience wait for it.

should pray for as we ought, but the Spirit itself maketh intercession for us with groanings which cannot be uttered; ²⁷ and ^k he who searcheth the hearts knoweth what is the mind of the Spirit, because he maketh intercession for the saints according to the will of God.

²⁸ And we know that ^l all things work together for good to them that love God, to them that are ^m called "according to his purpose." ²⁹ Because those whom ⁿ he doth foreknow, ^p he also doth foreordain ^q to be conformed to the image of his Son, ^r that he may be the firstborn among ^s many brethren: ³⁰ moreover those whom he doth foreordain he also calleth; and those whom he calleth he also ^t justifieth: and those whom he justifieth, he also ^u glorifieth.

³¹ What shall we then say to these things? ^v If God be for us, who can be against us? ³² He ^w that spared not his own Son, but delivered him up for us all, how will he not with him also freely ^x give us all things? ³³ Who will bring any charge against God's elect? ^y It is ^z God who justifieth. ³⁴ Who is he that condemneth? ^{aa} It is Christ who died, yea rather who is risen again, ^{ab} who is also at the right hand of God, ^{ac} who also maketh intercession for us. ³⁵ Who ^{ad} shall separate us from the love of Christ? ^{ae} Shall ^{af} tribulation, or distress, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or peril, or sword? ³⁶ As it is written: ^{ag} 'For thy sake we are killed all the day long, we were accounted as sheep for the slaughter' [Psa. xlv. 22, Sept.] ³⁷ Nay, ^{ah} in all these things we are more than conquerors through him that loved us. ³⁸ For I am persuaded that neither death nor life, nor angels nor ^{ai} principalities nor powers, nor things present nor things to come, ³⁹ nor height nor depth, nor any other created thing ^{aj} shall be able to separate us from the love of God which is in Christ Jesus our Lord.

Concerning the relative positions of Jews and Gentiles under the gospel—(ch. 9. 1) The indication of God's faithfulness while excluding unbelieving Jews from its blessings; (6) which were of old promised, not to all Abraham's descendants, but to the true Israel; and (14) God's determination was always declared to bestow his special mercies according to his sovereign will.

9. I SAY the truth in Christ, I lie not, my conscience bearing me witness in the Holy Spirit, ² that I have great heaviness and continual sorrow in my heart; ³ for ^a I could have wished that I myself were accursed from Christ for my brethren, my kinsmen according to the flesh; ⁴ seeing that they are Israelites; ^b to whom belongeth the adoption, and ^c the glory, and the ^d covenants, and ^e the giving of the law, and ^f the service of God, and ^g the promises; ⁵ whose ^h are the fathers; and ⁱ of whom as concerning the flesh Christ came, ^j who is God over all, blessed for evermore. Amen.

⁶ But ^k it is not as if the word of God had failed: for ^l they are not all Israel who are of Israel; ⁷ nor ^m because they are the seed of Abraham, ⁿ are they all his children; but ^o 'In Isaac shall thy seed be called' [Gen. xxi. 12]. ⁸ That is, ^p not they that are the children of the flesh are the children of God, but the children of the promise ^q are accounted as the seed. ⁹ For this word was one of promise: 'According to this time will I come, and Sarah shall have a son' [Gen. xviii. 10].

¹⁰ And not only so, but also when Rebekah had conceived by one, ^r even by our father Isaac, ^s for the children being not yet born, nor having done any good or evil, ^t that the purpose of God according to election might stand, ^u not of works but of him who calleth, ^v it was said unto her, 'The elder shall serve the younger' [Gen. xxv. 23]; ¹³ even as it is written, 'Jacob I loved, but Esau I hated' [Mal. i. 2, 3].

¹⁴ What shall we say then? ^w Is there unrighteousness with God? God forbid! ¹⁵ For he saith to Moses: 'I will have mercy on whom I have mercy, and I will have compassion on whom I have compassion.' [Exod. xxxiii. 19, Sept.] ¹⁶ Therefore ^x it is not of him that willeth or of him that runneth, but of God who showeth mercy. ¹⁷ For the Scripture saith unto Pharaoh: 'For this very purpose did I raise thee up, that I might show forth my power in thee, and that my name might be declared throughout all the earth' [Exod. ix. 16]. ¹⁸ Therefore hath he mercy on whom he will, and whom he will ^y he hardeneth.

¹⁹ Thou wilt say then unto me, Why doth he still find fault? For ^z who resisteth his will? ²⁰ Nay but, O man, ^{aa} who art thou that repliest against God? ²¹ Shall the thing formed say to him that formed it, Why didst thou make me thus? ²² Or hath not the ^{ab} potter power over the clay, of the same lump to make ^{ac} one vessel unto honour and another unto dishonour? ²³ What if God, purposing to show forth his wrath and to make his power known, ^{ad} endured with much longsuffering vessels of wrath ^{ae} fitted to destruction; ²⁴ and to the end that he might make known ^{af} the BRETHREN, ^a my heart's desire and my prayer to God for them is, that they may be saved. ² For I bear them witness ^b that they have a zeal for God, but not according to knowledge. ³ For they being ignorant of ^c God's righteousness, and seeking to establish ^d their own righteousness, have not submitted themselves unto the righteousness of God. ⁴ For ^e Christ is the end of the law for righteousness to every one that believeth. ⁵ For Moses describeth the righteousness which is of the law, ' that ^f the man who doeth these things shall live in it ' [Lev. xviii. 5]. ⁶ But the righteousness which is of faith speaketh on this wise :	Conclusion of the argument—(ch. 14. 1) The rejection of the gospel by the Jews though general is not universal ; (11) it is overruled for the salvation of the Gentiles ; and (25) ultimately both Jews and Gentiles shall be brought in.	† i. e., speaketh out plainly.

	11. I SAY then, ^a Hath God cast off his people ? God forbid. For ^b I also am		a Ps. 94. 14 ; Jer. 31. 57. b Ac. 22. 3 ; Phil. 3. 6.

an Israelite, of the seed of Abraham, of the tribe of Benjamin. ² God hath not cast off his people whom he foreknew. Know ye not what the Scripture saith in the history of Elijah, how he pleadeth with God against Israel, saying: ³ 'Lord, they have killed thy prophets, and digged down thine altars; and I only am left, and they seek my life?' ⁴ Nevertheless what saith the answer of God unto him? 'I have reserved to myself seven thousand men who have not bowed the knee to Baal' [1 Kings xix. 14, 18]. ⁵ Even so then at this present time also ⁶ there is a remnant according to ^d the election of grace. ⁶ Now ^e if it is by grace, then is it no more of works; otherwise grace is no more grace: but if it is of works, then is it no more grace; otherwise work is no more work.

⁷ What then? Israel hath not obtained that which he seeketh for. But the election hath obtained it, and the rest were ^g hardened; ⁸ according as it is written: 'God hath given them a spirit of slumber, ^h eyes that they might not see, and ears that they might not hear' [Isa. xxix. 10; Deut. xxix. 4, Sept.], ⁱ unto this day. ⁹ And David saith: 'Let their table become a snare and a trap and a stumbling-block and a recompence unto them; ¹⁰ let their eyes be darkened that they may not see; and bow down their back always.' [Psa. lxxix. 22, 23, Sept.]

¹⁶ Now ⁿ if the firstfruit be holy, the lump is also holy; and if the root be holy, so are the branches. ¹⁷ And if some of the branches were broken off, ^o and thou, being a wild olive tree, wast grafted in among them, and with them partakest of the root and fatness of the olive tree, ¹⁸ boast not against the branches. But if thou boastest against them, it is not thou that bearest the root, but the root thee. ¹⁹ Thou wilt say then, The branches were broken off, that I might be grafted in. ²⁰ Well, ^p by their unbelief they were broken off, and thou standest by thy faith. Be not highminded, but fear; ²¹ for if God spared not the natural branches, take heed lest he also spare not thee.

²² Behold therefore the goodness and severity of God; towards them that fell, severity; but towards thee, goodness, ^q if thou continue in his goodness; otherwise ^r thou also shalt be cut off. ²³ And they also, if they continue not in their unbelief, shall be grafted in; for God is able to graft them in again. ²⁴ For if thou wast cut out of the olive tree which is wild by nature, and wast grafted, contrary to nature, into a good olive tree, how much more shall these which are the natural branches be grafted into their own olive tree.

²⁵ For I would not, brethren, that ye should be ignorant of this mystery^s, lest ye should be wise in your own conceits, that ^t hardness in part hath come upon Israel, ^u until the fulness of the Gentiles come in; ²⁶ and so ^v "all Israel shall be saved"; as it is written: 'There shall come out of Zion the Deliverer, and he will turn away ungodliness from Jacob; ²⁷ and this is ^z my covenant unto them,' [Isa. lix. 20, 21, Sept.] ^y 'when I take away their sins.' [Isa. xxvii. 9, Sept.] ²⁸ As touching the gospel, they are enemies for your sakes; but as touching the election, they are ^a beloved for the fathers' sakes; ²⁹ for the gifts and the calling of God ^b are not to be repented of. ³⁰ For as ye ^b in times past were disobedient to God, yet have now obtained mercy through their disobedience, ³¹ even so have they also now been disobedient, that through your mercy they also may obtain mercy. ³² For ^c God hath shut up all in disobedience, that he may have mercy upon all.

Practical application—(ch. 12. 1) enjoining grateful self-consecration to God, and entire renovation of mind and character; (3) the proper estimation and use of various gifts and offices in the church; and (9) the manifestation of every virtue in spirit and conduct.

¹⁷ Recompense ^b to no man evil for evil. 'Provide ^c things honourable in the sight of all men.' [Prov. iii. 4, Sept.] ¹⁸ If it be possible, as much as lieth in you, live peaceably with all men. ¹⁹ Dearly beloved, avenge not yourselves, but rather give place unto wrath; for it is written: 'Vengeance is mine; I will repay' [Deut. xxxii. 35], saith the Lord. ²⁰ Therefore 'if thine enemy hunger, feed him; if he thirst, give him drink; for by so doing thou wilt heap coals of fire on his head.' [Pro. xxv. 21, 22, Sept.] ²¹ Be ^d not overcome by evil, but overcome evil with good.

Practical exhortations continued—(ch. 13. 1) to the faithful discharge of civil and social duties, and (8) all the obligations of Christian love, involving the observance of the whole Law; (11) enforced by the nearness of complete salvation.

13. LET every soul ^a submit himself unto the authorities over him, for ^b there is no authority but from God; and the authorities that are have been ordained by God. ² Whosoever therefore resisteth the authority, resisteth the ordinance of God; and they that resist will receive to themselves condemnation. ³ For ^c rulers are not a terror to good works, but to the evil. Dost thou desire then not to be afraid of the authority? Do that which is good, and thou shalt have praise from the same; ⁴ for ^d he is a minister of God to thee for good. But if thou do that which is evil, be afraid; for he beareth not the sword in vain; for he is a minister of God, an avenger to execute wrath upon him that doeth evil. ⁵ Wherefore ye must needs submit yourselves, not only because of the wrath but also for conscience' sake.

⁶ For on this account ^e ye pay tribute also; for they are ministers of God, attending continually upon this very thing. ⁷ Render therefore to all their dues; tribute to whom tribute is due, custom to whom custom, ^f fear to whom fear, ^g honour to whom honour.

¹¹ And this do, ^l knowing the time, that now it is high time for you to awake out of sleep; ^m for now is our salvation nearer than when we first believed. ¹² The night is far spent, ⁿ the day is at hand: ^o let us therefore cast off the works of darkness, and let us put on the armour of light. ¹³ Let us walk becomingly, as in the day; ^p not in revellings and drunkenness, ^q not in lewdness and wantonness, ^r not in strife and envying; ¹⁴ but ^s put ye on the Lord Jesus Christ, and ^t make not provision for the flesh to fulfil the lusts thereof.

The apostle, (14) while commending the church at Rome, (15) affirms his own right and duty, by virtue of his office, to instruct and admonish them; (17) describes the extent and results of his labours; (22) notices intended journeys; and (30) asks the prayers of the Roman Christians on his behalf.

14 AND I myself also am persuaded of you, my brethren, that ye also yourselves are ^a full of goodness, filled with all knowledge, able also to admonish one another; ^b nevertheless, brethren, I have written the more boldly unto you in some measure, ^c as putting you in mind, ^d because of the grace given to me by God, ^e 16 that I should be a minister of Jesus Christ to the Gentiles, ministering ^f the gospel of God; that the ^g offering up of the Gentiles may be acceptable, being sanctified by the Holy Spirit. ^h 17 I ⁱ have therefore my glorying in Jesus Christ in the things which pertain to God. ^j 18 For ^k I will not venture to speak of any of those things which Christ hath not wrought by me, ^l to make the Gentiles obedient, by word and deed, ^m 19 by ⁿ the power of signs and wonders, even by the power of the Spirit of God; so that from Jerusalem, and round about, as far as Illyricum, ^o I have fully preached the gospel of Christ; ^p 20 yet even thus I have made it my ambition so to preach the gospel, not where Christ was ^q already named, ^r that I might not build upon another man's foundation; ^s 21 but as it is written: 'They to whom he was not spoken of shall see; and they that have not heard shall understand.' [Isa. lii. 15, Sept.]

22 For which cause also ^t I have been these many times hindered from coming to you; ^u 23 but now having no more place in these parts, and ^v having had a great desire these many years to come unto you, ^w 24 whensoever I take my journey to Spain, I will come to you; for I trust to see you in my journey, ^x and to be brought on my way thitherward by you, if first I be in some measure filled with your company.

25 But now ^y I am going unto Jerusalem, on a service for the saints. ^z 26 For ^{aa} I hath pleased them of Macedonia and Achaia to make a certain contribution for the poor among the saints who are at Jerusalem; ^{ab} 27 it hath pleased them verily, and their debtors they are; for if the Gentiles have been made partakers of their spiritual things, ^{ac} their duty is also to minister unto them in their carnal things. ^{ad} 28 When therefore I have performed this, and have secured to them this fruit, I will return by you to Spain. ^{ae} 29 And ^{af} I am sure that, when I come unto you, I shall come in the fulness of the blessing of Christ ^t.

30 Now I beseech you, brethren, by the Lord Jesus Christ, and ^{ag} by the love of the Spirit, ^{ah} that ye strive together with me in your prayers to God for me, ^{ai} 31 that ^{aj} I may be delivered from them that are disobedient ^{ak} in Judea, and that my service which I have for Jerusalem may be acceptable to the saints; ^{al} 32 that I may come unto you with joy by the will of God, and may with you be refreshed. ^{am} 33 Now ^{an} the God of peace ^{ao} be with you all. Amen.

⁴ I ⁱ thank my God always on your behalf, for the grace of God bestowed upon you in Jesus Christ; ⁵ that in every thing ye have been enriched in him, ^k in all utterance* and in all knowledge; ⁶ even as ^l the testimony of Christ was confirmed among you; ⁷ so that ye come behind in no gift; ^m waiting for the revelation of our Lord Jesus Christ; ⁸ who ⁿ will also confirm you unto the end, that ye may be blameless in the day of our Lord Jesus Christ. ⁹ God is faithful, by whom ye were called into the fellowship of his Son Jesus Christ our Lord.

Reproof of party divisions—(17) The apostle's manner of preaching the gospel—(19) Contrast between human and Divine wisdom.

all speak the same thing, and that there be no divisions among you; but that ye be perfectly joined together in the same mind and in the same judgment. ¹¹ For it hath been declared unto me concerning you, my brethren, by those of the house of Chloe, that there are contentions among you. ¹² Now I mean this, ^b that every one of you saith, I am of Paul; and I of ^c Apollos; and I of ^d Cephas; and I of Christ.

¹³ Is Christ divided? Was Paul crucified for you? Or were ye baptized into the name of Paul? ¹⁴ I thank God that I baptized none of you but ^e Crispus and ^f Gaius, ¹⁵ that no one might say that ye were baptized into my name. ¹⁶ And I baptized also the household of ^g Stephanas; besides these, I know not whether I baptized any other.

¹⁷ For Christ sent me ^h not to baptize, but to preach the gospel; ⁱ not with wisdom of speech, lest the cross of Christ should be made of no effect. ¹⁸ For ^k the preaching of the cross is to them that are perishing ^l foolishness; but unto us who are being saved it is the ^m power of God.

¹⁹ For it is written, 'I will ⁿ destroy the wisdom of the wise, and will bring to nothing the understanding of the prudent' [Isa. xxix. 14, Sept.] ²⁰ Where is the wise? Where is the scribe? Where is the disputer of this world? ^o Hath not any man buildeth upon this foundation, gold, silver, costly stones, wood, hay, stubble, ¹³ every man's work will be made manifest; for the day ^a will declare it; because it is to be revealed in fire, and ^t the fire itself will prove every man's work of what sort it is. ¹⁴ If ^a any man's work shall abide which he hath built thereupon, he will receive a reward: ¹⁵ if any man's work shall be burned, he will suffer loss; but he himself will be saved, ^z yet so as through fire.

¹⁶ Know ye not that ^y ye are the temple of God, ² and that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you? ¹⁷ If ^a any man destroyeth the temple of God, him will God destroy; for the temple of God is holy, and such ye are.

¹⁸ Let no one deceive himself: if any one among you seemeth to be wise in this world ^b let him become a fool, that he may become wise; ¹⁹ for the wisdom of this world is foolishness with God. For it is written: 'He taketh the wise in their craftiness' [Job v. 13]; ²⁰ and again: 'The Lord knoweth the thoughts of the wise, that they are vain.' [Psa. xciv. 11, Sept.]

⁴. Let a man so account of us as ^g ministers of Christ and ^h stewards of the mysteries ^{*} of God. ² Moreover it is required in stewards here ⁱ that a man be found faithful. ³ But with me it is a very small thing that I should be judged by you, or by man's judgment: yea, I judge not mine own self; ⁴ for I know nothing against myself, ^k yet am I not hereby justified; but he that judgeth me is the Lord. ⁵ Therefore judge nothing before the time, until the Lord come, ⁴ who will both bring to light the hidden things of darkness, and make manifest the counsels of the hearts; and ^m then will every one have his praise from God.

⁶ And these things, brethren, I have in a figure transferred to myself and to Apollos, for your sakes; that in us ye may learn ⁿ not to go beyond that which is written, that ye be not puffed up, each for one against another. ⁷ For who maketh thee to differ from another? And ^o what hast thou that thou didst not receive? But if thou didst receive it, why dost thou boast as if thou hadst not received it?

The argument continued—(8) The vain-glory and self-exaltation of the party-leaders and their followers, (9) contrasted with the persecuted and despised condition of the apostles.

⁸ ALREADY ye are full, ^a already ye are rich, ye have reigned as kings without us; and I would indeed that ye did reign, that we also might reign with you. ⁹ For ^b I think that God hath set forth us the apostles last, as men appointed to death; for ^c we are made a spectacle unto the world, both to angels and to men. ¹⁰ We are ^d fools for Christ's sake, but ye are wise in Christ; we are weak, but ye are strong; ye are honourable, but we are despised. ¹¹ Even ^e unto this present hour we both hunger and thirst, and are naked, and ^f are buffeted, and have no certain dwelling-place; ¹² and ^g we labour, working with our own hands; ^h being reviled, we bless; ⁱ being persecuted, we suffer it; ¹³ being defamed, we intreat; ^k we are made as the filth of the world, the offscouring of all things, unto this day.

¹⁴ I write not these things to shame you; but ⁴ as my beloved children I admonish you; ¹⁵ for though ye may have ten thousand instructors in Christ, yet ^{have ye} not many fathers; for ^m in Christ Jesus I begat you through the gospel. ¹⁶ Wherefore I beseech you, ⁿ be ye followers of me. ¹⁷ For this cause ^{have I} sent unto you ^o Timothy, who is my child, beloved and faithful in the Lord, who ^p will bring to your remembrance my ways in Christ, as I teach every where in every church.

¹⁸ Now some have been puffed up, as though I were not coming to you; ¹⁹ but ^q I shall come to you shortly, if the Lord will; and I will know, not the speech of them that are puffed up, but the power. ²⁰ For ^r the kingdom of God is not in word but in power. ²¹ What will ye? ^s Shall I come unto you with a rod, or in love and the spirit of meekness?

Concerning a case of gross immorality, and (3) the exclusion from the church of the openly profane and vicious.

⁵. IT is actually reported that there is fornication among you, and such fornication as is not even among the Gentiles, ^a that one hath his father's wife. ² And ye have been puffed up, and have not rather ^b mourned; that he that hath done this deed might be taken away from among you.

³ For ^c I verily, being absent in body but present in spirit, have judged already as though I were present, concerning him that hath so done this deed, ⁴ in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, when ye are gathered together, and my spirit, ^d with the power of our Lord Jesus Christ, ⁵ to ^e deliver such a one unto Satan for the destruction of the flesh, ^f that the spirit may be saved in the day of the Lord Jesus.

⁹ I write to you in this epistle ⁿ not to keep company with fornicators; ¹⁰ yet ^o I mean not altogether with the fornicators of this world, or with the covetous or extortioners, or with idolaters; for then must ye needs go ^p out of the world: ¹¹ but as it is, I write unto you not to keep company, if any man that is called a brother be a fornicator, or covetous, or an idolater, or a railer, or a drunkard, or an extortioner, ^q with such a one no not to eat. ¹² For what have I to do with judging ^r them that are without? Do not ye judge ^s them that are within? ¹³ But them that are without God judgeth. Therefore put away from among yourselves the wicked person.

Concerning Christian brethren going to law with one another before heathen tribunals—(9) Sins which exclude from the kingdom of God.

6. DARETH any of you, having a matter against another, go to law before the unrighteous, and not before the saints? ² Do ye not know that ^a the saints will judge the world? And if the world shall be judged by you, are ye unworthy to judge the smallest matters? ³ Know ye not that we shall ^b judge angels? How much more then things that pertain to this life! ⁴ If then ye have judgments about things pertaining to this life, set those to judge who are least esteemed in the church. ⁵ I speak this to your shame*. Is it so that there is not one wise man among you, who will be able to judge between his brethren? ⁶ But brother goeth to law with brother, and that before the unbelievers. ⁷ Now therefore it is utterly a fault among you, that ye go to law one with another. ^c Why do ye not rather endure wrong? Why do ye not rather suffer yourselves to be defrauded? ⁸ Nay ye do wrong and defraud, and that your brethren.

⁹ What, know ye not that wrong-doers shall not inherit the kingdom of God? Be not deceived; ^d neither fornicators, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor effeminate, nor abusers of themselves with mankind, ¹⁰ nor thieves, nor covetous, nor drunkards, nor revilers, nor extortioners, shall inherit the kingdom of God. ¹¹ And such were ^e some of you; ^f but ye were washed, but ye were ^g sanctified, but ye were ^h justified, in the name of the Lord Jesus, and by the Spirit of our God.

Warnings against the abuse of Christian liberty.

12 ALL ^a things are lawful for me, ^b but all things are not expedient; all things are lawful for me, ^c but I will not be brought under the power of any thing. ¹³ Meats ^d for the belly, and the belly for meats; but God will destroy both it and them. And the body ^e is not for fornication, but ^f for the Lord; ^g and the Lord for the body. ¹⁴ And ^h God both raised up the Lord, and will also raise up us, by his power. ¹⁵ Know ye not that ⁱ your bodies are members of Christ? Shall I then take the members of Christ and make them members of a harlot? God forbid! ¹⁶ What, know ye not that he who is joined to a harlot is one body? For ^j 'the ^k two, saith He, shall become one flesh.' [Gen. ii. 24, Sept.] ¹⁷ But ^k he that is joined unto the Lord is one spirit. ¹⁸ Flee ^l fornication. Every other sin that a man doeth is outside the body, but he that committeth fornication sinneth ^m against his own body. ¹⁹ What, ⁿ know ye not that your body is a temple of the Holy Spirit which is in you, which ye have from God? And ^o ye are not your own; ²⁰ for ye ^p were bought with a price: therefore glorify God in your body and in your spirit, which are God's*.

7. NOW concerning the things whereof ye wrote unto me: It is good for a man not to touch a woman; ² nevertheless because of fornications, ^a let every man have his own wife, and let every woman have her own husband. ³ Let ^b the husband render unto the wife her due, ^c and likewise also the wife unto the husband. ⁴ The wife hath not authority over her own body, but the husband; and likewise also the husband hath not authority over his own body, but the wife. ⁵ Defraud ye not one the other, ^d except it be with consent for a time, that ye may give yourselves to prayer, and may be together again; that Satan tempt you not through your incontinency. ⁶ But I speak this by way of permission, ^e and not by way of commandment. ⁷ Yet I would that all men were ^f even as I myself: but ^g every one hath his own gift from God, one after this manner and another after that.

⁸ Now I say to the unmarried and the widows: It is good for them if they abide even as I; ^h but ⁱ if they have not continency, let them marry; for it is better to marry than to burn. ¹⁰ But unto the married I command, ^j yet not I, but the Lord: ^k Let not the wife separate herself from ^l her husband; ¹¹ but if she have separated herself, let her remain unmarried, or be reconciled to ^l her husband; ^k and let not the husband put away ^l his wife. ¹² But to the rest speak I, not the Lord: If any brother hath a wife that believeth not, and she is pleased to dwell with him, let him not put her away*: ¹³ and any woman who hath a husband that believeth not, and he is pleased to dwell with her, let her not put away her husband. ¹⁴ For the unbelieving husband is sanctified in the wife, and the unbelieving wife is sanctified in the husband: else were your children unclean; ¹ but now are they holy. ¹⁵ But if the unbelieving one separateth himself, let him be separated: a brother or a sister is not under bondage in such cases: but God hath called us ^m in peace. ¹⁶ For how knowest thou, O wife, whether thou ⁿ shalt save ^l thy husband? Or how knowest thou, O man, whether thou shalt save ^l thy wife?

¹⁷ Only as the Lord hath distributed to every one, as God hath called every one, so let him walk. And ^o so ordain I in all the churches. ¹⁸ Was any one called ^p being circumcised? Let him not become uncircumcised. Hath any one been called in uncircumcision? Let ^q him not be circumcised. ¹⁹ Circumcision ^r is nothing, and uncircumcision is nothing, but ^s the keeping of the commandments of God is ^t everything. ²⁰ Let every man abide in the same calling wherein he was called. ²¹ Wast thou called ^u being a servant? Care not for it; but if thou art able to become free, use ^l rather. ²² For he that is called in the Lord ^u being a servant is ^t the Lord's freedman; likewise also he that is called ^u being free is ^u Christ's servant. ²³ Ye ^x were bought with a price; become not the servants of men. ²⁴ Brethren, let every man, wherein he is called, therein abide ^y with God.

therefore ^a that this is good on account of the present distress*, I ^l say, that it is good for a man so to be. ²⁷ Art thou bound unto a wife? Seek not to be loosed. Art thou loosed from a wife? Seek not a wife. ²⁸ But if thou marry, ^b thou hast not sinned; and if a virgin marry, she hath not sinned. Nevertheless such will have trouble in the flesh, and I would spare you.

²⁹ But this I say, brethren, ^c the time is short; it remaineth that both they that have wives be as though they had none, ³⁰ and they that weep as though they wept not, and they that rejoice as though they rejoiced not, and they that buy as though they possessed not, ³¹ and ^d they that use this world as not using it to the full; for ^e the fashion of this world is passing away. ³² And ^f I would have you to be without anxiety. ^g He that is unmarried is anxious about the things of the Lord, how he may please the Lord; ³³ but he that is married is anxious about the things of the world, how he may please ^h his wife. ³⁴ There is a difference also between the married woman and the virgin: the unmarried woman is anxious about ^h the things of the Lord, that she may be holy both in body and in spirit; but she that is married is anxious about the things of the world, how she may please ^l her husband. ³⁵ And this I speak for your own profit; not that I may cast a snare upon you, but for that which is seemly, and that ye may attend upon the Lord without distraction.

³⁶ But if any man thinketh that he is behaving himself unseemly towards his virgin^t, if she pass the flower of ^l her age and need so require, let him do what he will, he sinneth not; let them marry. ³⁷ But he that standeth stedfast in his heart, having no necessity, and hath power respecting his own will, and hath determined in his heart that he will keep his virgin, doeth well. ³⁸ So then both ⁱ he that giveth ^l her in marriage doeth well, and he that giveth ^l her not in marriage will do better.

³⁹ A ^k wife is bound by the law^t as long as her husband liveth; but if her husband be dead, she is at liberty to be married to whom she will; only ^l in the Lord: ⁴⁰ but she is happier if she so abide, according to my judgment; and ^m I think also that I have the Spirit of God.

—knowledge ^b puffeth up, ^c but love edified; ² and if ^d any one thinketh that he knoweth anything, he knoweth nothing yet as he ought to know; ³ but if any one loveth God, ^e the same is known by Him—
⁴ Concerning therefore the eating of things sacrificed to idols, we know that ^f an idol is nothing in the world, ^g and that ^h there is no other God but one. ⁵ For though there are those which are ^h called gods, whether in heaven or in earth, (as there are gods many and lords many) ⁶ yet ⁱ to us ^h there is one God, the Father, ^k of whom ^h are all things, and we for him, and ^l one Lord, Jesus Christ, ^m by whom ^h are all things, and we by him. ⁷ Howbeit ^h there is not in every man this knowledge; for some ⁿ with conscience of the idol, unto this hour, eat it as a thing sacrificed to an idol, and their conscience being weak is ^o defiled.
⁸ But ^p food will not commend us to God; for neither if we eat are we the better, nor if we eat not are we the worse.
⁹ But ^q take heed lest by any means this liberty of yours become ^r a stumbling-block to the ^s weak. ¹⁰ For if any one see thee who hast knowledge sitting at meat in an idol's temple, will not his conscience, seeing that he is weak, be emboldened to eat the things sacrificed to idols? ¹¹ And ^t through thy knowledge will not he that is weak perish,—the brother for whom Christ died? ¹² But ^u when ye sin thus against the brethren, and wound their weak conscience, ye sin against Christ. ¹³ Wherefore, ^x if food is a stumbling-block to my brother, ^y I will eat no flesh while the world standeth, that I be not a stumbling-block to my brother.

9. AM ^a I not free? Am I not an apostle?
^a Have I not seen Jesus Christ our Lord? Are ^b not ye my work in the Lord?
² If I am not an apostle unto others, yet doubtless I am to you; for ^c the seal of mine apostleship are ye in the Lord.
³ My answer to them that call me in question is this. ⁴ Have ^d we not a right to eat and to drink? ⁵ Have we not a right to lead about with us a sister as a wife, as well as the other apostles, and as ^e the brethren of the Lord, and ^f Cephas? ⁶ Or have I and ^g Barnabas only no right to forbear working?
⁷ Who ever serveth as a soldier at his own charges? Who ^h planteth a vineyard, and eateth not of its fruit? Or who feedeth a flock, and eateth not of the milk of the flock? ⁸ Say I these things as a man?

Or saith not the law the same also? ⁹ For it is written in the law of Moses: ⁱ 'Thou shalt not muzzle an ox while treading out corn' [Deut. xxv. 4]. Is it for ^k the oxen that God careth? ¹⁰ Or saith he it altogether for our sakes? For ^l our sakes, no doubt, it was written; because ^m he that plougheth ought to plough in hope, and he that thresheth, to thresh in hope of partaking.
¹¹ If we have sown unto you spiritual things, is it a great thing if we shall reap your ⁿ carnal things? ¹² If others partake of ^o this right over you, do not we still more?
¹³ Nevertheless we have not used this right;
^p but we bear all things, that we may not hinder the gospel of Christ.
¹⁴ Do ye not know that ^q they that minister about the holy things eat of the things of the temple; and they that wait at the altar are partakers with the altar? ¹⁵ Even so ^r hath the Lord appointed for them that preach the gospel to live of the gospel.
¹⁶ But ^s I have used none of these things;
neither have I written these things that it should be so done unto me; for ^t it were better for me to die than that any one should make my glorying void. ¹⁷ For though I preach the gospel, I have nothing to glory of; for ^u necessity is laid upon me, yea woe is unto me, if I preach not the gospel! ¹⁸ For ^v if I do this thing willingly, I have a reward; but if against my will,
^x a stewardship of the gospel hath been entrusted to me. ¹⁹ What then is my reward?
Verily that, ^y when I preach the gospel,
I may make the gospel of Christ without charge, that I use not to the full my right in the gospel.
²⁰ For though I am free from all men, yet I made myself servant unto all, that I might gain the more. ²¹ And ^z unto the Jews I became as a Jew, that I might gain Jews; to them that are under the law, as under the law, (though not myself under the law), that I might gain them that are under the law; ²² to ^a them that are without law, as without law, (^b though not without law to God, but under the law to Christ), that I might gain them that are without law; ²³ to ^c the weak I became as weak, that I might gain the weak; I am become all things to all men, ^d that I may by all means save some. ²⁴ And I do all things; for the gospel's sake, that I may be a partaker thereof with them.
²⁵ Know ye not that they who run in a race run all, but one receiveth the prize?
So ^e run that ye may obtain. ²⁶ And every man who contendeth for the prize* is temperate in all things. Now they do it to obtain a corruptible crown, but we ^fan incorruptible. ^gI therefore so run, as not uncertainly; ^hso fight I, as not beating the air; ⁱbut ^jI keep under my body and bring it into subjection; lest by any means, when I have preached to others, I myself should be rejected ^kt.

The necessity of self-control and separation from evil which by the sins of the ancient Israelites, and their consequent rejection.

10. MOREOVER, I would not, brethren, that ye should be ignorant, that all our fathers were under ^athe cloud, and all passed through ^bthe sea, ^cand were all baptized unto Moses in the cloud and in the sea, ^dand all ate the same ^espiritual meat, ^fand all drank the same ^gspiritual drink; for they drank of a spiritual rock that ^hfollowed them, and that rock was Christ: ⁱbut with the greater part of them God was not well pleased; for they ^jwere overthrown in the wilderness.

^kNow ^lthese things came to pass as examples; for us; to the intent that we should not lust after evil things, as ^mthey also lusted. ⁿNeither be ye idolaters, as ^owere some of them; as it is written: 'The people sat down to eat and drink, and rose up to play' [Exod. xxxii. 6]. ^pNeither ^qlet us commit fornication, as some of them committed, and there fell in one day three and twenty thousand. ^rNeither let us tempt Christ^s, as ^tsome of them also tempted, and were destroyed by the serpents. ^uNeither murmur ye, as ^vsome of them also murmured, and ^wwere destroyed by ^xthe destroyer. ^yNow all these things happened unto them by way of example; and ^zthey were written for our admonition, ^aupon whom the ends of the world are come. ^bWherefore ^clet him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall.

^dThere hath no temptation taken you but such as is common to man; but God is faithful, ^ewho will not suffer you to be tempted above what ye are able, but will with the temptation also make a way to escape, that ye may be able to bear it.

Caution (14) against fellowship with idolatry, (21) which is a virtual abjuration of Christ, and (23) against such a use of liberty as may ensnare the consciences of others.

^aWHEREFORE, my beloved, ^bflee from idolatry. ^cI speak as to wise men; ^dbut judge ye what I say. ^eThe ^fcup of blessing which we bless, is it not a ^gparticipation in the blood of Christ? The ^hbread which we break, is it not a participation in the body of Christ? ⁱBecause ^jwe being many are one bread, and one body; for we are all partakers of the one bread. ^kBehold ^lIsrael after the flesh; ^mare not they that eat of the sacrifices partakers with the altar?

ⁿWhat say I then? That ^oan idol is any thing, or that what is sacrificed to idols is any thing? ^pNay, but that the things which the Gentiles ^qsacrifice, ^rthey sacrifice to devils^s, and not to God? [1st Cor. xxxii. 17]; and I would not that ye should be partakers with devils. ^tYe ^ucannot drink the cup of the Lord and of the cup of devils; ye cannot partake of the Lord's table and of the table of devils. ^vWhat, do we ^wprovoke the Lord to jealousy? Are ^xwe stronger than he?

ⁿWhether ^othen ye eat or drink, or whatsoever ye do, do all to the glory of God. ^pGive ^qno occasion of stumbling, either to Jews, or to Greeks, or to ^rthe church of God; ^seven as I please all men in all things, not seeking mine own profit, but that of the many, that they may be saved. ^tBe ^uye followers of me, even as I also am of Christ.

woman that prayeth or prophesieth with her head uncovered dishonoureth her head; for it is one and the same thing as if she were shaven. ⁶ For if the woman be not covered, let her also be shorn; but if it be a shame for a woman to be shorn or shaven, let her be covered. ⁷ For a man indeed ought not to cover his head, forasmuch as ⁸ he is the image and glory of God; but the woman is the glory of the man. ⁸ For ⁹ the man is not from the woman, but the woman from the man; ⁹ neither ¹⁰ was the man created for the sake of the woman, but the woman for the sake of the man. ¹⁰ For this cause ought the woman to have a token of authority on her head ¹¹ because of the angels. ¹¹ Nevertheless neither is the man without the woman, ¹² nor the woman without the man, in the Lord; ¹² for as the woman is from the man, even so also the man is by the woman; ¹³ but all things from God. ¹³ Judge ¹⁴ in yourselves; is it seemly that a woman should pray unto God uncovered? ¹⁴ Doth not even nature itself teach you that if a man have long hair it is a shame unto him, ¹⁵ but if a woman have long hair it is a glory to her? For her hair is given her for a covering.

¹⁶ But ¹⁷ if any one seemeth to be contentious, we have no such custom, neither the churches of God.

Concerning the celebration of the Lord's Supper.

¹⁷ BUT in giving you this charge I praise you not, that ye come together not for the better, but for the worse. ¹⁸ For first of all, when ye come together as a church, ¹⁹ I hear that there are divisions among you; and I partly believe it; ²⁰ for there must also be ²¹ sects among you, ²² that they that are approved may be made manifest among you.

²⁰ When therefore ye come together into one place, there is no eating of the Lord's supper; ²¹ for in eating each one taketh before another his own supper; and one is hungry, and ²² another is drunken. ²² What, ²³ have ye not houses to eat and to drink in? or despise ye ²⁴ the church of God, and ²⁵ put to shame those that have not? What shall I say to you? Shall I praise you in this? I praise you not.

²³ For ²⁴ I received from the Lord that which also I delivered unto you, ²⁵ that the Lord Jesus, on the night in which he was betrayed, took bread, ²⁶ and when he had given thanks, he brake it, and said: Take, eat; this is my body which is broken for you; this do in remembrance of me. ²⁷ After the same manner also he took the cup, after they had supped, saying: This cup is the New Covenant in my ²⁸ blood; this do, as often as ye drink it, in remembrance of me. ²⁹ For as often as ye eat this bread and drink the cup, ye show forth the Lord's death, ³⁰ till he come.

²⁷ So that ²⁸ whosoever shall eat this bread or drink the cup of the Lord unworthily, ²⁹ shall be guilty concerning the body and blood of the Lord. ³⁰ But ³¹ let a man examine himself, and so let him eat of the bread and drink of the cup. ³² For he that eateth and drinketh ³³ eateth and drinketh ³⁴ judgment to himself when he discerneth not the Lord's body. ³⁵ For this cause many ³⁶ are weak and sickly among you, and many fall asleep. ³⁷ For ³⁸ if we judged ³⁹ ourselves, we should not be judged; ⁴⁰ but when we are judged ⁴¹ we are chastened by the Lord, that we may not be condemned with the world. ⁴² Wherefore, my brethren, when ye come together to eat, wait one for another; ⁴³ and if any one is hungry let him eat at home; that ye come not together unto judgment. And the rest I will set in order when ⁴⁴ I come.

Concerning the spiritual gifts—their nature and purpose, and their diversity combined with unity.

12. NOW ¹ concerning the spiritual gifts, brethren, I would not have you ignorant. ² Ye know ³ that ye were Gentiles, carried away unto the dumb idols, even as ye were led. ⁴ Wherefore I give you to understand ⁵ that no one speaking by the Spirit of God saith, Accursed be Jesus; and ⁶ no one can say, Jesus is Lord, but by the Holy Spirit. ⁷ ⁸ Now ⁹ there are diversities of gifts, but ¹⁰ the same Spirit; ¹¹ and ¹² there are diversities of ministrations, but the same Lord; ¹³ and there are diversities of operations, but it is the same God ¹⁴ who worketh all in all.

¹⁵ But ¹⁶ to each one is given the manifestation of the Spirit, ¹⁷ for that which is profitable. ¹⁸ For to one is given through the Spirit ¹⁹ a word of wisdom, and to another a ²⁰ word of knowledge according to the same Spirit, ²¹ to ²² another faith by the same Spirit, and to another ²³ gifts of healing by the same Spirit, ²⁴ to ²⁵ another the working of miracles, and to another ²⁶ prophecy, to another ²⁷ discernment of spirits, and to another ²⁸ divers kinds of tongues, and to another ²⁹ the interpretation of tongues. ³⁰ But all these worketh the one and selfsame Spirit, ³¹ distributing to every one severally ³² as he willeth.

so also is Christ. ¹³ For ² in one Spirit we were all baptized into one body, ^a whether Jews or Greeks, whether bond or free; and we ^b were all made to drink of one Spirit.

¹⁴ For the body is not one member, but many. ¹⁵ If the foot should say, Because I am not a hand I am not of the body, is it therefore not of the body? ¹⁶ And if the ear should say, Because I am not an eye I am not of the body, is it therefore not of the body? ¹⁷ If the whole body were an eye, where would be the hearing? If the whole were hearing, where would be the smelling? ¹⁸ But now hath ^c God set the members every one of them in the body, ^d as it hath pleased him. ¹⁹ And if they were all one member, where would be the body? ²⁰ But now are there many members, yet but one body. ²¹ And the eye cannot say unto the hand, I have no need of thee; nor again the head to the feet, I have no need of you. ²² Nay, much more those members of the body which seem to be more feeble are necessary; ²³ and those which we think to be less honourable parts of the body, upon these we bestow more abundant honour; and our uncomely parts have more abundant comeliness; ²⁴ for our comely parts have no need. But God hath tempered the body together, having given more abundant honour to the part which lacked; ²⁵ that there may be no schism in the body, but that the members may have the same care one for another; ²⁶ and ^e if one member suffereth all the members suffer with it, or one member is honoured, all the members rejoice with it.

Praise of love—(ch. 13. 1) without which all spiritual gifts, and even self-sacrifices, are worthless—(4) Its excellent attributes; and its pre-eminence not only (8) over the spiritual gifts which pass away, but also (13) among the Christian virtues which will endure for ever.

³¹ NOW ^a desire earnestly the best gifts; and yet show I unto you a more excellent way. ¹³ Though I speak with the tongues of men and of angels, ^b and have not love, I am become as sounding brass or a tinkling cymbal. ² And though I have the gift of prophecy, and understand all mysteries* and all knowledge, and though I have all faith ^d so as to remove mountains, and have not love, I am nothing. ³ And ^e though I bestow all my goods to feed the poor, and though I give up my body to be burned, and have not love, it profiteth me nothing.

⁸ Love never faileth; but whether there be prophecies, they will come to an end; whether there be tongues, they will cease; whether there be knowledge, it will vanish away. ⁹ For ^p we know in part, and we prophesy in part; ¹⁰ but when that which is perfect is come, then that which is in part will come to an end. ¹¹ When I was a child, I spake as a child, I felt as a child, I thought as a child; but since I have become a man, I have put away childish things. ¹² For ^q now we see through a glass^r obscurely, but then ^r face to face; now I know in part, but then shall I fully know, even as also I am known. ¹³ And now abideth faith, hope, love, these three; but ^s the greatest of these is love.

The superiority of the gift of prophecy over that of speaking with tongues—(23) Directions respecting the exercise of the spiritual gifts in the public assemblies.

14. FOLLOW ^a after love, and earnestly desire the spiritual gifts, but chiefly that ye may prophesy^t. ² For he that speaketh in an unknown tongue speaketh not unto men but unto God, for no man understandeth him, howbeit in the spirit he speaketh mysteries^u: ³ but he that prophesieth speaketh unto men to edification and exhortation and comfort. ⁴ He ^b that speaketh in an unknown tongue edifieth himself, but he that prophesieth ^c edifieth the church. ⁵ I would that ye all spake with tongues, but rather that ye prophesied; for greater is he that prophesieth than he that speaketh with tongues, ^d except he interpret, that the church may receive edification. ⁶ And now, brethren, if I come unto you speaking with tongues, what shall I profit you, except I speak to you either by ^e revelation, or by knowledge, or by prophesying, or by teaching?

give a distinction in the sounds how shall it be known what is piped or harped? ⁸ For if the trumpet give an uncertain sound, who will prepare himself for battle? ⁹ So likewise ye, except ye utter by the tongue words easy to be understood, how shall it be known what is spoken? For ye will be speaking into the air. ¹⁰ There are, it may be, so many kinds of languages* in the world, and no one of them is without signification: ¹¹ if then I know not the meaning of the language†, I shall be unto him that speaketh a foreigner, and he that speaketh will be a foreigner unto me.

¹² Even so ye, forasmuch as ye are earnestly desirous of spiritual gifts, seek that ye may ^o abound in them to the edification of the church. ¹³ Wherefore let him that speaketh in an unknown tongue ^h pray that he may interpret. ¹⁴ For if I pray in an unknown tongue, my spirit prayeth but my understanding is unfruitful. ¹⁵ What is it then? I will pray with the spirit, and I will pray [†] with the understanding also; ^h I will sing with the spirit, and [†] I will sing with the understanding also. ¹⁶ Else when thou shalt bless with the spirit, how shall he that occupieth the place of the unlearned say ^m the Amen at thy giving of thanks, seeing he understandeth not what thou sayest? ¹⁷ For thou indeed givest thanks well, but the other is not edified. ¹⁸ I thank God, I speak with tongues more than ye all; ¹⁹ yet in the church I had rather speak five words with my understanding, that I may teach others also, than ten thousand words in an unknown tongue. ²⁰ Brethren, ⁿ be not children in your understanding: howbeit in malice be ye children, but in your understanding be men.

²¹ In ^o the Law it is written: 'With men of other tongues and with others' lips will I speak unto this people, and yet for all that will they not hear me' [Isa. xxviii. 11, 12], saith the Lord. ²² So that the tongues are ^p for a sign, not to them that believe, but to unbelievers; but the prophesying ^q serveth not for unbelievers, ^q but for them that believe.

²³ If therefore the whole church be come together, and all speak with tongues, and there come in those that are unlearned or unbelievers, ^r will they not say that ye are mad? ²⁴ But if all prophesy, and there come in one that is an unbeliever or unlearned, ^s he is convicted by all, he is judged by all: ²⁵ the secrets of his heart are made manifest; and so, falling down on his face, he will worship God, and report ^t that God is among you of a truth.

²⁶ How is it then, brethren? When ye come together, each one of you hath a psalm, ^z hath a teaching, hath a tongue, hath a revelation, hath an interpretation. Let ^y all things be done unto edification. ²⁷ If any one speaketh in an unknown tongue, let it be by two, or at the most by three, and that in turn, and let one interpret; ²⁸ but if there be no interpreter, let him keep silence in the church, and let him speak to himself and to God. ²⁹ Of the prophets let two or three speak, and ^z let the rest judge. ³⁰ If any thing ^a be revealed to another that sitteth by, let the first hold his peace; ³¹ for ye can all prophesy one by one; that all may learn, and all may be comforted. ³² And the spirits of the prophets are subject to the prophets; ³³ for God is not a God of confusion, but ^b of peace, as in all the churches of the saints.

³⁴ Let ^c your women keep silence in the churches; for it is not permitted unto them to speak, but ^d to be in subjection, ^e as also saith the Law: ³⁵ and if they desire to learn any thing, let them ask their own husbands at home; for it is a shame for a woman to speak in the church.

³⁶ What, I came the word of God forth from you? or came it unto you alone? ³⁷ If ^g any one thinketh himself to be a prophet or spiritual, let him acknowledge that the things that I write unto you are commandments of the Lord; ³⁸ but ^h if any man is ignorant, let him be ignorant.

The Christian doctrine of the resurrection of the dead—(1) Introductory statement of the gospel, (12) which is based upon the fact of Christ's resurrection—(20) His resurrection and universal dominion secure the resurrection of his people, and (24) the destruction of death—(29) The denial of a future life makes all suffering and sacrifice for Christ's sake irrational, and takes away the chief motive to holy living.

15. MOREOVER, brethren, I declare unto you the gospel ^a which I preached unto you, ^b which also ye received, and ^c wherein ye stand: ² by ^d which also ye are being saved, ^e if ye keep in memory what I preached unto you; unless ^f ye believed in vain.

³ For ^g I delivered unto you first of all that which I also received, ^h that Christ died for our sins ⁱ according to the Scriptures, ⁴ and that he was buried, and that he rose again the third day ^k according to the Scriptures, ⁵ and ^l that he appeared

¹² Now if Christ is preached that he is risen from the dead, ¹³ how say some among you that there is no resurrection of the dead? ¹³ But if there be no resurrection of the dead, ¹⁴ then is Christ not risen. ¹⁴ And if Christ be not risen, then is our preaching vain, and your faith also is vain. ¹⁵ Yea, and we are found false witnesses of God; because ¹⁶ we testified of God that he raised up Christ; whom he raised not up, if so be that the dead rise not. ¹⁶ For if the dead rise not, then neither is Christ risen; ¹⁷ and if Christ is not risen, your faith is vain, ¹⁸ ye are still in your sins. ¹⁸ Then they also that are ¹⁹ fallen asleep in Christ have perished. ¹⁹ If ²⁰ in this life only we have hope in Christ, we are of all men the most miserable.

²⁰ But now ²¹ is Christ risen from the dead*, ²² the firstfruits of them that sleep. ²¹ For ²³ since by man came death, ²⁴ by man came also the resurrection of the dead. ²² For ²⁵ as in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive. ²³ But ²⁶ each in his own order; Christ the firstfruits, afterwards they that are Christ's ²⁷ at his coming.

²⁴ Then ²⁸ cometh the end, when he delivereth up ²⁹ the kingdom to God, even the Father; when he shall have put down all rule and all authority and power: ²⁵ for he must reign ³⁰ till he hath put all enemies under his feet. ²⁶ The ³¹ last enemy to be destroyed is death. ²⁷ For He ³² hath put all things under his feet [Psa. viii. 6]. But when he shall declare that all things are put under him, it is manifest that he will be excepted who put all things under him. ²⁸ And ³³ when all things have been subjected unto him, then ³⁴ will the Son also himself be subject unto him who put all things under him, that God may be all in all.

²⁹ Else what will they do who are baptized for the dead, if the dead rise not at all? Why are they then baptized for the dead? ³⁰ And why stand we in jeopardy every hour? ³¹ I protest, by ³² my rejoicing in you which I have in Christ Jesus our Lord, ³³ I die daily. ³² If after the manner of men ³⁴ I have fought with beasts at Ephesus, what advantageth it me if the dead rise not? ³⁵ Let us eat and drink; for to-morrow we die.* [Isa. xxii. 13, Sept.] ³³ Be not deceived; ³⁶ evil communications corrupt good manners. ³⁴ Awake ³⁷ to righteousness, and sin not; ³⁸ for some have not the knowledge of God. ³⁵ I speak this to your shame.

Objections answered—(35) Resurrection to life after death, and (37) the change in form of the raised body, illustrated by analogies from nature—(42) The natural will be changed into a spiritual body resembling the glorified body of Christ—(50) a change necessary to fit it for the celestial kingdom—(54) Triumphant thanksgiving, and (58) exhortation.

³⁵ BUT some one will say: ³⁶ How are the dead raised up? And with what kind of body do they come? ³⁶ Thou ³⁷ foolish one, ³⁸ that which thou sowest is not made to live except it die; ³⁹ and that which thou sowest, thou sowest not the body that will be, but a bare grain, it may chance of wheat or of some other grain; ⁴⁰ but ⁴¹ God giveth it a body, as it hath pleased him, and to each kind of seed a body of its own.

³⁹ All flesh is not the same flesh; but there is one kind of flesh of men, another flesh of beasts, another of fishes, and another of birds. ⁴⁰ There are also celestial bodies, and bodies terrestrial; but the glory of the celestial is one, and the glory of the terrestrial is another. ⁴¹ There ⁴² is one glory of the sun, and another glory of the moon, and another glory of the stars; for one star differeth from another star in glory.

⁴² So ⁴³ also is the resurrection of the dead. It is sown ⁴⁴ in corruption, it is raised in incorruption; ⁴⁵ it is sown in dishonour, it is raised in glory; it is sown in weakness, it is raised in power; ⁴⁶ it is sown a natural* body, it is raised a spiritual body. As there is a natural body, there is also a spiritual body. ⁴⁵ And so it is written: 'The first man Adam became a living soul' [Gen. ii. 7]; ⁴⁷ the last Adam is ⁴⁸ a life-giving spirit. ⁴⁶ Howbeit that was not first which is spiritual, but that which is natural, and afterwards that which is spiritual. ⁴⁷ The ⁴⁹ first man is of the earth, earthy, the second man is ⁵⁰ the Lord from heaven. ⁴⁸ As is the earthy, ⁴⁹ such are they also that are earthy; ⁵⁰ and as is the heavenly, such are they also that are heavenly. ⁵¹ And ⁵² as we have borne the image of the earthy, ⁵³ we shall also bear the image of the heavenly.

⁵⁴ So when this corruptible shall have put on incorruption, and this mortal shall have put on immortality, then will be brought to pass the saying that is written: 'Death is swallowed up in victory' [Isa. xxv. 8]. ⁵⁵ 'O death, where is thy sting? O grave, where is thy victory?' [Hos. xiii. 14, Sept.] ⁵⁶ The ⁵⁷ sting of death is sin, and ⁵⁸ the strength of sin is the law. ⁵⁹ But thanks be to God who giveth us ⁶⁰ the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ.

Directions respecting a collection about to be made among the Gentile churches for the relief of suffering Christians in Judea:—(5) Personal notices, (15) exhortations, salutations, and (21) autograph conclusion.

16. NOW concerning ¹ the collection for the saints, as I gave order to ² the churches of Galatia, so also do ye. ³ Upon ⁴ e the first day of the week let every one of you lay by him in store, ⁵ as he may be prospered; that there be no collections when I come. ⁶ And when I am come, whomsoever ye shall approve, them will I send with letters, to carry your liberality unto Jerusalem; ⁷ and ⁸ if it be to meet that I go also, they shall go with me.

⁹ Now I will come unto you ¹⁰ f when I shall have passed through Macedonia; (for I do pass through Macedonia); ¹¹ and it may be that I shall abide, or even ¹² g winter, with you, that ye may ¹³ h bring me on my journey whithersoever I may go. ¹⁴ For I do not desire to see you now by the way; but I hope to tarry a while with you, ¹⁵ if the Lord permit. ¹⁶ But I shall tarry at Ephesus until Pentecost; ¹⁷ ¹⁸ for ¹⁹ k a great and effectual door is opened unto me, and ²⁰ l there are many adversaries.

²⁰ Now ²¹ m if Timothy come, see that he may be with you without fear; for ²² n he doeth the work of the Lord, as I also do. ²³ Let ²⁴ o no man therefore despise him; but conduct him forth in peace, that he may come unto me; for I look for him, with ²⁵ p the brethren.

²⁶ As touching ²⁷ our brother ²⁸ q Apollos, I greatly desired him to come unto you with the brethren; but his will was not at all to come at this time; but he will come when he hath a convenient opportunity.

²⁹ Watch ³⁰ r ye, ³¹ e stand fast in the faith, ³² t quit you like men, ³³ u be strong. ³⁴ Let ³⁵ x all you do be done with love.

³⁶ Now I beseech you, brethren—ye know ³⁷ y the house of Stephanas, that it is ³⁸ z the firstfruits of Achaia, and ³⁹ that they have set themselves to minister unto the saints —⁴⁰ that ⁴¹ a ye submit yourselves to such, and to every one that helpeth in the work and labour.

⁴² I am glad of the coming of Stephanas and Fortunatus and Achaicus; ⁴³ b for that which was lacking on your part they supplied; ⁴⁴ c for they refreshed my spirit and yours. Acknowledge ⁴⁵ e therefore them that are such.

⁵¹ The ⁵² g salutation of ⁵³ me Paul with mine own hand. ⁵⁴ If any man loveth not the Lord Jesus Christ, let him be Anathema-Maran atha*.

⁵⁵ The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ ⁵⁶ be with you. ⁵⁷ My love ⁵⁸ be with you all in Christ Jesus. Amen.

The first Epistle to the Corinthians was written from Philippi† by Stephanas, and Fortunatus, and Achaicus, and Timothy.

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE

CORINTHIANS.

Introductory salutation; (3) thanksgiving for Divine consolation and deliverance—(12) The fellowship between the apostle and his disciples.

1. PAUL, ^a an apostle of Jesus Christ by the will of God, and ^b Timothy our brother, ^c unto the church of God which is at Corinth, ^d with all the saints who are in all Achaia: ^e Grace ^f be to you and peace from God our Father and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

^g Blessed ^h be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of mercies, and God of all comfort, ⁱ who ^j comforteth us in all our tribulation, ^k that we may be able to comfort them that are in any trouble, by the comfort wherewith we ourselves are comforted by God. ^l For as ^m the sufferings of Christ abound in us, even so our comfort also aboundeth through Christ. ⁿ And whether we are afflicted, ^o it is for your comfort and salvation, which is effectual in your endurance of the same sufferings, which we also suffer, ^p or whether we are comforted, ^q it is for your comfort and salvation; and our hope is stedfast on your behalf; knowing, that ^r as ye are partakers of the sufferings, so will ^s ye be also of the comfort.

^t For we would not, brethren, have you ignorant concerning ^u our tribulation which came to us in Asia; that we were oppressed out of measure, beyond our strength, inasmuch that we despaired even of life; ^v yea, we had the sentence of death within ourselves; that we might ^w not trust in ourselves, ^x but in God who raiseth the dead; ^y who ^z delivered us from so great a death, and doth deliver; in whom we trust that he will still deliver us; ^{aa} ye also ^{ab} helping together on our behalf by your prayer; that ^{ac} for the mercy bestowed upon us by the means of many persons thanks may be given by many on our behalf.

^{ad} For our rejoicing is this, ^{ae} the testimony of our conscience, that in simplicity and ^{af} godly sincerity, ^{ag} not in fleshly wisdom, but in the grace of God, we have ^{ah} behaved ourselves in the world, and more abundantly towards you. ^{ai} For we write no other things unto you than what ye read or acknowledge, and I trust ye will acknowledge even to the end; ^{aj} as also ye have acknowledged us in part, ^{ak} that we are your rejoicing, even as ^{al} ye also are ours, in the day of the Lord Jesus.

The apostle's vindication of his delay in re-visiting Corinth—(ch. 2. 6) Directions for the restoration of a penitent offender—(12) His anxiety respecting the church, and (14) thanksgiving to God for the success of his ministry.

^{am} AND in this confidence ^{an} I was minded to come unto you before, that ye might have ^{ao} a second benefit, ^{ap} and to pass by you into Macedonia, and ^{aq} to come again out of Macedonia unto you, and by you to be brought on my way towards Judea.

^{ar} When I therefore was thus minded did I at all use lightness? Or the things that I purpose, do I purpose ^{as} according to the flesh, that with me there should be Yea yea, and Nay nay? ^{at} But as God is true, our word towards you is ^{au} not Yea and Nay. ^{av} For ^{aw} the Son of God, Jesus Christ, who was preached among you by us, even by me and ^{ax} Silas and Timothy, ^{ay} was not Yea and nay, but hath become Yea in him. ^{az} For as to all the promises of God, in him is the Yea, wherefore also through him is the Amen ^{ba} for glory unto God by us.

^{bb} Now ^{bc} he who establisheth us with you in Christ and ^{bd} who anointed us, is God; ^{be} who ^{bf} also sealed us, and ^{bg} gave the earnest of the Spirit in our hearts.

^{bh} Moreover ^{bi} I call God for a witness upon my soul, ^{bj} that to spare you I came not again unto Corinth. ^{bk} Not ^{bl} because we have dominion over your faith, ^{bm} but we are helpers of your joy; for ^{bn} by faith ye stand. ^{bo} But I determined this with myself, that I would not come again to you in sorrow. ^{bp} For if I make you sorrowful, who then is he that maketh me glad, but the same that is made sorrowful by me? ^{bq} And I wrote unto you for this very purpose, that when I came ^{br} I might not have sorrow from those in whom I ought to rejoice; ^{bs} having confidence in you all, that my joy is the joy of you all. ^{bt} For out of much affliction and anguish of heart I wrote unto you, with many tears; ^{bu} not that ye might be made sorrowful, but that ye might know the love which I have more abundantly unto you.

letter, but of the spirit; for ^l the letter killeth, ^m but the spirit giveth life.

⁷ But if ⁿ the ministration of death ^o engraven in letters on stones was glorious, ^p so that the children of Israel could not stedfastly behold the face of Moses, because of the glory of his countenance, which glory was to be done away, ⁸ how shall not ^q the ministration of the spirit be still more glorious! ⁹ For if the ministration of condemnation was glory, much more doth ^r the ministration of righteousness exceed in glory. ¹⁰ For even that which was made glorious had no glory in this respect, by reason of the glory that excelleth. ¹¹ For if that which is done away was glorious*, much more that which remaineth is glorious†.

¹² Seeing then that we have such hope, we use great plainness; of speech; ¹³ and we do not as Moses, who ^s put a vail over his face, that the children of Israel might not look stedfastly upon the end of that which was to be done away. ¹⁴ But their minds were blinded; for unto this day remaineth the same vail untaken away upon the reading of the Old Testament; which vail is done away in Christ; ¹⁵ but even unto this day, when Moses is read, a vail is upon their heart. ¹⁶ But ^t when it turneth to the Lord, ^u the vail is taken away. ¹⁷ Now ^v the Lord is the Spirit; ^w and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty. ¹⁸ And we all with unveiled face beholding, ^z as in a mirror, ^a the glory of the Lord, ^b are being changed into the same image from glory to glory, even as by the Lord, the Spirit.

4. Therefore seeing we have this ministry, ^c even as we received mercy, ^d we are not faint-hearted; ² but we have renounced the hidden things of shame; not walking in craftiness, ^e nor handling the word of God deceitfully; but ^f by the manifestation of the truth ^g commending ourselves to every man's conscience in the sight of God. ³ And even if our gospel is veiled, ^h it is veiled to them that are perishing; ⁴ in whom ⁱ the god of this world ^k hath blinded the minds of the unbelieving, that the light of the glorious gospel of Christ, ^l who is the image of God, might not shine forth unto them. ⁵ For ^m we preach not ourselves, but Christ Jesus, the Lord, and ^o ourselves your servants for Jesus' sake. ⁶ For it is God, ^p who commanded light to shine out of darkness, who shone in our hearts, to give ^q the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ.

The apostolic ministry, weak in itself, is sustained and made efficacious by Divine power and grace; and (16) triumphs in the assurance of a glorious immortality.

7 BUT we have this treasure in earthen vessels, ^a that the excellency of the power may be of God, and not of us; ⁸ we are ^b troubled on every side ^c yet not distressed, perplexed yet not in despair, ⁹ persecuted yet not forsaken, ^d struck down yet not destroyed; ¹⁰ always ^e bearing about in the body the dying of the Lord Jesus, ^f that the life also of Jesus may be made manifest in our body. ¹¹ For we who live ^g are always being delivered up unto death for Jesus' sake, that the life also of Jesus may be made manifest in our mortal flesh.

¹² So then death worketh in us, but life in you. ¹³ But we having ^h the same spirit of faith, according to that which is written, 'I believed and therefore have I spoken' [Psa. cxvi. 10], we also believe and therefore speak; ¹⁴ knowing that ⁱ he who raised up the Lord Jesus will raise up us also with ^j Jesus, ^k and will present us with you. ¹⁵ For ^l all things are for your sakes, that ^m the grace abounding by means of many may cause thanksgiving to abound unto the glory of God.

faith, not by sight), ⁸ we are confident, I say, and ⁹ willing rather to be absent from the body and to be at home with the Lord. ⁹ Wherefore also we earnestly strive that ^g whether at home or absent we may be well-pleasing unto him. ¹⁰ For ^h we must all be made manifest before the judgment seat of Christ; ⁱ that every one may receive the things done in the body, according to what he hath done, whether it be good or bad.

The responsibilities, trials, and motives of the gospel ministry—(ch. 6. 1) Exhortations, admonitions, warnings, and (11) appeal for sympathy—(ch. 7. 5) Concerning the happy effects of his former epistle.

11 KNOWING therefore ^a the fear of the Lord, ^b we persuade men; ^c but we are already made manifest unto God, ^d and I hope that we are made manifest also in your consciences. ¹² For ^e we are not commending ourselves again unto you, but are giving you occasion to glory on our behalf; that ye may have somewhat to answer them that glory in appearance and not in heart. ¹³ For ^f whether we were beside ourselves it was for God, or whether we are of sound mind it is for you. ¹⁴ For the love of Christ ^g constraineth us; because we have thus judged, that ^h one died for all, ⁱ and therefore all died; and he died for all, ^j that they who live should not henceforth live unto themselves, but unto him who died and rose again for them.

¹⁶ Wherefore ^k henceforth know we no one after the flesh; yea though we have known Christ after the flesh, yet now we know him thus no more. ¹⁷ Therefore if any one is ^l in Christ he is ^m a new creature: ^t the ⁿ old things have passed away; behold, all things are become new. ¹⁸ And ^o all things are of God, ^p who reconciled us to himself through Jesus Christ, and ^q gave to us the ministry of reconciliation; ¹⁹ namely that ^r in Christ God was reconciling the world unto himself, ^s not imputing their trespasses unto them; and he hath committed unto us the word of the reconciliation. ²⁰ We then are ^t ambassadors for Christ, as though God were beseeching you by us; we pray you on behalf of Christ, ^u be ye reconciled to God. ²¹ For ^v him who knew no sin, made he to be sin for us, that we might be made ^w the righteousness of God in him.

6. We then also, as ^x workers together with him, beseech you ^y not to receive the grace of God in vain—² For he saith, 'I heard thee in a time accepted, and in a day of salvation I succoured these' [Isa. xlix. 8]; ⁶ behold, now is the accepted time; behold, now is the day of salvation—³ Giving ^e no cause of offence* in any thing, that the ministry may not be blamed; ⁴ but in every thing recommending ourselves ^d as ministers of God, ^e in much patience, in tribulations, ^f in necessities, in distresses, ⁵ in ^g stripes, in imprisonments, ^h in tumults, in labours, in watchings, in fastings; ⁶ in ⁱ pureness, ^k in knowledge, in long-suffering, in kindness, ^l in the Holy Spirit, ^m in love unfeigned, ⁿ in ^o the word of truth, ^p in the power of God; by ^q the weapons of righteousness on the right hand and on the left; ⁸ through honour and dishonour, ⁹ through evil report and good report; as deceivers and yet true, ¹⁰ as unknown and yet well known, ^r as dying and behold we live, as chastened and not killed, ¹¹ as sorrowful ^s yet always rejoicing, as poor yet making many rich, as having nothing and yet possessing all things.

¹¹ O ye Corinthians, our mouth is open unto you, our heart is enlarged. ¹² Ye are not straitened in us, but ye are straitened in your own hearts; ¹³ now as a recompence in the same kind—I speak as unto my children—let your hearts also be enlarged.

² Receive us; ^c we wronged no one, we ruined no one, we defrauded no one. ³ I say not this to condemn you; for I have said before that ye are in our hearts, to die and live with you. ⁴ Great is my confidence in you, ^d great is my glorying on your account. ^e I am filled with comfort, I am exceedingly joyful in all our tribulation.

⁵ For indeed ^f when we came into Macedonia our flesh had no rest, but ^g we were troubled on every side; without ^h were fightings, within ⁱ were ^j fears. ⁶ Nevertheless ^k God, who comforteth those that are cast down, comforted us by the coming of Titus; ⁷ and not by his coming only, but by the consolation wherewith he was comforted in you, when he told us your earnest desire, your lamentation, your zeal for me; so that I rejoiced the more. ⁸ For ^k though I made you sorrowful by my letter, I do not repent it, though I did repent it; (for I perceive that that letter made you sorrowful, though it was but for a season); ⁹ now I rejoice, not that ye were made sorrowful, but that ye sorrowed unto ^l repentance; for ye were made sorrowful after a godly manner, that ye might receive damage from us in nothing. ¹⁰ For ^m godly sorrow worketh repentance unto salvation not to be repented of, ⁿ but the sorrow of the world worketh death.

¹³ Therefore we have been comforted; and in our comfort we rejoiced; the more exceedingly for the joy of Titus, because his spirit hath been refreshed by you all. ¹⁴ For if I boasted any thing to him, concerning you, I was not put to shame, but as we spake all things to you in truth, so also our boasting which ^s I made before Titus was found to be truth. ¹⁵ And his affection is more abundant towards you, whilst he remembereth ^t the obedience of you all, how with fear and trembling ye received him. ¹⁶ I rejoice therefore that ^u I have good courage concerning you in everything.

hath been bestowed on ^a the churches of Macedonia, ² how that ^b in a great trial of affliction ^c the abundance of their joy and their ^d deep poverty abounded unto the riches of their liberality. ³ For according to their power, I bear witness, yea and beyond their power, they were willing of themselves, ⁴ begging of us with much intreaty *, the ^e favour of sharing in the ministration to the saints. ⁵ And this not only as we expected, but they first gave themselves to the Lord, ^f and unto us by the will of God; ^g so that ^h we desired Titus, that as he had already begun, so he would also finish among you this grace also.

⁷ Now, as ^h ye abound in every thing, in faith and utterance and knowledge, and all earnestness, and in ⁱ your love to us, see ^k that ye abound in this grace also. ⁸ I ^l speak not by way of commandment, but by reason of the earnestness of others, and to prove the sincerity of your love. ⁹ For ye know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ^m though he was rich yet for your sakes ⁿ he became poor, that ye by his poverty might become rich. ¹⁰ And herein I give my opinion; for this is expedient for you, seeing that ye began before others not only to do but also to be ^o forward a year ago. ¹¹ Now therefore complete the doing of it; that as there was the readiness to will, so there may be a performance also out of that which ye have. ¹² For ^p if there is first a willing mind, it is accepted according to what a man hath, and not according to what he hath not.

¹³ For it is not that others may be eased and ye burdened, ¹⁴ but by an equality; that now at this time your abundance may be a supply for their want, in order that their abundance also may be a supply for your want; that there may be equality; ¹⁵ as it is written: 'He that had gathered much had nothing over, and he that had gathered little had no lack' [Exod. xvi. 18].

¹⁶ But thanks be to God who put the same earnest care into the heart of Titus for you; ¹⁷ for indeed he accepted ^q the exhortation; but being more zealous he went of his own accord unto you. ¹⁸ And we have sent with him ^r the brother whose praise in the gospel is throughout all the churches; ¹⁹ and not only so, but who was also ^s chosen by the churches to be our fellow-traveller, with this ^t gift, which is administered by us, ^u to the glory of the Lord himself, and for the declaration of our ready mind; ²⁰ taking care, that no man should blame us in the matter of this abundance which is administered by us; ²¹ providing ^x for what is honourable not only in the sight of the Lord but also in the sight of men. ²² And we have sent with them our brother whom we have oftentimes proved to be zealous in many things, but now much more zealous from the great confidence which he hath in you.

²³ Whether any do inquire respecting Titus, he is my partner and fellow-labourer concerning you; or our brethren be inquired of, they are ^y messengers * of the churches, and the glory of Christ. ²⁴ Wherefore show ye to them, and before the churches, the proof of your love, and of our ^z boasting on your behalf.

⁹ For as touching ^a the ministering to the saints it is superfluous for me to write to you. ² For I know your readiness of mind; ^b for which I boast of you to them of Macedonia, that ^c Achaia was ready a year ago; and your zeal hath stirred up very many ^t. ³ Yet ^d have I sent the brethren, lest our boasting of you should be in vain in this behalf, that, as I said, ^e ye may be ready; ⁴ lest haply if ^f any Macedonians come with me, and find you unprepared, we, (that we say not ye), should be put to shame in this confident boasting ^g. ⁵ I thought it necessary therefore to exhort the brethren to go before unto you, and to make up beforehand your bounty, whereof ye had notice before ^h, that the same may be ready, as ⁱ a matter of bounty and not as of covetousness.

⁶ But this I say, ^j He that soweth sparingly will reap also sparingly, and he that soweth bountifully will reap also bountifully. ⁷ Every one according as he hath purposed in his heart so let him give, ^k not grudgingly or of necessity; ^l for 'God loveth a cheerful giver.' [Prov. xxii. 8, Sept.] ⁸ And ^m God is able to make all grace abound towards you; that ye always having all sufficiency in every thing, may abound to every good work; ⁹ as it is written: 'He hath dispersed abroad, he hath given to the poor; his righteousness remaineth for ever' [Psa. cxii. 9].

¹⁰ Now he who supplieth seed to the sower and bread for food, will supply and multiply your seed sown, and increase the fruits of your ⁿ righteousness; ¹¹ while ye are enriched in every thing unto all bountifulness, ¹² which causeth through us thanksgiving to God. ¹² For the ministration of this service not only supplieth the wants of the saints, but also abundantly, through many thanksgivings unto God; ¹³ whilst by the experience of this ministration ^o they glorify God for your professed subjection* unto the gospel of Christ, and for the liberality of your^o contribution unto them and unto all men¹⁴; while they themselves also, with prayer for you, are longing after you, by reason of the exceeding^p grace of God in you. ¹⁵ Thanks be unto God^q for his unspeakable gift.

Indication of Paul's apostolic authority, and (8) its exercise over churches founded by his ministry.

10. NOW ^a I Paul myself beseech you, ^b by the meekness and gentleness of Christ, who in presence am lowly among you, but when absent ^c am bold towards you; ² but I entreat you^d that I may not be bold when I am present, with the confidence wherewith I think to be bold against some who think of us^e as if we walked according to the flesh.

³ For though we walk in the flesh, we do not war according to the flesh, (^f for ^f the weapons of our warfare are not carnal, but ^g mighty through God ^h to the casting down of strongholds), ⁵ casting ⁱ down reasonings, and every high thing that exalteth itself against the knowledge of God, and bringing every thought into captivity to the obedience of Christ; ⁶ and ^k being ready to punish all disobedience, when ^l your obedience is fulfilled.

⁷ Do ^m ye look on things after the outward appearance? If ⁿ any one trusteth to himself that he is Christ's, let him of himself think this again, that as he is Christ's, so also are^o we Christ's. ⁸ For even if I should boast somewhat more of ^p our authority, which the Lord hath given us for building you up and not for casting you down, ^q I shall not be ashamed. ⁹ That I may not seem as if I would terrify you by letters; ¹⁰ for ^r his letters, it is said, are weighty and powerful, but ^r his bodily presence is weak and his ^s speech contemptible. ¹¹ Let ^t such a one think this, that such as we are in word by letters when we are absent, such ^u will we be also in deed when we are present.

¹² For ^v we dare not make ourselves of the number or compare ourselves with some of those that commend themselves; but they measuring themselves among themselves, and comparing themselves with themselves, ^x are not wise. ¹³ But we will not boast of things without measure, ^y but according to the measure of the rule which God hath distributed to us, a measure to reach even unto you. ¹⁴ For we stretch not ourselves beyond our measure, as though we reached not unto you; ^z for we came as far as to you also in the gospel of Christ; ¹⁵ not boasting without our measure, ^a in other men's labours; but having hope, as your faith increaseth, to be enlarged among you, according to our rule, abundantly, ¹⁶ so as to preach the gospel in the regions beyond you, and not in another man's rule to boast of things made ready to our hand. ¹⁷ But ^b he that glorieth let him glory in the Lord^c [Jer. ix. 24]. ¹⁸ For ^c not he that commendeth himself is approved, but he ^d whom the Lord commendeth.

Apology for self commendation, necessitated by the charges and pretensions of false teachers —(13) His labours and sufferings in the service of the gospel.

11. WOULD that ye could bear with me in a little ^a folly; and indeed ye do bear with me. ² For I am ^b jealous over you with a godly jealousy; for ^c I betrothed you to one husband, ^d to present you as a chaste virgin to Christ. ³ But I fear lest by any means, as ^e the serpent beguiled Eve by his subtilty, so your minds ^f should be corrupted from your singleness of heart towards Christ. ⁴ For if indeed he that cometh preacheth ^g another Jesus whom we preached not, or if ye receive a different spirit which ye received not, or ^h a different gospel which ye accepted not, ye with reason bear with him. ⁵ For I reckon that ⁱ I am not a whit behind those very greatest apostles; ⁶ but though ^k I am unlearned^m in speech, yet am I not ^l in knowledge; but ^m we have in everything been made manifest to you before all men.

⁷ Or did I commit an offenceⁿ in abasing myself that ye might be exalted, because I preached to you the gospel of God without charge? ⁸ I robbed other churches, taking wages of them, for my ministry to you; ⁹ and when I was present with you and wanted, ^o I was a burden to no man; for that which was lacking to me ^p the brethren coming from Macedonia supplied. And in everything I kept myself ^q from being burdensome unto you, and so will I keep myself. ¹⁰ As ^r the truth of Christ is in me, ^s no man shall stop me from this boasting in the regions of Achaia. ¹¹ Wherefore? Because ^t I love you not? God knoweth. ¹² But what I do, that I will do, that I may cut off the occasion from them that desire an occasion; that wherein they boast, they may be found even as we are. ¹³ For such ^u are false apostles, ^v deceitful workmen, transforming themselves into apostles of Christ. ¹⁴ And no marvel; for even ^w Satan transformeth himself into an angel of light; ¹⁵ it is so a great thing therefore if his ministers also transform themselves as ministers of righteousness; ^a whose end shall be according to their works.

¹⁶ I say again, Let no one think me a fool; but if otherwise, yet even as a fool receive me, that I too may boast myself a little. ¹⁷ That which I speak, ^a I speak not after the Lord, but as it were foolishly, in this confidence of boasting. ¹⁸ Seeing that many boast after the flesh, ^b I will boast also. ¹⁹ For ye bear with fools gladly, ^c seeing ye yourselves are wise. ²⁰ For ye bear with him if one ^d bringeth you into bondage, if one devoureth you, if one seizeth ^e you, if one exalteth himself, if one smiteth you on the face. ²¹ I speak by way of reproach, as though ^e we were weak.

Howbeit ^f whereinsoever any one is bold (I speak foolishly) I am bold also. ²² Are they Hebrews? ^g So am I. Are they Israelites? ^h So am I. Are they the seed of Abraham? ⁱ So am I. Are they the ministers of Christ? (I speak as beside myself) ^j I am more; ^k in labours more abundantly, ^l in stripes above measure, in prisons more frequently, ^m in deaths often. ²³ From the Jews five times received I ⁿ forty stripes save one; ²⁴ thrice was I ^o beaten with rods, ²⁵ once was I stoned, thrice ^p I suffered shipwreck, a night and a day I have been in the deep; ²⁶ by journeyings often, by perils of rivers, by perils from robbers, ^q by perils from mine own countrymen, ^r by perils from the Gentiles, by perils in the city, by perils in the wilderness, by perils in the sea, by perils among false brethren; ²⁷ by weariness and painfulness, ^s in watchings often, ^t in hunger and thirst, in fastings often, in cold and nakedness. ²⁸ Besides the things that are without, ^u there is that which cometh upon me daily, ^v the care of all the churches. ²⁹ Who ^w is weak, and I am not weak? Who is offended, and I burn not?

³⁰ If I must needs boast, ^x I will boast of the things which concern mine infirmities. ³¹ The ^y God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who is blessed for evermore, knoweth that I lie not. ³² In ^z Damascus the governor under Aretas the king kept watch over the city of the Damascenes, desiring to apprehend me; ³³ and through a window I was let down by the wall in a basket, and escaped his hands,

Self-vindication continued—(1) Divine revelations, (5) of which he might boast; but (2) he rather boasts of his infirmities, as affording a manifestation of Christ's power and grace.

¹² IT is not expedient for me doubtless to boast; I will come to ^a visions and revelations of the Lord. ² I know a man ^b in Christ, fourteen years ago—whether in the body I know not, or whether out of the body I know not; God knoweth—such a one caught up to the ^c third heaven. ³ And I know such a man—whether in the body or out of the body I know not; God knoweth—that he was caught up into ^d paradise, and heard unspeakable words, which it is not lawful for a man to utter. ⁵ Of such a one will I boast; but ^e of myself I will not boast, but in mine infirmities. ⁶ For ^f if I should desire to boast, I shall not be a fool; for I shall say the truth; but I forbear, lest any one should think of me above what he seeth me to be, or what he heareth from me.

⁷ And lest I should be exalted above measure through the exceeding greatness of the revelations, there was given to me a ^g thorn in the flesh, ^h a messenger of Satan, to buffet me, lest I should be exalted above measure. ⁸ Concerning this thing I ⁱ besought the Lord thrice, that it might depart from me. ⁹ And he said unto me: ^k My grace is sufficient for thee; ^l for my strength is made perfect in weakness. Most gladly therefore ^m will I rather boast in my infirmities, ⁿ that the strength of Christ may rest upon me. ¹⁰ Therefore ^o I take pleasure in infirmities, in reproaches, in necessities, in persecutions, in distresses, ^p for Christ's sake; ^q for when I am weak, then am I strong.

Concluding exhortations and warnings, with special reference to his intended visit to Corinth.

¹¹ I AM become ^a a fool in boasting; ye have compelled me; for I ought to have been commended by you; for ^b in nothing was I behind those very greatest apostles, though ^c I am nothing. ¹² Truly ^d the signs of an apostle were wrought among you, in all patience, in signs and wonders and mighty works. ¹³ For what is there wherein ye were inferior to the other churches, except that ^e I myself was not a burden to you? Forgive me this wrong.

¹⁴ Behold, ^f the third time I am ready to come to you; and I will not be a burden to you, for ^g I seek not yours but you. ¹⁵ For the children ought not to lay up for the parents, but the parents for the children. ¹⁶ And ^h I will very gladly spend and be spent for your souls; though the more abundantly I love you the less I am loved.

¹⁷ But be it so, ⁱ I myself did not burden you; nevertheless, being crafty, I caught you with guile. ¹⁸ Did I take advantage of you by any of those whom I have sent

¹⁹ Have ye for some time* been thinking ⁿ that we are defending ourselves to you? We are speaking ^o before God in Christ; ^p but we do all things, dearly beloved, for your edification. ²⁰ For I fear lest when I come I may not find you such as I would, and that ^q I may be found by you such as ye would not; lest there be contentions, envyings, wraths, factions, slanderings, whisperings, swellings, tumults; ²¹ and lest when I come again, my God ^r will humble me among you, and I shall bewail many of those ^s who have sinned before, and have not repented of the uncleanness and ^t fornication and lasciviousness which they committed.

¹³. This third time I am coming to you. ^u In the mouth of two or three witnesses shall every matter ^v be established' [Deut. xix. 15]. ² I have said already, and now say beforehand, as if I were present ^w the second time, and now in my absence I write, to those who have sinned before, and to all the rest, that if I come again I will not spare; ³ since ye seek a proof of Christ ^x speaking in me, who towards you is not weak, but is ^y mighty in you. ⁴ For though he was crucified through weakness, yet ^a he liveth through the power of God. For ^b we also are weak in him, ^c but we shall live with him by the power of God towards you.

¹⁴ The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, and the love of God, and the communion ^r of the Holy Spirit, be with you all. Amen.

The second Epistle to the Corinthians was written from Philippi, a city of Macedonia, by Titus and Luke.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE

GALATIANS.

Salutation and ascription of praise to God—(6) Reproof of the Galatians for falling away from the gospel—(8) Denunciation of false teachers.

¹. PAUL, an apostle—^a not from men, nor by man, but ^b by Jesus Christ, and God the Father, who raised him from the dead—² and all the brethren who are with me, unto the churches of Galatia: ³ Grace ^c be to you and peace, from God the Father and from our Lord Jesus Christ; ⁴ who ^d gave himself for our sins, that he might deliver us ^e from this present evil world, ^f according to the will of our God and Father: ⁵ to whom be the glory for ever and ever. Amen.

⁶ I marvel that ye are ^g so soon turning

^h from him who called you in the grace of Christ unto a different gospel; ⁷ which is not another, but there are some ⁱ that trouble you, and would pervert the gospel of Christ.

⁸ But even if ^k we, or an angel from heaven, should preach any other gospel unto you than that which we preached unto you, let him be accursed. ⁹ As we have said before, so say I now again, If any one preacheth any other gospel unto you ^l than that which ye received, let him be accursed.

¹⁰ For ^m am I now seeking the favour of men, or of God? Or do I seek to please men? For ⁿ if I were still pleasing men, I should not be a servant of Christ.

The Gospel preached by Paul, (11) was received by Divine revelation; (12) not from his own early education, which was entirely opposed to it; (13) nor from the other apostles, (ch. 2. 7) towards whom he always maintained independence and equality; and (11) he even rebuked Peter for making concessions to the Judaizers (15) opposed to the principles of the gospel.

11 BUT I make known unto you, brethren, that the gospel which was preached by me is not according to man; 12 for it was not from man that ^a I received it or was taught it, but by revelation of Jesus Christ.

13 For ye heard of my manner of life in time past in the Jews' religion*, how that ^b beyond measure I persecuted the church of God, and was destroying it; 14 and I was going forward in the Jews' religion beyond many of my own age among my countrymen, ^c being more exceedingly zealous ^d for the traditions of my fathers. 15 But when it pleased God, ^e who set me apart from my very birth and called me by his grace, 16 to ^f reveal his Son in me, that ^g I might preach him among the Gentiles, immediately ^h I conferred not with flesh and blood, 17 nor ⁱ did I go up to Jerusalem to those that were apostles before me; but I went away into Arabia, and I returned again unto Damascus.

18 Then after three years ^k I went up to Jerusalem to visit Peter, and abode with him fifteen days; 19 but no other of the apostles did I see, save ^l James ^m the Lord's brother. 20 Now as to the things which I am writing to you, ⁿ behold before God I lie not. 21 Afterwards ^o I went into the regions of Syria and Cilicia. 22 But I was unknown by face unto the churches of Judea which were in Christ: 23 but they heard only, that ^p he who persecuted us in times past now preacheth the faith which once he was destroying; 24 and ^q they glorified God in me.

25 Then ^r after fourteen years I went again to Jerusalem with ^s Barnabas, taking Titus also with me. 2 And I went up by ^t revelation, and ^u communicated unto them the gospel which I preach among the Gentiles, but privately to those that were of reputation, lest by any means I might be running or had run in vain. 3 But not even Titus who was with me, though he was a Greek, was compelled to be circumcised: 4 and that because of ^v the false brethren ^w stealthily brought in, who came in secretly to spy out our ^x liberty which we have in Christ Jesus, ^y that they might bring us into bondage: 5 to whom we did not yield submission, even for an hour; that the truth of the gospel might continue with you. 6 But of those who were reputed to be something—whatsoever they were, it maketh no matter to me; ^a God accepteth no man's person—they, I say, who were in reputation imparted nothing to me. But contrariwise, when they saw that ^b the gospel of the Uncircumcision had been committed unto me, ^c as the gospel of the Circumcision had been unto Peter; 8 (for he who wrought for Peter unto the apostleship of the Circumcision, ^d the same wrought for me also unto the Gentiles); 9 and when James, ^e Cephas and John, who were reputed to be ^f pillars, perceived the grace that was given unto me, they gave to me and Barnabas the right hands of fellowship; 9 that we should go unto the Gentiles, and they unto the Circumcision. 10 Only they would that we should remember the poor; ^h which very thing I also was forward to do.

11 But when Peter came to Antioch, I withstood him to the face, because he was evidently to blame*. 12 For before certain ⁱ men came from James, ^k he ate with the Gentiles; but when they came, he withdrew and separated himself, ^l fearing those that were of the Circumcision. 13 And the other Jews also dissembled likewise with him; insomuch that even Barnabas was carried away with their dissimulation. 14 But when I saw that they walked not uprightly, according to the truth of the gospel, I said unto Peter before them all: If thou being a Jew livest after the manner of Gentiles, and not as do the Jews, ^m why compellest thou the Gentiles to keep the customs of the Jews?†

15 We who are Jews by nature, and not sinners of the Gentiles, 16 knowing nevertheless that a man ⁿ is not justified by the works of the law, but ^o only through faith in Jesus Christ, we ourselves believed in Jesus Christ, that we might be justified by faith in Christ, and not by the works of the law; for by the works of the law shall no flesh be justified. 17 But ^p if, while we seek to be justified in Christ, we ourselves also were found to be sinners, ^q is therefore Christ a minister of sin? God forbid. 18 For if I build up again the things which I pulled down, I prove myself a transgressor. 19 For I through the law ^r died to the law, that I might ^s live unto God. 20 I have been ^t crucified with Christ, ^u nevertheless I live; yet no longer I, but ^v Christ liveth in me; and the life which I now live in the flesh ^w I live in the faith of the Son of

nought.

God,^y who loved me, and gave himself for me. ²¹ I do not make void the grace of God; for ^a if righteousness be by the law, then Christ died without a cause*.

Remonstrance, founded on the Galatians' own experience—(6) Abraham was justified by faith; and so must all his true children be—(10) The law only condemns; but (13) from this condemnation Christ has delivered us—(15) The gospel is the fulfilment of God's covenant with Abraham.

3. O FOOLISH Galatians, ^a who hath bewitched you; before whose eyes Jesus Christ was plainly set forth as crucified;? ² This only would I learn from you: ^b Received ye the Spirit by the works of the law, or by the hearing of faith? ³ Are ye so foolish? Having begun in the Spirit, are ye now being made perfect in ^c the flesh? ⁴ Did ^d ye suffer so many things in vain? if it be indeed in vain. ⁵ He therefore who supplieth ^e to you the Spirit, and ^f worketh miracles among you, doeth he it by the works of the law, or by the hearing of faith?

⁶ Even as ^g Abraham believed God, and it was accounted to him for righteousness' [Gen. xv. 6]; ⁷ know ye therefore that ^h ye that are of faith, the same are the children of Abraham! ⁸ And ⁱ the Scripture, foreseeing that God would justify the Gentiles by faith, preached beforehand the gospel unto Abraham, saying: 'In thee shall all the nations be blessed' [Gen. xii. 3; xviii. 18]. ⁹ So then they that are of faith are blessed with faithful Abraham.

¹⁵ Brethren—I speak after the manner of men—though it be but a man's covenant, yet when it hath been ratified, no man disannulleth it, or addeth thereto. ¹⁶ Now ^s to Abraham were the promises spoken, and to his seed. He saith not, And to seeds, as of many; but as of one, And to 'thy Seed' [Gen. xxii. 18] which is ^t Christ. ¹⁷ And this I say, that the covenant ratified before by God^u, the law, ^v which was four hundred and thirty years after, doth not disannul, so as to make the promise of no effect. ¹⁸ For if the inheritance is of the law it is no more of promise; but ^w God freely gave it to Abraham by promise.

The design and use of the law—(19) in witnessing against sin, and (26) by its course of pupilage and bondage, preparing for the freedom and sonship of the gospel—(ch. 4. 8) Yet the Galatians after escaping from the bondage of idolatry are returning to that of Judaism.

^a It was added because of transgressions, till the Seed should come to whom the promise was made; and it was ^b ordained by means of angels in the hand ^c of a mediator. ²⁰ Now a mediator is not a mediator of one^d, but God is one.

²¹ Is the law then against the promises of God? God forbid! For if there had been a law given which was able to give life, verily righteousness would have been by the law. ²² But the Scripture shut up ^e all under sin, ^f that the promise by faith in Jesus Christ might be given to them that believe. ²³ But before the faith came we were ^g kept in ward under the law, shut up unto the faith which was afterwards to be revealed. ²⁴ So that ^h the law hath become our schoolmasterⁱ to bring us unto Christ, ^j that we may be justified by faith. ²⁵ But now that faith is come, we are no longer under a schoolmaster; ²⁶ for ye ^k are all the children of God through faith in Christ Jesus. ²⁷ For ^l as many of you as were baptized into Christ ^m put on Christ. ²⁸ There ⁿ is neither Jew nor Greek, there is neither bond nor free, there is not male and female; for ye are all ^o one in Christ Jesus. ²⁹ And ^p if ye are Christ's, then are ye Abraham's seed, and ^q heirs according to the promise.

4. Now I say that the heir as long as he is a child differeth nothing from a servant^r, though he be lord of all; ² but he is under guardians and stewards until the time appointed by the father. ³ Even so we, when we were children, were kept in bondage under the ^s rudiments of the world. ⁴ But ^t when the fulness of the time was come, ^u God sent forth his Son, ^v born of a woman, ^w born under the law, ^x to ^y redeem them that were under the law, that we might receive the adoption of sons. ⁶ And because ye are sons, God sent forth ^z the Spirit of his Son into your hearts, crying, Abba! Father! ⁷ So then thou art no more a servant, but a son; and if a son then an heir of God through Christ.

⁸ Howbeit at that time when ye knew not God, ⁹ ye did service unto them that by nature are no gods. ¹⁰ But now after ye have known God, or rather have been known by God, how turn ye back again to the weak and beggarly ^a rudiments, to which ye desire again to be in bondage? ¹¹ Ye ^b observe days and months and times and years. ¹² I am afraid of you, lest haply I have bestowed upon you labour in vain.

Appeal founded on the apostle's personal relations with the churches in Galatia—(17) Reprobation of the Judaizing teachers—(21) The Law itself teaches that the Old Covenant must give place to the New.

¹² BRETHREN, I beseech you, become as I am; ^a for I also became as ye were. Ye did me no wrong; ¹³ but ye know that it was on account of an infirmity ^b of my flesh that I preached the gospel unto you at the first; ¹⁴ and your ^{*} trial which was in my flesh ye despised not nor rejected; but ye received me ^c as an angel of God, even as Christ Jesus. ¹⁵ Where then is the blessedness ye spake of? For I bear you witness that if it had been possible, ye would have plucked out your own eyes and have given them to me. ¹⁶ Am ^d I then become your enemy by dealing truly with you?

¹⁷ They ^e zealously seek you, but not well; yea they would exclude you that ye might zealously seek them; ¹⁸ but it is good to be zealously sought always in a good cause, and not only when I am present with you. ¹⁹ My ^f little children, of whom I am again in travail until Christ be formed in you, ²⁰ yea, I could wish to be present with you now, and to change my voice; for I am perplexed about you.

²¹ Tell me, ye that desire to be under the law, do ye not hear the law? ²² For it is written, that Abraham had two sons; ²³ one by the bondwoman, ²⁴ the other by the freewoman; ²⁵ but he who was of the bondwoman ²⁶ was born after the flesh, but ²⁷ he of the freewoman was by the promise. ²⁸ Which things are an allegory, for these women are two Covenants; one from Mount Sinai, bearing children unto bondage, which is Hagar; ²⁹ for the word Hagar is Mount Sinai in Arabia, and she answereth to the Jerusalem which now is, for she is in bondage with her children; ³⁰ but the ³¹ Jerusalem which is above is free, and she is our mother. ³² For it is written: 'Rejoice, thou barren that bearest not; break forth and cry, thou that travailest not! For the desolate hath

²⁸ Now we ^{*}, brethren, as Isaac was, are ^m the children of promise. ²⁹ But as then ⁿ he that was born after the flesh persecuted him that was born after the Spirit, ³⁰ even so it is now. ³¹ But what saith the Scripture? Cast out the bondwoman and her son; for the son of the bondwoman shall not be heir with the son of the freewoman [Gen. xxi. 10, Sept.]. ³² So then, brethren, we are not children of a bondwoman, but of the free. ⁵ Stand fast therefore in ^p the liberty wherewith Christ hath made us free; and be not entangled again ^q with a yoke of bondage.

Practical application—Cautions (2) against yielding to false teachers, and (13) against abusing Christian liberty—(14) The Law is fulfilled in love, and in (16) living by the rule of the Spirit—(19) The manifest works of the flesh, contrasted with (22) the fruit of the Spirit—Exhortations to (ch. 6. 1) forbearance, (2) brotherly sympathy, (6) liberality, and (9) perseverance in all well-doing.

² BEROOLD, I Paul say unto you, that if ye be circumcised, Christ will profit you nothing. ³ Yea I testify again to every man that is circumcised, that ^a he is a debtor to do the whole law. ⁴ Christ ^b is become of no effect unto you, whosoever of you are being justified in the law; ⁵ ye are fallen from grace. ⁶ For we through the Spirit ^d wait by faith for the hope of righteousness. ⁷ For ^e in Jesus Christ neither circumcision availeth anything nor uncircumcision, but ^f faith which worketh by love.

⁷ Ye were running well; ⁸ who hindered you from obeying the truth? ⁹ This persuasion cometh not from him ^h who calleth you. ¹⁰ A ⁱ little leaven leaveneth the whole lump. ¹¹ I ^j have confidence respecting you, in the Lord, that ye will be none otherwise minded; but he that troubleth you shall bear his judgment, whosoever he be. ¹² And I, brethren, if I still preach circumcision ^k why do I still suffer persecution? Then ^m the offence of the cross is done away. ¹³ Would that they would even cut themselves off ⁿ that trouble you!

¹⁶ But I say, ^r Walk in the Spirit, and ^s ye shall not fulfil the lust of the flesh.

17 For ^tthe flesh lusteth against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the flesh; and ^uthese are contrary the one to the other, that ye may not do the things that ye would. ¹⁸ But ^x if ye are led by the Spirit, ye are not under the law.

²² But ^bthe fruit of the Spirit is ^clove, joy, peace, longsuffering, ^dkindness, goodness, faithfulness, ³³ meekness, temperance*: against such things there is no law. ²⁴ And they that are Christ's have crucified the flesh with its passions and lusts. ²⁵ If we live in the Spirit, let us also walk in the Spirit. ²⁶ Let ^eus not be desirous of vain glory, provoking one another, envying one another.

⁶ Let ^ohim that is taught in the word communicate unto him that teacheth in Conclusion—(12) Further warning against the Judaizers, whose objects are selfish and worldly. (14) The new spiritual creation is everything—(16) Benediction and farewell.

¹¹ SEE in what large letters I have written unto you ^a with mine own hand.

¹² As many as desire to make a fair show in the flesh, ^bthey constrain you to be circumcised, only lest they should suffer persecution for the cross of Christ. ¹³ For ^ceven they who are circumcised do not themselves keep the law; but they desire to have you circumcised that they may glory in your flesh. ¹⁴ But ^dGod forbid that I should glory save in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, by whom* the world is ^ecrucified unto me, and I unto the world. ¹⁵ For ^fin Christ Jesus neither circumcision availeth anything nor uncircumcision, but ^ga new creature. ¹⁶ And as many as walk according to this rule, peace be on them, and mercy, and upon ^hthe Israel of God.

¹⁷ From henceforth let no man trouble me; for ⁱI bear in my body the marks of the Lord Jesus.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE

EPHESIANS.

Apostolic salutation—(3) Praise to God for the fulfilment of his eternal purpose of redemption, by Christ, and (13) the gift of the Holy Spirit, (14) the pledge and earnest of future glory.

1. PAUL ^a, an apostle of Jesus Christ by the will of God, ^bto the saints who are at Ephesus†, and ^cthe faithful in Christ Jesus: ² Grace ^d*be* to you and peace, from God our Father and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

³ Blessed ^e*be* the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who hath blessed us with all spiritual blessings ^fin the heavenly places in Christ; ⁴even as ^ghe chose us in him before the foundation of the world, that we should ^hbe holy and without blame before him in love; ⁵having ⁱfore-ordained† us unto ^kthe adoption of children, through Jesus Christ, unto himself, ^laccording to the good pleasure of his will, ⁶to the praise of the glory of his grace, wherein he hath made us accepted³ in the^m beloved One.

^m In whom we have redemption, through his blood, the forgiveness of our sins, according to ^o the riches of his grace; ^s which he made to abound towards us in all wisdom and prudence; ⁹ having made known unto us the ^p mystery of his will, according to his good pleasure which ^q he purposed in himself, ¹⁰ unto the dispensation of ^r the fulness of the times ^s to gather together in one all things in Christ, both those which are in the heavens, and those which are upon the earth; even in him, ¹¹ in ^t whom we have been also made his inheritance, being foreordained according to ^u the purpose of him who worketh all things after the counsel of his will; ¹² that we should be unto the praise of his glory, even we who before had hoped in Christ; ¹³ in whom ^x ye also, having heard the word of truth, the gospel of your salvation, in whom ye also having believed, ^y were sealed with ^z the Holy Spirit of promise, ¹⁴ which ^a is the earnest of our inheritance, for the redemption of ^b the purchased possession, ^c unto the praise of his glory.

Thanksgiving for the Ephesian Christians; and (17) prayer that they may fully know all that God has revealed and promised—(19) The Divine power manifested in their spiritual renovation, by virtue of the resurrection and glorification of Christ.

¹⁵ WHEREFORE I also, having heard of your faith in the Lord Jesus, and your love to all the saints, ¹⁶ cease ^a not to give thanks for you, making mention of you in my prayers; ¹⁷ that ^b the God of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of glory, ^c may give unto you the spirit of wisdom and ^d revelation in the knowledge of him; ¹⁸ the eyes of your mind^t being enlightened; that ye may know what is ^e the hope of his calling, and what ^f the riches of the glory of his inheritance in the saints, ¹⁹ and what ^g is the exceeding greatness of his power towards us who believe; according to the working of his mighty power ²⁰ which ^h he wrought in Christ, when he raised him from the dead, and ⁱ set him at his own right hand in the heavenly places, ²¹ far ^j above all rule and authority and power and dominion, and every name that is named, not only in this world but also in that which is to come; ²² and ^k put all things in subjection under his feet, and gave him ^l to be the head over all things to the church, ²³ which ^m is his body, the fulness of him ⁿ who filleth all in all.

⁸ For by grace have ye been saved ^c through faith; and that not of yourselves, ^d it is the gift of God; ⁹ not ^e of works, that no one might boast. ¹⁰ For we are ^f his workmanship, created in Christ Jesus unto good works, ^g which God hath before prepared that we should walk in them.

Contrast between the former and present state of the Gentile Christians in their relations to God and to his church; (14) Jews and Gentiles being reconciled to each other, and both to God in Christ.

¹¹ WHEREFORE ^a remember that ye being in time past Gentiles in the flesh, who are called the Uncircumcision by that which is called ^b the Circumcision in the flesh made by hands, ¹² that ye were at that time without Christ, being aliens from the commonwealth of Israel, and strangers to ^c the covenants of the promise, having no hope, and ^d without God in the world; ¹³ but now in Christ Jesus ye who once were ^e far off have been brought nigh by ^f the blood of Christ.

¹⁴ For ^g he is our peace, ^h who hath made both one, and hath broken down ⁱ the middle wall of partition, ¹⁵ namely the enmity, in his flesh, ^j abolishing the law of commandments in ordinances; that he might make the two into one ^k new man in himself, so making peace, ¹⁶ and might ^l reconcile them both unto God in one body by the cross, ^m having slain the enmity on it. ¹⁷ And he came ⁿ and brought glad tidings of peace to you that were afar off, and to ^o them that were nigh. ¹⁸ For ^p through him we both have access ^q by one Spirit unto the Father.

3. FOR this cause I Paul, the ^a prisoner of Jesus Christ ^b for you Gentiles—² if indeed ye heard of ^c the dispensation of the grace of God which was given to me for you; ³ that ^d by revelation there was made ^e known to me the mystery, (as I wrote before in few words, ^f where-by when ye read ye can understand my knowledge in the mystery of Christ), ⁵ which ^g in other ages was not made known unto the sons of men, as it hath now been revealed unto his holy apostles and prophets ^h by the Spirit; ⁱ that the Gentiles are fellowheirs, and ^j of the same body, and ^k joint partakers of his promise in Christ through the gospel: ⁷ whereof ^l I was made a minister, according to the gift of the grace of God which was given to me, according to ^k the effectual working of his power. ⁸ Unto me ^l who am less than the least of all saints was this grace given, ^m to preach among the Gentiles the unsearchable riches of Christ, ⁹ and to make all ⁿ men see what is the dispensation; of ⁿ the mystery which from the beginning of the world ^o hath been hidden in God, who created all things; ¹⁰ to the intent that now ^o unto the principalities and powers in the heavenly places may be made known through the church the manifold wisdom of God, ¹¹ according to the eternal purpose which he purposed in Christ Jesus our Lord; ¹² in whom we have boldness and access with confidence through our faith in him. ¹³ Wherefore I beseech you that ye ^p faint not at my tribulations for you, ^q which are your glory.

¹⁴ For this cause I bow my knees unto the Father*, ¹⁵ from whom every family in heaven and on earth is named, ¹⁶ that he would grant you, according ^r to the riches of his glory, ^s to be strengthened with might by his Spirit in ^t the inner man; ¹⁷ that ^u Christ may dwell in your hearts by faith; ^x ye being rooted and grounded in love; ¹⁸ that ye may be fully able to comprehend with all the saints what is the breadth and length and depth and height, ¹⁹ and ^y to know the love of Christ which passeth knowledge, that ye may be filled ^{even} unto all ^z the fulness of God.

²⁰ Now ^a unto him who is able to do exceeding abundantly ^b above all that we ask or think, ^c according to the power that worketh in us, ²¹ unto him ^b be the glory in the church ^d by Christ Jesus throughout all ages, world without end*. Amen.

Exhortations to (1) holy living, and especially to (2) humility, forbearance, and unity; that the church (7) with all its diversity of individual graces and gifts (13) may grow up into a perfect body of Christ.

4. I THEREFORE, ^a the prisoner of ^t the Lord—beseech you that ye ^b walk worthy of the calling wherewith ye were called, ² with all lowliness and meekness, with longsuffering, ^c forbearing one another in love, ³ endeavouring to keep the unity of the Spirit ^d in the bond of peace. ⁴ There is ^e one body and one Spirit, even as ye were called in one hope of your calling; ⁵ one ^f Lord, one faith, ⁶ one baptism; ⁶ one God and Father of all, ^h who is over all and through all and ⁱ in you all ⁷.

⁷ But ^k unto every one of us hath been given grace according to the measure of the gift of Christ. ⁸ Wherefore he saith: 'When he ascended up on high he led captives in captivity, ^l and gave gifts unto men' [Psa. lxxviii. 18]. ⁹ Now ^m that 'he ascended,' what is it but that he also descended first into the lower parts of the earth? ¹⁰ He who descended is the same also ⁿ who ascended up above all the heavens, that he might fill all things.

¹¹ And ^o he gave some to be apostles; and some, prophets; and some, ^p evangelists; and some, ^q pastors and teachers; ¹² unto ^r the perfecting of the saints for the work of ministration, for the building up of ^s the body of Christ; ¹³ till we all attain unto the unity of the faith and of the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a fullgrown man, unto the measure of the stature of the fulness of Christ; ¹⁴ that we may be no longer children, ^t tossed to and fro and carried about by every wind of doctrine, by the sleight of men and ^u cunning craftiness ^x whereby they lie in wait to deceive, ¹⁵ but dealing truthfully in love, ^y may grow up in all things ^a unto him who is the head, even Christ; ¹⁶ from ^a whom the whole body, ^b fitly framed and knit together, by means of that which every joint supplieth, according to the working in the measure of each several part, maketh increase of the body unto the building up of itself ^c in love.

Further exhortations to entire renovation of mind and conduct, according to the teaching of Christ; (25) especially avoiding falsehood, dishonesty, irascible passions, and all sensual lusts, and cultivating kindness and forbearance, purity in thought and action, (ch. 5. 8) wise carefulness, and diligent improvement of time.

³¹ Let ^v all bitterness and wrath and anger and clamour and ^w evil speaking be put away from you, with all malice; ³² and ^x be ye kind one to another, tenderhearted, ^y as forgiving one another, ^z even as also God in Christ hath forgiven you. 5. Be ^a ye therefore followers of God, as beloved children; ² and ^d walk in love, even as Christ also loved us, and ^e gave himself up for us an offering and a sacrifice to God ^f for a sweet-smelling savour.

¹⁵ See ^w then that ye walk circumspectly, not as fools but as wise; ¹⁶ redeeming the time, because ^x the days are evil. ¹⁷ Therefore be ye not unwise, but understand what the will of the Lord is. ¹⁸ And ^y be not drunken with wine, wherein is dissolution, but be filled with the Spirit; ¹⁹ speaking ^z to one another in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing and making melody in your heart to the Lord; ²⁰ giving ^a thanks always for all things unto our God and Father ^d in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ; ²¹ submitting ^e yourselves one to another in the fear of Christ.

The special duties of various relations in life.

22 WIVES ^a, submit yourselves unto your own husbands, as unto the Lord; ²³ for ^b the husband is the head of the wife, even as ^c Christ is the head of the church, and he is the Saviour of the body. ²⁴ But as the church is subject unto Christ, so let the wives ^d be to their husbands in every thing. ²⁵ Husbands ^e, love your wives, even as Christ also loved the church, and ^f gave himself for it; ²⁶ that he might sanctify it, cleansing it ^o with the washing of the water ^h by the word; ²⁷ that he might present it to himself ^k a glorious church, not having spot or wrinkle or any such thing, but that it might be holy and without blemish. ²⁸ So ought husbands to love their wives as their own bodies. He that loveth his wife loveth himself; ²⁹ for no one ever yet hated his own flesh, but nourisheth and cherisheth it, even as Christ ^{*} also doth the church. ³⁰ For we are members of his body, being of his flesh and of his bones. ³¹ For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother and shall be joined unto his wife, and the two shall be one flesh.' [Gen. ii. 24, Sept.] ³² This is a great mystery, but I speak ^m concerning Christ and the church. ³³ Nevertheless let every one of you in particular so love his wife even as himself; and let the wife see that she ⁿ reverence her husband.

⁵ Servants ^t, be obedient ^r to your masters according to the flesh, with fear and trembling, ^{*} in singleness of your heart, as unto Christ; ^o not with eyeservice as menpleasers, but ^t as servants of Christ, doing the will of God from the heart; ⁷ with good will doing service, as to the Lord and not to men; ⁸ knowing ^u that whatsoever good thing any man doeth, the same will he receive from the Lord, whether he be bond or free. ⁹ And ye ^x masters, do the same things unto them, forbearing threatening, knowing that your Master also is in heaven, and that ^y there is no respect of persons with him.

The spiritual conflict, and (13) divine armour — (21) Personal notice, and (23) concluding benediction.

²¹ But that ye also may know my affairs, and how I do, ^t Tychicus, our beloved brother and a faithful minister in the Lord, will make known to you all things: ²² whom I have sent unto you for this very purpose, that ye may know our affairs, and that he may comfort your hearts.

²³ Peace ^u be to the brethren, and love, with faith, from God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ. ²⁴ Grace ^v be with all them ^w that love our Lord Jesus Christ in sincerity. Amen.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO THE PHILIPPIANS.

Introductory salutation—(3) Thanksgiving for the Philippian Christians, and (9) prayer for their growth in knowledge and holiness.

1. PAUL and Timothy, servants of Jesus Christ, to all ^a the saints in Christ Jesus who are at ^b Philippi, with the ^c bishops and ^d deacons: ^e Grace ^f be unto you and peace, from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

³ I ^g thank my God upon every remembrance of you, ^h always in every prayer of mine for you all making my supplication with joy, ⁱ for your fellowship in regard to ^j the gospel from the first day until now; ^k being confident of this very thing, that ^l he who began a good work in you ^m will complete ⁿ it unto the day of Jesus Christ; ^o even as it is meet for me to think this of you all, because I have you ^p in my heart, inasmuch as both in ^q my bonds and in the defence and confirmation of the gospel ye all are partakers of the grace with me. ^r For ^s God is my witness how greatly I long after you all in the tender affection of Jesus Christ.

⁹ And this I pray, ^t that your love may abound yet more and more in knowledge and all judgment; ^u that ye may ^v prove things that are most excellent, ^w that ye may be sincere and without offence unto the day of Christ; ^x being filled with ^y the fruit of righteousness, ^z which is through Jesus Christ ^{aa} unto the glory and praise of God.

Progress of the gospel in Rome during the apostle's captivity—(13) His own personal experience and prospects.

12 BUT I would have you know, brethren, that the things which have happened unto me have fallen out rather unto the furtherance of the gospel; ¹³ so that ^a my bonds in Christ have become manifest ^b in all the Prætorium† and to all the rest; ¹⁴ and most of the brethren in the Lord waxing confident by my bonds, are much more bold to speak the word of God; without fear.

15 Some indeed preach Christ even of envy and strife, but some also of good will; ¹⁶ the one preach Christ from love, knowing that I am set for the defence of the gospel; ¹⁷ but the others from party-spirit*, not sincerely, but thinking to add affliction to my bonds†. ¹⁸ What then? Notwithstanding, in every way, whether in pretence or in truth, Christ is preached; and ^c I therein do rejoice, yea and will rejoice.

¹⁹ For I know that this will turn to my salvation, ^d through your prayer, and the supply of the Spirit of Jesus Christ; ²⁰ according to my earnest expectation and my hope, that ^e in nothing I shall be ashamed, but that ^f I with all boldness, as always ^g now also, Christ will be magnified in my body, ^h whether it be by life or by death. ²¹ For to me ⁱ to live is Christ, and ^j to die is gain. ²² But if to live in the flesh, if this, I say is the fruit of my labour, then what I shall choose I know not; ²³ for I am in a strait betwixt the two, ^k having a desire to depart and ^l to be with Christ, ^m which is very far better; ²⁴ nevertheless to abide in the flesh ⁿ is more needful for your sakes. ²⁵ And having this confidence, I know that I shall abide and continue with you all, for your furtherance and joy in your faith; ²⁶ that ^o in me your glorying may be more abundant in Jesus Christ by my coming to you again.

Exhortations to unity, steadfastness, and self-sacrificing love after the example of Christ.

27 ONLY let your life† be as it ^a becometh the gospel of Christ; that whether I come and see you, or else be absent, I may hear of your affairs, ^b that ye stand fast in one spirit, ^c with one soul ^d striving together for the faith of the gospel; ²⁸ and ^e in nothing terrified by your adversaries; which is to them an evident token of perdition, but ^f to you of salvation, and that from God. ²⁹ For unto you ^g I hath been given in behalf of Christ, not only to believe on him, but also to suffer for his sake; ³⁰ having the same conflict ^h which ye saw in me, and now hear of me.

2. If then there be any consolation* in Christ, if any comfort of love, if any fellowship in the Spirit, if any ⁱ tenderness and compassions, ^j fulfil ye my joy, that ye may be likeminded, having the

¹² Not that ² I have already attained or am already made perfect; but I press on if so be that ³ I may lay hold on that for which I have been laid hold on by Christ Jesus. ¹³ Brethren, I account not myself to have laid hold of it, but this one thing I do, forgetting the things which are behind, and ⁴ reaching forth unto the things which are before, ¹⁴ I ^a press towards the mark, unto the prize of ^b the heavenly calling of God in Christ Jesus.

¹⁵ Let us therefore as many as are perfect^c be thus minded; and if in anything ye are otherwise minded, ^e God will reveal this also unto you. ¹⁶ Nevertheless as far as we have already attained, let us walk by the same rule, let us mind the same thing^f.

¹⁷ Brethren, ^d be followers together of me, and mark those who walk so as ye have us for an example. ¹⁸ For many walk of whom I have told you often, and now tell you even ^e weeping, that they are f the enemies of the cross of Christ; ¹⁹ whose ^g end is perdition, ^h whose God is their belly, and whose glory is in their shame, who mind earthly things. ²⁰ For ⁱ our citizenship is in heaven; ^k from whence also we ^l look for the Saviour, the Lord Jesus Christ; ²¹ who ^m will change the body of our humiliation, that it may be fashioned like the body of his glory, ⁿ according to the working whereby he is able ^o even to subdue all things unto himself. ²² Therefore, my brethren beloved and longed for, ^p my joy and crown, so stand fast in the Lord, my beloved.

Exhortations to (2) unity, (4) Christian joyfulness, prayer and thanksgiving, and (8) the practice of all that is good and praiseworthy, (9) according to the apostle's teaching and example.

² I BESEECH Euodia, and I beseech Syntyche, to be of the same mind in the Lord. ³ And I entreat thee also, true yokefellow, help them, inasmuch as they laboured with me in the gospel, with Clement also, and my other fellow-labourers, whose names are in ^a the book of life.

⁴ Rejoice in the Lord always; again I will say, Rejoice.

⁵ Let your gentleness^b be known unto all men. ^b The Lord is at hand.

⁶ Be anxious about nothing, but in every thing by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known unto God. ⁷ And the peace of God which passeth all understanding shall keep your hearts and minds^c, through Christ Jesus.

Grateful acknowledgments of affectionate care—(21) Concluding salutations.

¹⁰ BUT I rejoiced in the Lord greatly, that now at length ^a ye have made your care for me to flourish again; wherein ye were also careful, but ye lacked opportunity. ¹¹ Not that I speak in respect of want; for I have learned, in whatsoever state I am, therewith to be content. ¹² I ^b know both how to be abased, and I know how to abound; every where and in all things I have been instructed, both to be full and to be hungry, both to abound and to suffer need. ¹³ I can do all things ^c in Christ^d who strengtheneth me. ¹⁴ Notwithstanding ye did well in communicating with my affliction.

²³ The ⁿ grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit^t. Amen.

It was written to the Philippians from Rome by Epaphroditus.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE

COLOSSIANS.

Apostolic salutation—(3) Thanksgiving for the faith and love of the Colossian Christians—(9) Prayer for their spiritual growth and fruitfulness, through the knowledge of Christ, (14) the divine Redeemer of men, (15) the Head of the natural creation, and of (18) the new moral creation, the church, and (20) the Reconciler of the whole creation unto God.

1. PAUL^a, an apostle of Jesus Christ by the will of God, and ^b Timothy our brother, ² to ^c the saints and faithful brethren in Christ at Colosse: ^d Grace be unto you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

³ We ^e give thanks to the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, praying always for you, ^f having heard of your faith in Christ Jesus, and of the love which ye have to all the saints, ⁵ for ^f the hope which is laid up for you in heaven, whereof ye heard before in the word of the truth of the gospel; ⁶ which is come unto you, ⁷ as it is in all the world, and is bringing forth fruit, and increasing* even as it doth also among you, since ye heard it and knew the grace of God in truth; ⁷ even as ye learned from ^h Epaphras our beloved fellowservant, who is for you a faithful minister of Christ, ⁸ who also declared unto us your ⁱ love in the Spirit.

⁹ For ^k this cause we also, since the day we heard it, have not ceased to pray for you and to ask ^l that ye may be filled with the knowledge of his will ^m in all wisdom and spiritual understanding; ¹⁰ that ⁿ ye may walk worthily of the Lord ^o unto all pleasing, ^p being fruitful in every good work, and increasing in the knowledge of God; ¹¹ being ^q strengthened with all might, according to his glorious power ^r unto all patience and longsuffering with joyfulness; ¹² giving ^s thanks unto the Father, who hath made us meet to be partakers of ^t the inheritance of the saints in light; ¹³ who delivered us from ^u the power of darkness, and translated us into the kingdom of ^x the Son of his love; ¹⁴ in whom we have our redemption^t, even the forgiveness of our sins:

things in the heavens, and things upon the earth, the visible and the invisible, whether thrones or ^z dominions or principalities or powers: ^a all things have been created by him and for him; ¹⁷ and he is before all things, and in him all things subsist. ¹⁸ And ^b he is the head of the body, the church; who is ^c the beginning, ^d the first-born from the dead; ^e that in all things he may have the pre-eminence. ¹⁹ For it pleased the Father that ^f in him should all the fulness dwell*; ²⁰ and ^g having made peace through the blood of his cross, ^h through him to reconcile all things unto himself—through him, I say, whether they are things in earth or things in the heavens.

²¹ And you, ⁱ who once were alienated and enemies in your mind by your wicked works, yet now hath he reconciled, ²² in ^k the body of his flesh through his death, ^l to present you holy and unblameable and unproveable in his sight; ²³ if ye continue in the faith grounded and settled, and are not moved away from the hope of the gospel, which ye heard, and which ^m hath been preached in the whole creation which is under heaven; whereof I Paul was made a minister.

The apostle's ministry in the work of reconciliation—(24) His sufferings and labours for the church's sake, (28) that it may grow in knowledge, and holiness, and (ch. 2. 4) be steadfast in the faith.

²⁴ NOW ^a I rejoice in my sufferings on your behalf, and fill up that which remaineth behind of the afflictions of Christ in my flesh, for ^b his body's sake which is the church; ²⁵ whereof I was made a minister, according to ^c the stewardship of God which was given to me for you, to preach fully the word of God; ²⁶ even ^d the mystery which had been hidden from the ages and from the generations, ^e but now is made manifest to his saints; ²⁷ to ^f whom God was pleased to make known what are the riches of the glory of this mystery among the Gentiles; which is ^g Christ in you, the hope of glory; ²⁸ whom we preach, ^h admonishing every man, and teaching every man in all wisdom, ⁱ that we may present every man perfect in Christ Jesus;

whereunto I also labour, striving ^k according to his working which worketh in me mightily.

2. For I would have you know what a great ^k conflict I have for you, and for those at ^m Laodicea, and for as many as have not seen my face in the flesh; ² that their hearts may be comforted, ⁿ being knit together in love, and unto all the riches of ^o the full assurance of understanding, ^p unto the full knowledge of the mystery of God, even Christ*; ³ in whom ^q are hidden all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge.

4 And this I say ^r lest any one should beguile you with ^s enticing words, ⁵ For ^t though I am absent in the flesh, yet am I with you in the spirit, rejoicing and beholding your order, and the stedfastness of your faith in Christ.

6 As therefore ye received Christ Jesus the Lord, so walk ye in him; ⁷ rooted, ^u and being built up in him, and established in the faith, as ye have been taught, abounding therein with thanksgiving.

Warnings (5) against false philosophy, leading away from Christ; also (16) against carnal legal scruples, and superstitious angel-worship—(ch. 3. 1) Exhortations to heavenly-mindedness.

8 BEWARE lest any one make a prey of you ^a through his philosophy and vain deceit, after ^b the tradition of men, after ^c the rudiments of the world, and not after Christ. ⁹ For ^d in him dwelleth all the fulness of the Godhead bodily. ¹⁰ And ^e ye are complete in him, ^f who is the head of all principality and power. ¹¹ In whom also ye were ^g circumcised with a circumcision not made with hands, in ^h putting off the body of the sins of the flesh, in the circumcision of Christ; ¹² having been buried with him in your baptism; wherein also ^k ye were raised up with him through your faith in the operation of God, ⁱ who raised him from the dead. ¹³ And ^m you, being dead in your trespasses and the uncircumcision of your flesh, he made alive together with him, having forgiven us ⁿ all our trespasses; ¹⁴ blotting ⁿ out the handwriting in ordinances that was against us, which was contrary to us, and he hath taken it out of the way, by nailing it to his cross; ¹⁵ and ^o having despoiled: the ^p principalities and powers, he made a show of them openly, triumphing over them in it.

16 Let no one therefore ^q judge you in eating or in drinking, or in respect of a feast day or new moon or sabbath; ¹⁷ which are ^r a shadow of the things to come, but the substance* is of Christ. ¹⁸ Let ^s no one defraud you of your prize, desiring to do it in humility and the worshipping of angels; intruding into things which he hath not ^t seen, vainly puffed up by the mind of his flesh, ¹⁹ and not holding fast the Head, ^u from which all the body, by means of the joints and bands having nourishment ministered and knit together, increaseth with the increase; of God.

20 If then ^v ye died with Christ from the rudiments of the world, why, as though living in the world, do ye ^x subject yourselves to ordinances: ²¹ Handle ^y not, taste not, touch not, ²² (which things are all to perish with the using), ^z after the commandments and doctrines of men? ²³ Which things have indeed a show of wisdom, in will-worship and humility and unsparing treatment of the body, but are of no value against the indulgence of the flesh ^{ll}.

3. If then ye were raised up with Christ, seek the things which are above, where ^a Christ sitteth on the right hand of God; ² set your mind on the things above, ^b not on the things on the earth. ³ For ye died, and ^c your life is hidden with Christ in God. ⁴ When ^d Christ, our life, shall be manifested, ^e then will ye also be manifested with him in glory.

Exhortations to the subjugation of the vices and evil habits of the old nature, and (12) the cultivation of all the virtues of the new man, especially a forgiving, loving, and thankful spirit.

5 MORTIFY ^f therefore ^g your members which are upon the earth, ^h fornication, uncleanness, lustfulness, evil concupiscence, and covetousness, which is idolatry; ⁶ for ⁱ which things' sake the wrath of God cometh upon the children of disobedience; ⁷ in ^j which ye also once walked, when ye were living in those things. ⁸ But now do ye also ^k put off all these; anger, wrath, malice, reviling, ^l filthy communication out of your mouth. ⁹ Lie ^m not one to another, seeing that ye have put off the old man with his deeds, ¹⁰ and have put on the new man, which ⁿ is being renewed unto knowledge after the image of Him that created him; ¹¹ wherein there is not ^o Greek and Jew, circumcision and uncircumcision, Barbarian, Scythian, bond and free; ¹² but Christ is all, and in all.

12 Put on therefore, ^p as the elect of God, ^q holy and beloved, ^r a heart of compassion, kindness, humbleness of mind, meekness, longsuffering; ¹³ forbearing ^s one

⁴. Masters, ^j give unto your servants that which is just and equal, knowing that ye also have a Master in heaven.

Concluding exhortations—(2) to constancy in prayer and thanksgiving, and to (5) consistent conduct in the world—(7) Personal notices, salutations, and messages—(18) Autograph salutation, exhortation, and benediction.

² BE ^a constant in prayer, and ^b watch in the same ^c with thanksgiving; ³ withal ^d praying also for us, that God may ^e open unto us a door for the word, to speak ^f the mystery of Christ, for which also I am in bonds; ⁴ that I may make it manifest, as I ought to speak.

⁵ Walk ^g in wisdom towards them that are without, redeeming the time*. ⁶ Let your speech be always ^h with grace, seasoned with salt, ⁱ that ye may know how ye ought to answer every one.

⁷ All ^k my state will Tychicus make known unto you, who is a beloved brother, and a faithful minister and fellowservant in the Lord; ⁸ whom I have sent unto you for this very purpose, that ye may know our state, and that he may comfort your hearts; ⁹ with ^l Onesimus, our faithful and beloved brother, who is one of you. They will make known unto you all the things here.

¹⁰ Aristarchus ^m my fellowprisoner saluteth you, and ⁿ Mark, the cousin of Barnabas, touching whom ye received commandments, (if he come unto you, receive him), ¹¹ and Jesus, who is called Justus; who are of the circumcision. These only are my fellowworkers unto the kingdom of God, men who have proved a comfort to me.

¹² Epaphras, ^o who is one of you, a servant of Christ, saluteth you, always striving earnestly for you in prayers, that ye may stand ^p perfect and complete ^q in all the will of God. ¹³ For I bear him witness, that he hath a great zeal for you and those in Laodicea and those in Hierapolis. ¹⁴ Luke ^r, the beloved physician, and ^s Demas, salute you.

¹⁵ Salute the brethren in ^t Laodicea, and Nymphas, and ^u the church ^v in his house. ¹⁶ And when ^w this epistle hath been read among you, cause that it be read also in the church of the Laodiceans; and that ye likewise read the epistle from Laodicea. ¹⁷ And say to ^x Archippus, ^y Take heed to the ministry which thou hast received in the Lord, that thou fulfil it.

¹⁸ The ^z salutation by the hand of me Paul. ^a Remember my bonds. Grace be with you. Amen.

THE FIRST EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE

THESSALONIANS.

Introductory salutation to the Thessalonian Christians—(2) Thanksgiving for their obedience to the gospel, and constancy under persecution, (ch. 2. 13) which attest the truth and power of God's word.

1. PAUL and ^a Silas and ^b Timothy unto the church of the Thessalonians in God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ: ^c Grace be unto you, and peace, from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

² We give thanks to God always for you all, making mention of you unceasingly in our prayers, ³ remembering the work of your faith and ^d the labour of your love and ^e the patience of your hope, in our Lord Jesus Christ, in the sight of our God and Father; ⁴ knowing, brethren beloved ^f by God, your election. ⁵ For ^g our gospel came not unto you in word only, but also in power and ^h in the Holy Spirit and ⁱ in much assurance; even as ^k ye know what manner of men we were among you for your sakes. ⁶ And ye became followers of us and ^l of the Lord, ^m having received the word, in much affliction, ⁿ with joy of the Holy Spirit; ⁷ so that ye were examples to all that believe in Macedonia and Achaia.

². For yourselves, brethren, know our entering in unto you, that it hath not been in vain. ² But even after we had suffered before and had been shamefully treated, as ye know, at ^s Philippi, we were bold in our God ^t to speak unto you the gospel of God amidst much conflict. ³ For ^u our exhortation is not from deceit, nor from uncleanness, nor in guile; ⁴ but as we have been approved by God ^v to be entrusted with the gospel, even so we speak; ⁵ not as pleasing men, but God, ⁶ who trieth our hearts. ⁵ For neither at any time used we flattering words, (as ye know), nor a cloak of covetousness, (^a God is witness), ⁶ nor ^b of men sought we glory, either from you or from others, when ^c we might have been burdensome, as apostles of Christ. ⁷ But ^d we were gentle among you, even as when a nursing mother cherisheth her children. ⁸ Thus being affectionately desirous of you, we were willing to impart unto you, not only the gospel of God, but also our own ^e lives, because ye became very dear unto us. ⁹ For ye remember, brethren, our labour and travail; for ^f working night and day, that we might not burden any of you, we preached unto you the gospel of God. ¹⁰ Ye are witnesses, and God also, ^g how holily and justly and unblameably we behaved ourselves towards you that believe; ¹¹ even as ye know how we exhorted and comforted and charged every one of you, as a father doth his children, ¹² that ^h ye would walk worthily of God, ⁱ who hath called ye unto his own kingdom and glory.

¹³ For this cause also thank we God without ceasing, that when ye received the word of God which ye heard from us, ye received it ^k not as the word of men, but as it is in truth, the word of God, which effectually worketh also in you that believe. ¹⁴ For ye, brethren, became followers of the churches of God which in Judaea are in Christ Jesus; for ^l ye also have suffered like things from your own countrymen, ^m even as they did from the Jews; ¹⁵ who ⁿ both killed the Lord Jesus and ^o their own prophets, and ^p persecuted us; and they please not God, and are contrary to all men; ¹⁶ forbidding us to speak to the Gentiles that they may be saved; ^q to the filling up of their sins always. But the wrath is come upon them to the uttermost.

His earnest longing to revisit the Thessalonians; (ch. 3. 6) joy on hearing of their steadfastness; and (11) constant prayer for their growth in love and holiness.

¹⁷ BUT we, brethren, being separated from you for a short time, ^a in presence, not in heart, endeavoured the more abundantly to see your face with great desire.

18 Wherefore we desired to come unto you, even I Paul, once and again; but ^b Satan hindered us. 19 For what ^c is our hope or joy or crown of glorying? Is it not even ye, in the presence of our Lord Jesus Christ ^d at his coming? 20 For ye are our glory and joy.

3. Wherefore when we could no longer forbear, ^e we thought it good to be left at Athens alone; ² and we sent ^f Timothy, our brother, and minister of God, and our fellowlabourer in the gospel of Christ, to establish you and to exhort you concerning your faith; ³ that ^g no one should be moved by these afflictions; for ye yourselves know that ^h we are appointed thereunto. ⁴ For even when we were with you we told you before that we should suffer tribulation; even as it came to pass, and ye know. ⁵ For this cause, when I could no longer forbear, I sent to know your faith, ⁱ lest haply the tempter might have tempted you, and so ^k our labour should be in vain.

⁶ But ^l Timothy having just now come unto us from you, and having brought us good tidings of your faith and love, and that ye have good remembrance of us always, desiring greatly to see us, ^m as we also to see you, ⁷ therefore, brethren, ⁿ we were comforted over you, in all our affliction and distress, by your faith. ⁸ For now we live if ye ^o stand fast in the Lord. ⁹ For what thanks can we render to God again for you, for ^p all the joy wherewith we rejoice for your sakes before our God; ¹⁰ night and day ^q praying exceedingly that we may see your face, and ^r may perfect that which is lacking in your faith?

¹¹ But may our God and Father himself and our Lord Jesus Christ ^s direct our way unto you. ¹² And may the Lord ^t make you to increase and abound in your love one towards another, and towards all ^u men, even ^v as we also ^w do towards you; ¹³ to the end that he may ^x establish your hearts unblameable in holiness before our God and Father, ^y at the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ ^z with all his saints.

Exhortations to a life worthy of the gospel, and particularly to (3) purity, (9) brotherly love, and (11) patient industry.

4. FURTHERMORE then we beseech you, brethren, and exhort you in the Lord Jesus, that ^a as ye received from us how ye ought to walk and to please God, even ^b as also ye are walking, ^c so ye would abound more and more. ² For ye know what commandments we gave you by the Lord Jesus, ³ For this is the will of God, ^d even ^e your sanctification, ^f that ye should abstain from fornication; ⁴ that ^g every one of you should know how to get for himself ^h his own vessel ⁱ in sanctification and honour; ⁵ not ^j in the lust of concupiscence, ⁶ even as the Gentiles who know not God; ⁷ that no one should go beyond or overreach his brother in this matter, because ^k the Lord is the avenger of all such things; as we also forewarned you and testified. ⁸ For God did not call us unto uncleanness, ⁹ but in holiness. ¹⁰ He ^k therefore that despiseth, despiseth not man but God, ^l who gave unto us his Holy Spirit.

⁹ But as touching brotherly love ^m ye need not that I write unto you; for ⁿ ye yourselves are taught by God to love one another; ¹⁰ and indeed ye do it towards all the brethren who are in all Macedonia. But we beseech you, brethren, that ^o ye abound more and more; ¹¹ and that ^p ye make it your ambition to be quiet, and to do your own business, and ^q to work with your own hands, as we commanded you; ¹² that ^r ye may walk honourably towards them that are without, and ^s that ye may have lack of nothing.

Consolation with regard to those who die in the Lord, (15) who will have the foremost place in the glories and joys of His coming.—(ch. 5. 1) Exhortations to constant watchfulness, and preparedness for the day of the Lord.

13 BUT we would not have you to be ignorant, brethren, concerning them ^a that are asleep, that ye sorrow not ^b even as the others ^c who have no hope. ¹⁴ For ^d if we believe that Jesus died and rose again, even so ^e them also that sleep in Jesus will ^f God bring with him. ¹⁵ For this we say unto you, by the word of the Lord, that ^g we who are alive ^h and remain unto the coming of the Lord shall not go before them that are asleep. ¹⁶ For ⁱ the Lord himself will descend from heaven, with a shout, with the voice of ^j an archangel, and with ^k the trumpet of God; and the dead in Christ will rise first: ¹⁷ then we who are alive ^h and remain shall be caught up together with them, ^l in clouds, to meet the Lord, in the air; and ^m so shall we ever be with the Lord. ¹⁸ Wherefore ⁿ comfort one another with these words.

5. But of ^o the times and the seasons, brethren, ye have no need that I write unto you. ² For ye yourselves know perfectly that ^p the day of the Lord so cometh as a thief in the night. ³ For when they are saying, Peace and safety, then ^q sudden destruction cometh upon them, ^r even as travail upon a woman with child, and they will not escape.

Exhortations to the discharge of duties, and the exercise of Christian virtues, with (23) a prayer—(25) Concluding salutation, adjuration, and benediction.

¹² NOW we beseech you, brethren, ^a to know* them that labour among you and are over you in the Lord and admonish you, ¹⁵ and to esteem them very highly in love for their work's sake. And ^b be at peace among yourselves.

¹⁴ Moreover we exhort you, brethren, ^c admonish the disorderly, ^d encourage the faint-hearted, support the weak, ^e be patient towards all men. ¹⁵ See ^f that none render evil for evil unto any one; but ever ^g follow that which is good, both towards each other and towards all men.

¹⁶ Rejoice ^h always. ¹⁷ Pray ⁱ without ceasing. ¹⁸ In ^k every thing give thanks; for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus concerning you.

¹⁹ Quench ¹ not the Spirit. ²⁰ Despise ^m not prophesyings*. ²¹ Prove ⁿ all things; ^o hold fast that which is good. ²² Abstain from every form of evil.

²³ And ^p may the God of peace himself sanctify you wholly: and may your whole spirit and soul and body ^q be preserved blameless unto the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ. ²⁴ Faithful ^r is he that call-eth you, who also will do it.

²⁵ Brethren, ^s pray for us. ²⁶ Salute ^t all the brethren with a holy kiss.

²⁷ I adjure you by the Lord that *this epistle be read unto all the holy brethren.

THESSALONIANS.

Address and salutation—(3) Thanksgiving for the growth of the disciples in faith and love, and (4) their patient endurance of persecution; (5) which shall be recompensed with rest and glory at the Lord's coming—(11) Prayer for their perfection.

¹ PAUL ^a and Silas and Timothy unto the church of the Thessalonians ^b in God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ: ² Grace ^c unto you and peace, from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

³ We ^d are bound to thank God always for you, brethren, as it is meet, because your faith groweth exceedingly, and the love of every one of you all towards each other aboundeth. ⁴ So that ^e we ourselves glory in you in the churches of God, for your patience and faith ^f in all your persecutions and the tribulations that ye endure; ⁵ which ^g is ^h a manifest token of the righteous judgment of God, ^h that ye may be counted worthy of the kingdom of God, for which ye also suffer: ⁶ seeing ⁱ that it is a righteous thing with God to repay tribulation to them that trouble you, ⁷ and ^k to you who are troubled rest with us, when ¹ the Lord Jesus shall be revealed from heaven with the angels of his power. ⁸ in ^m flaming fire taking vengeance on them that know not God, and on them ⁿ that obey not the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ; ⁹ who shall be punished with everlasting destruction from the presence of the Lord, and ^o from the glory of his power, ¹⁰ when ^p he shall come to be glorified in his saints, and to be admired in all them that believed; (because ^q our testimony among you was believed), ^r in that day.

¹¹ Wherefore also we pray always for you, that our God may count you worthy ^s of your calling, and may fulfil in you every desire of goodness and the work of faith with power; ¹² that ^t the name of our

Apostolic salutation—(3) Instructions to oppose false teachers—(5) The true meaning and use of the law—(12) Thanksgiving for the grace displayed in Paul's conversion and calling to the apostleship—(18) Exhortation to Timothy.

1. PAUL, an apostle of Jesus Christ, according to the commandment of ^a God our Saviour, and the Lord Jesus Christ, who is our hope, ² unto ^b Timothy ^c my true son in the faith: ^d grace, mercy, peace, from God our Father and Jesus Christ our Lord.

³ As I besought thee to abide still at Ephesus, ^e when I was going to Macedonia, that thou mightest charge some ^f to teach no other doctrine, ⁴ neither to ^g give heed to fables and endless genealogies, which minister questionings rather than the dispensation of God*, which is in faith; so do.

¹² And I thank Christ Jesus our Lord, ¹³ who strengthened me, that he counted me faithful, ¹⁴ appointing me to the ministry; ¹⁵ though ¹⁶ I was before a blasphemer and a persecutor and injurious. But I obtained mercy, because ¹⁷ I did it ignorantly in unbelief; ¹⁸ and ¹⁹ the grace of our Lord was exceedingly abundant, with faith and love which is in Christ Jesus. ¹⁵ This is a faithful saying, and worthy of all acceptation, that ²⁰ Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners, ²¹ of whom I am chief. ¹⁶ Howbeit for this cause I obtained mercy, that in me first* Jesus Christ might show forth all his longsuffering, for a pattern to them that should hereafter believe on him unto life everlasting.

¹⁷ Now unto the ²² King eternal, immortal, the ²³ invisible, ²⁴ the only wise God, be honour and glory for ever and ever. Amen.

Directions concerning public worship, and (9) the dress of Christian women, and (11) their behaviour in the church assemblies.

2. I EXHORT therefore, first of all, that supplications, prayers, intercessions, and giving of thanks, be made for all men, ² for ^a kings and for all that are in authority, that we may lead a quiet and peaceable life, in all godliness and gravity. ³ For this is good and acceptable in the sight of God our Saviour; ⁴ who ^b willetli all men to be saved and ^c to come unto the knowledge of the truth. ⁵ For ^d there is one God, and ^e one mediator between God and men, ^f the man Christ Jesus; ⁶ who ^g gave himself a ransom for all, to be testified ^h in due time. ⁷ Whereunto I was appointed a preacher; and an apostle, ⁸ I speak the truth in Christ, I lie not, ^k a teacher of the Gentiles in faith and verity. ⁸ I will therefore that men pray ⁱ every where, ^m lifting up holy hands, ⁿ without wrath and disputing.

⁹ In like manner also, that ^o women adorn themselves in modest apparel, with modesty and sobriety; not with braided hair and gold ¹⁰ or pearls or costly attire, ¹¹ but, (as becometh women professing godliness), with good works. ¹² Let the woman learn in silence in all subjection; ¹³ but ^p I suffer not the woman to teach, nor ^q to usurp authority over the man, but to be in silence. ¹³ For ^r Adam was first formed, then Eve; ¹⁴ and ^s Adam was not deceived, but the woman being deceived hath fallen into transgression. ¹⁵ But ^t she will be saved through the child-bearing, if they continue in faith and love and holiness with sobriety.

The qualifications to be required in bishops and deacons—(15) The dignity of the church, and (16) glory of the gospel.

3. THIS is a faithful saying: If a man desireth the office of a bishop, he desireth a good work. ² A bishop then ^a must be blameless, the husband of one wife, temperate, sober-minded, orderly, ^b hospitable, ^c apt to teach, ³ not ^d given to wine, no striker*, but gentle, not quarrelsome, not a lover of money, ⁴ one ^e that ruleth well his own house, ^f having his children in subjection with all gravity—⁵ for if a man know not how to rule his own house how shall he take care of the church of God?—⁶ not a novice, lest being puffed up with pride ^g he fall into the condemnation of the devil. ⁷ Moreover he must also have a good report ^h from them that are without, lest he fall into reproach and ⁱ the snare of the devil.

¹⁴ These things write I unto thee, hoping to come unto thee shortly; ¹⁵ but if I should tarry long, that thou mayest know how thou oughtest to behave thyself ^o in the house of God, which is the church of the living God, the pillar and ground of the truth. ¹⁶ And without controversy great is ^p the mystery of godliness: ^q etern He who ^r was manifested in the flesh, ^s justified in the Spirit, ^t seen by angels, preached unto the Gentiles, believed on in the world, received up in glory.

Prediction of apostasy in after times; (7) warning against false doctrine, and (11) exhortations to fidelity and diligence.

4. BUT the Spirit speaketh expressly, that ^a in after times some will depart from the faith, giving heed to ^b seducing spirits and doctrines of demons, ² through the hypocrisy of those who speak lies, ^c having their own conscience seared, ³ forbidding to marry, ^d and commanding to abstain from meats, which God created ^e to be received ^f with thanksgiving by them that believe and know the truth. ⁴ For ^g every creature of God is good, and nothing is to be refused if it be received with thanksgiving; ⁵ for ^h it is sanctified by the word of God and prayers.

¹⁴ Till I come, give attention to thy reading, thine exhortation, thy teaching. ¹⁵ Neglect ^u not the gift that is in thee, which was given to thee through prophecy, ^v with the laying on of the hands of the presbytery. ¹⁶ Attend to these things, give thyself wholly to them, ^w that thy profit^{ing} may appear to all. ¹⁷ Take ^x heed unto thyself and unto thy teaching; continue in it, for in doing this thou wilt both ^y save thyself and them that hear thee.

5. AN elder† rebuke ^a not sharply, but in-^b treat ^c him as a father, and the younger men as brethren, ² the elder women as mothers, the younger as sisters, with all purity.

given to pleasure f is dead while she liveth. ⁷ And these things command, that they may be blameless. ⁸ But if any one provide not for his own and specially for those of his own house, he hath ^g denied the faith and is worse than an unbeliever.

⁹ Let not a widow be taken ^h into the number* under threescore years old, having been the wife of one man, ¹⁰ well reported of for good works; if she hath ⁱ lodged strangers, if she hath ^k washed the feet of saints, if she hath relieved the afflicted, if she hath diligently followed every good work. ¹¹ But younger widows refuse; for when they wax wanton against Christ, they desire to marry; ¹² having ^l condemnation, because they have made void their former promise; ¹³ and ^m withal they learn to be idle, as they go round to the houses, and not only idle, but tattlers also and busybodies, speaking things which they ought not. ¹⁴ I ⁿ will therefore that younger widows marry, bear children, ^o guide the house, give ^p no occasion to the adversary to speak reproachfully. ¹⁵ For some have already turned aside after Satan. ¹⁶ If any man or woman that believeth hath widows, let them relieve them, and let not the church be burdened; that it may relieve those that are widows indeed.

Concerning elders—(19) Counsels to Timothy respecting his conduct in various conditions and circumstances—(ch. 6. 1) The duties of Christian bondservants.

¹⁹ Against an elder receive not an accusation except on the word of ^b two or three witnesses. ²⁰ Them that sin rebuke before all, that the rest also may fear.

²⁴ Some ^g men's sins are openly manifested, going before them to judgment, and some men they follow after; ²⁵ in like manner also ^h the good works of some are openly manifest; and those which are otherwise ⁱ cannot be hidden.

⁶. Let as many ^k servants* as are under the yoke count their own masters worthy of all honour, that the name of God and his doctrine may not be evil spoken of. ² And they that have believing masters, let them not despise them because they are brethren, but serve them the more because those who receive their good service are faithful and beloved.

Exhortations and counsels, with special reference to the opponents of sound teaching—(17) Admonitions to the rich—(20) Concluding exhortations.

THESE things teach and exhort. ³ If any man teacheth otherwise, and ^a consenteth not to sound words, even the words of our Lord Jesus Christ, ^b and to the teaching which is according to godliness, ^c he is puffed up with pride, ^d knowing nothing, but doting about questions and strifes of words; whereof cometh envy, strife, railings, evil surmisings, ^e perverse disputings of ^f men corrupted in their minds, and destitute of the truth, ^g supposing that godliness is gain. From such withdraw thyself. ⁶ But ^f godliness with contentment is great gain. ⁷ For ^g we brought nothing into the world, and it is certain we can carry nothing out; ⁸ and having food and raiment we will be therewith content. ⁹ But ^h they that desire to be rich fall into temptation and a snare, and into many foolish and hurtful lusts, which drown men in destruction and perdition. ¹⁰ For ^k the love of money is a root of all evils; through coveting which, some have wandered from the faith, and ⁱ pierced themselves through with many sorrows.

¹¹ But ^m thou, O man of God, flee these things; and follow after righteousness, godliness, faith, love, patience, meekness. ¹² Fight the good fight of faith, ⁿ lay hold on eternal life, whereunto thou wast also called, and didst confess the good confession before many witnesses. ¹³ I ^o give thee charge in the sight of God, who giveth life to all things, and before Christ Jesus, ^p who before Pontius Pilate testified the good confession, ¹⁴ that thou keep the commandment without spot, unrebukeable, ^q until the appearing of our Lord Jesus Christ; ¹⁵ which in its own times he will show who is the blessed and only Potentate, ^r the King of kings and Lord of lords, ¹⁶ who ^s only hath immortality, ^t dwelling in light which no man can approach unto, ^u whom no man hath seen or can

TIMOTHY.

Apostolic salutation—(3) Affectionate remembrance of Timothy; (6) exhortations to faithful and courageous service in the ministry of the gospel, and to patient endurance of suffering, after the apostle's example.

1. PAUL, an apostle of Jesus Christ by the will of God, according to ^athe promise of life which is in Christ Jesus, ²to ^bTimothy, my beloved son: Grace, mercy, and peace, from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Lord.

³I thank God, ^cwhom I have served from my forefathers with a pure conscience, as ^dwithout ceasing I have remembrance of thee in my prayers, night and day—⁴greatly desiring to see thee, being mindful of thy tears, that I may be filled with joy—⁵calling to remembrance the unfeigned faith that is in thee; which dwelt first in thy grandmother Lois and ^ethy mother Eunice, and I am persuaded that in thee also.

⁶Wherefore I put thee in remembrance ^fthat thou stir up the gift of God, which is in thee, through the laying on of my hands. ⁷For ^gGod hath not given us the spirit of cowardice, ^hbut of power and of love and of a sound mind. ⁸Be not ⁱthou therefore ashamed of the testimony of our Lord, nor of me ^khis prisoner; ^lbut be thou partaker with me in the afflictions of the gospel, ^maccording to the power of God; ⁹who ⁿsaved us, and ^ocalled us with a holy calling, not according to our works, but ^paccording to his own purpose, and the grace which was given us ^qin Christ Jesus before the world began ^t, ¹⁰but ^r'is now made manifest by the appearing of our Saviour Jesus Christ, ^swho hath abolished death, and hath brought life and immortality ^uto light through the gospel:

¹¹whereunto I was appointed a preacher and an apostle and a teacher of the Gentiles. ¹²For which cause I also suffer these things. But ^vI am not ashamed; ^wfor I know whom I have believed, and am persuaded that he is ^xable to keep that which I have committed unto him against that day.

¹³Hold fast ^ythe form of sound words which thou heardest from me, in faith and love which is in Christ Jesus. ¹⁴The ^zgoodly trust committed unto thee keep, by the Holy Spirit, who dwelleth in us.

¹⁵This thou knowest, that all those who are in Asia have turned away from me; of whom are Phygellus and Hermogenes. ¹⁶The Lord give mercy unto the house of Onesiphorus; ^afor he often refreshed me, and he was not ashamed of ^bmy chain, ¹⁷but when he came to Rome, he sought me out very diligently and found me. ¹⁸The Lord grant unto him ^cthat he may find mercy of the Lord in ^dthat day. And in how many things he ministered unto me at Ephesus, thou knowest very well.

2. Thou therefore, my son, ^ebe strong in the grace that is in Christ Jesus. ²And the things that thou heardest from me among ^fmany witnesses, the same commit thou to faithful men, such as will be ^gable to teach others also. ³Suffer affliction with me, ^has a good soldier of Jesus Christ. ⁴No ⁱman serving as a soldier entangleth himself with the affairs of life; that he may please him who chose him to be a soldier. ⁵And if also a man ^kstrive in the games, yet is he not crowned except he strive according to rule. ⁶The husbandman that laboreth ought to be the first partaker of the fruits. ⁷Consider what I say; and may the Lord give thee understanding in all things.

⁸ Remember Jesus Christ, ¹ of the seed of David, ^m raised from the dead, according to my gospel; ⁹ wherein I suffer affliction, as an evil doer, ⁿ even unto bonds; ^o but the word of God is not bound. ¹⁰ Therefore ^p I patiently endure all things for the elect's sake, that they also may obtain the salvation which is in Christ Jesus with eternal glory. ¹¹ This ^q is a faithful saying: For ^r if we died with ^{him}, we shall also live with ^{him}; ¹² if ^s we patiently endure, we shall also reign with ^{him}; ^t if we deny ^{him} he also will deny us; ¹³ if ^u we are faithless, yet he remaineth faithful, for he cannot deny himself.

The conduct to be pursued with regard to teachers of error, and other adversaries.

¹⁹ Nevertheless the firm foundation of God standeth, having this inscription: 'The Lord ¹ knoweth them that are his' [Numb. xvi. 5], and 'Let ^m every one that nameth the name of Christ depart from iniquity.' ²⁰ But in a great house there are not only vessels of gold and of silver, but also of wood and of earth, and ⁿ some to honour and some to dishonour. ²¹ If therefore ^o a man purify himself from these, he will be ^p a vessel unto honour, sanctified, and meet for the master's use, and ^q prepared unto every good work.

Warning of bad times to come, in which every form of evil will abound; (10) to be guarded against by imitating apostolic example and steadfastly adhering to the word of God—(ch. 4.) 1) Solemn charge to courage and diligence—(5) Joyful confidence in the prospect of approaching martyrdom.

3. BUT know this, that ^a in the last days grievous times will come. ² For men will be ^b lovers of themselves, lovers of money, boasters, proud, ^c blasphemers*, disobedient to parents, unthankful, unholy, ³ without natural affection, implacable, false accusers, ^d incontinent, fierce, haters of good, ^e traitors*, headstrong, puffed up with pride, ^f lovers of pleasure rather than lovers of God, ⁵ having ^g a form of godliness but denying the power thereof. From ^h such turn away. ⁶ For ⁱ of this sort are they that creep into the houses, and lead captive silly women laden with sins, led away with divers lusts, ⁷ ever ^k learning, and never able to come to the knowledge of the truth. ⁸ Now ^l as Jannes and Jambres withstood Moses, so do these also withstand the truth; men corrupted in their mind, ^m reprobate concerning the faith. ⁹ But they shall proceed no further; for their folly shall be manifest unto all men, ⁿ as theirs also was.

4. I charge thee before God, and the Lord Jesus Christ, ^a who will judge the living and the dead, at ^b his appearing and his kingdom, ² preach the word, be instant in season, out of season; reprove*, rebuke, exhort with all longsuffering and

¹⁰ For ¹¹ I am now ready to be offered*, and the time of ¹² my departure is at hand. ¹³ I ¹⁴ have fought the good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith. ¹⁵ Henceforth there is laid up for me the crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous Judge, will give me at that day, and not to me only, but unto all them also ¹⁶ that have loved his appearing.

Personal notices and requests—(19) Salutations.

¹⁹ DO thy diligence to come shortly unto me; ²⁰ for ²¹ Demas hath forsaken me, having ²² loved this present world, and is gone to Thessalonica; Crescens to Galatia, Titus to Dalmatia; ²³ only ²⁴ Luke is with me. Take ²⁵ Mark and bring him with thee, for he is profitable to me for the ministry. ²⁶ But ²⁷ Tychicus I sent to Ephesus. ²⁸ The cloak which I left at Troas with Carpus, when thou comest, bring with thee, and the books, especially the parchments.

²⁹ Alexander ³⁰ the coppersmith did me much evil; ³¹ the Lord will requite* him according to his works: ³² of whom do thou beware also; for he greatly withstood our words.

³³ At my first defence ³⁴ no man came forward with me, but all forsook me; ³⁵ I pray God that it may not be laid to their charge; ³⁶ but ³⁷ the Lord stood by me, and strengthened me; ³⁸ that through me the preaching might be fully known, and that all the Gentiles might hear; and I was delivered ³⁹ out of the mouth of the lion. ⁴⁰ And ⁴¹ the Lord will deliver me from every evil work, ⁴² and will preserve me unto his heavenly kingdom. ⁴³ To whom be glory for ever and ever. Amen.

⁴⁴ Salute ⁴⁵ Prisca and Aquila, and the household of Onesiphorus. ⁴⁶ Erastus ⁴⁷ remained at Corinth; but ⁴⁸ Trophimus I left at Miletus sick. ⁴⁹ Do thy diligence to come before winter.

Eubulus saluteth thee, and Pudens and Linus and Claudia, and all the brethren.

⁵⁰ The ⁵¹ Lord Jesus Christ be with thy spirit. Grace be with you. Amen.

The second Epistle unto Timothy, ordained the first bishop of the church of the Ephesians, was written from Rome, when Paul was brought before Nero the second time.

Apostolic address and salutation—(5) Concerning the appointment of elders, and their proper qualifications and duties—(10) The character of the teachers of error.

¹² For this cause left I thee in Crete, that thou mightest further ¹³ set in order the things that are wanting, and ¹⁴ appoint elders in every city, as I directed thee; ¹⁵ if ¹⁶ any one is blameless, the husband of one wife, having believing children, who are not accused of dissoluteness or unruly. ¹⁷ For a bishop must be blameless, as ¹⁸ a steward of God; not selfwilled, not soon angry, ¹⁹ not given to wine, no striker, ²⁰ not greedy of gain; ²¹ but ²² hospitable, a lover of goodness, sober-minded, just, holy, temperate; ²³ holding ²⁴ fast the faithful word as he hath been taught, that he may be able ²⁵ both to exhort by his sound teaching, and to confute the gainsayers.

houses*, teaching things which they ought not, for the sake of base gain. ¹² One ^z of themselves, a prophet of their own, said: The Cretans are always liars, evil beasts, slothful gluttons: ¹³ this testimony is true. Wherefore ^y rebuke them sharply, that they may be sound in the faith; ¹⁴ not ^z giving heed to Jewish fables, and ^a commandments of men who turn away from the truth.

Special instructions to be given to various classes—(ch. 3. 1) General exhortations to the whole church—(4) A summary of the gospel, with special reference to its sanctifying purpose and effects—(12) Personal notices, and (15) salutations.

2. BUT speak thou the things which become sound doctrine†; ² that ^a aged men be sober, grave, temperate, sound in the faith, in love, in patience; ³ aged women likewise, that ^{they} be in behaviour as becometh holiness, ^b not slanderers, not enslaved to much wine, teachers of good things; ⁴ that they may train the young women to love their husbands, to love their children, ⁵ to be discreet, chaste, workers; at home, good, ^c obedient to their own husbands; ^d that the word of God be not evil spoken of.

⁹ Exhort ^h servants to be obedient unto their own masters, and to please ^{them} well in all things; not contradicting; ¹⁰ not purloining; but showing all good fidelity; ¹¹ that they may adorn the doctrine of God our Saviour in all things.

¹¹ For the grace of God that bringeth salvation unto all men ^k hath appeared, ¹² teaching us ^l that, denying ungodliness and worldly lusts, ^m we should live soberly, righteously, and godly, in the present world; ¹³ looking ⁿ for the blessed ^o hope and the manifestation of the glory of the great God and our Saviour* Jesus Christ; ¹⁴ who ^p gave himself for us that he might redeem us from all iniquity, ^q and purify unto himself ^r a people to be his own, ^s zealous of good works.

¹⁵ These things speak, and ^t exhort and rebuke with all authority; ^u let no man despise thee.

3. Put them in mind ^x to be subject to governments and powers†, to obey magistrates, ^y to be ready for every good work, ^z to ^a speak evil of no one, ^a to be not quarrelsome ^{but} gentle, showing all meekness unto all men.

3 For ^b we ourselves also were once foolish, disobedient, led astray, ^c serving divers lusts and pleasures, living in malice and envy, hateful and hating one another. ⁴ But when ^d the kindness and love of God our Saviour towards man was manifested, ⁵ not ^e by works of righteousness which we had done, but according to his mercy he saved us, by ^f the washing of regeneration and renewing of the Holy Spirit, ⁶ which ^g he shed on us abundantly through Jesus Christ our Saviour; ⁷ that ^h being justified by his grace, ⁱ we should be made heirs according to the hope of everlasting life.

⁸ This ^k is a faithful saying, and these things I will that thou affirm constantly, so that they that have believed in God may be careful to maintain good works. These things ^l are good and profitable unto men; ⁹ but ^t avoid foolish questions and genealogies and contentions and strivings about the law, for they are unprofitable and vain. ¹⁰ A man that causeth ^m divisions, after the first and second admonition ⁿ reject, ¹¹ knowing that such a one is perverted and sinneth, ^o being self-condemned.

PAUL, ^a a prisoner of Jesus Christ, and Timothy ^{our} brother, unto Philemon ^{our} beloved and fellowlabourer, ² and to Apphia ^{our} sister*, and ^b Archippus ^c our fellowsoldier, and to ^d the church ⁺ in thy house: ³ Grace ^e be to you, and peace, from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

⁴ I thank my God, making mention of thee always in my prayers, ⁵ hearing ^o of thy love and faith, which thou hast towards the Lord Jesus and towards all the saints; ⁶ that the communication of thy faith may become[†] effectual unto Christ Jesus, ^h by the knowledge of every good thing which is ⁱ in you. ⁷ For we have great joy and consolation in thy love, because the hearts of the saints ^k have been refreshed by thee, brother.

⁸ Wherefore, ^l though I might have much boldness in Christ to enjoin thee that which is befitting, ⁹ yet ^m for love's sake I rather beseech ^{thee}; being such an one as Paul the aged, and now also a prisoner of Jesus Christ. ¹⁰ I beseech ^{thee} for my son ⁿ Onesimus^{||}, ^o whom I have begotten in my bonds; ¹¹ who in time past was to thee unprofitable, but now is profitable to thee and to me; ¹² whom I have sent back to ^{thee}; and do thou ^p receive him, that is, my own heart; ¹³ whom I would have retained with me, ^q that in thy stead he might minister unto me in the bonds of the gospel; ¹⁴ but without thy mind would I do nothing, ^r that thy kindness might not be as it were of necessity, but willingly. ¹⁵ For ^s perhaps he on this account departed for a season, that thou mightest have him as thine own for ever; ¹⁶ no longer as a servant*, but above a servant, ^t a brother beloved, specially to me, but how much more to thee, both in the flesh and in the Lord. ¹⁷ If therefore thou countest me ^u a partner, receive him as myself. ¹⁸ If he wronged thee, or oweth ^{thee} anything, put that to my account. ¹⁹ I Paul have written ^{it} with my own hand, I will repay ^{it}; albeit I do not say to thee how thou owest unto me even thy own self besides. ²⁰ Yea, brother, let me have joy of thee in the Lord; refresh my heart in the Lord. ²¹ Having ^x confidence in thy obedience I have written unto thee, knowing that thou wilt also do even more than I say.

²² But withal prepare me also a lodging; for I hope that ^y through your prayers I shall be given unto you. ²³ There salute ^{thee} ^z Epaphras, my fellow-prisoner in Christ Jesus, ²⁴ Mark ^a, ^b Aristarchus, ^c Demas, ^d Luke, my fellowlabourers.

²⁵ The ^e grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit. Amen.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE

HEBREWS.

The supreme excellence and importance of God's last revelation, given through One (2) greater than all the prophets, and (5) higher than all the angels—(ch. 2. 1) The corresponding responsibility of those who receive it.

1. GOD, having at sundry times and ^a in divers manners spoken in time past unto the fathers by the prophets, ² hath ^b at the end of these days ^c spoken unto us by his Son; ^d whom he appointed heir of all things; ^e through whom also he made the worlds [†]; ² who ^f being the brightness [†] of his glory and the express image of his person^{||} and ^g upholding all things by the word of his power, ^h when he had by himself made a purification of our sins, sat

⁵ FOR not unto ^a angels did he put in subjection the world to come^b, whereof we speak. ⁶ But one in a certain place testified, saying: 'What is man that thou art mindful of him, or the son of man that thou ^b visitest him! ⁷ Thou madest him a little lower than the angels, thou crownedst him with glory and honour, and didst set him over the works of thy hands, ⁸ thou ^c didst put all things in subjection under his feet' [Psa. viii. 4—6]. For in that he put all things in subjection under him, he left nothing that is not put under him. But now ^d we see not yet all things put under him; ⁹ but we see Jesus, ^e who was made a little lower than the angels, on account of his suffering of death ^f crowned with glory and honour, that he ^g by the grace of God should taste death ^h for every man.

¹⁰ For ⁱ it became Him for whom ^{are} all things and through whom ^{are} all things, in bringing ^k many sons unto glory, to make the Captain ^l of their salvation perfect through sufferings. ¹¹ For ^l both he who sanctifieth and they who are ^m sanctified are all ⁿ of One. For which cause ^o he is not ashamed to call them brethren, ¹² saying: 'I will declare thy name unto my brethren, in the midst of the church[†] will I sing praise unto thee' [Psa. xxii. 22]; ¹³ and again: 'I ^p will put my trust in him' [Isa. viii. 17]; and again: 'Behold, I and the children whom God hath given me' [Isa. viii. 18]. ¹⁴ Forasmuch then as the children are partakers of flesh and blood, he ^q also himself likewise took part of the same; that through death ^r he might destroy him that had the power of death, that is, the devil, ¹⁵ and deliver those who ^s through fear of death were all their lifetime subject to bondage. ¹⁶ For verily it is not angels that he helpeth, but he helpeth ^t the seed of Abraham. ¹⁷ Wherefore ^u in all things it behoved him to be made like unto ^{his} brethren, that he might be ^x a merciful and faithful High Priest in things ^{pertaining} to God, ^v to make propitiation for the sins of the people. ¹⁸ For ^z in that he himself hath suffered being tempted, he is able to succour them that are tempted.

g ch. 1. 2—5. 1 Cor. 3. 16; 1 Tim. 3. 15.	¹⁶ For ^q who were they that when they heard, provoked him? Was it not all [†] those who came out of Egypt by Moses? ¹⁷ And with whom was he grieved forty years? Was it not with them ² that had sinned, ³ whose carcases fell in the wilderness? ¹⁸ And to whom sware he that they should not enter into his rest, ¹⁹ but to them that were disobedient? ¹⁹ So we see that they could not enter in because of unbelief.	⁸ For if ^h Joshua had given them rest, he would not then afterwards have been speaking of another day. ⁹ There [†] remaineth therefore still a sabbath-rest for the people of God. ¹⁰ For [†] he that entereth into his rest, himself also resteth from his own works, as God did from his. ¹¹ Let [†] us labour therefore to enter into that rest, lest any one fall [†] after the same example of disobedience.
* or, the bold profession and the glorying. 2 Sam. 23. 2; Ac. 1. 16.	⁴ Let ^z us therefore fear lest, a promise being still left of entering into his rest, any one of you should seem to have come short of it. ² For unto us have good tidings been preached, as well as unto them; but the word which they heard did not profit them, not being mixed with faith in them that heard it. ³ For we who have believed enter into the rest; even as he said, 'So I swear in my wrath, they shall not enter into my rest;' although the works were finished from the foundation of the world. ⁴ For he spake in a certain place of the seventh day on this wise: 'And [†] God rested on the seventh day from all his works' [Gen. ii. 3]; ⁵ and in this	¹² For the word of God is [†] living, and powerful, and sharper than any ^h two-edged sword, and piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and [†] passing judgment on the thoughts and intents of the heart. ¹³ And [†] there is no creature that is not manifest in his sight, but [†] all things are naked and opened unto the eyes of him with whom we have to do.
k Num. 32. 10, 11.	¹⁶ For ^q who were they that when they heard, provoked him? Was it not all [†] those who came out of Egypt by Moses? ¹⁷ And with whom was he grieved forty years? art my Son, to-day have I begotten thee' [Ps. ii. 7]; ⁶ even as he saith also in another place, 'Thou art a Priest for ever after the order of Melchizedek [Ps. ex. 4].

⁷ Who in the days of his flesh, having ⁸ offered up prayers and supplications ⁹ with strong crying and tears unto him ¹⁰ that was able to save him from death, and being heard ¹¹ for his godly fear, ¹² though he was a Son yet learned he ¹³ obedience by the things which he suffered; ¹⁴ and ¹⁵ being made perfect, he became ¹⁶ the author of everlasting salvation ¹⁷ unto all them that obey him; ¹⁸ called by God ¹⁹ a High Priest ²⁰ after the order of Melchizedek.

Digression—(11) Expostulation with the Hebrew Christians for their dull apprehension of spiritual truth, and low attainments in the divine life—(ch. 6. 1) Exhortations to steadfastness, progress, and (13) firm reliance on God's promise, after the example of Abraham.

¹¹ CONCERNING whom ¹² we have many things to say, and hard to be explained, seeing that ye are become ¹³ dull of hearing. ¹⁴ For though ye ought on account of the time to be teachers, ye have need again that one teach you the first ¹⁵ rudiments of the oracles of God; and ye are become such as have need of ¹⁶ milk, and not of solid food. ¹⁷ For every one that useth milk is inexperienced in the word of righteousness, for he is ¹⁸ a babe; ¹⁹ but solid food belongeth to them that are of full age, even those who by reason of use have their senses exercised ²⁰ to distinguish between good and evil.

¹⁶ For it is impossible in the case of those ¹⁷ who have been once enlightened, and have tasted of ¹⁸ the heavenly gift, and ¹⁹ have been made partakers of the Holy Spirit, ²⁰ and have ²¹ tasted the good word of God, and the powers of ²² the world to come, ²³ and ²⁴ have fallen away, to renew them again unto repentance; seeing that they crucify to themselves the Son of God afresh, and put ²⁵ him to an open shame.

⁸ but ⁹ if it beareth thorns and briers it is rejected, and is nigh unto cursing, whose end is to be burned.

⁹ But, beloved, we are persuaded better things of you, and things that accompany salvation, though we thus speak. ¹⁰ For ¹¹ God is not unrighteous to forget ¹² your work and the love¹³, which ye showed towards his name, in that ye ¹⁴ ministered to the saints and are still ministering. ¹⁵ But we earnestly desire that every one of you may show the same diligence ¹⁶ unto the full assurance ¹⁷ of hope unto the end; ¹⁸ that ¹⁹ ye be not slothful, ²⁰ but followers ²¹ of those who through faith and patience inherit the promises.

²² For when God made a promise to Abraham, because he could swear by no greater, he swore by himself, ²³ saying: 'Surely blessing I will bless thee, and multiplying I will multiply thee' [Gen. xxii. 16, 17]. ²⁴ And ²⁵ so after he had patiently endured he obtained the promise.

The perfection of Christ's priesthood, continued—(ch. 7. 1) Melchizedek being greater than Abraham, (11) the promise of a future priesthood of which his was the type, implied the abrogation of the Levitical priesthood and of the old covenant, and (20) the introduction of a new covenant, with an everlasting Mediator, Priest, and King.

⁷ FOR this ⁸ Melchizedek, king of Salem, priest of the most high God, who met Abraham returning from the smiting of the kings, and blessed him, ⁹ to whom also Abraham gave a tenth part of all; being first by interpretation ¹⁰ King of righteousness, and after that also King of Salem, which is, King of peace; ¹¹ without father, without mother, without genealogy, having neither beginning of days nor end of life, but made like unto the Son of God, abideth a priest continually. ¹² Now consider how great this man was, ¹³ unto whom even the patriarch Abraham gave the tenth of the spoils. ⁵ And verily ^d those of the sons of Levi who receive the priesthood have a commandment to take tithes from the people, according to the law, that is, from their brethren, though they have come out of the loins of Abraham; ⁶ but he whose genealogy is not counted from them, received tithes from Abraham, ^e and blessed ^f him that had the promises. ⁷ Now beyond all contradiction the less is blessed by the greater. ⁸ And here men that die receive tithes, but there one received them ^g of whom it is testified that he liveth. ⁹ And as I may so say, even Levi who receiveth tithes paid tithes through Abraham; ¹⁰ for he was yet in the loins of his father when Melchizedek met him.

¹¹ If ^h then perfection were through the Levitical priesthood, (for under it the people received the law), what further need was there that a different priest should arise after the order of Melchizedek, and not be called after the order of Aaron? ¹² For the priesthood being changed, there is made of necessity a change also of the law. ¹³ For he of whom these things are spoken belongeth to another tribe, ⁱ of which no one hath ever given attendance at the altar. ¹⁴ For it is evident that ^k our Lord hath arisen out of Judah, of which tribe Moses spake nothing concerning the priesthood; ¹⁵ and it is yet far more evident, seeing that after the similitude of Melchizedek there ariseth a different Priest, ¹⁶ who hath been made, not after ^l the law of a carnal commandment, but after the power of an endless life. ¹⁷ For of him it is testified*: 'Thou art a Priest for ever after the order of Melchizedek.'

¹⁸ For there is on the one hand ^m a disannulling of the commandment going before, because of ⁿ its weakness and unprofitableness, ¹⁹ (for ^o the law made nothing perfect), and there is ^p on the other hand, the bringing in of ^q a better hope, by which ^r we draw nigh unto God.

²⁰ And inasmuch as it was not without an oath that he was made a Priest, ²¹ (for they indeed have been made priests without an oath, but He with an oath, by him who said unto him, 'The Lord sware and will not repent, Thou art a Priest for ever after the order of Melchizedek'), ²² it is of ^s a so much better covenant that Jesus hath become surety.

²³ And they indeed have been many priests, because they are not suffered to continue by reason of death; ²⁴ but He, because ^t he continueth for ever, hath a priesthood which passeth not to another.

²⁵ Wherefore ^u also he is able to save to the uttermost* those who come unto (God ^x by him, seeing that he ever liveth ^y to make intercession for them.

²⁶ For ^z such a High Priest was meet for us, ^a who is holy, harmless, undefiled, separated from sinners, ^b and made higher than the heavens; ²⁷ who needeth not daily, like those high priests, to offer up sacrifice ^c first for his own sins, and then for those of the people; for ^d this he did once for all when he offered up himself. ²⁸ For the law maketh ^e men high priests who have infirmity; but the word of the oath, which was after the law, maketh the Son, who hath been ^f consecrated for evermore.

The argument continued—Christ's pre-eminence over the Aaronic high priests, he ministering, not on earth, but in heaven, and (7) being the Mediator, not of a temporary, but of an everlasting covenant.

8. NOW of the things which we are speaking of this is the chief; we have such a High Priest, ^g who sat down on the right hand of the throne of the Majesty in the heavens, ² a minister of ^h the sanctuary and of the true tabernacle, which the Lord pitched and not man.

³ For ⁱ every high priest is appointed to offer gifts and sacrifices; wherefore ^j it is of necessity that this one also should have something to offer. ⁴ If however he were on earth, he would not be a priest, seeing that there are priests that offer gifts according to the law, ⁵ who minister to a copy and ^k shadow of the heavenly things; even as Moses was admonished by God when he was about to make the tabernacle; for, 'See,' saith he, 'that thou make all things according to the pattern showed to thee on the mountain' [Exod. xxv. 40]. ⁶ But now ^l hath He obtained so much more excellent a ministry, as he is also ^m the Mediator of a better covenant, which hath been established upon better promises.

⁷ For ⁿ if that first covenant were faultless, then would no place be sought for the second. ⁸ For finding fault with it, he saith: 'Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, when I will make ^o a new covenant with the house of Israel and with the house of Judah; ⁹ not according to the covenant that I made with their fathers, in the day when I took them by the hand to lead them out of the land of Egypt; because they continued not in my covenant, and I regarded them not, saith the Lord. ¹⁰ For ^p this is the covenant that I will establish for the house of Israel after those days, saith the Lord; I will put my laws

into their mind, and write them on their hearts; and ¹I will be to them a God, and they shall be to me a people. ¹¹ And ^mthey shall not teach every one his neighbour* and every one his brother, saying, Know the Lord; for all shall know me, from the least to the greatest. ¹² For I will be merciful to their unrighteousness, ⁿ and their sins and their iniquities will I remember no more.' [Jer. xxxi. 31—34, Sept.]

¹³ In that he saith, A new covenant, he hath made the first old. But that which decayeth and waxeth old is ^o ready to vanish away.

The argument continued—(1) The ministrations and services of the old covenant could not give peace of conscience or access to God; but (11) Christ by his perfect mediation, and his sacrificial death, making once for all complete expiation for sin, ratified the new covenant, and opened the way to heaven.

9. THE first covenant then had also ordinances of divine service, and a worldly sanctuary ^t. ² For there was ^a a tabernacle made; the first, wherein was ^b the candlestick and ^c the table and the showbread, which is called the holy place; ³ and ^d after the second vail, the tabernacle which is called ^e the holy of holies, ⁴ which had the golden altar of incense, and ^f the ark of the covenant overlaid round about with gold, wherein was ^g a golden pot that had the manna and ^h Aaron's rod that budded and the tables of the covenant, ⁵ and ⁱ over it cherubim of glory overshadowing the mercy-seat; of which things we cannot now speak particularly.

⁶ And these things being thus ordained, ^k the priests enter continually into the first tabernacle, performing their services; ⁷ but ^l into the second entereth the high priest alone, once; every year, ^m not without blood, ⁿ which he offereth for himself and for the errors of the people; ⁸ the Holy Spirit signifying this, that the way into the holy place had not yet been made manifest while the first tabernacle was still standing; ⁹ which is a figure for the time now present; according to which there are offered both gifts and sacrifices, which cannot make him that doth the service perfect as pertaining to the conscience; ¹⁰ consisting only in ^o meats and drinks and ^p divers washings, being ^q carnal ordinances imposed ^r until ^s the time of reformation.

¹¹ But Christ being come, a High Priest ^t of the good things to come, ^u through the greater and more perfect tabernacle ^v not made with hands, that is to say, not of this creation, ^w nor yet ^x through the blood of goats and calves, but ^y through his own blood, he entered in ^z once for all into the holy place, ^a having obtained* everlasting redemption for us. ¹³ For if ^b the blood of bulls and of goats, and ^c the ashes of a heifer sprinkling the unclean, sanctifieth to the purifying of the flesh, ¹⁴ how much more ^d will the blood of Christ, ^e who through the eternal Spirit ^f offered himself ^g without spot to God, ^h purify your conscience from ⁱ dead works ^k to serve the living God?

¹⁵ And for this cause ^l he is the Mediator of a new covenant, ^m in order that death having taken place for redemption from the transgressions under the first covenant, ⁿ they that have been called may receive ^o the promise of the everlasting inheritance. ¹⁶ For where there is a testament ^p there must also of necessity be brought in the death of him who made it; ¹⁷ for a testament ^q is of force in the case of the dead, seeing that it is of no strength at all while he who made it liveth. ¹⁸ Wherefore neither was the first covenant ^r; dedicated without blood; ¹⁹ for ^s when Moses had spoken every precept to all the people according to the law, he took the blood of the calves and the goats, ^t with water and scarlet wool and hyssop, and sprinkled both the book itself and all the people, ²⁰ saying: 'This is the blood of the covenant which God hath enjoined unto you' [Exod. xxiv. 8]. ²¹ Moreover ^u he in like manner sprinkled with the blood both the tabernacle and all the vessels of the ministry. ²² And almost all things are by the law purified with blood; and ^v without shedding of blood there is no remission.

²³ It was therefore necessary that ^w the copies of the things in the heavens should be purified with these, but the heavenly things ^x themselves with better sacrifices than these. ²⁴ For Christ entered not into holy places made with hands, which are only similitudes of ^y the true, ^z but into heaven itself, now ^a to appear in the presence of God for us. ²⁵ Nor yet that he should offer himself often, as ^b the high priest entereth into the holy place every year with blood not his own; ²⁶ for then must he often have suffered since the foundation of the world; but now ^c once ^d at the end of the world ^e hath he been manifested, to put away sin by means of his sacrifice. ²⁷ And as ^f it is appointed unto men once to die, but after this ^g the judgment; ²⁸ so also, ^h Christ having been once offered to bear the sins ⁱ of many, will appear unto them that ^j look for him, ^k the second time, without sin, unto salvation.

Conclusion of the argument—(1) The abolition of the constantly repeated sacrifices and services of the Old Covenant, by Christ's one atoning self-offering; (5) perfectly fulfilling the will of God, and (15) inaugurating the new and everlasting Covenant.

10. FOR the law, having ^a a shadow of the good things to come, and not the very image* of the things, ^b can never with the same sacrifices which they offer year by year continually make the comers thereunto perfect. ² For then would they not have ceased to be offered? Because the worshippers once purified would have had no more consciousness of sins. ³ But ^c in these sacrifices there is a remembrance made of sins year by year. ⁴ For ^d it is not possible that the blood of bulls and of goats should take away sins.

⁵ Wherefore ^e when he cometh into the world, he saith: 'Sacrifice and offering thou wouldest not, but a body hast thou prepared for me; ^f in whole burnt offerings and sacrifices for sin thou hadst no pleasure. ⁷ Then said I, Lo, I come, (in the volume of the book it is written of me), to do thy will, O God.' [Psa. xl. 6—8, Sept.] ⁸ Above when he said, Sacrifice and offering and whole burnt offerings and offerings for sin thou wouldest not, neither hadst pleasure therein, (which are offered according to the law), ⁹ then saith he, Lo, I come to do thy will, O God. ¹⁰ He taketh away the first that he may establish the second. ¹⁰ By ^g which will we have been sanctified, ^h through the offering of the body of Jesus Christ once for all.

Practical application—Exhortations to (19) true and trustful worship, (23) courageous confession, and (24) mutual edification; (26) enforced by the fearful consequences of apostasy, and (32) the remembrance of former steadfastness under persecutions.

by the blood of Jesus, ²⁰ by ^c a new and living way, which he consecrated for us ^d through the veil, that is to say his flesh, ²¹ and having ^e a great Priest over ^f the house of God, ²² let ^g us draw near with a true heart, in full assurance of faith, having our hearts sprinkled ^h from an evil conscience, and ⁱ our bodies washed with pure water. ²³ Let ^k us hold fast the profession of our hope, without wavering, for ^l he is faithful who promised. ²⁴ And let us consider one another to provoke unto love and to good works; ²⁵ not ^m forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as the manner of some is, ⁿ but exhorting one another, and ^o so much the more as ye see the day approaching.

²⁶ For ^p if we sin wilfully ^q after we have received the knowledge of the truth, there remaineth no more a sacrifice for sins, ²⁷ but a certain fearful looking for of judgment, and a ^r fiery indignation which shall devour the adversaries. ²⁸ He that despised Moses' law died without mercy ^s under two or three witnesses; ²⁹ of ^t how much sorer punishment, suppose ye, will he be thought worthy ^u who hath trodden under foot the Son of God, and ^v hath counted the blood of the covenant ^w wherewith he was sanctified an unholy thing, ^x and hath done despite unto the Spirit of grace! ³⁰ For we know him who said: 'Vengeance belongeth unto me, I will recompense, saith the Lord;' and again: 'The Lord will judge his people' [Deut. xxxii. 35, 36]. ³¹ It ^a is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God.

³² But call to remembrance the former days, in which, after ye were enlightened, ^b ye endured a great fight of afflictions, ³³ partly whilst ye were made ^c a gazing-stock both by reproaches and tribulations, and partly whilst ^d ye became partakers with them that were so used. ³⁴ For ^e ye sympathized with those in bonds^m, and ye took ^f joyfully the spoiling of your goods, ^g knowing that ye have for yourselves in heaven a better and an enduring substance.

³⁵ Cast not away therefore your confidence, ^h which hath great recompence of reward. ³⁶ For ⁱ ye have need of patience, that after ye have done the will of God, ^k ye may receive the promise. ³⁷ For ^l yet a very little while and he that is coming will come, and will not tarry. ³⁸ Now the just shall live by faith; ^m but if he draw back, my soul hath no pleasure in him.' [Hab. ii. 3, 4, Sept.] ³⁹ But we are not of them that draw back unto perdition, but of them that believe to the saving of the soul.

The nature of faith, and its conflicts and reward; illustrated by examples from the beginning of the world to the close of the Old Testament dispensation.

11. NOW faith is the assurance of things hoped for, the conviction ^a of things not seen.

² For by it the elders obtained a good report.

³ By faith we understand that ^b the world was framed by the word of God, so that things which are seen were not made of things which appeared.

⁵ By faith ^g Enoch was translated that he might not see death, and was not found, because God had translated him; for before his translation he had this testimony, that he pleased God. ⁶ But without faith it is ^h impossible to please him; for he that cometh to God must believe that he is, ⁱ and that he is a rewarder of them that diligently seek him.

⁸ By faith ^o Abraham obeyed when he was called to go out to a place which he was afterwards to receive for an inheritance; and he went out not knowing whither he was going. ⁹ By faith he sojourned in the land of the promise, as ^p in a foreign country, ^q dwelling in tents, with Isaac and Jacob, ^r the heirs with him of the same promise. ¹⁰ For he looked for ^s the city which hath foundations, ^t whose builder and maker is God.

¹¹ By faith also ^u Sarah herself received strength to conceive seed, and ^v bare a child when she was past age, because she judged him ^w faithful who had promised. ¹² Therefore sprang there even from one, and ^x him become as dead, ^y so many as the stars of the sky in multitude, and as the sand which is by the sea-shore innumerable.

¹³ These all died in faith, not having received the promises, but ^z having seen them afar off ^a, and ^b welcomed them, and ^c confessed that they were strangers and sojourners on the earth. ¹⁴ For they that say such things ^d declare plainly that they are seeking a country ^e. ¹⁵ And truly, if they had been mindful of that from whence they came out they would have had opportunity to return; ¹⁶ but now they desire a better, that is, a heavenly country. Wherefore God is not ashamed ^f to be called their God, because ^g he prepared for them a city.

¹⁷ By faith ^h Abraham, when he was tried, was offering up Isaac; and he that had received the promises offered up his only begotten son, ⁱ of whom it was said 'In Isaac shall thy seed be called' [Gen. xxi. 12]; ¹⁹ accounting that God ^j was able to raise him up even from the dead; from whence also he received him back again in a figure.

²² By faith ⁿ Joseph, when he was dying, made mention of the departure of the children of Israel, and gave commandment concerning his bones.

²³ By faith ^o Moses, when he was born was hidden three months by his parents, because they saw ^p he was a comely child; and they were not afraid of the king's ^q commandment.

²⁴ By faith ^r Moses, when he was come to years, refused to be called the son of Pharaoh's daughter; ^s choosing rather to suffer ^t affliction with the people of God than to enjoy the ^u pleasures of sin for a season, ^v esteeming ^w the reproach of Christ greater riches than the treasures of Egypt; for he had respect unto ^x the recompence of reward.

²⁷ By faith ^y he forsook Egypt, not fearing the wrath of the king; for he endured as seeing ^z him who is invisible.

²⁸ By faith ^a he kept the Passover, and the sprinkling of the blood, that he who destroyed the firstborn might not touch them.

²⁹ By faith ^b they passed through the Red Sea as by dry land; which the Egyptians attempting to do were drowned.

³⁰ By faith ^c the walls of Jericho fell down, after they had been compassed about seven days.

³¹ By faith ^d the harlot Rahab perished not with them that were disobedient ^e, when ^f she had received the spies with peace.

³² And what shall I say more? For the time would fail me to tell of ^c Gideon, and of ^d Barak, and ^e Samson, and ^f Jephthah, of ^g David also, and ^h Samuel, and the prophets; ⁱ who through faith subdued kingdoms, wrought righteousness, ^j obtained promises, ^k stopped the mouths of lions, ^l quenched ^m the violence of fire, escaped the edge of the sword, out of weakness were made strong, became mighty in war, ⁿ turned to flight armies of aliens. ^o Women ^p received their dead raised to life again; and others were tortured, not accepting deliverance, that they might obtain a better resurrection; ^q and others had trial of mockings and scourgings, yea moreover ^r of bonds and imprisonment. ^s They ^t were stoned, they were sawn asunder, they were tempted, they were slain with the sword; ^u they wandered about in sheepskins and goatskins, being destitute, afflicted, tormented, ^v (of whom the world was not worthy); they wandered in deserts and mountains and ^w in the dens and caves of the earth.

³⁹ And all these, having obtained a good report through faith, received not the promise; ⁴⁰ God having provided ^x some better thing for us, that ^y they should not be made perfect without us.

Exhortations to perseverance, (1) after the example of the whole company of the faithful, and (2) above all of Jesus himself; also to (4) patient endurance of suffering, and (14) peace and holiness.

12. WHEREFORE seeing that we are compassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses, ^a let us also lay aside every weight and the sin which doth so easily beset us, and ^b let us run ^c with patience the race that is set before us, ^d looking ^e unto Jesus, the Author and Finisher* of the faith, ^f who for the joy that was set before him endured the cross, ^g despising the shame, and is set down at the right hand of the throne of God. ³ For ^h consider him who endured such contradiction from the sinners against himself, lest ye become weary, fainting in your souls.

⁴ Ye ⁱ have not yet resisted unto blood, striving against sin. ⁵ And ye have forgotten the exhortation which speaketh unto you as unto children: 'My son, ^j despise not thou the chastening of the Lord, nor faint when thou art rebuked by him: ^k for ^l whom the Lord loveth he chasteneth, and he scourgeth every son whom he receiveth.' [Prov. iii. 11, 12, Sept.] ⁷ If ^m ye endure chastening, God dealeth with you as with sons; for what son is there whom the father chasteneth not? ⁸ But if ye without chastisement, ⁿ whereof all have been made partakers, then are ye bastards and not sons. ⁹ Furthermore we have had fathers of our flesh who corrected us, and we gave them reverence; ¹⁰ shall we not much rather submit ourselves unto ^o the Father of our spirits, and live? ¹¹ For they indeed for a few days chastened us as it seemed good to them; but he ^p for our profit, ^q that we may be partakers of his holiness. ¹² Now no chastening for the present seemeth to be joyous, but grievous; but afterwards it yieldeth ^r the peaceable fruit of righteousness unto them that have been exercised thereby.

¹³ Wherefore ^s lift up* the hands which hang down and the feeble knees; ¹⁴ and ^t make straight paths for your feet, that that which is lame may not be turned out of the way, ^u but rather may be healed.

¹⁵ Follow ^v peace with all men, and ^w holiness, ^x without which no one shall see the Lord; ¹⁶ looking diligently ^y lest any one come short of the grace of God; lest any ^z root of bitterness springing up trouble you, ^a and thereby many be defiled; ¹⁷ lest there be any fornicator, or profane person, as Esau, ^b who for one meal sold his birthright. ¹⁸ For ye know how that afterwards, ^c when he would have inherited the blessing, he was rejected; for he found ^d no place of repentance, though he sought it carefully with tears.

The peculiar blessings and obligations of the New Covenant; and (25) the corresponding guilt and penalties of apostasy.

18. FOR ye are not come unto ^a a mountain that could be touched and that burned with fire, and unto blackness and darkness and tempest, ¹⁹ and the sound of a trumpet, ^b and the voice of words, which ^c voice they that heard ^d intreated that the word should not be spoken to them any more; ²⁰ for they could not endure that which was commanded: 'And if a beast touch the mountain, it shall be stoned' [Exod. xix. 12, 13]; ²¹ and ^e so terrible was the sight that Moses said, 'I exceedingly fear and quake' [Deut. ix. 19]. ²² But ye are come ^f unto mount Sion, and unto the city of the living God, the heavenly Jerusalem, ^g and to an innumerable company of angels, ²³ to the general assembly and church of ^h the firstborn, ⁱ who are enrolled in heaven, and to God ^j the Judge of all, and to the spirits of just men made perfect, ²⁴ and to Jesus ^k the Mediator of the new covenant, and to ^l the blood of sprinkling, that speaketh better things ^m than that of Abel.

25 See that ye refuse not him who speaketh. ^a For if they escaped not for refusing him who spake on earth, much more shall not we escape if we turn away from him who speaketh from heaven; ²⁶ whose ^o voice then shook the earth, but now he hath promised, saying: 'Yet once more I shake not the earth only but also heaven' [Hay. ii. 6]. ²⁷ And this word, Yet once more, signifieth ^p the removing of those things that are shaken as things which have been made, that those things ^q which are not shaken may remain. ²⁸ Wherefore we receive ^r a kingdom which cannot be shaken, let us have grace, whereby we may serve God acceptably, with reverence and godly fear; ²⁹ for ^s our God 'is a consuming fire' [Deut. iv. 24].

Exhortations to various Christian virtues; and to (7) steadfastness, remembering the instructions and example of deceased leaders; (13) readiness to give up all for Christ; and (17) due regard to living teachers—(20) Concluding benediction, and personal notices.

13. LET ^a brotherly love continue. ² Be not forgetful to entertain strangers, for thereby ^c some have entertained angels unawares.

³ Remember ^d them that are in bonds, as if bound with them; and them that suffer adversity, as being yourselves also in the body.

⁵ Let your manner of life be ^g without covetousness, and ^h be content with such things as ye have. For he hath said, 'I will never ⁱ leave thee nor forsake thee' [Josh. i. 5]. ⁶ So that we may boldly say: 'The Lord ^j is my helper, and I will not fear; what shall man do unto me?' [Psa. cxviii. 6].

⁷ Remember ^k those who had the rule over you², who spake unto you the word of God; and ^l considering the end of their course, imitate their faith. ⁸ Jesus Christ is ^m the same yesterday and to-day and for ever. ⁹ Be ⁿ not carried away with divers and strange doctrines. For it is a good thing that the heart be established with grace; ^o not with meats¹, which did not profit those who walked therein.

¹⁰ We ^p have an altar whereof they have no right to eat who serve the tabernacle.

¹⁷ Obey those who have the rule over you, and submit yourselves; ^a for they watch for your souls as they that must give account; that they may do this ^b with joy, and not with grief, for that is unprofitable for you.

¹⁸ Pray ^c for us, for we trust we have ^d a good conscience, in all things desiring to behave ourselves honourably; ^e and I the more earnestly beseech you ^f to do this, that I may be restored to you the sooner.

²² And I beseech you, brethren, bear with the word of exhortation; for I have written to you in few words.

²³ Know ye that ^q our brother Timothy hath been set at liberty; with whom, if he come shortly, I will see you.

²⁴ Salute all those who have the rule over you, and all the saints. They from Italy salute you.

²⁵ Grace ^r be with you all. Amen.

THE GENERAL EPISTLE OF JAMES.

Exhortations concerning (1) patient endurance of trials, (5) prayer to God for wisdom, (9) right estimation of differences in outward circumstances, (13) making excuses for sin, (16) right views of God, as the Author of all good, (19) proper reception of his word, and (22) practical obedience thereto.

1. JAMES^a, a servant of God and of the Lord Jesus Christ, to ^b the twelve tribes which are scattered abroad*, greeting.

2 My brethren, ^c count it all joy when ye fall into divers temptations†; ³ knowing ^d that the proving of your faith worketh patience. ⁴ But ^e let patience have a perfect work, that ye may be perfect and entire, wanting in nothing.

5 But if any one of you lack wisdom let him ask of God, who giveth to all men liberally, and ^f upbraideth not; and ^g it will be given to him. ⁶ But ^h let him ask in faith, nothing doubting; for he that doubteth is like a wave of the sea driven by the wind and tossed. ⁷ For let not that man think that he shall receive any thing from the Lord; ⁸ he is ⁱ a doubleminded man, unstable in all his ways.

9 Let the brother of low degree glory ^k in that he is exalted; ¹⁰ but the rich ^l in that he is made low; because ^m as the flower of the grass he will pass away. ¹¹ For the sun ariseth with its burning heat, and withereth the grass, and its flower falleth, and the beauty of its form perisheth; ¹² so also will the rich man fade away in his ways.

12 Blessed ^o is the man that endureth temptation; ^p for when he hath been proved, he will receive ^q the crown of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that love him.

13 Let ^r no one say when he is tempted, I am tempted by God; for God cannot be tempted with evil, neither tempteth he any man. ¹⁴ But every one is tempted when he is drawn away by his own lust and enticed. ¹⁵ Then ^s when lust hath conceived, it bringeth forth sin; and sin, when it is finished, ^t bringeth forth death.

16 Be not deceived, my beloved brethren. ¹⁷ Every ^u good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from ^v the Father of lights, ^w with whom is no variableness or shadow of turning. ¹⁸ Of ^x his own will begat he us by the word of truth, that we should be a kind of ^a firstfruits of his creatures.

19 Wherefore, my beloved brethren, ^b let* every man be swift to hear, ^c slow to speak, ^d slow to wrath; ²⁰ for the wrath of man worketh not the righteousness of God. ²¹ Wherefore ^e putting off all filthiness and excess of wickedness, receive with meekness the engrafted word, ^f which is able to save your souls.

22 But ^g be ye doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving your own selves. ²³ For if any one is a hearer of the word, and not a doer, he is like unto a man beholding his natural face in a glass†; ²⁴ for he beholdeth himself, and goeth his way, and straightway forgetteth what manner of man he was. ²⁵ But he that looketh into the perfect ^h law of liberty and continueth therein, being not a forgetful hearer, but a doer of the work, ⁱ this man will be blessed in his doing.

26 If any man among you seemeth to be religious, and he ^k bridleth not his tongue, but deceiveth his own heart, this man's religion† is vain. ²⁷ Pure religion† and undefiled, before God and the Father, is this, ²⁸ to visit orphans and widows in their affliction, and to ^m keep himself unspotted from the world.

The duty of impartial Christian love, without regard to outward condition and circumstances.

2. MY brethren, hold not the faith of our Lord Jesus Christ, ^a the Lord of glory, with ^b respect of persons. ² For if there come unto your assembly ^c a man with a gold ring, in bright apparel, and there come in also a poor man in vile raiment, ³ and ye have respect to him that weareth the bright apparel, and say unto him, Sit thou here in a good place, and say to the poor man, Stand thou there, or, Sit here under my footstool, ⁴ are ye not then partial ^d in yourselves, and become ^e judges with evil thoughts?

5 Hearken, my beloved brethren, ^a Hath not God chosen out the poor of this world to be ^b rich in faith, and heirs of the kingdom ^c which he hath promised to them that love him? ⁶ But ^d ye have despised the poor. Do ^e not the rich oppress you, and is it not they that drag you before the judgment-seats? ⁷ Is it not they that blaspheme that worthy name by which ye are called?

⁸ If ye fulfil the royal law according to the Scripture, 'Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself' [Lev. xix. 18] ye do well; ⁹ but if ye have respect to persons, ye commit sin, being convicted by the law as transgressors. ¹⁰ For whosoever hath kept the whole law and yet hath offended in one point, ¹¹ he hath become guilty of all. ¹² For he who said, 'Do not commit adultery,' said also, 'Do not kill' [Exod. xx. 14, 15]; now if thou commit not adultery, yet if thou kill, thou art become a transgressor of the law.

¹³ So speak ye and so do as they that shall be judged by ^k the law of liberty. ¹⁴ For ^t he shall have judgment without mercy that hath showed no mercy; and ^m mercy rejoiceth against judgment.

Concerning pretensions to faith without corresponding conduct; (21) examples showing that the faith approved by God has always been accompanied by works.

²² Was not Abraham our father justified by works ^f when he offered Isaac his son upon the altar? ²³ Thou ^g seest that faith wrought with his works, and by the works was faith made perfect. ²⁴ And the Scripture was fulfilled which saith: 'Abraham believed God, and it was accounted unto him for righteousness' [Gen. xv. 6]; and he was called the ^h friend of God. ²⁵ Ye see then that by works a man is justified, and not by faith only.

²⁶ And in like manner also ⁱ was not Rahab the harlot justified by works, when she received the messengers and sent them out another way? ²⁷ For as the body without the spirit is dead, so also faith without works is dead

The dangers of eagerness to teach, and of an unbridled tongue—(13) Angry disputations inconsistent with heavenly wisdom.

³ MY brethren, ^a be not many teachers, ^b knowing that we shall receive the greater condemnation. ² For ^c in many things we all offend. If ^d any man offend not in word, the same is a perfect man, and able also to bridle the whole body. ³ Behold ^e we put bits into the horses' mouths that they may obey us, and we turn about their whole body. ⁴ Behold also the ships, which though they are so great and are driven by fierce winds, yet are turned about with a very small rudder, whithersoever the steersman may desire. ⁵ So also the tongue is a little member, and it ^f boasteth great things. Behold how great a forest a little fire kindleth! ⁶ And ^g the tongue is a fire, a world of iniquity. So is the tongue among our members, that ^h it defileth the whole body, and setteth on fire the course of nature*; and ⁱ it is set on fire by hell. ⁷ For every kind of beasts and of birds and of creeping things and of things in the sea is tamed, and hath been tamed, by mankind; ⁸ but the tongue can no man tame; ^j it is a restless evil, ^k full of deadly poison. ⁹ Therewith ^l bless we the Lord; and Father; and therewith curse we men, ^m who are made after the likeness of God; ⁿ out of the same mouth proceedeth blessing and cursing.

My brethren, these things ought not so to be. ¹¹ Doth a fountain send forth from the same opening sweet water and bitter? ¹² Can ^o a fig tree, my brethren, bear olive berries; or a vine, figs? So neither can salt water yield that which is fresh ^p.

even from your pleasures ^a that war in your members? ² Ye desire, and ye have not; ye kill, and ye eagerly covet, and ye cannot obtain; ye fight and war. Ye have not, because ye ask not; ³ ye ^b ask, and ye receive not, ^c because ye ask amiss, that ye may consume ^d upon your pleasures.

⁴ Ye ^d adulteresses, know ye not that the friendship of the world is ^e enmity against God? ^f Whosoever therefore wisheth to be a friend of the world becometh an enemy of God. ⁵ Or do ye think that the Scripture saith in vain, The spirit that he made to dwell in us jealously desireth us? ⁶ But he giveth more grace; wherefore he saith: 'God resisteth the proud, but he giveth grace unto the humble.' [Prov. iii. 34, Sept.]

⁷ Submit yourselves therefore to God. ⁸ Resist the devil, and he will flee from you. ⁹ Draw ^h nigh to God, and he will draw nigh to you. Cleanse ⁱ your hands, ye sinners; and ^j purify your hearts, ye ^k double minded. ⁹ Be ^m afflicted and mourn and weep; let your laughter be turned to mourning, and your joy to heaviness; ¹⁰ humble ⁿ yourselves in the sight of the Lord, and he will lift you up.

¹¹ Speak ^o not one against another, brethren. He that speaketh against his brother ^p or judgeth his brother, speaketh against the law and judgeth the law; but if thou judgest the law, thou art not a doer of the law, but a judge. ¹² There ^q is one Lawgiver and Judge; who is able to save and to destroy: ^r who art thou that judgest thy neighbour?

Reproofs of (13) ungodly presumption, and (ch. 5. 1) covetous oppression—(4) Warning of impending judgment.

¹³ GO ^a to now, ye that say, To-day or to-morrow we will go to such a city, and continue there a year, and we will buy and sell and get gain; ¹⁴ whereas ye know not what will be on the morrow. For what is your life? It ^b is even a vapour that appeareth for a little time and then vanisheth away. ¹⁵ Whereas ye ought to say, ^c If the Lord will, we shall both live and do this or that. ¹⁶ But now ye glory in your boastings; all such glorying is evil. ¹⁷ Therefore ^d to him that knoweth to do good and doeth it not, to him it is sin.

^{5.} Go to now, ye rich men, ^e weep and howl for your miseries that are coming upon you. ² Your riches are corrupted, and ^f your garments are moth-eaten; ³ your gold and silver is rusted, and the rust of them will be a witness against you, and will eat your flesh like fire. ⁴ Ye have heaped up treasure in the last days. ⁴ Behold, ^h the hire of the labourers who reaped your fields, which is by you kept back by fraud, crieth out; and ⁱ the cries of them that reaped have entered into the ears of ^k the Lord of sabaoth*. ⁵ Ye ⁱ have been luxurious on the earth, and have lived in pleasure; ye have nourished your hearts, ^m as in a day of slaughter; ⁶ ye ⁿ have condemned and killed the just, and he doth not resist you.

Encouragement to suffering Christians; and various exhortations.

¹⁶ Confess therefore ^t your transgressions one to another, and pray one for another, that ye may be healed. The ^u earnest prayer of a righteous man availeth much. ¹⁷ Elijah was a man ^v of like passions with us; and ^w he prayed earnestly that it might not rain; and it rained not on the land for three years and six months; ¹⁸ and ^x he prayed again, and the heaven gave rain, and the earth brought forth its fruit.

¹⁹ Brethren, if any of you be led astray from the truth, ^a and one convert him, ²⁰ let him know that he who converteth a sinner from the error of his way ^b will save a soul from death, and ^c will hide a multitude of sins.

THE FIRST EPISTLE GENERAL OF PETER.

1 apostolic salutation—(3) Praise to God for the hope of heavenly blessedness and glory; (6) which raises its possessors above temporal suffering—(10) This salvation was a subject of deepest interest to the prophets who foretold it, and even to angels.

1. PETER^a, an apostle of Jesus Christ, to the sojourners scattered abroad* throughout Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, ^b Asia, and Bithynia, ² elect ^c according to the foreknowledge of God the Father, ^d in sanctification of the Spirit, ^e unto obedience and ^f sprinkling of the blood of Jesus Christ. Grace unto you and peace be multiplied.

³ Blessed ^g be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who according to his abundant mercy ^h hath begotten us again unto a living hope, ⁱ through the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead, ^k unto ^l an inheritance incorruptible and ^m undefiled and ⁿ that fadeth not away, reserved in heaven for you, ^o who ^p are guarded by the power of God, through faith, unto salvation, ready to be revealed in the last time.

¹⁰ Concerning which salvation ^y the prophets inquired and searched diligently, who prophesied of the grace that should come unto you; ¹¹ searching what or what manner of time the Spirit of Christ which was in them did signify, when it testified beforehand ^z the sufferings of Christ, and ^a the glories that should follow them. ¹² To ^b whom it was revealed, that not unto themselves but unto us they ministered the things which have been now reported unto you by those who preached the gospel unto you, ^c with the Holy Spirit sent down from heaven; ^d which things the angels desire to look into.

Exhortations to (13) perfect hope, (14) holy living, (17) filial godly fear, (22) perseverance in brotherly love, and (ch. 2. 1) growth in the new life—(4) The glorious spiritual temple into which all God's chosen people are being built.

¹⁷ And if ye call on him as your Father who ⁱ without respect of persons judgeth according to every man's work, ^j pass the time of your sojourning in fear. ¹⁸ Forasmuch as ye know that ^k ye were not redeemed with corruptible things, as silver and gold, from your vain manner of life received by tradition from your fathers, ¹⁹ but ^l with precious blood, as of ^m a lamb without blemish and without spot, even the blood of Christ; ²⁰ who ⁿ was indeed foreordained before the foundation of the world, but was manifested ^o in these last times for you, ²¹ who ^p through him believe in God, ^q who raised him up from the dead and ^r gave him glory, that your faith and hope might be in God.

² Putting ^b off therefore all malice and all guile and hypocrisies and envyings and all evil speakings, ² as newborn babes good days, ⁹ let him refrain his tongue from evil and his lips that they speak no guile, ¹¹ let ^h him turn away from evil and do good, ¹² let him seek peace and pursue it. ¹² For the eyes of the Lord are upon the righteous, and his ears are open unto their prayer; but the face of the Lord is against them that do evil' [Psa. lxxiv. 12—16]. ¹³ And ^k who is he that will harm you, if ye be zealous of that which is good?

¹⁸ For Christ also ^q once suffered for sins, ^r a just one for the unjust, ^s that he might bring us to God; ^t being put to death indeed in the flesh, but ^u made alive in the spirit; ¹⁹ in which also he went and ^v preached unto the spirits in prison, ²⁰ who once were disobedient, ^v when the long suffering of God was waiting in the days of Noah, while ^w the ark was being prepared, ^x wherein few, that is eight souls, were saved by water; ²¹ which in its antitype, ^y baptism, now saveth you also, (not the putting away of ^z the filth of the flesh, but the inquiry of a good conscience after God), ^d by the resurrection of Jesus Christ; ²² who is gone into heaven, and is on the right hand of God; angels and authorities and powers being made subject unto him.

⁴ Forasmuch then as Christ suffered for us; in the flesh, ^a arm yourselves likewise with the same mind; for ^b he that hath suffered in the flesh hath ceased from sin, ² that ^g ye should no longer live the rest of your time in the flesh after the lusts of men, but ^h after the will of God. ³ For ⁱ the time past of life may suffice us ^j to have ^k wrought out the will of the Gentiles, walking in lasciviousness, lusts, excess of wine, revellings, banquetings, and abominable idolatries; ⁴ wherein they think it strange that ye run not with ^l them to the same excess of dissoluteness; ⁵ speaking evil of you; ⁵ who ^m shall give account to him who is ready ⁿ to judge the living and the dead. ⁶ For to this end ^o was the gospel preached also to the dead, that they might be judged according to men in the flesh, but live according to God in the spirit.

Exhortations to (7) watchfulness and prayer, in view of the end of all earthly things, (8) mutual love, and (10) faithful Christian service—(12) Renewed encouragement under persecution.

¹⁰ As ^h each one hath received a gift of grace, even so minister the same one to another, ⁱ as good stewards of the manifold grace of God. ¹¹ If ^k any one speaketh, let him speak as the oracles of God; ¹² if any man ministereth, let him do it as of the ability which God giveth; that ^m God in all things may be glorified through Jesus Christ; to whom be the glory and the dominion for ever and ever. Amen.

¹⁴ If ye ^s are reproached for the name of Christ happy are ye; for the spirit of glory and of God resteth upon you; [on* their part he is evil spoken of, but ^t on your part he is glorified.] ¹⁵ But let not any one of you suffer as a murderer, or as a thief, or as an evil-doer, or as ^u a busybody in other men's matters; ¹⁶ yet if ^v any one suffereth as a Christian, ^z let him not be ashamed, but ^z let him glorify God on this behalf.

¹⁷ For the time is come for ^a judgment to begin at the house of God; and if it begin first at us, ^b what will be the end of them that obey not the gospel of God? ¹⁸ And ^c 'if the righteous man scarcely is saved, ^d where will the ungodly and the sinner appear?' [Prov. xi. 31, Sept.] ¹⁹ Wherefore let them that suffer according to the will of God ^e commit their souls in well doing unto ^f a faithful Creator.

The elders are exhorted to fidelity, and (5) all to humility, (6) trustful submission to God's will, (8) sobriety and vigilance; (11) concluding with a promise of the completion of God's work of grace; (12) salutations and a benediction.

⁵ THE ELDERs who are among you I exhort, who am also an elder ¹, and ^a a witness of the sufferings of Christ, and also a partaker of the glory that is to be revealed; ² feed ^b the flock of God which is

THE SECOND EPISTLE GENERAL OF PETER.

After a salutation, (3) the apostle describes the abundant grace given, and promised to believers; exhorts to the earnest cultivation of all Christian excellence; and (16) shows the certainty of the gospel, as established by the testimony of apostolic eye-witnesses, and (19) Old Testament prophecy.

1. SIMON ^a PETER, a servant and an apostle of Jesus Christ, to them that have obtained ^b like precious faith with us, ^c in the righteousness of our God and our Saviour Jesus Christ: ² Grace ^d and peace be multiplied unto you, in the knowledge of God and of Jesus our Lord.

⁸ For if these things are in you and abound, they make you to be neither idle ^o nor unfruitful in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ. ⁹ But he that lacketh these things is ^p blind and cannot see afar off, and hath forgotten the ^q purification of his former sins. ¹⁰ Wherefore the rather, brethren, give diligence ^r to make your calling and election sure; for if ye do these things ^s ye shall never fall; ¹¹ for ^t so an entrance shall be ministered unto you abundantly into the everlasting kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.

¹² Wherefore ^u I will not be negligent to put you always in remembrance of these things, though ye know them, and are established in the truth that is present with you. ¹³ But I think it meet, ^v as long as I am in this tabernacle, to stir you up by putting you in remembrance; ¹⁴ knowing ^w that shortly I must put off my tabernacle, even as ^x our Lord Jesus Christ showed me. ¹⁵ Moreover I will endeavour that ye may be able after my departure to have these things always in remembrance.

¹⁶ For ^y we did not follow cunningly devised fables when we made known unto you the power and ^z coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, but ^a we were eye-witnesses of his majesty. ¹⁷ For he received from God the Father honour and glory, when there came such a voice to him from the excellent glory, 'This ^b is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased' [Matt. xvii. 5].

spoke from God.

18 And this voice which came from heaven we heard, when we were with him in ^e the holy mount. 19 And we have the word of ^f prophecy more sure; whereunto ye do well that ye take heed, as unto ^g a lamp shining in a dark place, until the day dawn and the morning star arise in your hearts; 20 knowing this first, that no prophecy of Scripture cometh from any private interpretation; 21 for ^h prophecy came not at any time by the will of man; but ⁱ holy men of God spake* as they were moved by the Holy Spirit.

As there were false prophets under the old dispensation, so there will be false teachers under the new, subverting truth and holiness; but (3) both their punishment and the deliverance of the righteous is certain—(10) Further description of their extreme depravity, and pernicious influence upon others.

2. BUT ^a there were false prophets also among the people, as ^b there will be false teachers among you, who will stealthily bring in destructive heresies*, even ^c denying the Lord ^d who bought them, bringing upon themselves swift destruction. 2 And many will follow their licentious ways; by reason of whom the way of truth will be evil spoken of. 3 And ^e in covetousness will they with feigned words make merchandise of you; ^f whose judgment now of a long time lingereth not, and their destruction slumbereth not.

4 For if God spared not ^g angels that sinned, but ^h cast them down to Tartarus†, and delivered them into chains of darkness, to be reserved unto judgment; 5 and ⁱ spared not the old world, but preserved ^k Noah with seven others, a preacher of righteousness, bringing in the flood upon the world of the ungodly; 6 and ^l turning to ashes the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah condemned them with an overthrow, ^m making them an example unto those who should in after time live ungodly. 7 and ⁿ delivered righteous Lot, vexed with ^o the licentious behaviour of the lawless ones; (8 for that righteous man dwelling among them, ^p in seeing and hearing tormented his righteous soul from day to day with their lawless deeds); 9 the ^q Lord knoweth how to deliver the godly out of temptations, and ^r to keep the unjust under punishment until the day of judgment; 10 but chiefly ^s those that walk after the flesh in the lust of uncleanness, and ^t despise government.

Presumptuous and self-willed, they are not afraid ^u to rail at dignities: 11 whereas ^v angels, though they are greater in power and might, bring not a railing accusation against them before the Lord. 12 But these, ^w as brute beasts born naturally to be taken and destroyed, railing at things that they understand not, ^x shall utterly perish in their corruption, 13 receiving, ^y as they will, the reward of unrighteousness; counting as pleasure ^z that luxurious living which is but for a day; ^a spots and blemishes, luxuriating in their deceits, while ^b they feast with you; 14 having ^c eyes full of adultery, and that cannot be made to cease from sin; ^d alluring unstable souls; having a heart exercised in covetousness; ^e children of the curse; 15 who have forsaken the right way, and have gone astray, following the way of ^f Balaam the son of Bosor, who loved the wages of unrighteousness; 16 but he was rebuked for his iniquity; 17 the dumb ass speaking with man's voice forbad the madness of the prophet.

17 These are ^h wells without water, ⁱ mists driven by a whirlwind; for whom the blackness of darkness is reserved for ever. 18 For ^j speaking great swelling words of vanity, they allure by licentiousness in the lusts of the flesh those who ^k are just escaping* from them that live in error; 19 promising them ^l liberty, while they themselves are ^m the slaves of corruption; for by whatsoever a man is overcome, by the same is he brought into bondage.

20 For ⁿ if after having escaped the pollutions of the world, through the knowledge of the Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, they are again entangled therein and overcome, the latter end becometh worse with them than the beginning. 21 For ^o it were better for them not to have known the way of righteousness, than after they have known it to turn back from the holy commandment delivered unto them. 22 But it hath happened unto them according to the true proverb, 'The dog is turned to his own vomit again' [Prov. xxvi. 11]; and the sow that was washed to her wallowing in the mire.

The certainty of the Lord's coming established against the denials of profane scoffers—(11) Exhortations to holy and watchful living, and growth in Divine knowledge.

3. THIS second epistle, beloved, I now write unto you; in ^a both which ^b I stir up ^c your pure minds by way of remembrance; 2 that ye may be mindful of ^d the words which were spoken before by the holy prophets, and of ^e the commandment of the Lord and Saviour, given by your apostles†; 3 knowing this first, that ^f there will come in the last days scoffers, ^g walking after their own lusts, 4 and saying, ^h Where is the promise of his coming? For since the fathers fell asleep all things have continued as they were from the beginning of the creation.

⁵ For this they ^h willingly are ignorant of, that ⁱ by the word of God the heavens were formed of old, and the earth ^k formed out of water and by means of water; ⁶ whereby the world that then was, being overflowed with water, perished; ⁷ but the heavens and the earth which are now, ^l by the same word ^{*} are kept in store, reserved unto fire against ^m the day of judgment and destruction of ungodly men.

ought ye to be ^x in all holy behaviour and godliness, ¹² looking ^y for and hastening the coming of the day of God; by reason of which the heavens being on fire will ^z be dissolved, and the elements will be melted with fervent heat. ¹³ But we, according to his promise, look for ^a new heavens and a new earth, wherein dwelleth righteousness.

¹⁴ Wherefore, beloved, seeing that ^b ye look for such things, give diligence that ye may be found by him in peace, ^c without spot and blameless. ¹⁵ And account ^d the longsuffering of our Lord to be salvation; even as our beloved brother Paul also, ^e according to the wisdom given unto him, wrote to you; ¹⁶ as also in all his epistles ^f speaking in them of these things; in which ^g epistles are some things hard to be understood, which the ignorant and ^h unstable wrest, as ⁱ they do also the other Scriptures, ^k unto their own destruction.

¹⁷ Ye therefore, beloved, ^l seeing that ye know beforehand, ^m beware lest, ⁿ being led away with the error of the lawless ones, ye fall from your own steadfastness. ¹⁸ But ^o grow in the grace and knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. ¹⁹ To him be glory both now and for ever. Amen.

THE FIRST EPISTLE GENERAL OF JOHN.

Communion with God, through the knowledge of Christ; (6) evidenced by walking in light, and keeping his commandments, especially that of love.

¹ THAT which ^a was from the beginning, which ^b we have heard, which ^c we have seen with our eyes, which we looked upon, and ^d our hands handled, concerning the Word of life—² for ^e the life was manifested, and we have seen it, and we ^f bear witness of it, and declare unto you that everlasting life ^g which was with the Father, and was manifested unto us—³ that which ^h we have seen and heard declare we unto you, that ye also may have fellowship with us; and truly ⁱ our fellowship is with the Father and with his Son Jesus Christ. ⁴ And these things write we unto you, ^k that your joy may be full.

⁵ And this is the message which we have heard from him, and declare unto you, that ^l God is light, and in him is no darkness at all. ⁶ If ^m we say that we have fellowship with him, and walk in the darkness, we lie, and do not the truth; ⁷ but if we walk in the light, as He is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and ⁿ the blood of Jesus Christ his Son cleanseth us from all sin.

⁸ If we say that ^o we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us. ⁹ If ^p we confess our sins, ^q he is faithful and ^r just to forgive us ^{our} sins, and to ^s cleanse us from all unrighteousness. ¹⁰ If we say that we have not sinned, we make him a liar, and his word is not in us.

² My ^t little children, these things write I unto you, ^u that ye sin not. And if any one hath sinned, ^x we have an Advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ ^y the righteous. ² And ^z he is the propitiation for our sins; and not for ours only, but ^a also for the sins of the whole world.

Addresses to various classes—Warnings against (15) the love of the world, and (18) antichristian falsehood—(20) Exhortations to abiding in the truth.

I have written ^c unto you, children, because ^d ye have known the Father. ¹⁴ I have written unto you, fathers, because ye have known him ^e who is from the beginning. I have written unto you, young men, because ^f ye are strong, and ^g the word of God abideth in you, and ye have overcome the wicked one.

¹⁹ Children, ^o it is the last time; and as ye have heard that ^p antichrist is coming, ^q even now there have arisen many antichrists; ^r whereby we know that it is the last time. ¹⁹ They ^s went out from us, but they were not of us; for ^t if they had been of us, they would have continued with us; but ^u they went out ^v that they might be made manifest that they are not all of us.

²⁰ And ^w ye have an anointing from ^x the Holy One, and ^y ye know all things. ²¹ I have not written unto you because ye know not the truth, but ^z because ye know it, and because no lie is of the truth. ²² Who ^a is a liar but he that denieth that Jesus is the Christ? He is the antichrist that denieth the Father and the Son. ²³ Whosoever ^b denieth the Son the same hath not the Father; but ^c he that acknowledgeth the Son hath the Father also.

²⁴ As for you, let that abide in you ^d which ye heard from the beginning. If that which ye heard from the beginning shall abide in you, ^e ye also will abide in the Son and in the Father. ²⁵ And ^f this is the promise that he himself promised us, ^g even the life everlasting.

²⁶ These things have I written unto you concerning ^h them that lead you astray. ²⁷ And ⁱ the anointing which ye received from him abideth in you, and ^j ye need not that any man teach you; but as the same anointing teacheth you concerning all things, and is true and is no lie, and even as it hath taught you, ^k abide ye in him.

Distinguishing marks of the children of God—holiness of life, and brotherly love; contrasted with the works of the devil, and the spirit of the world.

²⁹ If ye know that he is righteous, ye know that every one also that doeth righteousness is born of him.

³ Behold, what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us that ^c we should be called the children of God; and ^d we are so. Therefore the world knoweth us not, because ^e it knew him not. ² Beloved, ^f now are we the children of God, ^g and it hath not yet been manifested what we shall be; but we know that when it shall be manifested, ^h we shall be like him, for ⁱ we shall see him as he is. ³ And every man that hath this hope in him ^j purifieth himself, even as He is pure.

⁹ Whosoever hath been ^t born of God doth not commit sin; because ^u His seed abideth in him, and ^x he cannot sin, because he is born of God. ¹⁰ In this the children of God are manifest, and the children of the devil: ^y whosoever doeth not righteousness is not of God, ^z neither he that loveth not his brother.

¹⁶ Herein ^j have we known ^k his love, that he laid down his life for us; and ^l we ought to lay down ^m our lives for the brethren. ¹⁷ But ⁿ whosoever hath this world's goods, and seeth his brother having need, and shutteth up his compassion from him, ^o how dwelleth the love of God in him?

¹⁸ Little children, ^p let us not love in word or in tongue, but in deed and in truth. ¹⁹ And hereby shall we know ^q that ^r we are of the truth, and ^s shall assure our hearts before him. ²⁰ For ^t if our heart condemn us, God is greater; than our heart and knoweth all things. ²¹ Beloved, ^u if our heart condemn us not, ^v then we have confidence towards God. ²² And ^w whatsoever we ask we receive from him, because we keep his commandments and ^x do those things that are pleasing in his sight. ²³ And ^y this is his commandment, that we should believe on the name of his Son Jesus Christ, and ^z love one another, as he gave us commandment. ²⁴ And ^a he that keepeth his commandments abideth in him, and he in him. And ^b hereby we know that he abideth in us, by the Spirit which he gave us.

Warning against false teaching—(2) To deny that the Son of God became truly man is antichristian error—(9) Exhortations to love, founded upon the manifestation of God's love towards us—(ch. 5. 6.) The reasonableness of faith in God's testimony respecting his Son—(10) The believer's inward witness.

⁴. BELOVED, ^a believe not every spirit, but ^b try the spirits whether they are of God; because ^c many false prophets are gone out into the world. ² Hereby know ye the Spirit of God: ^d every spirit that confesseth Jesus Christ come in the flesh is of God; ³ and ^e every spirit that confesseth not Jesus Christ come in the flesh is not of God; and this is the spirit of antichrist whereof ye have heard that it cometh; and ^f even now already is it in the world.

⁴ Ye are ^g of God, little children, and ^h have overcome them; because greater is he that is in you than ⁱ he that is in the world. ⁵ They are of the world; therefore speak they of the world, and ^k the world heareth them. ⁶ We are of God; ^l he that knoweth God heareth us, he that is not of God heareth not us. Hereby know we ^m the spirit of truth, and the spirit of error.

⁷ Beloved, let us love one another; for ⁿ love is of God, and ^o every one that loveth is born of God, and knoweth God; ⁸ he that loveth not never knew God, for ^p God is love. ⁹ In this ^q was manifested the love of God towards us, that God hath sent his only begotten Son into the world, ^r that we might live through him. ¹⁰ Herein is love, ^s not that we loved God, but that he loved us, and sent his Son ^t as a propitiation for our sins. ¹¹ Beloved, ^u if God so loved us, we ought also to love one another.

¹² No ^x man hath seen God at any time. If we love one another, God abideth in us, and ^y his love is perfected in us. ¹³ Hereby ^z know we that we abide in him, and he in us, because he hath given us of his Spirit. ¹⁴ And ^a we have seen and do testify that ^b the Father hath sent the Son to be the Saviour of the world. ¹⁵ Whosoever ^c confesseth that Jesus is the Son of God, ^d God abideth in him, and he in God. ¹⁶ And ^e we have known and believed the love that God hath towards us. God is love; and he that abideth in love abideth in God, and God in him.

¹⁷ Herein hath love been perfected with us, that ^f we may have boldness in the day of judgment; because ^g as he is, so are we in this world. ¹⁸ There ^h is no fear in love; but perfect love casteth out fear; because fear hath torment ; he that feareth is not made perfect in love. ¹⁹ We ¹ love him* because he first loved us.

²⁰ If a man say, ^k I love God, and he hate his brother, he is a liar ; for he that loveth not his brother whom he hath seen, how can he love God whom he hath not seen ? ²¹ And ^l this commandment have we from him, that he who loveth God love his brother also. 5. Every one that ^m believeth that Jesus is the Christ is begotten of God ; and every one that loveth him who begat loveth him also that is begotten of him.

² By this we know that we love the children of God, when we love God, and keep his commandments ; ³ for ⁿ this is the love of God, that we keep his commandments. And ^o his commandments are not grievous ; ^l for ^p whatsoever is begotten of God overcometh the world ; and ^q this is the victory that hath overcome the world, even our faith. ⁵ Who is he that overcometh the world, but he that believeth that Jesus is the Son of God ?

⁶ This is he who came ^r by water and blood, even Jesus Christ ; not by the water only but by the water and the blood. And ^s it is the Spirit that beareth witness, because the Spirit is the truth. ⁷ For there are three that bear witness ^t, ⁸ the Spirit and the water and the blood ; and these three agree in one. ⁹ If we receive the witness of men, the witness of God is greater ; for this is the witness of God, which he hath testified of his Son.

¹⁰ He that believeth on the Son of God hath the witness in himself. He that believeth not God hath made him a liar, because he hath not believed the witness that God hath given of his Son. ¹¹ And this is the witness, that ^u God hath given to us everlasting life, and ^v this life is in his Son. ¹² He ^x that hath the Son hath the life, and he that hath not the Son of God hath not the life.

Conclusion—Concerning (13) assurance of everlasting life, (14) confidence in prayer, (16) intercession for erring brethren, and (8) the distinction between the children of God and the wicked.

¹³ THESE things ^a have I written unto you^b, that ye may know that ye have everlasting life, even to you who believe on the name of the Son of God.

¹⁴ And this is the confidence that we have towards him, that if we ask any thing ^b according to his will, he heareth us ; ¹⁵ and if we know that he heareth us, whatsoever we ask, ^c we know that we have the petitions that we have asked of him.

¹⁶ If any one see his brother sinning a sin not unto death, he shall ask, and ^d he will give him life for them that sin not unto death. There ^e is a sin unto death ; ^f I do not say that he should pray concerning it. ¹⁷ All unrighteousness is sin, and there is a sin not unto death.

¹⁸ We know that every one who is born of God sinneth not ; but he that hath been born of God ^g keepeth himself, and the wicked one toucheth him not. ¹⁹ We ^h know that we are of God, and ⁱ the whole world lieth in the wicked one. ²⁰ And we know that the Son of God is come ; and he ^k hath given us an understanding, that we may know ^l him that is true ; and ^m we are in him that is true, even in his Son Jesus Christ. This ⁿ is the true God, and ^o everlasting life. ²¹ Little children, ^p keep yourselves from idols. Amen.

the Lord Jesus Christ, the Son of the Father, in truth and love.

⁴ I rejoiced greatly that I have found of thy children ^e walking in truth, even as we received a commandment from the Father. ⁵ And now I beseech thee, lady ^f, not as though I wrote unto thee a new commandment, but that which we had from the beginning, ^g that we love one another. ⁶ And ^h this is love, that we walk after his commandments. This is the commandment, that ⁱ even as ye heard from the beginning ye should walk in it.

⁷ For ^k many deceivers have gone forth into the world, who confess not Jesus Christ coming in the flesh. This is the deceiver and the antichrist. ⁸ Look to yourselves, that ye* lose not those things which ye* have wrought, but that ye* receive a full reward. ⁹ Whosoever goeth forward ^t, and abideth not ^l in the doctrine of Christ, hath not God; he that abideth in the doctrine of Christ, he hath both the Father and the Son. ¹⁰ If any one cometh unto you and bringeth not this doctrine, receive him not into your house,^m neither bid him good speed: ¹¹ for ⁿ he that biddeth him good speed is a partaker of his evil deeds.

¹² Having ^o many things to write unto you, I would not write with paper and ink, but I hope to come unto you and to speak face to face,^p that our joy may be full. ¹³ The ^q children of thy elect sister salute thee. Amen.

THE THIRD EPISTLE OF JOHN.

Affectionate commendations, especially for aiding missionary brethren; (9) notices of an ambitious and turbulent opponent; and (12) of a faithful fellow-labourer.

THE elder unto the beloved ^a Gaius whom ^b I love in the truth. ² Beloved, I pray that in all things thou mayest prosper and be in health, even as thy soul prospereth. ³ For I rejoiced greatly when brethren came and testified of the truth that is in thee, even as ^c thou walkest in the truth. ⁴ I have no greater joy than to hear that ^d my children are walking in the truth.

⁹ I wrote unto the church, but Diotrophes, who loveth to have the preeminence among them, receiveth us not. ¹⁰ Wherefore, if I come I will bring to remembrance his deeds which he doeth, prating against us with malicious words. And not content therewith, both he himself receiveth not the brethren, and he hindereth them that would, and casteth them out of the church.

¹¹ Beloved, ^g follow not that which is evil, but that which is good. He ^h that doeth good is of God, but he that doeth evil hath not seen God.

¹² Demetrius ⁱ hath been well reported of by all, and by the truth itself; yea, and we also bear witness, and ^k ye know that our witness is true.

men, ⁱ turning the grace of our God into licentiousness, and ^k denying our only Master and Lord ^j Jesus Christ.

^l I desire therefore to put you in remembrance, knowing, as ye do, all these things once for all, that the Lord, ^m having saved the people out of the land of Egypt, afterwards ⁿ destroyed those that believed not.

^o And the angels who kept not their first estate, but left their own habitation, ^p he hath kept in eternal chains under darkness unto the judgment of the great day.

^q Even as ^r Sodom and Gomorrah, and the cities about them, in like manner, giving themselves over to fornication, and going after strange flesh, are set forth for an example, suffering the punishment of eternal fire.

^s Nevertheless in like manner these ^t dreamers defile the flesh, despise dominion, and ^u rail at dignities. ^v Yet ^w Michael the archangel, when contending with the devil he disputed about the body of Moses, ^x durst not bring against him a railing accusation, but said: ^y The Lord rebuke thee. ^z But these [†] rail at those things which they know not; but what they know naturally, as the brute beasts, in these things they corrupt themselves. ^a Woe unto them! For they have gone in ^b the way of Cain, and run greedily after ^c the error of Balaam for reward, and perished in ^d the gainsaying ^e of Korah.

^f These are ^g rocks in your ^h love-feasts, feasting with you without fear, feeding ⁱ only themselves; ^j clouds ^k they are without water, carried away by winds; autumn trees without fruit, ^l twice dead, plucked up by the roots; ^m raging ⁿ waves of the sea, foaming out their own shame; wandering stars, for whom is reserved the blackness of darkness for ever.

^o Yea, and Enoch, ^p the seventh from Adam, prophesied of these, saying: Behold, ^q the Lord cometh with ten thousand of his saints, ^r to execute judgment upon all, and to convict all the ungodly among them of all their ungodly deeds which they have ungodly committed, and of all their ^s hard ^t speeches which ungodly sinners have spoken against him.

^u These are murmurers, complainers, walking after their own lusts; and ^v their mouth speaketh great swelling words; ^w having men's persons in admiration for the sake of advantage.

^x But, beloved, ^y remember ye the words which were spoken before by the apostles of our Lord Jesus Christ; ^z that they told you ^a there would be mockers in the last time, walking after their own ungodly lusts. ^b These are they ^c that separate themselves, ^d sensual, not having the Spirit. ^e But ye, beloved, building up yourselves on your most holy faith, praying in the Holy Spirit, ^f keep yourselves in the love of God, looking for the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ unto everlasting life. ^g And ^h some rebuke when they contend with you; ⁱ and others save, pulling them out of the fire; and on others have compassion, with fear; hating even the garment spotted by the flesh.

^j Now unto him who is able to keep you from falling, and to present you faultless before the presence of his glory with exceeding joy, ^k to the only ^l God our Saviour, through Jesus Christ our Lord; ^m be glory, majesty, dominion and power, before all time, and ⁿ now and for ever. Amen.

Introduction and salutation—(5) Ascription of praise to the Redeemer, and (7) announcement of his second coming—(10) John in the spirit—(12) Vision of Christ in his glory—introductory to the Epistles to the seven churches.

1. THE Revelation of Jesus Christ, ^a which God gave unto him, to show unto his servants things which must shortly come to pass. And ^b he sent and signified ^c it by his angel unto his servant John; ^d who ^e bare witness of the word of God, and of the testimony of Jesus Christ, and of all things that he saw.

^f Blessed is he that readeth*, and they that hear, the words of this prophecy, and keep ^g those things which are written therein; for ^h the time is at hand.

ⁱ John to the seven churches which are in Asia: ^j Grace ^k be unto you and peace, from Him ^l who is and ^m who was and who is to come, and from ⁿ the seven Spirits which are before his throne, ^o and from even in the days of Antipas my faithful witness*, who was slain among you, where Satan dwelleth.

14 But I have a few things against thee, because thou hast them that hold the doctrine of ^d Balaam, who taught Balak to cast a stumblingblock before the children of Israel, ^e to eat things sacrificed unto idols, and to commit fornication. 15 ^f No hast thou also them that hold the doctrine of the Nicolaitans, in like manner. 16 Repent, or else I will come unto thee quickly, and ^g will fight against them with ^h the sword of my mouth.

17 He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches. To him that overcometh will I give of the hidden ^h manna. And I will give him a white stone, and on the stone ⁱ a new name written, ^k which no one knoweth saving he that receiveth it.

18 And unto the angel of the church in Thyatira write: These things saith ^l the Son of God, who hath his eyes like unto a flame of fire, and his feet ^m are like fine brass.

19 I know thy works and thy love and thy service and thy faith, and thy patience, and thy works, and ⁿ the last ^o to be more than the first.

20 Notwithstanding I have ^p against thee, that thou sufferest that woman ^q Jezebel, who calleth herself a prophetess; and she teacheth and seduceth ^r my servants ^s to commit fornication, and to eat things sacrificed unto idols. 21 And ^t I gave her time to repent; and she will not repent of her fornication. 22 Behold, I will cast her into a bed, and them that commit adultery with her into great tribulation, except they repent of their deeds; 23 and I will kill her children with death. And ^u all the churches shall know that ^v I am he who searcheth the reins and hearts. And ^w I will give unto every one of you according to your works.

24 But unto you I say, even unto the rest in Thyatira, as many as have not this doctrine, who have not known ^x the depths of Satan, (as they call them), ^y I will put upon you no other burden; 25 but that which ye have, hold fast till I come.

26 And ^z he that overcometh and that keepeth ^a my works unto the end, ^b to him will I ^c give authority over the nations; 27 and he shall rule them with a rod of iron; as the vessels of a potter are broken to shivers' [Psa. ii, 8, 9]; even ^d as I also have received from my Father. 28 And I will give him ^e the morning star. 29 He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches.

3. And unto the angel of the church in Sardis write: These things saith he ^f who hath the seven Spirits of God, and the seven stars.

1 ^g Know thy works, that thou hast a name that thou livest, and ^h art dead. 2 Be watchful, and strengthen the things which remain, that were ready to die; for ⁱ I have not found thy works perfect before my God. 3 Remember ^j therefore how thou hast received and heard, and hold fast and repent. If therefore thou watch not, I will come on thee ^k as a thief, and thou shalt not know what hour I will come upon thee. 4 Nevertheless thou hast ^l a few names in Sardis^m which have not defiled their garments; and they shall walk with me ⁿ in white, for they are worthy.

5 He that overcometh, the same ^o shall be clothed in white raiment; and I will not ^p blot out his name out of ^q the book of life, but ^r I will confess his name before my Father and before his angels. 6 He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches.

7 And unto the angel of the church in Philadelphia write: These things saith ^s he that is holy, ^t he that is true, he that hath ^u the key of David, ^v he that openeth and no one shutteth, and ^w shutteth and no one openeth.

8 I know thy works. Behold, I have set before thee ^x an open door, and no one can shut it; because thou hast a little strength, and ^y hast kept my word, and hast not denied my name. 9 Behold, I will make ^z them of the synagogue of Satan, who say they are Jews, and are not but do lie, behold, ^a I will make them to come and worship before thy feet, and to know that I have loved thee. 10 Because thou hast kept the word of my patience, ^b I also will keep thee from the hour of trial which is to come upon all the world, ^c to try them that dwell upon the earth. 11 Behold, ^d I come quickly. Hold that fast which thou hast, that no one take thy crown.

12 Him that overcometh I make ^e a pillar in the temple of my God, and he shall nevermore go out; and I will write upon him ^f the name of my God, and the name of the city of my God, the ^g New Jerusalem, which cometh down out of

And ^m in the midst of the throne, and round about the throne, were four living creatures full of eyes before and behind. ⁷ And ⁿ the first living creature was like a lion, and the second living creature like a calf, and the third living creature had a face as a man, and the fourth living creature was like a flying eagle. ⁸ And the four living creatures, having each of them ^o six wings, were ^p full of eyes about and within them ^t. And they rest not day and night, saying:

⁹ And whosoever these living creatures give glory and honour and thanks to him who sitteth on the throne, ^q who liveth for ever and ever, ¹⁰ the four and twenty elders fall down before him who sitteth on the throne, and worship him who liveth for ever and ever, and cast their crowns before the throne, saying:

⁶ And I beheld, and lo, in the midst of the throne and of the four living creatures, and in the midst of the elders, a Lamb standing, as it had been slain, having seven horns, and seven eyes, which are the seven Spirits of God sent forth into all the earth. ⁷ And he came and took the book out of the right hand of him who sat upon the throne. ⁸ And when he took the book, the four living creatures and the four and twenty elders fell down before the Lamb, having each one ⁱ a harp, and golden vials;

full of incense, which are the prayers of the saints. ⁹ And they sing a new song saying:

Thou art worthy to take the book,

And to open its seals:

For thou wast slain, and [†] thou redeemedst us [‡] to God by thy blood,

Out [‡] of every kindred and tongue and people and nation;

¹⁰ And [†] hast made us [†] unto our God a kingdom: and to priests,

And we [†] shall reign on the earth.

¹¹ And I beheld, and I heard the voice of many angels round about the throne and the living creatures, and the elders; and the number of them was ^m myriads of myriads and thousands of thousands; ¹² saying with a loud voice:

Worthy [†] is the Lamb that was slain, To receive power and riches and wisdom, And strength and honour and glory and blessing!

¹³ And ^o every creature which is in heaven, and on the earth, and under the earth, and on the sea, and all the things that are in them, heard I saying:

Blessing ^p and honour and glory and power,

Be unto him ^q who sitteth upon the throne, and unto the Lamb,

For ever and ever!

¹⁴ And the four living creatures said, Amen; and the four and twenty elders fell down and worshipped [†].

The sealed scroll—Opening of the first six seals—(2) Victory and conquest, (3) war, (5) famine, (7) great mortality, (9) martyrdom, (12) the great day of wrath.

6. AND I saw when the Lamb opened one of the seven seals, and I heard as if it were the voice of thunder, one of the four living creatures saying: Come [‡]. ² And I saw, and behold, ^a a white horse; and ^b he that sat on it had a bow, and ^c a crown was given unto him, and he went forth conquering and to conquer.

³ And when he opened the second seal, I heard the second living creature, saying, Come. ⁴ And there went out another horse that was red; and it was given to him that sat thereon ^d to take away peace from the earth, and that ^e men should kill one another; and there was given unto him a great sword.

⁵ And when he opened the third seal, I heard the third living creature, saying, Come. And I saw, and behold, a black horse; and he that sat on him had ^e a pair of scales in his hand. ⁶ And I heard as it were ^x a voice in the midst of the four living creatures, saying, A measure [†] of wheat for a penny [‡]; and three measures [‡] of barley for a penny; and [†] hurt thou not the oil and the wine.

⁷ And when he opened the fourth seal, I heard the voice of the fourth living creature, saying, Come. ⁸ And I saw, and behold a pale horse; and his name that sat on it was Death, and Hades [‡] followed with him. And power was given unto them over the fourth part of the earth, ⁹ to kill with sword and with famine and with death and by the beasts of the earth.

⁹ And when he opened the fifth seal, I saw under the altar ^h the souls of them that had been slain for the word of God and for [†] the testimony which they bore.

¹⁰ And they cried with a loud voice, saying: How long, O Lord, holy and true, dost thou not ^h judge and avenge our blood on them that dwell on the earth? ¹¹ And there was given ^{*} unto every one of them a white robe; and it was said unto them, ⁱ that they should rest yet for a little season, ^m until their fellowservants also and their brethren who should be killed as they were should be fulfilled.

¹² And I beheld when he opened the sixth seal; and lo, there was a great earthquake; and ⁿ the sun became black as sackcloth of hair, and the full moon became as blood; ¹³ and ^o the stars of heaven fell to the earth, even as a fig-tree casteth its unripe figs when it is ^p shaken by a mighty wind; ¹⁴ and ^q the heaven departed as a scroll when it is rolled up; and ^r every mountain and island were moved out of their places. ¹⁵ And the kings of the earth, and the great men, and the rich men, and the chief captains, and the mighty men, and every bondman, and every freeman, ^s hid themselves in the caves and in the rocks of the mountains. ¹⁶ And ^t they said to the mountains and the rocks: Fall on us, and hide us from the face of Him who sitteth on the throne and from ^u the wrath of the Lamb! ¹⁷ For ^x the great day of his wrath is come; and who is able to stand?

Two visions, representing (1) God's preservation of his people amidst judgments sweeping over the world, and (2) the perfect happiness of the redeemed in heaven.

7. AND after this I saw four angels standing on the four corners of the earth, holding the four winds of the earth, that the wind should not blow on the earth nor on the sea nor against any tree.

from the rising of the sun, having ^a the seal of the living God. And he cried with a loud voice to ^b the four angels to whom it was given to hurt the earth and the sea, ³ saying: Hurt ^c not the earth nor the sea nor the trees, till we have ^d sealed the servants of our God ^e upon their foreheads.

Salvation ^m to our God, ⁿ who sitteth upon the throne, And ^o to the Lamb!

¹¹ And all the angels stood round about the throne and about the elders and ^p the four living creatures; and they fell before the throne on their faces, and worshipped God, ¹² saying:

Amen! ^q Blessing and glory and wisdom And thanksgiving and honour and power and might Be unto our God for ever and ever! Amen.

¹³ And ^r one of the elders answered, saying unto me: Who are these who are arrayed in white robes, and whence came they? ¹⁴ And I said unto him: My Lord, thou knowest. And he said to me: ^s These are they that come out of the great tribulation; and ^t they washed their robes and made them white in the blood of the Lamb.

¹⁵ Therefore ^u are they before the throne of God, and serve him day and night in his temple; and he who sitteth on the throne will ^w dwell among them. ¹⁶ They shall hunger no more, nor thirst any more, neither shall the sun fall on them nor any heat' [Isa. xlix. 10.] ¹⁷ For the Lamb who is in the midst of the throne will feed ^x them, and ^y will lead them to living

Opening of the seventh seal—(2) Vision of seven angels with seven trumpets, and (3) another angel offering incense, with the prayers of the saints, and (5) casting all-fire down upon the earth.

8. AND when he opened the seventh seal, there was silence in heaven, about the space of half an hour.

² And I saw ^a the seven angels who stand before God; and to them were given seven trumpets.

³ And another angel came and ^b stood upon the altar, having ^c a golden censer; and there was given unto him much incense, that he should offer it, with ^d the prayers of all the saints, upon the golden altar which was before the throne. ⁴ And ^e the smoke of the incense, with the prayers of the saints, went up before God out of the angel's hand. ⁵ And the angel took the censer, and ^f filled it from the fire of the altar, and cast it unto the earth. And ^g there were voices and thunderings and lightnings, and an earthquake.

Sounding of the first four trumpets—Plagues affecting (7) the land and its productions, (8) the sea and its inhabitants, (10) the rivers and springs of water, and (12) the lights of heaven.

⁶ AND the seven angels who had the seven trumpets prepared themselves to sound.

⁷ And the first angel sounded; and there followed ^a hail and fire, mingled with blood, and they were cast upon the earth. And ^b the third part of the earth was burnt up, and the ^c third part of trees was burnt up, and all green grass was burnt up.

⁸ And the second angel sounded; and as it were ^d a great mountain burning with fire was cast into the sea. And the third part of the sea ^e became blood; ⁹ and ^f the third part of the creatures which were in the sea and had life, died; and the third part of the ships were destroyed.

¹⁰ And the third angel sounded; and ^g there fell a great star from heaven, burning as it were a torch; and ^h it fell upon a third part of the rivers, and upon the fountains of waters. ¹¹ And the name of the star is called ⁱ Wormwood: and the third part of the waters became wormwood; and many men died of the waters, because they were made bitter.

¹² And ^j the fourth angel sounded; and the third part of the sun was smitten, and the third part of the moon, and the third part of the stars; that the third part of them might be darkened, and the day

Announcement of three woes; (ch. 9. 1) sounding of the fifth trumpet, or first woe; (3) issue of locusts from the pit of the abyss.

⁹, And the fifth angel sounded; and I saw ^b a star fallen from heaven unto the earth; and to him was given the key of ^c the pit of the abyss. ² And he opened the pit of the abyss; and ^d there went up a smoke out of the pit, as the smoke of a great furnace; and the sun and the air were darkened by reason of the smoke of the pit. ³ And out of the smoke came forth ^e locusts upon the earth; and unto them was given power, as the scorpions of the earth have power. ⁴ And it was commanded them that they ^f should not hurt the grass of the earth, nor any green thing, nor any tree; but only the men who have not ^g the seal of God on their foreheads. ⁵ And it was given to them that they should not kill them, but that ^h they should be tormented five months. And their torment was as the torment of a scorpion when he striketh a man. ⁶ And in those days ⁱ men will seek death and will not find it, and will desire to die and death will flee from them. ⁷ And ^k the shapes of the locusts were like unto horses prepared for battle. And ^l on their heads were as it were crowns like gold, and ^m their faces were as the faces of men; ⁸ and they had hair as the hair of women, and ⁿ their teeth were as the teeth of lions; ⁹ and they had breastplates, as it were breastplates of iron; and the sound of their wings was ^o as the sound of chariots of many horses running to battle. ¹⁰ And they have tails like unto scorpions, and stings; and in their tails was their power to hurt men five months. ¹¹ And they have a king over them, the angel of the abyss, whose name in the Hebrew tongue is Abaddon[†], but in the Greek tongue he hath the name Apollyon[†].

¹² The first ^p woe is past; behold, there come two woes more hereafter.

Sounding of the sixth trumpet, or second woe; (14) Loosing of four angels of evil, prepared for an appointed time; (19) sending forth of countless agents of destruction—(20) Continued impotence of the wicked.

¹³ AND the sixth angel sounded; and I heard a voice from the four horns of the golden altar which is before God, ¹⁴ saying to the sixth angel who had the trumpet: Loose the four angels who are bound ^a at the great river Euphrates. ¹⁵ And the four angels were loosed, who had been prepared for the hour and day and month and year, that they might slay the third part of men.

¹⁶ And ^b the number of the army of the horsemen was two hundred millions^{*}; and ^c I heard the number of them. ¹⁷ And after this manner I saw the horses in the vision, and them that sat on them: having breastplates of the colour of fire and of a hyacinth and of brimstone; and ^d the heads of the horses were as the heads of lions, and out of their mouths issued fire and smoke and brimstone. ¹⁸ By these three plagues[†] was the third part of men killed, by the fire and the smoke and the brimstone, which issued out of their mouths. ¹⁹ For the power of the horses[‡] is in their mouth and in their tails; for their tails are like serpents, having heads, and with them they hurt.

The angel of the time of the end, with a little book (or, scroll) in his hand—(3) Seven thunders, and the sealing of their utterances—(8) The delivery of the little book to John, and (11) his commission to prophecy further.

⁵ And ^e the angel whom I saw standing upon the sea and upon the land ^f lifted up his right [†] hand towards heaven ^g and swore by

⁸ And the voice which I heard from heaven spake with me again, and said: Go and take the little book which is open in the hand of the angel who standeth upon the sea and upon the land. ⁹ And I went unto the angel, and said unto him: Give me the little book. And he said unto me: ^m Take it and eat it up; and it will make thy belly bitter, but it will be in thy mouth sweet as honey. ¹⁰ And I took the little book out of the angel's hand, and ate it up; and it was in my mouth sweet as honey; and as soon as I had eaten it, ⁿ my belly was made bitter.

³ And I will give power unto my two witnesses, and they shall prophesy ^f a thousand and two hundred and sixty days, ^g clothed in sackcloth. ⁴ These are the ^h two olive-trees, and the two candlesticks, which stand before the Lord; of the earth. ⁵ And if any one is minded to hurt them, ⁱ fire goeth forth out of their mouth, and devoureth their enemies; and ^k if any one is minded to hurt them, he must in this manner be killed. ⁶ These ^l have power to shut heaven, that it rain not in the days of their prophecy; and ^m they have power over the waters to turn them into blood, and to smite the earth with every plague as often as they will.

⁷ And when they shall have finished their testimony, ⁿ the beast that cometh up out of the abyss ^o will make war against them, and will overcome them and kill them. ⁸ And their dead bodies will lie in the street of the great city which spiritually is ^p called Sodom and Egypt, where also their* Lord was crucified. ⁹ And some from among the peoples and tribes and tongues and nations will look upon their dead bodies three days and a half; and ^q they will not suffer their dead bodies to be put into a tomb. ¹⁰ And they that dwell upon the earth will rejoice over them, and make merry, and ^r will send gifts one to another, because these two prophets tormented them that dwell on the earth.

¹¹ And after the three days and a half ^s the Spirit of life from God entered into them, and they stood upon their feet; and great fear fell upon those that saw them. ¹² And they heard a loud voice from heaven, saying unto them, Come up hither. And they went up to heaven ^t in the clouds, and their enemies beheld them.

Vision of the woman persecuted by the dragon;
(7) war in heaven; (9) casting out of the dragon; (10) songs of joy and praise in heaven; (12) persecution of the saints on earth.

12. AND there was seen a great sign in heaven; a woman clothed with the sun, and the moon under her feet, and upon her head a crown of twelve stars; ² and she being with child crieth out, ^a travelling in birth and pained to be delivered.

Now ^t is come the salvation, and the might, and the kingdom of our God, And ^u the authority of his Christ.

For the accuser of our brethren is cast down,

Who ^x accused them before our God, day and night.

^y And ^z they overcame him, because of ² the blood of the Lamb,

And because of the word of their testimony:

And ^a they loved not their lives unto death.

¹² Therefore ^b rejoice, ye heavens, and ye that dwell in them!

Woe ^c to the inhabitants of the earth and of the sea!

For ^d the devil is come down unto you, having great wrath, Because he knoweth that ^e he hath but a short time.

¹³ And when the dragon saw that he was cast unto the earth, he persecuted the woman who had brought forth the man child. ¹⁴ And ^f to the woman were given the two wings of a great eagle, that she might fly into ^g the wilderness*, into her place, where she is nourished for ^h a time and times and half a time, from the face of the serpent. ¹⁵ And the serpent ⁱ cast out of his mouth water as a river after the woman, that he might cause her to be carried away by the river. ¹⁶ And the earth helped the woman, and the earth opened its mouth and swallowed up the river which the dragon cast out of his mouth. ¹⁷ And the dragon was wroth with the woman; and ^k he went to make war with the remnant of her seed, who keep the commandments of God and hold the testimony of Jesus Christ.

Visions of two wild beasts, the dragon's agents, exercising great power and dominion.

13. AND he stood† upon the sand of the sea. And I saw ^a a beast coming up out of the sea, having ^b seven heads and ten horns, and upon his horns ten diadems, and upon his heads names† of ^c blasphemy. ² And the beast which I saw was ^d like a leopard, and his feet were as the feet of a bear, and his mouth as the mouth of a lion. And the dragon ^e gave him his power, and ^f his throne, and great authority. ³ And I saw one of his heads ^g as it were wounded to death: and his deadly wound was healed. And the ^h whole earth wondered after the beast. ⁴ And ⁱ they worshipped the dragon because he gave† his authority unto the beast. And they worshipped the beast, saying: Who is like unto the beast; and who is able to make war with him?

⁵ And there was given unto him ^k a mouth speaking great things† and blasphemies; and power was given unto him to act† forty and two months. ⁶ And he opened his mouth in blasphemies against God, to blaspheme his name and ^l his tabernacle and ^m those who dwell in heaven. ⁷ And it was given unto him ⁿ to make war with the saints and to overcome them; and ^o power was given him over every tribe and tongue and nation and people. ⁸ And all that dwell upon the earth will worship him, every one ^p whose name is † not written in the book of life of the Lamb slain, ^q from the foundation of the world.

⁹ If any one hath an ear, let him hear. ¹⁰ If * any one is for captivity, into captivity he goeth; if any to be slain with the sword, with the sword must he be slain [Jer. xv. 2]. Here is the patience and the faith of the saints

¹¹ And I saw another beast coming up out of the earth; and ⁷ he had two horns like a lamb, and ⁸ he spake as a dragon. ¹² And he exerciseth all the authority of the first beast in his presence; and he causeth the earth and them that dwell therein to worship the first beast whose deadly wound was healed. ¹³ And ⁴ he doeth great miracles, so that he even maketh fire come down from heaven on the earth in the sight of men; ¹⁴ and ^u he leadeth astray them that dwell on the earth, by reason of the miracles which it was given to him to do in the sight of the beast; bidding them that dwell on the earth to make ^z an image to the beast which had the wound by a sword and lived. ¹⁵ And it was given to him to give life to the image of the beast, that the image of the beast should even speak, and should cause that as many as ^y worshipped not the image of the beast should be killed. ¹⁶ And he caused all, both small and great, rich and poor, free and bond, ² to receive a mark on their right hand or on their forehead, ¹⁷ and that no one should be able to buy or sell save he that had the mark, or ^a the name of the beast, or ^b the number of his name.

¹⁸ Here ^c is wisdom. Let him that hath understanding count the number of the beast; for it is ^d the number of a man; and his number is Six hundred and sixty six.

Vision of the Lamb and his followers, in heavenly purity and happiness.

¹⁴ AND I saw, and behold, the ^a Lamb standing on the mount Zion, and with him ^b a hundred and forty four thousand, ^c having his name and ^f his Father's name written upon their foreheads.

² And I heard a voice from heaven, as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of a great thunder; and the voice which I heard was as of harpers [†] harping with their harps. ³ And they sang as it were a new song, before the throne, and before the four living creatures, and the elders. And ^d no one could learn that song but the hundred and forty four thousand who were redeemed from the earth.

⁴ These are they who were not defiled with women; for ^e they are virgins. These are they ^f that follow the Lamb whithersoever he goeth. These were redeemed from among men, as ^g firstfruits unto God and to the Lamb. ⁵ And in their mouth was found no falsehood, for they are blameless*.

Three angelic proclamations relating to the visions which follow; and (13) a voice declaring the blessedness of Christ's servants after death.

⁸ And there followed a second angel, saying: ^f 'Fallen, [†] fallen is Babylon' [Isa. xxi. 9], the great, which hath made [†] all the nations drink of the wine of the wrath of her fornication.

¹² Here ^o is the patience of the saints, who ^p keep the commandments of God, and the faith of Jesus.

The harvest of ripe grain, reaped by a crowned One in human form; and (17) the winepress of God's wrath.

¹⁴ AND I saw, and behold, ^a a white cloud, and upon the cloud ^{one} sitting like the Son of man, ^b having upon his head a golden crown, and in his hand a sharp sickle. ¹⁵ And another angel ^c came forth out of the temple, crying with a loud voice to him who sat on the cloud: ^d Put forth thy sickle and reap; for the time [†] to reap is come, for ^e the harvest of the earth is ripe. ¹⁶ And he who sat on the cloud thrust in his sickle upon the earth, and the earth was reaped.

17 And another angel came forth, out of the temple which was in heaven, he also having a sharp sickle. 18 And another angel came out from the altar, f who had power over fire; and he cried with a loud cry to him that had the sharp sickle, saying: g Put forth thy sharp sickle, and gather the clusters of the vine of the earth; for its grapes are fully ripe. 19 And the angel thrust in his sickle into the earth, and gathered the vine of the earth, and cast it into h the great winepress of the wrath of God. 20 And i the winepress was trodden k outside the city, and l blood came forth out of the winepress, even unto the bridles of the horses, to the distance of a thousand and six hundred furlongs*.

The seven last plagues—introduced by (2) a vision of the saints victorious over the beast.

15. AND I saw another sign in heaven, great and marvellous, seven angels having the seven last plagues; for in them a is filled up the wrath of God.

2 And I saw as it were b a sea of glass mingled with fire; and those c who had gotten the victory over the beast, and d over his image, and over his mark, and over the number of his name, standing on the sea of glass, e having harps of God. 3 And they sing f the song of Moses the servant of God, and g the song of the Lamb, saying:

Great h and marvellous are thy works, Lord God Almighty!

Just i and true are thy ways, Thou King of the nations!†

4 Who k will not fear thee, O Lord, And glorify thy name?

For l thou only art holy:

For m all the nations shall come and worship before thee;

For n thy righteous acts are made manifest,

The seven vessels of plagues poured out—upon (ch. 16. 2) the land, (3) the sea, (4) the rivers and springs of water, (5) the sun, (10) the throne of the beast, (12) the river Euphrates, and (17) into the air, when the judgments of God are consummated.

5 AND after this I saw, and behold, a the temple of the tabernacle of the testimony in heaven was opened; b and the seven angels came out of the temple having the seven plagues, c clothed in linen pure and bright, and girded about their breasts with d golden girdles. 7 And one of the four living creatures gave unto the seven angels d seven golden vials† full of the wrath of God, e who liveth for ever and ever. 8 And

f the temple was filled with smoke, from the glory of God and from his power: and no one was able to enter into the temple till the seven plagues of the seven angels should be finished.

16. And I heard a loud voice out of the temple, saying to the seven angels; Go and pour out the seven* vials of g the wrath of God upon the earth.

2 And the first departed and poured out his vial upon the earth; and h there fell a noisome and grievous sore upon the men i who had the mark of the beast, and upon those who worshipped his image.

3 And the second angel poured out his vial into the sea; and k it became blood, as of a dead man, and every living creature died in the sea.

4 And the third angel poured out his vial into the rivers and the fountains of waters; and l they became blood. 5 And I heard the angel of the waters say: m Thou art righteous, O Lord, n who art and who wast, the Holy One†, because thou hast judged thus. 6 For o they shed the blood of saints and prophets, and p thou hast given them blood to drink, and they are worthy of it. 7 And I heard another q out of the altar, saying: Even so, Lord God Almighty!

8 True and righteous are thy judgments. 9 And the fourth angel poured out his vial upon the sun; and it was given unto it to scorch men with fire; r and men were scorched with great heat. And they blasphemed the name of God, who hath power over these plagues; and s they repented not t to give him glory.

10 And the fifth angel poured out his vial u upon the throne of the beast; and x his kingdom became darkened. And y they gnawed their tongues for pain; z and they blasphemed the God of heaven because of their pains and their sores; and they repented not of their deeds.

12 And the sixth angel poured out his vial a upon the great river Euphrates; b and the water thereof was dried up, c that the way of the kings who are from the rising of the sun might be prepared. 13 And I saw coming out of the mouth of the dragon, and out of the mouth of the beast, and out of the mouth of d the false prophet, three e unclean spirits like frogs. 14 For they are f spirits of demons g working miracles, and they go forth unto the kings† of the whole world, to gather them to h the war of that great day of God, the Almighty.—

15 Behold, i I come as a thief. Blessed j is he that watcheth and keepeth his garments, lest he walk naked, and they see

The ^d seven heads are seven mountains, on which the woman sitteth; ¹⁰ and they are seven kings; five are fallen, and one is, and the other is not yet come; and when he cometh, he must continue a short space. ¹¹ And the beast that was, and is not, even he is the eighth, and is of the seven, and he ^e goeth into perdition. ¹² And ^f the ten horns which thou sawest are ten kings, who have received no kingdom as yet, but they receive authority as kings one hour, with the beast. ¹³ These have one mind, and give ^g their power and authority unto the beast. ¹⁴ These ^h will make war with the Lamb, and ⁱ the Lamb will overcome them; for ^j he is Lord of lords and King of kings; and ^k they that are with him, called and chosen and faithful. ¹⁵ And he saith unto me: The waters which thou sawest, where the harlot sitteth, are peoples and multitudes and nations and tongues. ¹⁶ And the ten horns which thou sawest and the beast, ^l these will hate the harlot, and will make her desolate and ^m naked, and will eat her flesh, and will utterly ⁿ burn her with fire. ¹⁷ For ^o God put into their hearts to perform his will, and to be of one mind, and to give their kingdom unto the beast, until the words of God shall be fulfilled. ¹⁸ And the woman whom thou sawest is the great city which reigneth over the kings of the earth. Destruction of Babylon—(4) Warnings to God's people to depart out of her—Lamentations over her fall by (9) the kings, and (11) merchants of the earth, who have shared in her glory and in her guilt. ¹⁸ AND after this I saw another angel coming down from heaven, having great power; and ^a the earth was lighted up with his glory. ² And he cried out with a strong voice, saying: Fallen, fallen is Babylon the great, and ^b is become a habitation of demons, and a hold of every unclean spirit, and ^c a hold of every unclean and hated bird. ³ For all the nations ^d have drunk of the wine of the wrath of her fornication; and the kings of the earth committed fornication with her,	x ch. 13. 1 —11. y ch. 11. 7. z Dan. 7. 11. a ch. 13. 3. 4. b ch. 13. 8. * Rec. text reads, and yet is. c ch. 13. 18; Dan. 12. 10. d ch. 13. 1. e ch. 19. 20. f Dan. 7. 20. † Rec. text reads, will give. g ch. 19. 19; Dan. 8. 25. h Ps. 2. 9; Dan. 7. 26. 27. i 1 Tim. 6. 15. k ch. 14. 1 —4. burning, saying: ^b What city is like unto the great city! ¹⁹ And ^c they cast dust on their heads, and cried, weeping and mourning, saying: Alas, Alas, that great city, whereby were made rich all that had ships in the sea by reason of her costliness*! For in one hour is she made desolate.

²⁰ Rejoice ^d over her, O heaven, and ye saints and apostles† and prophets! For ^e God hath avenged you on her.

²² And ^g the voice of harpers and of musicians and of pipers and of trumpeters shall be heard no more at all in thee; and no craftsman, of whatsoever craft, shall be found any more at all in thee; and the sound of a millstone shall be heard no more at all in thee;

²³ and ^h the light of a lamp shall shine no more at all in thee; and ⁱ the voice of the bridegroom and of the bride shall be heard no more at all in thee.

For ^k thy merchants were the great men of the earth; for ^l by thy sorceries were all the nations deceived.

²⁴ And ^m in her was found the blood of prophets and of saints, and of ⁿ all that had been slain upon the earth.

Triumphant songs in heaven (1) over the downfall and destruction of the harlot, and (2) celebrating the coming glorification of the bride, the wife of the Lamb.

19. AND after this, ^a I heard as it were a loud voice of a great multitude in heaven, saying:

Hallelujah! Salvation ^b and glory and honour and power

Belong unto the Lord our God!

² For ^c true and righteous are his judgments.

For ^d he hath judged the great harlot, Who corrupted the earth with her fornication,

And he ^e hath avenged the blood of his servants at her hand.

³ And again they said, Hallelujah!

And ^f her smoke goeth up for ever and ever.

⁴ And ^g the four and twenty elders and the four living creatures fell down and worshipped God who sat on the throne, saying: Amen, Hallelujah!

⁵ And ^h a voice came forth from the throne, saying: ⁱ Praise our God, all ye his servants, and ye that fear him, both small and great.

⁶ And ^k I heard as it were the voice of a great multitude, and ^l as the sound of many waters, and as the sound of mighty thunders, saying :

Hallelujah !

For ^m the Lord God omnipotent reigneth.

⁷ Let us be glad and rejoice,

And give the glory to him.

For ⁿ the marriage of the Lamb is come,
And his wife hath made herself ready.

⁸ And ^o it was given to her that she should be arrayed in fine linen, clean and bright; for ^p the fine linen is the righteousness of the saints.

9 And ^q he saith unto me : Write, ^r Blessed are they who are called unto the marriage-supper of the Lamb. And he saith unto me, ^s These are the true sayings of God.

10 And ¹ I fell at his feet to worship him ; and he said unto me : " See thou do it not ;
I am a fellowservant of thee and of thy brethren ² who have the testimony of Jesus : worship God ; for ³ the testimony of Jesus is the spirit of prophecy .

The going forth of the Lord and his saints to war and victory; (17) defeat and destruction of the beast and the false prophet, and their followers.

¹¹ AND ^a I saw the heaven opened, and behold, ^b a white horse, and he that sat upon him was called ^c Faithful and True; and ^d in righteousness he judgeth and maketh war. ¹² His ^e eyes were as a flame of fire, and on his head were many diadems; and ^f he had a name written that no one knoweth but he himself; ¹³ and ^g he was clothed with a vesture dipped in blood; and his name is called, ^h The Word of God. ¹⁴ And ⁱ the armies in heaven followed him upon white horses, ^k clothed in fine linen, white and pure. ¹⁵ And ^l out of his mouth goeth forth a sharp sword, that with it he may smite the nations; and ^m he will rule them with a rod of iron; and ⁿ he treadeth the winepress of the fierceness of the wrath* of Almighty God. ¹⁶ And he hath on ^{his} vesture and on his thigh a name written: ^o KING OF KINGS AND LORD OF LORDS.

17 And I saw an angel standing in the sun; and he cried with a loud voice, saying to all the birds that fly in mid-heaven: ^p Come and gather yourselves together unto the great supper of God; ¹⁸ that ye may eat the flesh of kings, and the flesh of captains of thousands, and the flesh of mighty men, and the flesh of horses and of them that sit on them, and the flesh of all men, ^a both free and bond, both small and great.

¹⁹ And ⁷ I saw the beast and the kings of the earth, and their armies, gathered together to make war against him who sat on the horse, and against his army. ²⁰ And ⁸ the beast was taken, and with him the false prophet that wrought the miracles before him, with which he deceived them that received the mark of the beast, and ⁹ them that worshipped his image. These ¹⁰ two were cast alive into the lake of fire ¹¹ that burneth with brimstone. ²¹ And the rest ¹² were slain with the sword of him who sat upon the horse, which went forth out of his mouth; and all the birds were filled with their flesh.

The binding of Satan, (4) the first resurrection and the millennial kingdom; (7) the unbinding of Satan, gathering together of his followers to war against the saints, and their destruction.

20. AND I saw an angel coming down from heaven, ^a having the key of the abyss, and a great chain in his hand. ² And ^b he laid hold on ^c the dragon, the old serpent, which is the devil and Satan, and bound him, a thousand years, ³ and cast him into the abyss, and shut him up, and ^d set a seal over him, ^e that he might not deceive the nations any more till the thousand years should be finished; and after that he must be loosed a little season.

⁴ And I saw ^f thrones, and they sat upon them, and ^g judgment was given unto them: and I saw ^h the souls of them that had been ⁱ beheaded for the testimony of Jesus, and for the word of God, ⁱ and such as had not worshipped the beast nor his image, and had not received his mark on their forehead or on their hand. And they lived and ^k reigned with Christ a thousand years. ⁵ But the rest of the dead lived not until the thousand years were finished. This is the first resurrection.

⁶ Blessed and holy is he that hath part in the first resurrection. On such ¹ the second death hath no power; but they will be ^m priests of God and of Christ; and they will reign with him a thousand years.

⁷ And when the thousand years are expired, Satan will be loosed out of his prison, ⁸ and he will go forth to deceive the nations which are in the four quarters of the earth, ^a Gog and ^b Magog, ^p to gather them together to the war; the number of whom is as the sand of the sea. ⁹ And ^q they went up on the breadth of the earth, and encompassed the camp of the saints and ^r the beloved city. And ^s fire came

² And I ^l saw ^b the holy city, New Jerusalem, coming down from God out of heaven, prepared ^c as a bride adorned for her husband.

³ And I heard a loud voice out of heaven[§], saying: Behold, ^d the tabernacle of God ⁱ is with men, and he will dwell with them, and ^e they shall be his people, and God himself will be with them, ^f and be their God. ⁴ And ^g 'God will wipe away every tear from their eyes' [Isa. xxv. 8]: and ^h there shall be no more death, ⁱ nor sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain; for ^j the former things are passed away.

⁵ And he who sat upon the throne said: ^k Behold, I make all things new. And he said unto me, Write; for these words are faithful and true.

⁶ And he said unto me: It is done. I am the Alpha and the Omega, the beginning and the end. I ^l will give unto him that thirsteth of ^m the fountain of the water of life freely. ⁷ He that overcometh ⁿ shall inherit these things*; and ^o I will be his God, and he shall be my son. ⁸ But ^p the cowardly and unbelieving, and the polluted with abominations, and murderers and fornicators and sorcerers and idolaters, and all liars, shall have their part in ^q the lake which burneth with fire and brimstone, which is ^r the second death.

⁹ And there came one of ^s the seven angels who had the seven vials full of the seven last plagues, and talked with me, saying: Come hither, I will show thee the bride, the Lamb's wife. ¹⁰ And he carried me away ^t in the spirit to a great and high mountain, and showed me the* city, the holy Jerusalem, coming down out of heaven from God, ¹¹ having ^u the glory of God. Her brightness ^v was like unto a stone most precious, even like a jasper stone, clear as crystal; ¹² having ^w a wall great and high; and having ^x twelve gates, and at the gates twelve angels, and names written thereon, which are the names of the twelve tribes of the children of Israel; ¹³ on the east three gates, on the north three gates, on the south three gates, and on the west three gates. ¹⁴ And the wall of the city had twelve ^y foundation-stones, and upon them the names of ^z the twelve apostles of the Lamb.

¹⁵ And he that talked with me had ^b a golden reed to measure the city, and its gates, and its wall. ¹⁶ And the city lieth ^c foursquare, and the length is as large as the breadth. And he measured the city with the reed, twelve thousand furlongs[†]; the length and the breadth and the height of it are equal ^t. ¹⁷ And he measured its wall, a hundred and forty four cubits, according to the measure of a man, that is, of the angel.

²² And ^f I saw no temple therein; for the Lord God Almighty and the Lamb are the temple of it. ²³ And ^g the city hath no need of the sun, nor of the moon, to shine on it; for ^h the glory of God lightened it, and ⁱ the Lamb is the light thereof.

24 And ^k the nations* shall ^l walk by its light; ^m and the kings of the earth bring their glory and honour into it. 25 And ⁿ its gates shall never be shut by day, for ^o there will be no night there. 26 And they will bring the glory and honour of the nations into it. 27 And ^p there shall in no wise enter into it any thing that defileth, nor he that worketh abomination or falsehood, but only they who are written in the Lamb's ^q book of life.

22. And he showed me a ⁺ river of the water of life, clear as crystal, coming forth out of the throne of God and of the Lamb. 2 In the midst of the street of it, and on either side of the river ^{||}, was ^r there the tree of life, bearing twelve fruits, and yielding its fruit every month; and the leaves of the tree are ^r for the healing of the nations.

3 And ^s there shall be no more curse' [Zech. xiv. 11]: but the throne of God and of the Lamb shall be in it; and his servants shall serve him; ^t and ^s they shall see his face; and ^t his name shall be upon their foreheads. 5 And there shall be no night there; and they have no need of lamp, or of the light of the sun, because the Lord God giveth them light. And ^u they shall reign for ever and ever.

Concluding assurances, exhortations, warnings, invitations, and promises.

6 AND he said unto me: These sayings are faithful and true; and the Lord God of the spirits of the prophets* ^a sent his angel to show unto his servants the things which must shortly come to pass. 7 Behold, ^b I come quickly; ^c blessed is he that keepeth the sayings of the prophecy of this book.

8 And I John am he who heard and saw these things. And when I had heard and seen, ^d I fell down to worship before the feet of the angel who showed me these things. 9 Then saith he unto me: See ^e thou do it not; for I am a fellow-servant of thee

10 And he saith unto me: ^f Seal not* the sayings of the prophecy of this book; for the time is at hand. 11 He ^g that is unjust, let him be unjust still; and he that is filthy, let him be filthy still: and ^h he that is righteous, let him be righteous still; and he that is holy, let him be holy still.

12 Behold, I come quickly; and ⁱ my reward is with me, ^j to render to every man according to his work[†]. 13 I ^k am the Alpha and the Omega, the beginning and the end, the first and the last.

14 Blessed are they that wash their robes[†], that they may have right to ^l the tree of life, and ^m may enter in through the gates into the city; ⁿ for ⁿ outside are the dogs and the sorcerers and the fornicators and the murderers and the idolaters, and every one that loveth and maketh a lie.

16 I Jesus have sent my angel to testify unto you these things for the churches. I am ^o the root and the offspring of David, and ^p the bright and morning star.

17 And ^q the Spirit and ^r the Bride say, Come; and let him that heareth say, Come; and let him that thirsteth come: and whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely.

18 I ^s will testify unto every one that heareth ^s the words of the prophecy of this book, ^t If any one shall add unto them, God will add unto him the plagues that are written in this book; ^u and if any one shall take away from the words of the book of this prophecy, God ^v will take away his part from the tree* of life, and out of the holy city, which are written of in this book.

NOTE. In the first part of the above Tables, comprising the principal epochs in the book of Genesis, the dates assigned by Usher and Hales respectively are given in separate columns; Usher following in the main the present Hebrew text, and Hales, the Septuagint. After the death of Joseph, the dates given in the Tables differ from both systems, and are the result of careful computation, together with a comparison of the best authorities. Although it must be admitted that in the earlier parts of the history there are few instances in which perfect exactness can be asserted, there are so many checks upon any serious mistake as to give a reasonable degree of probability to the general line of the chronology.

It will be observed that no dates of contemporary events in heathen countries are given before the first Olympiad, B. C. 776; all secular chronology before that era being quite uncertain. And some of the later dates which appear in the Table have been placed there, according to the usual chronology, without reference to the questions which have been raised as to the events themselves.
